VOL 4. NOGALES, PIMA COUNTY, ARIZONA, SATURDAY, JULY 31, 1897. 70.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

First class job work at the VIDETTE office.

The streets of Nogales are daily filling up with strangers.

Antonio Camou of Guaymas, came to Nogales Monday night.

Dr. Purdy is improving and will be out again in a few weeks.

Joseph Brann formerly of Guaymas, is now tending bar for Fred Becker.

Oscar Gebler returned from Tucson Sunday evening on the stage.

Mrs. Gonzalez and Mrs. Figueroa returned to Hermosillo Tuesday.

Frank C. Earl, the El Paso ore buyer, came in Tuesday on business.

If Mexican money goes much lower it won't be much good as money.

Mrs. Reddock's broken arm is getting along very nicely and will soon be well.

Mrs. Watts is very much worse. The lady has been very sick for some time.

W. B. Welfon, the electrician, wired the Wylie building this week for electric lights.

Secretary of the State of Sonora, Celedonio Ortiz visited his family at Nogales Sunday.

Capt. L. W. Mix is going to build a two-story house in front of his dwelling to be used as an office.

Emilio de la Huerta returned from the City of Mexico Sunday and went on to Guaymas to visit his family there.

Work has been commenced on the new engine house on the flat near the warehouse of the Arizona Commercial Company.

Mr. E. J. Dubois, cashier of the Gold & Silver Recovery Co., at Hermosillo, came up to Nogales Sunday to remain a few days.

Herbert Drachman of the firm of Seligson & Co. the Tucson furnishers was in town Sunday and Monday taking orders for his house.

J. F. Bowman, who fell from the roof of Marsh's opera house about three weeks ago is improving slowly. He is now suffering slightly from rheumatism.

J. H. Brent, owner of the rich La Casita mines in Sonora, was a visitor to Nogales this week. Mr. Brent is one of the most successful mining men in Sonora.

The Line City Store has the finest and cheapest line of paperies and writing tablets in southern Arizona. Call and see the fine linnen tablets for ten cents.

Liberato Marcor, on oldtime telegraph operator on the Sonora railway, came up from Guaymas Sunday and will stop here for several months for the benefit of his health.

The Larks received a lot of chickens and turkeys from Texas Monday and now Manager Kiel has his hands full keeping them from jumping the fence into the neighbors' gardens.

W. S. O'Brien, who came down here last week with W. E. Pomeroy of Mesa City, last Tuesday night for Klondyke. He had intended to go to the Ajo mountains this week but was attracted by the Klondyke fever and succumbed.

E. A. Bruck, of the firm of Blake, Moffitt & Towne was in town Saturday and Sunday interviewing the merchants in reference to stationery supplies. Blake, Moffitt & Towne are the best and cheapest people in their line on the coast.

W. B. Reed, bookkeeper for La Colorado Mining & Milling Co. at Las Planchas, was in town Monday on business. Mr. Reed says the mill has been renovated and is ready to start up and will begin operations some time next week. The mine is showing up well.

Every available space on the Sonora side of the line at Nogales is being utilized for building purposes, either for business or dwelling houses. There is a genuine building boom and there are no vacant houses to rent. This is also true of the American side of the line.

A suit has been filed in the district court by Mrs. Luz Houston against her husband, Ezra B. Houston, whom she charges with desertion at Hermosillo, Sonora, in 1895. They were married at Calabnass January, 1890. The plaintiff is a resident of Nogales. Mr. Chas. Blenman of Tucson, is her attorney.

John Roberts returned home from Bisbee Monday where he went to witness a race between his horse Sleepy John and a horse owned by Tim Griffith. The distance was 600 yards and the Griffith horse won, but another race was immediately matched for $1,000 a side between the same horses to run a half mile. Mr. Roberts is confident of winning the next race.

A TUCSON EGG FARM.

Cooper Brothers to Supply Eggs and Broilers to the Market.

About a month ago Cooper Brothers, Mr. William F. Cooper, the attorney, and Mr. Harry O. Cooper, late of St. Louis, Mo., an expert poultry breeder of some fifteen years experience, secured the Julius Flin ranch, about four miles from the city of Tucson, and have begun to convert the place into a broiler and egg plant. There is not an establishment of the kind in this territory, and the gentlemen who have embarked in the industry should meet with all the success they anticipate.

All the dressed poultry which comes into our markets is shipped from the east, and is of rather poor quality. This is not to be wondered at when the facts are considered. Of course the first choice of all the poultry marketed in the east goes to the buyers who are on the ground. After they have selected the choice specimens the culls are shipped to the western markets, and there disposed of at prices which would amply pay home breeders. Cooper Brothers intend to place on the market only the choicest dressed fowls, and will see to it that the home markets are supplied with the very best that can be raised.

At present very little in the way of breeding is being attempted at the San Xavier Ranch, as it is necessary before any extensive work can be performed in that direction, to fit the place especially for the object in view. Their present stock consists of ninety-seven well bred youngsters, most of which will begin laying in November. They now have an incubator capacity of 600 eggs, with brooders for a like number of young chicks. This capacity will be increased on the first of January to about 1,500, and as rapidly as the demand is sufficient, a corresponding increase will be made.

The chickens which have been hatched so far this season in the incubators are as lively, healthy and large as any bunch of young chickens ever seen, and seem to prove the error of the conclusion reached by many that young chicks cannot be successfully hatched and raised in this climate in the warm months of summer. By the middle of the coming month there will be about 600 young chicks on the ranch, and they will be ready for market about the first of November. After that date Cooper Bros. hope to be able to supply quite a demand for their poultry.

Another feature of the business which will be introduced on the San Xavier ranch will be emphasizing on a large scale. There is such a demand in the eastern markets for capons, that the prices are way up. The climate and conditions here make it the very best possible field for the production of first class capons, and none are ever seen in Arizona markets. There is no question about the delicious qualities of the meat of a fine capon, and everyone who has ever tasted this fine delicious bit of food anxiously longs for more, and the prices paid are evidence that people know a good thing when they see it.

The specialties of this ranch will be pure bred White Wyandottes for market purposes; pure bred White Leghorns for eggs; and Pit Games for a strain originated by the younger Mr. Cooper in the east, and which have long since established a reputation for gameness and fighting qualities unexcelled by any in existence.

Later on there will be pens of Pekin ducks, and flocks of Mammoth Bronze turkeys. This stock will also be pure, the eggs coming from the best selected specimens of the famous breeders of these birds.

A great many people have conceived the idea that the poultry business is nothing but a pastime for old women and feeble minded children, but when statistics are examined it is shown that the amount expended each year for poultry of different kinds is in advanced of many businesses in which a very much greater capital is invested. A poultry plant which markets 30,000 eggs in a year is quite an institution in itself, and yet there are a number which do that and even more. In addition they furnish thousands of pounds of fat broilers and roasters. The possibilities are almost unlimited, and the demand will always be greater than the supply, for the reason that not one man in one thousand who embarks in the business ever makes it a success. Too little heed is paid to the details, and most people who attempt the raising of poultry on a large scale underestimate the amount of labor required to do what is absolutely necessary for the attainment of satisfactory results. It is a business requiring constant attention, peculiar adaptation, a knowledge of hygiene, and a love for fowls. Without these qualifications and many others the poultry business will not prove a success.

It is to be hoped that the Coopers will receive that encouragement which will enable them to make their venture a marked success, for if there is anything that is needed in this territory it is a supply of high grade market poultry which will obviate the necessity of shipping in everything of that sort, and of taking only that portion which has been rejected by those who have had the first choice in the outside markets. Another feature of the business is this: a great deal of the money which now goes to outside places for poultry will be kept at home, and circulated among our people here.

We are informed that after the first of December next the proprietors of the San Xavier ranch will be ready to receive orders for poultry in almost any quantity to suit purchasers.

SONORA NEWS.

Mining and Other Items from Our Sister State.

The Ajo mountains in Spnora are about as good a place to go to prospect as is Alaska.

Mr. Ramon Cambuston will soon open an elegant hotel in the Monteverde building at Hermosillo.

Col. H. T. Richards in a few days will commence the preliminary work of building the dam on the Sonora river.

The English company which bought Captain L. W. Mix's mines on the Sonora river, are working about one hundred men in the mine but expect to soon put on an increased force.

Last Sunday at Hermosillo Ignacio Lopez and Delfino Gabille had an altercation in which the former struck the latter over the head with a rock and inflicted probable fatal wounds.

Monday of last week the incandescent lights were placed on many of the residences of Hermosillo, and the system is working fine. Soon the whole town will be lighted with these lights.

The French colony at Hermosillo celebrated the fall of the bastille in grand style. They had a banquet at which Governor Ramon Corral was an invited guest and then they had a street parade headed by a band.

Vice-Governor Figueroa and family came up from Hermosillo last Sunday. They were accompanied by Mrs. G. J. Gonzalez of Guaymas. Dr. Figueroa came up to officially examine the Altar wagon road now being built from Nogales to Altar district. This road will open up a rich mining district adjacent to Nogales and be worth thousands of dollars in trade to this town.

A concession was granted on the 7th instant by the state government to A. H. Danforth of the Moctezuma Copper Company to build railroads, telephone and telegraph lines and to erect a smelter at Nacosari. The capacity of the smelter will be two hundred tons a day. The railroad will be built from Bisbee to Nacosari and open up that entire country as there are many good mines now laying idle on account of transportation. All improvements are to be exempt from taxation for a term of twenty years. The Mexican government is doing all in its power to develop that country and it is succeeding.

MINING NEWS.

The five stamp mill which was at the Owl Heads mine in the Tortillita mountains, owned by Gardner, Worthen & Goss, was brought to town yesterday.—Citizen.

J. O. Clemnis, one of our railroad boys, who left here a year ago for Alaska, returned this week with a substantial remembrance of that country in the shape of $75,000 in gold nuggets.—Yuma Sentinel.

M. C. Hhseng, of State College, Pa., a mining expert who has been in the city for several days, as the representative of an eastern company who recently bonded the Tres Amigos mine near Oro Blanco, left last night for Washington, D. C.—Citizen.

A payment of $5,000 was made yesterday by the Saginaw Mining Co. to the owners of the mining claims Dakota and Gipsy, in the Saginaw district, which have been worked under bond by the company for some time past. There remains a deferred payment of $5,000 on these claims, which were owned jointly by W. C. Davis, W. H. Barnes, Charles Connell, Alex. McKay, T. J. Wolfley and Royal A. Johnson.—Tucson Star.

FIEND'SH DEED.

A Mexican Brutally Maltreats a Hereford Family.

Word comes from Bisbee of a most villainous outrage that has come under the notice of the authorities for many moons.

As near as the Prospector can authoritatively ascertain the facts are that while Mr. Arthur Wasson, a respected dairyman who lives with his wife and family at their ranch at Hereford, was at Bisbee delivering milk as usual, the Mexican in his employ at the ranch took advantage of his absence and planned a fiendish attack to rob the family which consisted of wife and two children aged 3 and 11 years respectively. The Mexican called the young boy of 11 to the corral, and before the lad suspected anything wrong was grabbed by the throat and choked insensible and not satisfied then took a rock and pounded on the boy's head until much of the flesh and hair was gone and left him for dead. He then went to the house and attempted to strangle Mrs. Wasson. The father however managed to get away and secure a winchester to protect herself, but the Mexican was at her elbow and after a desperate struggle, during which the Mexican brandished his knife and cut the unfortunate woman several times, finally wresting it from her, and from sheer exhaustion, loss of blood and many bruises was overpowered, when the brated tied her hands behind her and securely tightening the lash about her feet, fastened the rope to an anchorage and began to pillage the house, taking what money was saved (amount unknown), suit of clothes, mackintosh and many other things, the whereabouts of which he knew, leaving the place a wreck. He took a saddle and the best horse on the ranch and left.

Not until Mr. Wasson returned from Bisbee was the discovery made, the mother released or the dying boy found. When the news was known at the neighboring ranches five well mounted cowboys started in hot pursuit, and it is needless to say if they overtake the fiend short work will be made of him. The mother and child were brought to Bisbee for medical attendance. But little hope is had for the life of the young lad, as it is feared his skull is crushed.

The sheriff's office has deputies out for the fugitive and a general lookout kept for him.—Tombstone Prospector.

Catarrh Cannot Be Cured

with local applications, as they cannot reach the seat of the disease. Catarrh is a blood or constitutional disease, and in order to cure it you must take internal remedies. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, and acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Cure is not a quack medicine. It was prescribed by one of the best physicians in this country for years, and is a regular prescription. It is composed of the best tonics known, combined with the best blood purifiers, acting directly on the mucous surfaces. The perfect combination of the two ingredients is what produces such wonderful results in curing catarrh. Send for testimonials, free.
