YAVAPI.

Prescott Courier. The sale of the Belcher mine, Big Bug district, is announced. F. L. Carlisle and other Kansas City capitalists are said to be the purchasers. The Belcher was the property of Judge John A. Rosh, and many thousands of dollars were taken from the free area near the surface years ago; at that time the sulphurets could not be worked with modern machinery, however, the base ore can be worked to a very high percentage of the assay value.

Journal-Miner. Harry Elliot has resigned as an engineer on the S. P. & P. and will take charge of an engine on the Congress line road. Mr. Elliot is one of the best engineers in any country and has many friends among all classes who regret to see him change stations. San Ludovis is now the pioneer engineer on this road, and like Mr. Elliot, is ranked high in railroad circles.

In the criminal doings of late in and around Prescott wherein many have been slain in cold blood and others have been there down through their own folly, there is a lesson to be learned.

Tempe Department.

From Thursday's Daily. Col. Ridley is quite ill at the Tempe hotel.

Normal Alumni Association will hold sessions next Saturday. Frank Ripley took a load of freight to Goldfield today.

Will Melton will open a school for the teaching of the Spanish language next week.

M. W. Moore, of Pinal county, passed through Mesa on the morning train.

Mr. Zeck, of Holbrook, came up this afternoon to visit with friends and relatives.

Phoenix is headquarters for all kind of politics these days and a goodly number of Tempe politicians are down there laying in a supply to suit their diversified tastes.

Mr. Shoof of the Office Cafe was a visitor to Phoenix this afternoon.

Tempe Hotel Register: H. Holman, Pinal, Ariz.; Joe Waldie, Eddie, N. M., Prof. Jody, Jerome.

Andrew Nilsson will leave in a few days on an important business mission to Milwaukee and will be absent about two months.

The military drama will be repeated in Mesa Friday night closing with a ball.

Those desiring the best brands of justice always come to Tempe after it. We may be a little bit slow in business, little bit modest in society matters and play second fiddle in politics, but when it comes to clean cut steel plated justice, administered without bias and in deference to the law, we always pre-fer treatment by south side methods.

A couple of Phoenix people had a little legal difficulty to adjust and after sizing up the court facilities of the Capital city decided the local expounders of the law were not competent to adjust the matter properly so they sent over for Justice Smith, who went down this morning and posed successfully in his insular capacity and to the satisfaction of all.

From Friday's Daily. The Zetetic Society meeting will be more than usually entertaining tonight. There should be a good turnout.

Dave Teeters has purchased his partner's interest in the Office Cafe and will hereafter be sole proprietor.

Prof. Josephine, editor of the Educator, was a Tempe visitor yesterday.

Now that we are getting new buildings on Mill street and fair prospects for more, what's the matter of agitating the waterworks question a little. Efforts have been made two or three times to figure out a profitable scheme for conducting this enterprise, and some day it will surely be found. Property owners and those who have anything left to burn should see if some means of protection against fire as well as providing a good water supply cannot be found.

From Saturday's Daily. A mummy is on exhibition at the Tempe museum.

Messrs. Akona, Campbell and Doble of Mesa, passed through Phoenix this morning.

The dance at Mrs. last night was well attended, over seventy members being present.

This is excellent weather for the prosecution of Maud Muller's agricultural enterprise.

A special train of cattle will probably be shipped by Messrs. Hogan and Patterson tomorrow.

A car of local merchandise and a car of sugar were received for Tempe merchants today.

Tempe Hotel register: Thomas C. Graham, Florence; H. F. Weathemer, St. Joe; John Jones, Phoenix; J. B. Selman, Phoenix.

Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Kappy, who have been visiting C. J. Ulmer and wife, returned home to Florence today.

Wm. Giffels, of Dripping Springs, returned home yesterday.

L. W. Jimmie has a severe cold and talks like he had a horse flidde in his throat.

Owing to May day festivities John Young and Ed Coffey are unusually bright and chipper today.

A mesa picnic party, among whom are L. Salter, Miss Flo Strine and Miss Klumbell, left for the Arizona canal head this morning and will return tomorrow.

Mrs. A. M. Franklin returned from Los Angeles yesterday morning. Mr. Franklin arriving from Globe this morning, where he has been on a business trip.

The Mayday party at the Kingsbury residence yesterday was a very pleasant affair, about fifty couples being present to enjoy an old fashioned basketball game. The lawn is one of the prettiest places in the valley and just the place for a party of this kind.

The express office has been reorganized and now operates the n.w. $\frac{1}{2}$ of the s. $\frac{1}{2}$ of the n. $\frac{1}{2}$ of the s. $\frac{1}{2}$ of J. L. Richards' store, township Tempe, in range between the front and back door. Gila base and meridian, with the Chapin still employed as initial monument.

The Normal audience room was crowded last night with not only the youth and beauty of the Southside but with a liberal representation of the older generations, to enjoy the May day programme prepared by the Zetetic society, and published in these columns on Wednesday last. Every number was deserving of praise and gave evidence that the members of the society take a deep interest in their literary work. The ballads recited by Mrs. Lillian Rice, with Mrs. O. W. Miller as accompanist, and representative of May day activities in the 16th and 17th centuries were novel and entertaining. Each selection on the programme was appropriate to the occasion and enjoyed by all present. The last number was a blues representing the May pole dance.

THE SHRINERS.

They "Raise the Roof" Last Night.

The Ancient Arabic Nobles of El Zribish Temple of the Mystic Shrine in this city held an important meeting last night at their Temple in the Mountain building. Some tea card parties were admitted to the gorgeously of the inner sanctuary of the Temple and instructed as to their oriental duties towards themselves and their fellowmen and as to due affection and respect for the faithful Arabic steed that carried them safely over the difficult paths of their pilgrimage and to be humbly thankful for a bountiful supply of delectable refreshments and interesting spectacles of ancient pottery gathered from the East.

When the ceremonies of the sanctuary had been completed the assembled Nobles withdrew to the banquet room where the inner man was fully and sumptuously fed. The new Nobles are Dr. C. D. Baldo, Phoenix; Hon. W. K. Griffith, Dripping Springs; Hon. F. K. Nichols, Wolo; C. O. Suter, J. G. Hinzinger and H. C. Underwood, Tucson; Col. C. W. Johnston, Phoenix; Hon. Thos. Davis, San Francisco; Hon. Thos. C. Graham, Florence and Mr. J. V. Owens, Phoenix.

History of a Great Discovery. The attention of the medical profession was first called to the fact that habitual alcoholic drunkenness was a disease by Dr. Magnus Huss, of Stockholm, Sweden, in 1848. Soon after the publication of the extensive and very exhaustive researches of Dr. Magnus Huss, some of the most progressive, advanced thinkers in the medical profession in this country and in Europe became vigorous advocates of the new discovery.

From that time to the present almost innumerable investigators have been engaged, constantly extending our knowledge in every direction in this vast field, and fully confirming the correctness of the opinions of Dr. Magnus Huss. The fact is in the medical sciences more clearly established than this, that habitual drunkenness or sobriety is a disease, the earliest and most characteristic symptoms of which is an intense, morbid craving for the intoxicating, soothing effects of alcoholic drinks or other narcotic agents.

For more than forty years this fact has been gradually gaining recognition. But even now it is difficult for a large majority of people of average intelligence to divest themselves of the idea that drunkenness is anything but an act of folly, a sin, a vice or a crime. The finger of scorn has been pointed at the sinner as an object of ridicule and contempt. The drunkard has been stigmatized as a good-for-nothing scapegrace, who lives to prey on the wails, and who lives to gratify his vitiated tastes, who from his inherent depravity knowingly and unblushingly prefers vice to virtue, drunkenness to sobriety.

It has been the habit of the biologists in denouncing the intemperate and willingly guilty of heinous sin; and the judge upon the bench to punish the rioting drunkard as a criminal offender. Few seem to have given his condition of body or mind a thought. Few seem to have even suspected that he was a sufferer from both physical and mental disease, and so only contempt and approach, pain and penalties have been employed in the treatment of this pitiable subject of alcoholic mania. Has this treatment of the intemperate been humane and judicious? Is the intemperate a fool? Is he but a wretched and wretched sinner? Are all his outbreaks of drinking but the fruit of an ill-temperament disposition?

To all these questions medical science answers emphatically "No," and plainly and simply in plain English. The man and woman of the highest culture, the purest life, the most exalted aims, have become reckless drunkards. The clearest minds, the kindest intellects, the most accurate reasoners, have fallen victims to the fell destroyer. The warmest hearts, the kindest souls, the most unselfish spirits have been transformed by the "tricky spirit" into the coldest, most selfish varieties at the shrine of Bacchus.

We have these and a great company of such fallen so low? Not from a desire to fall, not from wicked and vain imaginations, not from a determination to become drunk, not from any innate love of intoxicating drink, but from a weak resistance to the overwhelming weight of a well-nigh irresistible impulse within them, which when fully awakened hurled them away in spite of their vain efforts to escape, into a whirlwind of excessive indignance and debauchery.

Is drunkenness the effect of disease? How any one who has witnessed the career of a confirmed drunkard ever had any doubts on that subject is beyond ordinary human comprehension. Yet there are some who deny that intemperance is ever a disease, or the effects of disease, and insist that it is only a moral vice. But this antiquated idea has been slowly giving away for many years past, forced back before the enlightening light of modern scientific inquiry. Moral obligation and virtuous ideas, as well as sometimes the cause of intemperance, and we scarcely concede that there is a moral and religious aspect of intemperance, and that if there is intemperance, the vice and crime, but many sad experiences have shown us that there are inebriates more sinned against than sinning.

To impute immorality, vice and sin to the inebriate for his physical inability to resist the intense, involuntary, morbid craving that comes over him at times as unjust as it would be to impute immorality, vice and sin to the idiot for his idiocy, or the hereditary epileptic for his epilepsy.

Mr. F. D. Davis, a prominent livery man and merchant of Goshen, Va., has this essay on the subject of intemperance: "I take pleasure in recommending Chamberlain's Palm Balm for rheumatism as I know from personal experience that it will do all that is claimed for it. A year ago this spring my brother was laid up in bed with inflammatory rheumatism and suffered intensely. The first application of Chamberlain's Palm Balm eased the pain and the use of one bottle completely cured him. For sale by all druggists."

Interesting Paragraphs.

From Thursday's Daily. The HERALD office had a pleasant call from Mr. Harvey Hubbs of Kingman, one of the substantial Democrats of Mohave county, this morning.

Among the outgoing passengers on the train for the north this morning were P. Hauge, La Junta; Miss Laura Smith, Dodge City, Kansas; D. H. Head and family, Chicago; W. H. Rasm, Indianapolis; W. E. Ditty, Los Angeles; W. S. Williams, San Francisco; Mrs. E. B. Stone and two children, Chicago.

Major R. Allyn Lewis, consulmar of the 2d Ward ward cutting Mayor, learns that he has been served with a notice to quit by the Citizens' Association. He is expected and the chances are that he will decide to remove permanently from the ward, thus resigning voluntarily as he said he would last summer.

Mr. E. M. Simmons, a prominent merchant and land owner from Cripple Creek, has taken up his residence in Phoenix, and wisely subscribed for the DAILY HERALD, and the fall will invest in city property. Two months ago he arrived here completely broken down in health, during the stay he has gained 35 pounds and one would think he had never seen a sick day.

General Agent Ira P. Smith of the S. P. & P. railroad company today resigned his position and will go to California. Mr. Smith has been with this company since it was completed by Phoenix and has with close attention to business and reliable and obliging disposition gained the good will and esteem of the business community of Phoenix, who are sorry to note his determination to leave the city.

From Friday's Daily. Bucher-Duane shipped a carload of beef cattle to Congress this morning.

Among the outgoing passengers on the morning train for the north were W. E. Eals, Denver; Mrs. W. L. Van Jerome, R. G. Starobury, Wichita, Kas; G. A. Brannen, Minneapolis; R. H. Gill, Cheyenne, Wyoming.

Mitt Brawley, for whom a warrant was issued on the 25th of last December on a charge of disturbing the meetings of the Salvation Army, returned to the city last night and was promptly arrested on the old warrant. He will have a hearing before Justice Morris tomorrow.

Mr. Joe Stein received the glad intelligence this afternoon that his wife and children who for the past year have been visiting relatives and friends in Germany, had reached New York in safety and would leave this evening for home. The days will seem like weeks to Mr. Stein until he welcomes his family to his home again.

A young express was received at The Score by express this morning. The tentacles are from three to five feet long and one can form some idea of the enormous power of this monster of the deep when grown to full size with tentacles fifty or sixty feet in length. It is without exception the most terrible of all sea-life. It is being viewed today by numbers of the people who are accustomed only to dry land. An enormous skate was also received and both are the first animals of the kind in Phoenix.

It is rumored that an elopement took place from Phoenix Wednesday night which was nicely planned and nicely carried out. For some time past the singer at the Anheuser saloon and the night bartender had been noticed by the frequenters of that place to vary, partial to one another. Wednesday afternoon the bartender hired a livery rig and with the singer drove to Tempe, and have not been seen since. The next morning word was brought to the livery stable that the team was at Tempe subject to call and that the couple had taken the train for the south the evening before.

Some time ago the Citizens' Committee presented a letter to the Board of Supervisors stating that they considered the payment of $35 a month to A. J. Portiere as court interpreter and $15 to the District Attorney for office rent were illegal payments and should be discontinued. The Board took up the matter at their meeting yesterday and instructed the clerk to notify the committee that they were willing to receive advice and suggestions from any citizen of the county in the manner of conducting the business of the county but that in the two instances cited they were doing what was best for the taxpayers of the county and saving the county much more than they would be discontinuing the payments.

Dr. Sheriff J. K. Murphy is in the city from his mining properties about twelve miles north of Wickenburg, where he has been working steadily for the past couple of months. He has developed the mine pretty thoroughly and has laid bare a vein of ore which goes sixty dollars to the ton on assay and a great deal higher in concentrates. Mr. Murphy has received an offer of $100,000 for the claim, provided it goes down a certain depth and he is now engaged in sinking for that depth, when he will turn it over to the purchaser. He has no doubts that the mine will go down as at the present time it is showing up better as depth is attained.

From Saturday's Daily. Mr. Jerry Sullivan, the large cattle buyer arrived yesterday afternoon from Kansas City, where he went with a large shipment of cattle about a month ago.

Hon. J. M. W. Moore, delegate from Yavapai county to the Republican convention that met on the 29th ult., returned today from a visit to his fine property in the vicinity of Mesa City.

Mr. Frank Pequa has a force of men at work erecting an elegant brick livery stable on his property on the corner of Adams and Fourth Avenues. He will remove from his present quarters on Centre street about the first of next month.

Mr. Vic Henry yesterday resigned as manager of the Globe store and moved to be connected with the firm of Goldberg Brothers, with whom he has been connected for the past six and one-half years. Mr. Henry is a number one salesman and has a host of friends in this city. He expects to go to Colorado to locate in a month or two.
