

A MONTH'S FUN.

A Season of Monotonous and Soulstirring Amusement.

A Member of the Expedition Who Has Already Arranged His Campaign of Recreation for 1895.

Messrs. Vic Hanny, A. W. Galpin, G. K. Smith and Prof. J. C. Cole returned yesterday from a month's arduous recreation in the Mogollon mountains and along an itinerary of about a thousand miles taking in the towns of Williams, Flagstaff and Prescott.

They look browner and healthier than they did a month ago and they say they had a good time. There was plenty of game, deer, bear and wild turkey but they were somewhat shy so that of the nobler game only three specimens, two deer and one turkey were bagged.

Prof. Cole alone of all the party seems to think that something was lacking to make the trip an unrestricted success. There was not that sense of repose about it which should attend a season of recreation. He was never permitted to enjoy a sense of lassitude or ennui.

During their stay at Williams the boys made the Williams News their headquarters and were handsomely treated by Editor Michaels.

Prof. Cole says if he feels in need of recreation next year he will spend a month or two on some ranch near Phoenix during the busiest and hottest season.

Swiftly redeemed himself. Carter knocked out in ten bloody rounds.

"Swiftly" surprised his friends and redeemed his reputation as a fighter among sports at the Park last Sunday by knocking Tom Carter out in the tenth bloody round of the hardest fought battle ever seen in Phoenix.

Carter was the favorite not only on account of his record as the champion welter weight of Southern California, but on account of a popular supposition that Swiftly couldn't or wouldn't fight.

The event was patronized by a good attendance. The fight was according to Margis of Queensbury rules, five ounce gloves. Both men stripped in fine form. They did not weigh in, but there was no apparent advantage in weight.

In the fourth and fifth rounds by a series of well sent body blows Carter made an attack on Swiftly's wind so that up to the seventh round the fight was anybody's.

In the seventh Carter fell to avoid punishment and Swiftly started back to his corner to the music of Patey McQuilkin's one-two-three, etc. Suddenly Carter jumped to his feet, sprang at his antagonist whose back was turned and aimed a blow at his jaw.

about to kill an ox. If Carter knew what he was going to do he made no sign. The next instant he crashed and tumbled across the ring and fell on his face his arms outstretched.

Good Health Above Wealth. Everybody knows this, and if questioned will acknowledge it. Yet many who will spend any amount of labor in getting money, when it comes to taking a slight precaution against sickness or using some simple remedy for its cure, will use neither time nor money.

Alcock's Porous Plasters are the cheapest and most efficient external remedy ever offered for the relief of pains in the chest, side, back and limbs. Stiffness in the joints, strains and twitching of the muscles under their touch, and even deep-seated pains of the stomach, liver and kidneys are relieved and cured.

At First Glance. Every week adds to the list of prominent men who are believers in a great future for the Simms addition. During the coming fall and winter it is confidently promised that a sufficient number of handsome residences will be built and occupied to establish a model neighborhood.
