POLITICAL ANNOUNCEMENTS

I hereby announce my candidacy for the office of Sheriff on the Republican ticket at the primary election September 8, 1914.

L. S. (TOM) DRUM.

I am a candidate before the Republican primary on Sept. 8th for Sheriff.

WM. A. CAMPBELL.

The republican state central committee meeting held at Prescott this week resulted in many good talks, but failed in securing any marked encouragement from the progressive leaders. At one time progressives claimed to have been fighting for principle, but so far as could be learned now, the self appointed leaders of the progressives are much in doubt as to what the row is about. It was made plain to them by the republicans that both platform and nominations could be arranged satisfactorily. When satisfied as to this, they had nothing to offer but refused to come in. The progressive movement seems to have narrowed down to a few generals who have mislaid their armies and haven't discovered it yet.

The refusal of the few progressive leaders to get together with republicans this fall is a sad commentary on their political perspicacity to say the least and it leads the casual observer to believe they have gone into a combination for the purpose of assisting to re-elect governor Hunt.

The committees appointed for Fourth of July duty are to be congratulated on the success of their work. In spite of the rain and other things to contend with, there was very little if any complaint from the big crowd of people.

Huerta was elected president of a small section of Mexico Sunday. The vote was very light, probably suggested by Huerta. Blanquet was on the ticket in order to cover a multitude of sin.

Coconino County has the silver trophy cup for the most progress made on roads during 1913, and, a couple southern counties have a grouch.

While peace prevailed principally, several otherwise perfectly good faves showed evidence after the Fourth that some one was fattening up his batting average.

The local political pot has commenced to bubble and simmer some, though there does not appear to be any wild scramble for county offices generally at present.

The Yuma weather between Huerta and Villa does not seem to hurt Flagstaff to any degree as yet.

As usual Flagstaff's endeavor to notice the National birthday succeeded very successfully.

WOOL GROWERS HOLD ANNUAL MEETING

The annual meeting of the Arizona Wool Growers Association was held at the court house Thursday, July 3rd, 1914.

There was no set program or speakers from the outside at this meeting which was devoted entirely to the business of the Association. The meeting was well attended and much valuable business was transacted.

Reports of the officers covering the work of the Association in the past year were made and approved. Some of the main features called to attention in the reports were that the Land Lease Bill and the Enlarged Homestead Act has been side-tracked by Congress for the present and a compromise measure providing for the classification of public lands substituted. The proposed eliminations of Forest Reserve lands, as advised by the Commissioner of the General Land Office would be held in abeyance until a proper examination of the lands could be made. The re-hearing in the rate on sheep in double-deck cars from Arizona to California points was heard in Los Angeles June 22nd, before the Examiner for the Inter-State Commerce Commission, at which President Campbell and Secretary Powers attended as witnesses, the contention of the wool growers being that the double-deck sheep cars should take the same rate as those for cattle. The evidence in this case will go to the Commission for decision.

Of special interest was the report of Vice-President C. Hess, Jr., of the committee composed of H. E. Campbell, E. A. Sawyer and himself, appointed to go to Washington last August to protest against the elimination of sheep on certain ranges. The sending of this committee to Washington at that time was of particular interest and benefit to the Association, inasmuch as it developed that the Washington officials seemed to have no knowledge of a great many matters that were disturbing the wool growers and the direct representation of the wool growers with the Departments at Washington was of great service to the sheepmen. Quoting from the report of Mr. Hess "Much of what had taken place to the detriment of the sheep industry never reached Washington until our arrival."

Assistant District Forester Kerr of Albuquerque and Forest Supervisor Drake of the Coconino National Forest were present at the meeting. Other Forest Supervisors were unable to be present. A letter from Assistant Forester Potter advised that he had received the invitation too late to be present, advising however, that it was his intention to spend the latter part of July in Arizona and that if there were any matters of especial importance to the Association, that the Association wishes given attention, he would make it a point to stop at Flagstaff.

COMMENSURATE RANCH PROPERTY Mr. Drake was called upon to discuss commensurate ranch property in connection with permits on the Forest Reserve. Information was obtained that as a rule the sheepmen maintained better improvements than the cattlemen, although the latter were improving in this regard. Under the Forest Service laws no transfer of permits can be made without the transfer of commensurate ranch property. This is especially established with strict regulations in Districts No. 1 and No. 5, and there is no question that ultimately with or without a recommendation from the live stock association the standardization of commensurate ranch property in connection with permits will be put into effect.

The committee selected by the Chair, composed of Messrs. Hess, Hennessy, Colin Campbell, Sutton and Judge Perkins to confer with Supervisor Drake and Assistant District Forester Kerr, was appointed to confer during the noon recess to report back to the Association. After a thorough discussion, it was moved and carried by the Association that they recommend that essential requirements be required in regard to commensurate property for renewal of permits or the issuance of permits to new beginners, covering the essential points as follows: A habitable house, storage room, for camp purposes, corrals and pasturage for camp stock.

WATER ON THE RANGE

After considerable discussion no decision was reached regarding the recommendation for water on the range, as some stockmen have the use of government water or living water and are required to make no water development. The condition in this matter are so varied in different localities that no blanket recommendation could be arrived at by the Association.

Letters were read from Boston wool buyers, especially from Salter Brothers & Company of Boston, quoting the objections of the wool manufacturers to the wool brands used by Arizona wool growers and also to the twine for tying fleeces. Samples of wool were exhibited, showing the effects of paint and crude oil brands, which could not be scoured out of the wool and required considerable loss of time and additional expense to eliminate from the fleeces. It was moved and carried unanimously that the Association recommend the use of Kemp's Branding Fluid and that the Association insist that shearing plants use paper twine for tying fleeces. It was also recommended that sheepmen discontinue the use of oil and tar brands and separate the black fleeces and the tags. Sheepmen the world over are endeavoring to obtain as nearly perfect results as possible in putting the wool in shape for the markets and it is poor policy for the Arizona wool growers not to progress with the times, and it is evident that the mills will more and more judge the wool on its merits alone, which has not been done by the buyers in the field, as they evidently endeavor to buy it cheap enough to cover these objectionable features.

It was moved and carried by the Association that the Secretary's report of the proceedings be published in pamphlet form, to be distributed among the members of the Association. President H. E. Campbell, Vice-President C. Hess, Jr., and Secretary & Treasurer M. I. Powers were re-elected. The executive committee was elected as follows: H. E. Campbell, M. I. Powers, A. J. LeBaron, Tom L. Rees, Harlow Yeager, H. J. Gray and O. B. Sutton.
