NEWS IN A NUTSHELL.

Happenings of Streets and Town.

The Doings of a Day in Phoenix and Its Tributary Region.

The Sacred Heart academy will open for the term next Tuesday with a large attendance.

Five carloads of delayed freight held by the A. & P. washouts arrived yesterday morning.

The board of county examiners now comprise Probate Judge Crouse, F. H. Parker and W. A. Coy.

Mrs. Mary Johnson's kindergarten opens September 28 in the basement of the new Methodist church.

The Normal school at Tempe will open for the term on Monday. There will be a larger attendance than at any other time in the history of the school.

County Treasurer Murray yesterday paid out $2,000 in redemption of the old county court house bonds calling for that amount. There yet remains $12,000 of the bonds to be redeemed.

Mrs. Clara T. Packwood died yesterday afternoon at the Depot hotel. The funeral will take place this morning at 10 o'clock from Randal & Davis' undertaking parlors. Deceased was 83 years of age.

"Oklahoma" at the park has been drawing good crowds all week and those who have not as yet seen this mirth provoking play should not fail to attend tonight, as it will be the last performance of the piece.

Dr. Helm yesterday made an examination of Prentz Phillips' injured limb, that was crushed in the recent railroad accident. He found that amputation will not be necessary and that the limb can be saved.

The Republicans of Prescott held their primary election Thursday and it is remarkable that in a place of its size 312 Republican votes were cast. This shows that Republicanism is gaining strength in the territory.

A young man named Long had his legs broken in two places at Ash Fork Thursday. He was between the cars while a train was being made up and in some manner was struck. He was brought to the Sisters' hospital at Prescott.

Sherman Crump, a young man of Wilcox, was brought to the county hospital at Tucson Thursday to be treated for a bullet wound in his right hip. While crawling through a barbed wire fence a wire caught the hammer of his revolver, with the result that it was discharged.

Governor Franklin yesterday restored to citizenship J. W. Fisher, who was sentenced to serve one year for forgery committed at Tempe. His term would have expired on the 15th of this month, but his pardon was recommended by the superintendent of the penitentiary.

Today at 10 o'clock the Good Templars of the county will meet in I. O. G. T. hall in district lodge for the purpose of electing district officers for the ensuing year. A session will also be held in the evening which will be supplemented by a lunch served in the hall by the ladies.

It is said on good authority that the Mexican government has made a requisition on the authorities at Washington for the extradition of Santa Teresa and her father, Tomas Urra, on the charge of inciting the recent Nogales trouble, and were parties to the fight and the robbery.

Special Officer Pete Wolfley on Thursday night arrested Henry Coleman for obstructing a crosswalk with a horse. The officer requested Coleman to clear the way and upon the latter refusing, placed him under arrest. His trial will come off in the police court this morning and he has retained a lawyer to defend him.

Pico, the Mexican who was brought over from Tempe by Deputy U. S. Marshal Slankard on a charge of passing counterfeit money, was arraigned before Commissioner Crenshaw yesterday and his trial postponed pending the arrival of witnesses. He is also under $500 bonds on a charge of horse stealing.

Sheriff Wight of Graham county, arrived yesterday in charge of an insane Mexican who was committed to the asylum. Some years ago the Mexican was accused of a murder. He was tried and acquitted, but he never recovered from the effects of the shock. He recently developed signs of insanity and it was found necessary to have him confined.

It is now positively known that the leader of the Nogales bandits who were near the New Mexico line is Joe George, who planned and executed the robbery of the Southern Pacific passenger train at Stein's Pass, in the territory, about eighteen months ago, and whose companion, Wheelock, was killed by Colorado authorities shortly afterward, George escaping during the fight. The robbers say they are going to live on the ranches until they make a raise. There are nine of them. They will probably rob a train or a bank.

There are about fifteen cyanide plants now in operation in the territory for the treatment of refractory ores. At Harqua, Hala the largest plant in the territory is working with a capacity of 160 tons. One plant at Fool's Gulch of 100 tons capacity, ranks next; Congress, one of eighty tons; at Wickenburg, two plants of sixty tons each are working; at Seymour, one of forty tons; at Tombstone, four plants of ten to thirty tons each, and numerous other plants throughout the territory on small scales, from five to fifteen tons capacity. At El Rio a large plant is now being built and also one at Golden.

The Democrats will today hold their primaries for the election of delegates to the county convention, which will convene on the 11th inst. The judges and inspectors of the various Phoenix wards are as follows: First ward, Gardner block, nine delegates; Frank P. Trout, inspector; C. A. Luke, J. F. Meador, judges. Second ward, Rede-well building, eight delegates; John F. Norton, inspector; J. F. Pierce, H. M. Willis, judges. Third ward, W. Morris' office, twelve delegates; Seth Byers, inspector; Al Hoffman, Eugene Martin, judges. Fourth ward, city hall, five delegates; A. E. Cobb, inspector; Ben Crawford, E. Irvine, judges.

The last number of the Scientific American contains the following description of a tie plate invented by Chas. J. Schenck of Gila Bend: This tie plate comprises a male and a female member arranged for interlocking engagement, each member having a site sides of the rail, such surface facing one another when the members are assembled, and a flange on one plate being engaged by a flange on the other plate. Portions of the gripping surface of the tie plates may be extended upward to engage with the head of the rail at one or both sides, forming a superior brace for the rails, especially at their outer sides on a curve. This tie plate is also designed to entirely prevent creeping.

The railroads are using every endeavor to make special rates for Salt River valley produce so that outside markets can be competed with. The following is from the Southwestern Farmer regarding a carload of cheese: The first carload of cheese ever shipped from the Salt River valley, or for that matter from Arizona, went out Tuesday evening of this week from Tempe the product of the factory at that point. A rate was made by the railroads of a cent a pound, which enabled this product to seek an outside market. This has been the difficulty heretofore, not alone with this particular dairy product, but with agricultural products in general—the rates accorded having been almost prohibitive. Whenever the transportation companies can be induced to make a rate which will be acceptable it will be a grand thing for the producers of Arizona and the whole southwest. And that day is coming.

Paul Herrman, Arizona representative of the Los Angeles Times, lost himself on the desert in the land of manana last week. He has just learned to ride a bike and he thought it would be pleasant to ride from Tucson to Mexico. He started and only made about twenty-five miles when the wheel kicked him off by the chain breaking. Not willing to turn back he pushed ahead, walking beside the injured wheel. In some way he lost the path he was traversing and upon trying to locate himself was more hopelessly lost than ever. Finally the only bit of nature that looked familiar was the blue canopy of heaven. He wandered aimlessly about for twenty-four hours with nothing to chew but the ends of his moustache and nothing to slake his thirst but a can of triple extract bicycle oil. That is good diet, however, for a newspaper man, so he really suffered no inconvenience on the score of dining. Hope almost forsok him and he was seriously thinking of lying down beside the remains of the cause of his woe—the bike—when to his ears came the faint crowing of a cock. It told him that there was yet hope, so pushing on he soon found a haven of rest and what was better, a substantial supper on tortillas.

THE SPIRIT OF THE PRESS.

Tucson Star: Both political parties in their territorial conventions should, and no doubt will, demand statehood in unqualified terms; but they should do more. They should demand in the event statehood is refused, that a law be enacted allowing the territories to elect all of their territorial officials instead of, as now, having them appointed by the Washington government. This would be a long step in favor of home rule.

Mohave Miner: Many newspapers are quoting the utterances of the San Francisco Chronicle of last year and using the deadly parallel, to show how the mighty has fallen under the winsome wiles of Hanna's barrel.

Tucson Star: Gila county Democracy has elected three stalwart Democrats to the Williams convention. They are all three representative citizens, and are men of character, who don't wear any man's or set of men's collar. They will support only men of like character of themselves, hence Gila county's delegation can be depended upon as standing for the election of a man of character for the next delegate to congress.

Flagstaff Democrat: Hon. E. J. Babbitt left Friday for Cincinnati, Ohio, his old home, where he will reside in the future. Mr. Babbitt was a member of the council in our last legislature and was one of the brightest attorneys in the territory. Eddie is a lifelong Democrat and has gone to swell the majority in Ohio for Bryan and free silver. It has given many a citizen a heartfelt pang to shake hands in farewell with Eddie Babbitt, for he was one of our very best citizens. Mr. Babbitt will soon be married to Miss Matilda Vercamp, of Cincinnati, Ohio.

Tucson Star: It won't do to send a man to congress who thinks more of his own advancement than he does of the cause of statehood.

Tucson Citizen: The Citizen has all along maintained that many of the so-called free silver Bryan Democrats were not sincere in their professions of party loyalty. This fact is borne out by the refusal of The Star—the mouthpiece and apologist of the Arizona Democracy, more especially of the Tucson wing of the party—to hoist the Bryan banner. Presumably the editor is acting under and by the advice of his Jeffersonian associates. Notwithstanding their noisy pretensions it is plainly evident that the Tucson Democracy, as represented by The Star, is ashamed of the National ticket and will not give it publication. "Bryan and free silver" is a farce among them.

Tucson Star: Statehood is the paramount issue with the people of Arizona, irrespective of political party or affiliation, and the citizen who can secure to us this boon is the individual we should send to congress. Keep this fact steadily in view.

The Water Lily.

Several specimens of water lilies have the very curious peculiarity of blooming all day and at evening closing their blossoms, and, by retracting the stem, drawing the flower entirely under water. There is no more singular fact in the history of flowers than this oddity of the water lily.

THE water of the oceans, notwithstanding numerous local influences, is nearly of the same composition in every part of the world.
