LET SOMETHING GOOD BE SAID

When o'er the fair fame of friend or foe

The shadow of disgrace shall fall; instead

Of words of blame, or proof of this and so,

Let something good be said.

Forget not that no fellow-being yet

May fall so low but love may lift his head;

Even the cheek of shame with tears is wet

If some good be said.

No generous heart may vainly turn aside

In ways of sympathy; no soul so dead;

But may awaken strong and glorified

If something good be said.

And so I charge ye, by the thorny crown,

And by the cross on which the Savior bled,

And by your own soul's fair renown,

Let something good be said.

—James Whitcomb Riley.

HOW SOME PEOPLE ADVERTISE

In the February American Magazine, "Abe Martin," the Indian philosopher, makes the following remarks on advertising:

"What's become o' th' ole-time merchant that used t' set a tubful o' dried apples an' a keg o' mackerel in front o' his store an' then go t' sleep?"

"Ever' feller that don't advertise hain't a fool, but very few fools advertise."

"Th' fellow that don't know how t' advertise is about as bad as th' feller that don't believe in it."

"Folks are allus anxious t' see somebuddy they've read so much about, an' they'd be just as crazy t' see a clothes wringer er anything else under the same circumstances."

President Wilson very much regrets that Benton was not an American citizen instead of an Englishman. Murdering an Englishman causes so much more trouble than the mere slaughter of an American. England wants to know why, while America wants to be thoroughly capable of not understanding.

Senator Mark Smith is coming alive rapidly. It might possibly be caused by the fact that Keese M. Ling has "slang" his lid into the ring for senator. Ling will put up a remarkable fuss for the old warhorse of Cochise.

Admiral Dewey's memorials of the battle of Manila are not approved and commended by the Admiral Von Diederichs. Both seemed to have been there.

INGROWING OUTCOME TAX

The United States is rapidly becoming, it it hasn't already arrived, the most governed government of the world. Eugenic laws are many and stringent in many states. In fact it is getting down to where all door knobs will soon have to be disinfected each time after use and twice before. Some of it is reasonable and a heap of it is silly. When you are thoroughly disinfected, the state asks you for a state tax, a corporation tax, an auto tax, a school tax, the county wants personal tax, road tax, school tax, bond tax; the city wants poll, city tax, water tax and dog tax; the government feeling that direct tax had been overlooked by it, imposes corporation tax, and an income tax. The last tax promises to be one that will out "moonshine" the old revenues of old. It will open up a new era for bookkeepers and auditors. If a man is on the ragged edge of taking in $3000 if unmarried; $4000 if married, a bookkeeper is required at $1000 or thereabouts per year to ascertain whether or not according to law he should be compelled to pay the government $5 or $10. There is no way of a person paying $10 or $20 and swearing that it will cover his income, he must swear at and as to details and take a bookkeeper's word for it. If some one owes him and won't pay, this must be charged in as income unless he sues the debtor and by that means discovers that he can't collect it.

The old idea of taking all each person has, throwing it into a jackpot, then hiring some one to deal out just what one can use, or putting them on a requisition basis, does not look so bad now as it used to.

Says "The Man About Town" in the Phoenix Gazette:

"Too bad Flagstaff is burdened with a paper which is always trying to quarrel with other publications who are friendly and would enjoy nothing better than remaining in that beatific state. Seems almost as though that quill wielder must have sun'thin' the matter with his liver."

We would suggest that if "The Man About Town" would go home once in a while he wouldn't see things that do not exist.

It is now plainly evident to President Wilson that a great mistake was made years ago by putting the White House at one end of Pennsylvania avenue and his other house at the opposite end.

Martin Parriar proved at Cincinnati that the old hell had no terrors for him by inventing a suit in which he could stay in fire for five minutes at least without being singed in the least.

General Villa has refused to allow Americans to view the body of Benton. It is rumored that president Wilson is about ready to allow any one to see Villa's.

Ladies are you registered? If not, who is your husband going to vote for.

If war is hell, General Villa seems eminently fitted to take charge.

Speaking of the taxpayer, the tax-eater says to Arizona—"Soak 'em".

New York was visited by the worst storm in years this week.

Morenci is to lose its unique distinction of being the only city without streets. Within a year a system of streets will have been opened down the main street running from the plaza, up Burro Alley to Longfellow and several side streets to be cut through.

Announcement

In order to place a thorough understanding of my position before the people I wish to state:

(1) That under no circumstances will I withdraw from the race for the governorship.

(2) My record is that of a true and loyal Democrat. I have never voted any other ticket.

(3) The principal plank of my platform is LAW ENFORCEMENT. By this I mean the enforcement of all laws, regardless of my personal preference.

(4) I do not believe that the executive should encroach upon the legislative or the judicial functions.

(5) "It is righteousness that exalteth a nation;" a consciousness of being right makes men brave.

Private Lunn's Question

Christie MacDonald, the actress, relates the following anecdote:

"A drill sergeant was drilling the recruit squad in the use of the rifle. Everything went smoothly until blank cartridges were distributed. The recruits were instructed to load their pieces and stand at 'Ready!' and then the sergeant gave the command:

"Fire at will!"

Private Lunn was puzzled. He loved his gun.

"Which one is Will?" he asked.
