"Who's Who" Gets Lift At Natl. Baptist Congress

By Mrs. Frances Betis Special to The Sun

The "Who's Who" of Baptist leaders today, Dr. King who is only 28, has received more honors than most men at the age of 68, and is more widely known than many men of twice his life time. It was not until Dr. W. H. Jernigan, President of the Congress spoke announcing that Dr. King approved the project, did the Baptist realize that his prayers had been answered to a great extent by one of the greatest prayer advocates in the world today.

"Who's Who in Baptist America" in the National Sunday School and BTU Congress is a volume now being compiled for publication in June, 1958. Persons who have helped to build the Congress are invited to subscribe to this publication which is intended to inspire young Baptists and to encourage their interest and participation in Baptist work. It will be dedicated to Dr. W. H. Jernigan who has been a Christian for 76 years and ordained clergyman for 65 years and President of the National Congress for 35 years. The deadline for receiving entries is September 30, 1957. Selected persons may make further inquiries by addressing: Dr. L. V. Smith, 455 W. 14th Street, Cincinnati 3, Ohio.

MEMORY

Charles A. Brown. Memory is a noble thing If given food that's clean, But horrors lurk within is wake If fed on low and mean.

God gave to each of us this boon To call back yesterdays, But sad will be the missing hours If on sin and guilt it plays.

To have a memory worth your time, Fill full each passing hour With deeds of love to God and man, Then feel its lifting power.

A creature of His love divine— This made the world a home, Oh, may we fill its chambers full Of noble deeds, and then

When mind and body are at rest, Thoughts blending through the past, It may be to us mild quiet times, Bring pleasure high and vast.

QAnTITY AND QUALITY

More than two hundred years ago Thomas Fuller remarked that to sell cheaper means that either quality or service must be sacrificed, and this principle was laid down before mass production and the modern, mass distribution, existed, and these two forces have changed matters enormously.

Another profit statement by the same man however is completely true today as it was then: "A fair profit must be made on one who does not last long.

The modern retailer, chain and independent, has brought down prices by trading in greater volume. By this means goods can be sold cheaper and still retain quality. By the same means the standard of service can remain excellent and a "fair profit" can be made. Thomas Fuller and the retail trade of today would have considered the percentage of profit earned under modern merchandising methods fantastically small.

The modern manufacturer has outmoded the old theory that in order to have quality or service must be cut.
