James A. Scott whose announcement as a candidate for the office of School Trustee of Williams School District No. 2, appears in this issue of the News, is a native of Norfolk, Virginia, but for for seventeen years prior to his coming to Williams he was a resident of New Mexico, being in government employ. For the past fifteen years he has been connected with the Forest Service and for the past year and a half has been stationed in Williams as Supervisor of the Tusayan National Forest. He is a man of education and of high moral character, affable, agreeable and successful in his association with men.

Mr. Scott takes an impartial part in all things for the good of the town in which he lives. He is a man of family with three children in our public school, and possesses a lively and intelligent interest in all school and civic matters. Mr. Scott's supporters anticipate for him a strong vote from the citizens of the town, at the school election Oct. 29. He will make an efficient member of the Board of Trustees, if elected.

The members of Williams Review, who are the local representatives of the Woman's Benefit Association, announce the news that their founder and leader, Miss Bina M. West, has been prominently and persistently presented to President Harding as the one woman in the United States fitted by special training and experience for a seat on the Advisory Conference Committee for Limited Armament.

Miss West was approached on this subject by her friends in the National Fraternal Congress of America which convened at the Hotel Sherman, Chicago, Illinois, the first week in September. The delegates to this Congress represent over nine million fraternalists and they stand back of the appointment.

The local members are very proud of the recognition that has been given Miss West's abilities in the enthusiastic mention of her name all over the country, and during the past few days Commander Clara Burns and her entire corps of officers and members have been busy getting in touch with Senators Ashurst and Cameron and Congressman Carl Hayden requesting their endorsement.

Lookout Oh You Rabbit!!

At the I. O. O. F. meeting Wednesday night final arrangements were made for the Annual Rabbit Hunt. The time is 6:30 A. M. Nov. 6th, The Place 30 miles north on the Grand Canyon Road. Prizes to the amount of $16.00 are at stake. No one but an Odd Fellow can compete for the prize, so you fellows who are of the opinion that you can shoot had better get out behind the barn and practice up a bit, for we know one or two men who wear the Links who are thinking they have a finger on the prize right now. Let's go for a big time at this hunt, and then for a big Feed at the Hall on the following Wednesday night. Oh Boy! Our Noble Grand and his Right Support are going out for Turkey and Deer the first of next week and ye Scribe feels his mouth watering for that big Turkey and leg. Let's all hope they have the best of luck.

REVIVAL IN SECOND WEEK

The revival being conducted in the Methodist Church by Dr. C. R. Haudenschild is now in its second week and interest is steadily growing. On Sunday, the Sunday school was better attended than for some time. For the morning and evening services there were good congregations and only a few less for the afternoon service.

On Monday night there was a splendid crowd. The booster choir composed of about forty children sang and gave some of their yells which were appreciated by all.

Tuesday evening was lodge night and the church was well filled, a large number of lodge men and women coming in a body. Miss Aphra Anderson sang "He Leadeth Me" and Dr. Haudenschild preached on the theme, "Does It Pay?"

Although those most interested in the meetings are greatly encouraged, there are many in the city who are missing the chance of a lifetime by staying away. Don't miss any more than you have to. You cannot afford to miss either the evening services nor the afternoon bible lectures at 2:30 each afternoon. The services for Sunday are as follows:

10: a. m. Sunday School classes for all ages.
11: a. m. The Enthroned Christ
3:30 p. m. The Atonement or the power of the Blood.
7:30 p. m. The Red Light.

The public is invited to all these services.

W. I. LOWE,
Pastor

Potatoes the Big Crop

County Agent F. A. Chisholm when asked what he considered the best farm crop for Coconino county, replied, "potatoes, beyond a doubt." He is confident that the right sort of marketing—including grading the potatoes and marking the sacks with the name of the grower—will give the county a reputation that will make its potatoes always in demand at a good price. The farmers are getting $2.50 this year, without difficulty. There is no other crop that will pay half as well this season, as potatoes. The work of L. W. Cureton in going to Phoenix to find a market for the potatoes, has opened the way to finding a market in other years.

SURPRISE SHOWER FOR MISS MAYME ALCORN

About twenty two of Miss Mayme Alcorn's friends assembled at the home of her sister, Mrs. Fletcher Bly, Thursday evening during Miss Alcorn's absence at the Methodist Church. They busied themselves with setting clangorous alarm clocks, timed to go off within five minutes of each other. Each clock guarded a dainty gift for the bride-elect hidden in some nook or corner.

Miss Alcorn was taken completely by surprise which deepened into consternation for a moment when the alarms started buzzing. Amid gales of laughter she searched earnestly until each disturber of the peace was routed and the message revealed. Dainty refreshments ended a most delightful evening.

C. H. HINDS FINDS THAT WIFE IS ALSO SISTER

Is it not enough to startle any staid husband and father of a thriving family to wake up some day and find that his wife is his sister? Small wonder that C. H. Hinds was surprised when he received a telegram giving him information which proved beyond a doubt that his wife is also his sister. No tears are necessary, however, for this is not a tragedy—in Mr. Hinds' case. It is like this: E. T. Hinds father of Carl Hinds and well known in Williams, recently married Mrs. Heaton, mother of Mrs. Carl Hinds. And there you have it. Carl is now a brother of his wife—by marriage.

ATTENTION FARMERS

The price of wheat has dropped to near two cents in the market but a sack of 100 lbs. is still good for a year's subscription to the News. The editor has a few hens to help pay the grocery bill, and wheat is the best feed for these. Why not throw in a sack of wheat the next time you come to town, and trade it for a year's subscription to the News?
