

DR. MELICK'S FATHER
LAI'D AT REST SUNDAY

Dr. Wesley Melick, father of Dr. P. A. Melick, of Williams, died at his home in Horton, Mo., last week Thursday and was buried on Sunday. He survived his wife by just thirty days and had reached the ripe old age of 90. His wife had reached the age of 81 when her call came just a month before.

Dr. P. A. Melick was notified on Thursday of last week, that his father was not expected to live. He left for Missouri the following day and did not learn of his father's death until he reached Horton. He reached Horton just in time for the funeral service.

Dr. Wesley Melick graduated from the school of medicine in Pennsylvania in the year 1857. During the Civil War he served as surgeon with the 6th Kansas cavalry. After the war he went with his wife to Horton, Mo., where they made their home on 320 acre farm, while the doctor continued his practice with his office at the farm. There they built up a farm of a thousand acres which they kept together until a short time ago when Dr. Melick sold a part of it reducing the farm to about 700 acres. It was at this farm that Mr. and Mrs. Melick spent nearly sixty years of their lives during which they reared a family of four daughters and two sons. Dr. P. A. Melick and Victor Melick were the two sons, both of whom became residents of Williams. Dr. Wesley Melick continued in the practice of medicine until the age of 60 when his son graduated from medical college and took his place. Dr. P. A. Melick continued his father's practice until his health failed. He then came to Williams and has been a resident here since. Victor Melick was a prominent and highly respected citizen of Williams until his death a little over two years ago at the hand of Simplicio Torrez who later hung for the crime.

Of the four daughters, three were married. One, Mrs. Whitfield, mother of Charley Whitfield of Williams, is deceased. The other two married daughters are: Mrs. Laila Armstrong, of Springfield, Mo., and Mrs. Effie Knowles of Wilmar, Okla. The fourth daughter remained at home and is now administratrix of the estate.

Dr. Wesley Melick had exceeded the three score and ten years allotted to man, by twenty years. He came to his end in the old home with loved ones about him with the satisfaction of having lived his life to the full, a life crowned with success.

A World Wonder Not Known to One in a Thousand.

The Burton Holmes Travelogue Monday night dealt with a great world wonder, Boro Bodor, that not one in a thousand in America knew existed before the Burton Holmes travelogue was presented. It is a great monument to Buddha, situated in the island of Java and built thousands of years ago. The base measures five hundred feet square and the height is from 180 to 200 feet. It is a larger structure than the noted Egyptian pyramids, and is in a state of almost perfect preservation. Within are hundreds of Buddha statues. The sides of the structure are terraced and about the terraces are three miles of sculptured figures giving the history of the Buddhas and other important events of that distant age. One who wishes to know something of the history of this world of ours, will find much in these travelogues that cannot be obtained from history or modern periodicals.

JUDGE McDUGALL COLLECTS $200 IN FINES

Justice of Peace McDougall held court last Saturday. Two cases were brought before him. The first was that of J. L. Gibson commonly known as "Joco" Gibson pleaded guilty to killing a beef without a license and was fined $150 and given a suspended sentence of six months. J. B. Williams pled guilty to receiving stolen property and was fined fifty dollars. In this case Mr. Williams received some property belonging to Cushman, which he took as payment for a debt. It turned out that the property was turned over to him by a party not legally possessing the right to so dispose of the same.

"THE CONQUERING POWER".

It is with much satisfaction that Manager Reese of THE SULTANA is able to present "THE CONQUERING POWER" next Thursday, Mar. 9th, while it is so new and so soon after the showing of "THE FOUR HORSEMEN".

Directed by that genius, Rex Ingram, with Rudolph Valentino, Alice Terry and practically the entire cast of "THE FOUR HORSEMEN".

From the wonderful novel, "Eugenie Grandet", written by the noted French writer, Honore de Balzac, with the scenes laid in France it is a wonderful portrayal of which is "The Conquering Power" Love or wealth.

With none of the depressing effects of the horrors of war as depicted in Ingrams other production it is never-the-less full of intensely dramatic situations. Rudolph Valentino, whose Latin temperament and graceful fascination fitted him pre-eminently for the role of Julio in "THE FOUR HORSEMEN" is cast as the Parisian dandy, Charles. And Alice Terry, the exquisitely beautiful Marguerite of "THE FOUR HORSEMEN" has scored a sensational triumph through her portrayal of Eugenie.

In many respects "THE CONQUERING POWER" was a test of Ingram's real ability as a director. When "THE FOUR HORSEMEN", his first great effort scored it's sensational success, wonder was expressed if he could ever equal that work. His answer is found in "THE CONQUERING POWER" for in the latter film he has actually surpassed "THE FOUR HORSEMEN" is the verdict of all the critics. He grasped all the keen character studies of Balzac's novel and made them LIVE on the screen. Artistically the film is magnificent a masterpiece, a superb background for a powerful story, impressively told.

And the greatest satisfaction expressed by Mgr. Reese, was that by buying this great production out-right he is enabled to present it to the people of Williams at an admission of 25 and 50 cents including tax. Otherwise the price would have been the same as "THE FOUR HORSEMEN".

SIX HUNDRED MILLIONS SPENT ON ROADS

The Bureau of Public Roads of the United States Department of Agriculture estimate the total expenditure for construction and maintenance of roads in the country in 1921 to be $600,000,000. The sources of this fund are approximately as follows: Motor-vehicle revenue, 19 per cent; State road bonds, 7 per cent; local road bonds, 33 per cent; State taxes and appropriations, 12 per cent Federal aid, 14 per cent; county, township, and district taxes and assessments, 14 per cent; and miscellaneous 1 per cent.

COUNTRY ITEMS

Davenport Lake is overrunning now. The ice when melting washed down a mile of fence on the Platten ranch. The rains melting the snow caused some damage around the house and Mr. Platten was kept busy digging ditches to avoid further damage. The highway road has done more harm than good to this place.

Allen Lake north of here is full, also the tanks are full which means well for the stock. Some stock are poor and others in fair condition. Wm. Williams has his brother visiting at his ranch. Capt. Williams served in a Canadian regiment as a veterinary and is now on the Reserve. He was in British Columbia before coming here. The Canadian Government were to do so much for their men but it seems they have failed, and as his health was poor, he thought he would come to the United States and try our Arizona climate. He is a University graduate of Veterinary. Any one needing his assistance will find him at the Williams ranch.

Dad Fix drove in from his winter camp for a load of hay. He says the road are rough and some places are almost impassable.

Mrs. Frank Bascom has returned from a two weeks visit with friends in Cottonwood. She says the scenery down there is very beautiful.

Tommy McWilliams has been in hard luck of late. The road truck got out of commission, then someone tried to steal his runabout. And some time before a man stole over $50 worth of goods from his ranch. We need a policeman out this way.

Mrs. Fred Platten returned from a three weeks visit at Prescott. While there she visited the sick men at the Whipple Hospital. She says the men are the happiest lot of men she has ever seen.

They all love to get something home cooked and the ladies of Prescott are very good to them by taking them cake, cookies, pies, beans, (they like the white baked beans), and candy. The boys buy a chicken or rabbit and some lady cooks it for them. A great many make beaded bags, trays, and all kinds of work, mostly for sale. A great many of the boys do not get any compensation but they are all industrious in some way while in bed. The treatments given now are the rest treatments and they seem to do well gaining in weight all the time.

If any of the Williams ladies would like to cheer up some of these boys by cooking something nice and sending it to them they may send it to Mrs. Wm. Greenwood, 223 Parks Ave., Prescott, Arizona and she will see that the boys get it. Write her a day ahead when you will send it so she can get it that day.

It is the least we can do for those boys who are indoors all the time. We cheered them as they went to war, why not cheer them now?

M. P.

One day last week Wesley Elliott, a hobo, in attempting to get off a freight car caught his foot in a ventilator at the top of the car and fell with the foot still caught in the ventilator. The foot was wrenched badly but proved not to be factured as was thought at first. Dr. Jeffries, county physician for Williams, treated the foot and then sent the young man to the county hospital at Flagstaff.

How the Odd Fellows Pull Off Rabbit Feeds in Muncie.

Muncie, Ind., Feb. 20.—Members of Energy Lodge, Independent Order of Odd Fellows, received invitations, couched in mysterious terms, to a "rabbit feed" in the lodge hall. The members figured out to their own satisfaction the reason for the mystery. It is now unlawful to kill rabbits, therefore, 185 members appeared in the hall on time. Many came without their evening meal at home. After all had assembled, a member of the committee brought into the hall a tame rabbit in a cage and proceeded to give the rabbit a liberal "feed" of lettuce, cabbage and corn. Restaurants did a big business a short time afterward.
