ROBBERY!

Another Express Train Is Held Up by Bandits.

This Time it Is in the Far East.

$200,000 IS STOLEN.

Seven Men Accomplish the Job Easily.

The Frightened Passengers Cowed.

And the Trainmen Subjected Without Trouble.

The Express Messenger Being Given Just Thirty Seconds to Open the Safe Loses No Time in Complying.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—A gang of seven men held up the northbound express train on the Richmond, Fredericksburg & Potomac railroad at Quantico last night. The robbers secured about $200,000. Dynamite was exploded under the express car. The messenger opened the door. It is believed that several of the gang were railroad men. They uncoupled the engine from the balance of the train and sent it running wild.

Col. J. M. Scherford, a newspaper man who was on the train at the time of the holdup, said when the train was near Quantico, on the Virginia side, it was stopped by one of the masked robbers, evidently the captain of the gang, and from the manner of the arranging of signals for stopping the train, it was evident that several of the gang were experienced railroad men.

There were at least six or seven masked men in the party. When the alarmed passengers crowded out of the cars to see what was the matter the robbers fired a perfect fusillade of shots to intimidate them and frighten the railroad men. The robbers rifled the express car in short order and some of the desperadoes even went so far as to converse in a clever daring fashion with the passengers and train men.

Some of the train men thought they got away with at least $150,000. The express messengers did their best to prevent the robbers from getting into the car, but the dynamite and revolvers were enough to make any man weaken. They threatened to kill the messengers on the spot if they refused to open the safe, and when the captain of the gang gave them just thirty seconds to get to work the men gave in.

Found a Skeleton.

SHELBYVILLE, Ind., Oct. 13.—While working in a gravel pit on the farm of W. H. Harrell of Brandywine Township this morning Elsey Ensminger and Ed. Harrell unearthed a human skeleton of a person of large stature. The position of the bones indicated that the person had been buried in a sitting posture. Who the person was and how the remains came there is a mystery, but rumor has revived the story of Bill Dougherty's sudden disappearance several years ago. Bill was a strange personage. No one knew his business nor his nativity, yet he had plenty of money and always spent it freely with the boys. He was a person of large stature and unusual conversational ability. None of the sports suffered when he was in the city. He suddenly disappeared and has never been heard of since. It is now thought that he was murdered and his remains deposited in the gravel pit.

A Novel Tournament.

AUSTIN, Tex., Oct. 13.—The cowboys had a big lassoing tournament here this afternoon, which was witnessed by a large number. The cattle were from the prairies, were wild and vicious, and the sport was exciting. The time of roping, throwing and tying ranged from one minute, eleven seconds, to one minute and thirty-eight seconds. A spectator was run over by a cowboy and seriously injured. Wet weather here during the three past weeks has injured cotton and planters assert that the crop will fall short of that of last year. Brazos cotton planters say that the plants are rank and weedy and are not squaring and bolling. Buyers here assert that the crop will be enormous and generally exceed that of last year. Personal observation and trustworthy information is to the contrary.

GRAND LODGE.

California Masons Hold Their Regular Annual Meeting.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 13.—The Grand Lodge of Masons concluded its session today. The following is the list of appointed officers: Grand chaplain, Justus M. Hinman; grand orator, Eugene N. Duprey; assistant grand secretary, Andrew M. Hendrey; grand lecturer, Harvey O. Bush; grand marshal, Owen S. Henderson; grand standard bearer, Edward H. Percy; grand sword bearer, Harry A. Keller; grand Bible bearer, Frederick W. Lucas; senior grand deacon, Wallace Kay; junior grand deacon, Samuel Prager; senior grand steward, Thos. J. Richards; junior grand steward, William H. Curson; grand pursuivant, John M. Boyd; grand organist, Samuel D. Mayer; grand tyler, James Ozlesby. The lodge adjourned until the second Tuesday in October, 1895.

CLARET PUNCHES.

The Venders Must Pay a Government License.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 18.—United States revenue authorities here have begun a campaign against the confectioners who, for a long time, have dispensed claret punches and other mild beverages to fashionable women who flock to their parlors every afternoon and evening, but none of them have ever paid government liquor tax. A special revenue agent recently visited all these places and under threats of arrest compelled the proprietors to take out licenses and pay considerable amounts for licenses that should have been taken out heretofore.

BROKE HIS NECK.

Killed by Falling From a Louisville Train.

He Stole a Ride but Fell From the Train and Now Goes on a Longer Journey.

By the Associated Press.
HARRODSBURG, Ky., Oct. 13.—George Fallis, a white man, 33 years old, was instantly killed today at noon at the curve of the Louisville Southern, one mile this side of Burgin. He had stolen a ride on the mixed train No. 32 that passed through this place and had ridden four miles when he fell off the train breaking his neck and fracturing his skull. He has been an employe of the Dowling Bros., distillers, for several years, and leaves a wife and three small children. The coroner's jury returned a verdict, exonerating the railroad officials of all blame.

Officers on Trial.

BOSTON, Mass., Oct. 13.—Lieutenant Chas. W. Hunt, Sergeant Jas. P. Keelan, Sergeant Clarence A. Swan and Patrolman Barney Murray, of police station 11 in the Dorchester district, were placed on trial before the police commissioners today, charged with not apprehending James G. Paul, who shot Eleanor Whitfield in Dorchester, Friday night, two weeks ago. Paul, who was well known to the officers, was at large for six days, when he gave himself up. He said he was hiding in his boarding house when the officers searched the house, and had not been out of the district since the shooting. The hearing before the board is private.

All the Money Raised.

HIAWATHA, Kan., Oct. 13.—At a mass meeting of the citizens of Hiawatha and surrounding country, held in the opera house this evening, the $50,000 stock asked for by the Pullman club was raised. President Myer of the Pullman club, informed the citizens that he would have thirty mechanics leave Pullman for Hiawatha immediately. Over 300 stockholders who have lots of backing compose the company.

2:07.

Fastest Pacing Record Ever Made on the Coast.

SANTA ANA, Cal., Oct. 13.—The fastest heat ever paced this side of the Rocky Mountains was made today by Silkwood, who went the mile in 2:07.

RESUME WORK.

Cloakmakers' Strike Is About Settled.

Three Thousand Have Returned to Work.

Others Will Follow Soon as the Contracts Are Signed.

Justice Barondess Who Presided at a Meeting of the Strikers Has the Matter in Hand.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—About 3,000 cloakmakers returned to work today and before night it is believed 5,000 more will follow. Justice Barondess presided at a meeting of the strikers at which it was decided to deal individually with the firms. The moment the representative of the firm signs the contract Barondess issues orders for the men formerly employed there to return to work.

YUMA DEMOCRATS.

A Full County and Legislative Ticket Named.

Mike Nugent Renominated for the Council.—Greenleaf Runs Again for Sheriff.

By the Associated Press.

YUMA, Arizona Territory, Oct. 13.—The Democratic county convention has made the following nominations: Council, M. J. Nugent; representative, R. M. Straus; sheriff, M. Greenleaf; recorder, M. L. Pool; treasurer, W. L. Hopkins; probate judge, Geo. M. Knight; district attorney, Sam Purdy; surveyor, D. E. Beatty; supervisors, A. Modesti and H. B. Hinds.

Slew His Child.

NEW BRUNSWICK, Oct. 13.—Lawrence R. Hoffman, a farmer of Highstown, went home in a drunken rage last night. He attacked his wife, but she beat him back.

He then rushed outside to secure an axe. He chased his wife up stairs into the sleeping room.

Then he threw the axe at her. It flew wide of its mark and struck the three-year-old child who was sleeping in a crib.

The heavy axe slashed an ugly wound in the child's abdomen. Seeing what he had done, Hoffman rushed from the house, but later returned to give himself up.

The child died this morning.

CORBETT WILL FIGHT.

Says That He Will Surely Meet Fitzsimmons.

If the Fight Is Prevented in Florida it Will Occur in New Orleans.

By the Associated Press.

BUFFALO, Oct. 13.—J. J. Corbett said to a reporter today: "Nothing shall prevent the fight with Fitzsimmons. In the event the fight is prevented in Florida I will go to New Orleans. There will be a meeting even if it is for no more than for a five dollar note."

WOULDN'T PUNCLE.

A San Francisco Lawyer Narrowly Escapes Death.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 13.—H. H. Lowenthal, a well known attorney, was shot at in his office this morning by J. T. Emerson, an ex-convict who has served time in San Quentin for jury bribery. Emerson claims he went to the penitentiary to shield Lowenthal, who promised to give him $1,000 and a cigar store when he served his term. Lowenthal, although unhurt, narrowly escaped death.

Bank Robber Captured.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Oct. 13.—A posse of 100 armed men, assisted by bloodhounds, last evening captured one of the men who robbed the Bloomfield bank in Greene county Wednesday night. The rest of the robbers retreated after a hot fight. The captured robber, who was wounded, gave his name as Charles Rivers of Indianapolis, and still had $1,100, his share of the Bloomfield bank plunder. The sheriff, with the greater part of the posse, assisted by the bloodhounds, continued the pursuit. O. W. Shreyer is cashier of the bank and says $6,000 will hardly cover their loss.

The Deadly Folding Bed Again.

SEBASTIA, Mo., Oct. 13.—Mrs. J. R.

Farsons, wife of a railroad conductor, met with an accident last night that will prove fatal. She had locked the door to her apartment and was preparing to retire. In attempting to lower her folding bed, the bed clothes caught in the sliding headboard and her weight caused the bed to topple forward and close. Mrs. Parsons was caught between the bed and badly crushed internally. Her cries attracted attention on the street, and only after breaking down the door to her bed chamber was she liberated.

A Retrograding State.

The population of Vermont was 330,551 in 1870, 232,286 in 1880, and 332,422 in 1890. In other words, the state has been practically stationary for twenty years, and during the decade preceding 1890 the gain was only 136 souls. As Burlington, Rutland, Barre and some other large towns had several thousand more inhabitants in 1891 than in 1880, the smaller towns and the rural communities, of course, lost ground, and the extent of the loss is illustrated in such facts as that during this period the number of farms shrank from 35,522 to 32,573, the total acreage from 4,882,588 to 4,795,636 and the improved acreage from 3,286,461 to 2,655,943, while the unimproved acreage increased from 1,596,127 to 1,729,703, and is now larger than in 1850.

HOW ABOUT IT?

Julia A. Smith Takes Cardinal Gibbons to Task.

She Replies to the Cardinal's Late Attack on Woman Suffrage—Thinks He Should Study.

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Oct. 13.—Dr. Julia Holmes Smith, Democratic nominee for trustee of the Illinois State University, in an interview today on Cardinal Gibbons' attack on woman's suffrage, said:

"In support of his idea, the cardinal recites the words of a Grecian ruler: 'I command Athens. Athens rules the world, and my wife rules me; therefore, she rules the world.'"

"Perhaps, had the cardinal investigated his Grecian history more carefully, he would have discovered that it was not the wife that ruled or governed. The man whom Aepasia governed had a wife and family at home. Thus it has been, and Cardinal Gibbons would do well to study the history of Aepasia."

AN INDIAN SAW THEM.

The Sunday Morning Ride of the Three Train Robbers.

The theory that five men were engaged in the Maricopa train robbery is about to be disturbed. An Indian has been found who saw three men on Sunday morning before the robbery riding in the direction of Maricopa. The horses they rode, two grays and a bay, correspond in color with those captured by Sheriff Murphy and Deputy Sheriff Widmer. The three men were riding from the direction of the camp where Armer was afterward captured.

The Indian's attention was more particularly attracted to the horsemen by reason of the fact that white men are seldom seen on that road.

Henry Morgan will have the Indian in town this morning to meet Detective Will Smith and examine a photograph of Rogers for identification. If the identification is complete it will be pretty well established that the three men were alone engaged in the robbery. The result of it will be favorable to O'Brien since it is certain that he is not one of the three who rode back after the robbery.

A MISSING TRADER.

Brother of a German Military Officer Lost in Northern Arizona.

An inquiry was received at the office of Territorial Secretary Bruce concerning Herman Wolf, a trader among the Indians in the neighborhood of Canyon Diablo. The inquiry comes from A. Wunthal, imperial German consul general at San Francisco. A brother of the missing man is Major General Wolf, of Dresden, Germany, who had applied to the Kaiserlich Deutsches Konsulat at San Francisco. He stated that for nearly a year no letter had been received from his brother who had before that written regularly. His relatives are in the greatest anxiety about him, fearing that he may have become the victim of a crime.

Herr Wunthal desires that an inquiry concerning Wolf be made from the secretary's office.

The only person who could be found in Phoenix yesterday who knew anything of Wolf was Phil Brennan, of Goldberg Bros. He knew him well but had heard nothing of him for several years.

He wrote to his brother, Dr. D. J. Brennan, of Flagstaff, last night, requesting him to ascertain the whereabouts or possible fate of the missing trader.

Coin and Bullion.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 13.—Silver bars, per oz., 63½¢@63¾¢; Mexican dollars, 55¢@53½¢.

NO POLITICS.

The University at Berkeley Is Non-Partisan.

Budd Not Permitted to Speak There.

Republicans Kicked and That Stopped the Proceedings.

The Scheme Prohibited Though Budd Is a Graduate of This Institution of Learning.

By the Associated Press.

OAKLAND, Oct. 13.—Some days ago the Democratic students at Berkeley started a movement to invite James Budd, Democratic candidate for governor, to visit the university and address them, and a reception committee was appointed. Several of the members of the committee were Republicans. They objected and appealed to the regents, who have issued an order prohibiting the reception which was projected because Budd is a graduate of the university.

REPUBLICAN RALLY.

An Encouraging Night at the Tempe Republican Meeting.

The Republican meeting at Tempe attracted a large and earnest crowd from all points on the south side. A special train from Phoenix took many over but as the meeting was of a somewhat local character the audience was mainly a south side one. Among the speeches was a stirring and effective one by Mr. C. M. Frazier. Nearly all the county candidates were present and presented their claims for support. The manner in which they were received by the crowd indicates that the ticket will not suffer on that side of the river.

The Phoenix Precincts Glee club elicited warm applause.

The Democrats were at Mesa and Candidate Herndon made his maiden speech in the Maricopa county campaign. Other speakers were Hon. J. F. Smith of Prescott, Judge Campbell, Col. B. J. Franklin and Frank Cox.

MANIFOLD JUSTICE.

Two Cases in the Same Court at the Same Time.

Justice Johnstone dispensed justice yesterday in Gatling gun fashion. Part of the time two cases were in progress, and court was being held in two different places. The justice could not, of course, be in two places at the same time, for that is held to be as impossible a feat as the occupation at the same time of the same place by two bodies. But while the jury in one place was in deliberation, another jury was hearing evidence elsewhere in another case.

The case of Asher vs. Purdy, forcible detainer, was decided by a jury in favor of the defendant.

In the cases of H. S. Dunn and R. C. Baker against the Hudson Reservoir and Irrigation company, judgments were rendered for the plaintiff. In these cases the defendant is represented by H. C. Magne, who is putting up a cheerful fight, and one which the bar pronounces remarkably able and ingenious considering the fact that it is made without a scrap of evidence, either oral or documentary.

A NOVEL EXHIBITION.

Mrs. A. M. Lee's Grand Millinery Opening.

The millinery opening, together with an art exhibition is a novel feature which, introduced by Mrs. A. M. Lee, cannot fail to be a success, judging from the past openings, which have always been artistic and original. Each lady is invited to display any work of art which she may possess, and will be allowed the privilege of voting as to which work of art deserves the prize—an elegant hat.

The opening will commence on the evening of the 18th and continue Friday and Saturday. As space is limited, it will be well to enter exhibits as early as possible. All work must be in by the 17th.

THE PENITENTIARY.

Late Report of the Prison Commissioners.

The report of the board of prison commissioners has been received by Governor Hughes. It shows that the per capita cost of the prisoners has been reduced lower than ever before in the history of the institution notwithstanding the addition of many improvements. It approves the efforts made in the direction of securing perfect discipline. The work of Secretary McKean is highly commended as is also that of his predecessor in office Eugene J. Trippel. The board recommends the pardon of G. W. Rood and also that of Isadore Licano for the purpose of restoring him to citizenship. In the case of convicts King Usery, Nels Hansen and Jesse Castillo the board recommends commutations.
