

CONSTIPATION

And Sour Stomach Caused This Lady Much Suffering. Black-Draught Relieved.

Mendocino, Ky.—Mrs. Pearl Patrick, of this place, writes: "I was very constipated. I had sour stomach and was so uncomfortable. I went to the doctor. He gave me some pills. They weakened me and seemed to tear up my digestion. They would gripe me and afterwards it seemed I was more constipated than before."

I heard of Black-Draught and decided to try it. I found it just what I needed. It was an easy laxative, and not bad to swallow. My digestion soon improved. I got well of the sour stomach, my bowels soon seemed normal, no more griping, and I would take a dose now and then, and was in good shape.

I cannot say too much for Black-Draught for it is the finest laxative one can use."

Theodore's Black-Draught has for many years been found of great value in the treatment of stomach, liver and bowel troubles. Easy to take, gentle and reliable in its action, leaving no bad after-effects, it has won the praise of thousands of people who have used it.

SEVERE PENALTIES ATTACHED TO EVASION OF THE DRAFT

Special instructions regarding the draft, which have been sent out by Provost Marshal General Crowder, reveal for the first time the detailed process of all phases of the great undertaking, including the extremely severe penalties which attach to evasion.

The new instructions show clearly that the government is treating the draft as a more serious matter even than registration. The evidence of this is in the penalties fixed for evasion of the draft and violation of the rules.

While a year's imprisonment was the maximum penalty for failure to register, the dodging of military service or assisting a registrant to escape by taking a false oath or conspiring with him, incurs the liability of imprisonment from two to five years and heavy fines besides.

Any person who makes a false statement in behalf of a claim for exemption or discharge, is liable to one year's imprisonment.

Severe Penalties

If two or more persons conspire to assist anyone in wrongfully evading military service, they shall be liable to one year's imprisonment.

False witness is something that few will care to indulge in. A perjured affidavit, which seeks to relieve any registrant from military service, is punishable by a maximum fine of $2,000 and five years in prison.

Among the more important rules are the following:

"The person who is discharged because of physical disability will not be obliged to present any further claim for exemption or discharge, nor will it be necessary for the local board to consider such a claim or take up any time with it.

Physical Test First

Rejection upon physical examination eliminates the consideration of any other cause of exemption or discharge.

"If any person called by a local board and notified to appear for physical examination shall be unable to appear in person for physical examination on or after the tenth day after the mailing of the notice directing him to appear for such examination because of sickness, he shall establish, by means of affidavits, such inability to the satisfaction of the local board. One of the affidavits in support of his inability must be made by a licensed physician.

"Any person who shall make or be a party to the making of any false statement or certificate as to the fitness or liability of himself or any other person for service under the provisions of this act shall be punished by imprisonment of not more than one year, or, if subject to military law, shall be tried by court-martial and suffer such punishment as a court-martial may direct.

"If such person does not satisfy such local board of his inability to appear because of illness, such board may enter an order requiring an examining physician of such board to examine such person."

Subjects of Germany, aliens, persons in the military or naval service of the United States, Federal and State officers are classified as exempt from service.

"Whenever the board is of the opinion that there is reason for believing that any person is entitled to exemption such board may postpone the physical examination of any such person until after his claim for exemption or discharge shall have been heard."

On the subject of dependents the new instructions have this to say: "It may be broadly stated that it is the purpose of the government to humanely protect those who may be left unprotected for, if the persons within the degree of relationship specified in the regulations are taken for military service.

"At the same time, because of this desire on the part of the government to protect specified persons who may be dependent, the government should not be wrongfully and improperly deprived of the services of those persons who do not in fact support such dependents, but who may seek to use such claim of support as an excuse and pretext to avoid military service.

"If the local board has any such reason to believe that any person seeking to discharge himself from military service by making a false claim as to the dependency of any relative, or the fact that he is the support of such relative, the local board should not hesitate to point out to such person that he is exposing himself to the penalties for perjury provided for in the criminal code of the United States and also to the penalties provided for in this act.

"A claim of exemption upon the registration card is not to be construed or considered as a presentation of a claim for exemption.

"No subject of Germany residing in the United States, whether or not he has taken out his first papers, will be accepted for military service.

"Even though a subject of Germany is desirous of entering the military service of the United States and requests the local board to permit him to do so, it would be manifestly improper for the board to accede to such request.

"A resident alien of the United States, who has not declared his intention to become a citizen, cannot be called for military service.

"With reference to those seeking exemption upon the ground that they have dependents, without question many will seek to claim discharge who are not in fact entitled to such discharge.

"With references to this class, to a greater degree than any other, much wisdom and common sense will have to be exercised."

PUBLICITY AND RECRUITING GO HAND IN HAND

The United States Navy Publicity Bureau, Commander K. M. Bennett, U. S. N., officer in charge, has just completed an arrangement by which an attractive display of recruiting posters will be officially made at all of the state and county fairs in the United States. More than two thousand fair secretaries and managers have applied to the Bureau for plans and specifications for the erection of a Navy billboard on their grounds. To each of these has been sent detailed plans, prepared by an architect, a picture of completed board and three of the newest posters issued by this Bureau. A sample display board is now on exhibition alongside the U. S. S. Recruit in Union Square, New York. Prior to this the Publicity Bureau also made arrangements by which all of the amusement parks and pleasure grounds throughout the country were similarly billed. All of this has been carried out in an effort to especially reach the young men of the country who have responded most readily to the call of the Navy. In this work the Bureau has had the cooperation of Charles and John Ringling of Ringling Bros., who have had all of the bill-posters covering the country make a distribution of Navy posters with their own. Both circuses are also carrying recruiting tents which are taken charge of by Navy recruiting officers wherever the shows appear.

BE CANNY

Get that canning impulse. Home canning is kitchen patriotism.

Make your hoe this summer keep your can opener busy next winter.

Get ready for canning season now. Regrets are the only things ever canned in the jars you forget to order.

Can nothing that can be kept without canning. Dry such vegetables as corn, string beans, navy beans, mature Lima beans, okra, etc.

You can brag about your garden all winter if you have your canned evidence on the dinner table.

Concentrate products, especially soup mixtures, so that each container will hold as much canned food and as little water as possible.

Really there is nothing to canning fruit and vegetables except care, cleanliness, fresh products, jars, and heat.

Establish a home canning firm. "Father, Mother & Co." Don't forget the little "co's."

UNSHAKEN TESTIMONY

Time is the test of truth. And Doan's Kidney Pills have stood the test. No Flagstaff resident who suffers backache, or annoying urinary ills can remain unconvinced by this twice-told testimony.

J. H. Smith, 131 W. Carleton St., Prescott, Arizona, says: "When I first began using Doan's Kidney Pills I was suffering with pains across the small of my back and through my loins. My kidneys did not act right and the weakness caused me a lot of annoyance. Doan's Kidney Pills cured me of the attack and now I seldom need any kidney remedy. When I do, I get Doan's Kidney Pills and they never fail to do me good." (Statement given May 6, 1913.)

A Permanent Cure

On March 3, 1917, Mr. Smith said: "Doan's Kidney Pills cured me and my cure has lasted. I shall always have a good word for Doan's."

Price 60c. at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Smith has twice publicly recommended. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

SLACKER TRIAL DELAYS TERM FOR AUGUST

There will be a delay in the special adjournment session of the Federal court in Prescott, while Judge Sawtelle tries the 50 odd Russian religious fanatics who were jailed for refusing to register June 5th. In addition there are the cases of a number of Mexicans, charged with evading the selective service law.

This information was given out by United States Marshal J. P. Dillon, who arrived in Prescott from the south Saturday.

They had a rather foxy way of collecting slackers down in Phoenix. Chaps would go to the clerk of the Superior court and ask for marriage licenses. The clerk would ask the name, age and other details, and if the applicant said he was between 21 and 30, he was asked to show his registration certificate. Failing to show one, he would be asked to go to Marshal Dillon's office for a permit. Instead of a permit, the marshal gave him a free trip to the county jail and a stretch of free board.

The Russians who refused to register are all ranchers of the Glendale district, and belong to a religious order known as the Moolkans. They have conscientious scruples against war, and instead of urging these scruples in the proper form before the exemption boards, they declined to register. As a result, over half a hundred of them were arrested and jailed. Their relatives came in from far and wide and held a sort of howling dervish holy roller celebration in the jail yard, which was accompanied by a lot of chanting on the part of the men behind the bars. The frenzied yapping set the other prisoners and bootleggers so wild that they threatened to go on a strike unless the perverted fanatics were squelched.

It is not known how long it will take to try the cases. At the conclusion of the trials in Phoenix the Federal court will move up to Prescott and clear the docket of a lot of civil cases continued from the March term and transferred to Prescott from Phoenix, Tucson and Globe. Then, on the first Monday in September, the court will convene at Prescott in the regular Fall session, at which time both criminal and civil cases will be heard.

Potash in Arizona

Potash has been found in Arizona, thirty miles north of Parker. It is confined to an underground basin, in a state of solution, and the brine is pumped, easily. The basin is not far from the Colorado River, but the two are not connected. Explorations so far confine the basin to an area six miles in diameter. A well, seventy-five feet deep, has been bored into the basin, but this is not the deposit's full depth. Potash is of great value in the uses of commerce and manufactures, and this discovery is of especial importance just now in time of war. The analysis of the brine is so encouraging that the district where it lies already has been staked full of claims.

It Sounds Ridiculous

Joseph H. Choate said at a luncheon in New York:

"When the Germans talk about protecting little nations, freeing the seas and championing international law, it sounds so ridiculous that it reminds me of the tramp.

"Lady," said a tramp to a farmer's wife, "could you oblige me with the loan of a cake of soap?"

The farmers wife threw up her hands.

"Soap!" she said. "Do you mean to tell me you desire soap?"

"Yas'm," said the tramp. "Me partner's got the hiccoughs and I want to scare him."

Plumbing and It's Relation to Health

Sanitary plumbing is of vital importance in every home, office, store, factory—everywhere. The doctor cures; the plumber prevents. Bad plumbing breeds disease and hastens death. Plumbing however, is an important factor in safeguarding the health of this community.
