WIGGLING PICTURE MADE A HIT WITH HIM

At the moving picture theatre one evening there was thrown on the screen a view of a group of young ladies preparing to disrobe and go in bathing in a sheltered lake in the background. Just as they started to undress a long freight train came along the track between the camera and the bathers. By the time it had passed the young ladies were in their bathing suits and in the lake. At the close of the evening's performance at the theatre a man hurried out of the box office and throwing down a bill demanded a seat for every night during the balance of the week. "I will be glad to sell them to you," explained the man in the ticket window, "but we show the same pictures every night this week." "I know you do," replied the prospective purchaser. "But I am an old railroad man and I know that freight train is not going to be on time every night."
