Churches Present Special Programs and Attendance Is Good.

Easter Sunday was generally observed in Tempe yesterday and the churches recorded extra large attendances. The services at each were appropriate to the occasion and Easterday passed with joy to all. Special features were prepared at the Congregational church, consisting of a splendid song service in connection with the sermon by the pastor, Rev.
C. H. Dains. The evening program consisted of a service rendered by the Sunday school.

At the Methodist church also song service was a leading feature of the morning and especially of the evening gathering. The anthems by the choir and solos add much to both services.
The Christian church likewise was in line with a good strong address by the pastor, Rev. William Dunlap, and the choir assisted with music.
The feature of the service was the instrumental as well as the vocal services.

At the Baptist church Rev. J. B.
Coxey officiated, presenting an appropriate service to his congregation.
Here also the music was a special feature at both evening and morning services.

The attendance at the various Easter services was exceptionally large.

DIED IN KANSAS

Word was received here the latter part of last week to the effect that May Cummings, formerly of Tempe, had passed away at her home in Hutchinson, Kansas, death coming on Tuesday. The sad news was received by relatives of the deceased.
May Cummings was the eldest child of Ben Cummings, for many years a resident and business man of Tempe.
He removed from here to his old home state, and owing to the health of the daughter again returned to Arizona last winter. He remained in Tempe the last time for about three or four months, when it became apparent that death was not far distant. The return trip proved a difficult one and death came to the daughter on the third day after her home arrival.

The deceased is a granddaughter of Jerry Cummings, a well known Tempe man, and was a native of Tempe.
She lived here until about twelve years of age, when the parents left for Kansas. She had just reached her twenty-first birthday when she passed to the beyond. Death was due to tuberculosis.

SOME CROWD

Probably the largest crowd ever assembled in the small village of Cundahupe gathered there Saturday night to witness the Easter services of the Yaqui Indians. People from Phoenix, Glendale, Mesa and Tempe, in conveyances ranging from horseback to the largest of automobiles, began to gather shortly after sunset and before nine o'clock the village gave the appearance of a city.
Many picnic parties took advantage of the day and made the trip by haysacks, partaking of a lunch after witnessing the performances.

The dancing started early and consisted of individual performances and the other usual large dance in which about twenty-five men took part.
These dances continued off and on through the night, the crowd dwindling down considerably by midnight.
The Easter celebration did not end until this morning and now the village is wrapped in peaceful restful-ness.

CHANGED HANDS

A half interest in the Grand billiard and pool hall changed hands Saturday, when J. A. Valenzuela disposed of his portion of the business to his uncle, Frank Valenzuela. The consideration of the transfer, it is understood, was a good sum. The new investor is now on the job with his partner, Ramon Mazon, who still retains his interest.

FROM PHOENIX

Adjutant-General Harris and family of Phoenix spent yesterday with Mrs.
Harris' parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. G.
Corson. Mr. and Mrs. Harris are at home in Tempe, having resided here a considerable length of time.

FROM WICKENBURG

John Curry of Wickenburg arrived in Tempe yesterday morning and will remain for a few days attending to various business matters that demand his attention. He reports the mountain town as lively and promising.

MEET TONIGHT

The board of education of the grammar school will meet tonight for the purpose of taking up a lot of unfinished business they have on their hands. The session will necessarily be a long one and the board hopes to accomplish much.

UNITED IN MARRIAGE

Don Antonio and Mrs. Lela Barwick, both of Tempe, surprised their many friends yesterday afternoon by quietly slipping off to Phoenix and there joining themselves in holy wedlock.
Both the contracting parties are well known locally. Mr. Antonio is assistant secretary of the Pacific Creamery company, having been in the employ of that company for a period of several months. Mrs. Antonio came to Tempe about three months ago and since that time has been connected with the W. Lukin company. Both have many friends who wish them happiness in their venture. They will make Tempe their future home.

PREPARE FOR QUEEN'S

cess Eleanor of Reuss, wore the uniform of the Red Cross sisters and followed an ambulance train sent out by the Grand Duchess Vladimir. Throughout the entire war Princess Eleanor lived on board this train, traveling back and forth with the armies in Manchuria and staying always as near as possible to the actual scene of conflict.
On more than one occasion the windows of her car were smashed by the flying bullets. Upon her return to St.
Petersburg after the close of the war, she received a popular welcome and was showered with honors by the Russian court.

More recently the Balkan war brought into strong relief the queen's personality and her prompt action in organizing Red Cross work in Sofia as soon as hostilities began did much to mitigate the terrible condition of the wounded soldiers in the campaign. She also devoted much attention to the relief of the homeless and destitute who poured into the Bulgarian capital as the war progressed.

Queen Eleanor's entire life prior to her marriage to King Ferdinand was spent on the Reuss estates in lower Austria, so that she is to all intents and purposes an Austrian. From her girlhood she endeavored to good works in her father's principality, particularly in the neighborhood of the ancestral home at Gera. It was generally believed that Princess Eleanor preferred philanthropy to matrimony.
She had reached middle life when, six years ago, she became the wife of the ruler of Bulgaria.

The queen is a very accomplished woman and speaks several languages fluently. Immediately after her marriage she set herself to learn Bulgarian which is a very difficult language. In this and other ways she soon found herself dear to the hearts of her adopted people. Incessantly she has worked for their well being. She has opened numerous schools, established hospitals and homes for orphans and children of parents too poor to give their offspring a good education. Her majesty was the first to introduce into the east the western custom of opening bazaars, hospitals and concerts in order that her subjects might take an interest in various institutions.

It is now thirty-five years since King Ferdinand visited the United States. At that time he was a Prince of Saxe-Coburg, for it was some ten years before he was made the ruler of Bulgaria. He was on his way home from Brazil, where he had been the guest of his brother, Prince Augustus of Saxe-Coburg, who had married a daughter of Emperor Dom Pedro. After arriving in New York, the prince visited Philadelphia, Washington, Niagara Falls, and other places of interest before sailing for Europe.

Church Decorations Pristine; Programs Interesting and All Places of Worship Well Attended

On account of the perfect weather, and the extensive preparations made for the entertainment of members and visitors of the several places of worship the congregations were swollen yesterday to a number nearly equaling that of the everybody-go-to-church Sunday. A special preparation had been made in the decorations and a number of the churches were filled with garlands and roses.
A number of programs were given aside from the special Easter music by several choirs of the city.

DEATH OF FORMER RESIDENT

The news of the death of Mrs.
Jane Winfield at the age of 88 years at her home in Colton, Cal., has been received at this place. Mrs. Winfield will be remembered by the older residents of the city as the mother of the wife of Rev. A. J. Banks, the pastor of the Baptist church, who left this place thirteen years ago for California. Mrs. Winfield came here while her son was stationed here and spent a year as their guest at this point and went with the family at the end of the pastorate to California.

SCHOOL BOARD SESSION

The trustees of District No. 1 and the members of the board of education of the high school met last night in a joint session and discussed a number of propositions relative to the school. However nothing of a definite nature was transacted. The meeting adjourned subject to the call of the chair.

IN FROM HIGLEY

George and Fred Rosenfeld, of Higley and A. B. Chapman in charge of the railroad work for the Higley district were Mesa visitors yesterday. They report Higley going to the front.

MANY SEE YAQUI DANCE

A large number of Mesa people made the trip to the Yaqui Indian village south of Tempe yesterday for the purpose of seeing the annual dance of the natives.

ARKANSAS EDITOR IS INFORMED ABOUT MESA

Secretary George S. Irwin of the Commercial Club is exceptionally sensitive about anything that is uttered detracting from the name and fame of Mesa. That is why he was naturally somewhat riled yesterday when a copy of the Arkansas Gazette was handed to him with a marked squib which ran something like the following: "The White Sox are at least doing some good. No one would ever have heard of the town of Mesa, Arizona, if it had not been for the stop-made there."

The secretary looked out over the top of his glasses for a moment and then he turned and dictated the following curt note to the sporting editor of the Arkansas Gazette:
Sporting Editor, Arkansas Gazette, Little Rock, Ark.
"Dear Sir: My attention has been called to a six-line item in the sporting columns of your issue of public opinion, which I enclose herewith. It affords me a great deal of pleasure to learn that the recent visit of the Chicago White Sox to Mesa resulted in imparting information to so many of the good people of Arkansas. The 150 Arkansans (and then some) who reside in this vicinity are very much elated over the advertising given this part of the southwest.

Mesa, while not the largest city in Arizona, does not take a back seat for any of her neighbors when it comes to downright hustle and real enterprise. The manager of the Mesa City Jewels, Paul Langovsky, was the only man who succeeded in getting a game with the White Sox from the time they left Los Angeles until they reached El Paso. Paul is too polite a sport to have permitted his team to defeat the visitors had the Jewels felt so inclined.
It was the idea of securing advertising in the Gazette and other great newspapers, and not for the gate receipts, that he had in mind when signing up for the game. Mr. Langovsky has been so highly complimented upon his enterprise by the 40,000 inhabitants of Mesa and the other small towns of the valley that he may, later on, take the team for a tour of the eastern and southern states, possibly including Arkansas.

Under separate cover I am sending you a copy of a little booklet that may serve to refresh your memory should you happen to forget that there is
