TICKET AGENTS SEE PHOENIX

One Hundred and Fifty Members of National Ticket Agents' Association Fall in Love With S. R. V. Right Away

One hundred and fifty ticket agents from all parts of the United States stopped off in Phoenix yesterday for a bare hour and one-half. But in that time they fell in love with the Salt River Valley, Phoenix, and especially the Arizona brand of hospitality as delivered in this city. According to the testimony of all, they were treated in Phoenix as they have never, in the history of their organization, been treated elsewhere. They left in love with Phoenix, and more than one stated that he would return at the earliest opportunity.

At promptly 9:30 the train bearing the 150 boosters and ticket punchers rolled into the local depot, and the members of the visiting crowd were piled into the waiting machines which had gathered at the depot to show the visitors all about the Salt River Valley. They were taken first to the Adams Hotel, where an elaborate Phoenix luncheon was awaiting their arrival. Following the banquet the whole number was taken in Phoenix machines to the several places of interest about the city.

And in the meantime Tucson was anxiously wiring this city telling the locals how stingy and hateful things they were for holding the visitors so long after the train was scheduled to leave. The visitors liked it here so well that regardless of the schedule under which they were due to arrive and leave they stayed a full hour past departing time.

"This is the best thing I have seen since I left Pittsburg," said H. S. Dare. "There is not a spot on the whole of our visited journey where we have seen the beautiful lands, the many beautiful homes, the prosperous appearance, that is shown here in Phoenix. There is nothing in the whole country to equal it."

One of the four members examined the real estate values in the valley. Later he made financial arrangements for buying a piece of the famous land in the orange belt, on which he states he will make his home after he has quit the ticket business. That was G. J. Higgins of Shamokin, Pa., who will in all probability come to the Salt River Valley soon, as he is nearly ready for retirement.

The party had heard of the Phoenix ticket punchers long before they hit this part of the state. Consequently they hunted up several of the Phoenixians and immediately pinned little red and blue buttons on their coat lapels, announcing the fact that they had the high honor of being members of the Ticket Agents' Association. Archibald R. Gatter pointed out the several curves of the button to all his friends and paraded it from the lobby of the Adams all over town yesterday afternoon.

The party continued their journey a little after 11 o'clock, going first to Tucson. From there they will continue eastward on the Southern Pacific, ending their journey in the places from which each started in about one week.

Salt River Ranch Worth Several Parcels of Los Angeles Property

N. H. French, recently arrived in the Salt River Valley, has bought a ranch in the Glendale neighborhood, where he will make his home. The new home represents an exchange of several houses and lots by Mr. French to F. M. and H. A. Martin for the past year owners of the Glendale property. Two of the houses in the trade are Los Angeles property and one is Phoenix property. French will at once start in improving the property he received in the exchange.

PAIGE

Model Glenwood "36"—Electric lighting and starting—$1275
Model Brunswick "25" 5-passenger—Electric lighting and starting—$975

ANY of the structural features of the Paige car are found ordinarily only in cars of much higher price.

Take the outward appearance of the car—bigness and power and grace in every line—richness and luxury in the finish.

Dig into the structural features—note the multiple disc cork insert clutch, the silent chain drive to motor shaft, the large unit electric starting and lighting system—all features that you naturally expect to find only in cars costing $2000 or more.

Look for the reason—and you will find that the Paige-Detroit Motor Car Company has no bonded indebtedness on which it has to pay interest—no excessive capitalization on which it has to pay dividends—no heavy overhead expenses of any kind.

Hence—when you buy a Paige you pay only for the car itself—

Investigate these things for yourself—

Then get your name on an order blank as quickly as you can—the Paige is going to be oversold again this year.

and he expects to make it his future home.
J. Fitzgerald, mining engineer in the Clifton district, has also decided that the Salt River lands look good to him, and consequently has purchased in the Orangewood district a five-acre tract, which he will hold indefinitely and will later improve.
Thomas A. Barker, who has recently come out here from Cleveland looking over the country and a prospective buyer, decided that he would make the Salt River Valley his home after this summer, and bought from William M. Costley his own Central Avenue residence. He will occupy the house in the fall, bringing his family to Phoenix at that time.
To J. W. Garnett of Aurora, Mo., Costley, in addition to the above, also sold the five-acre tract belonging to Miss Ethel Donn, and located in the Lincoln district.

LODGE LORE

the pages and a pleasure for us to hear Brother Wheaton promulgate this oath, a man of goodly present and courageous bearing, well fitted to be a leader in the Pythian world. The "Rathborne Bible" is small in size being only six inches square, upon the fly leaf is the portrait of the founder of the Order Justus Henry Rathborne, immediately underneath the picture is his personal signature and a few brief words presenting the Bible to the supreme lodge.

The pages who had the pleasure of being proven in this rank by Brother Wheaton shall ever remember and cherish the beautiful services. Following is the class of pages:
Albert Bergauer, Wm. J. Oliver, Earnest A. Smith, O. R. Linstrom, Henry K. Bohn, Alex. C. Thompson, M. J. Hinton, Fred W. Leslie, H. J. Sherrick, Arthur J. Wilson, H. K. Plitton, Lee R. Callahan, Will Mosser, S. E. Billingsly, George Ehler, Dr. Allen H. Williams, A. L. Rutrough, James E. Simpson, Floyd M. Stahl, Jessie M. McGhee, Fred C. Henshaw, Garfield Christiansen, J. A. Jacoby and Hawthorn.

Chandler the baby lodge of this domain was strongly represented, bringing along with them a class of eight pages. Temple was also ably represented having a number of candidates in the class.

Owing to the time consumed in getting the class ready to take the work our business session suffered. The only matter of business being transacted was the permission granted our grand keeper of records and seal the use of our paraphernalia in instituting a lodge at Hayden.

Ten-thirty having arrived we closed our lodge and adjourned to the Adams Hotel, where a sumptuous banquet was served. Deputy Grand Chancellor Cisney acted as our toastmaster, his witty remarks promoting much enthusiasm.

Our first speaker, Brother Langston, extended our hearty welcome to Brother Wheaton, our grand lodge officers and visiting knights. Brother Loper was next with his usual stirring remarks. He read a telegram from Supreme Chancellor Carling voicing his good wishes and continued prosperity of the Pythians in the Domain of Arizona.
Our next speaker, the grand chancellor, complimented us freely upon the splendid body of Pythians in Salt River Valley in general and the grand future that lies before us.

Our supreme keeper of records and seal, Brother Wheaton, spoke at some length, starting his remarks with a splendid tribute to the activity of Phoenix Lodge No. 2 and the beautiful valley of the Salt.
Being the one man closest to the workings of our order, Brother Wheaton was able to speak with authority upon the progress of Pythianism since the founding of the order in Washington, D. C., Feb. 19th, 1864 to the present day stating that we are now $50,000 strong and the third strongest in number of members of all fraternal organizations in the world. For the benefit of the pages present Brother Wheaton told of the object of our order and the splendid work we have done, are doing, and expect to do in the future. Closing his remarks he extended his sincere thanks to the members for the splendid way in which he had been entertained and hoped it would be his pleasure to visit us again in the near future.

Everybody shall long remember our doings of Friday night. Next Friday the rank of esquire will be given.
