

PHOENIX MAN ELECTED HEAD OF ELKS REUNION

Chas. K. Pishon. Chosen President to Succeed Joe V. Prochaska at Meeting Yesterday—Tucson Gets Next Convention

GLOBE CAPTURES FOUR FIRST PRIZES

Great Parade Full of Features With Seven Hundred and Fifty Men in Line and Two Bands

CHARLES K. PISHON, President State Reunion of Elks, 1914-1915

These are the officers for the ensuing year elected yesterday by the Elks' State Reunion association at the meeting held in the Elk lodge rooms after the parade.

Globe carried off most of the honors in the competition among the various visiting lodges.

Much rivalry arose between Phoenixians who decorated their automobiles and formed one of the most striking features of the procession.

First prize—Tom Trents, Phoenix. Second prize—C. M. Dufflos, Phoenix.

Mr. Pishon announced the appointment of J. Cress Meyers of Tucson Lodge No. 285 as chairman of the executive committee of the reunion association.

Best appearance in line—Tucson. Tallest Elk—G. H. Rolin, Bisbee.

Shortest Elk—Shorly Roberts, Tucson. Leanest Elk—Max Czuzka, Yuma.

Best building decoration—Goldberg Bros., first, Arizona Gazette, second.

There was one lone Elk from Winslow in the big Elks' parade yesterday, and strange as that may seem, he was also the only holder of another distinction in Elksdom, as the only officer of the Grand Lodge in attendance.

Among the developments yesterday in the political party that now controls the administration of the state, was the statement of State Auditor J. C. Callaghan, that he is not a candidate for governor.

Callaghan Not Candidate For Governor Of Arizona

Mr. Callaghan's prominence in making the investigation at the Reform School and the Pioneer Home, was also given prominence because of the receipt of a message from Prescott that Superintendent Caldwell of the Pioneer Home had withdrawn the suit of $20,000 he had entered against the Journal Miner.

PHOENIX LANDS MINE CONGRESS FOR NEXT FALL

Seventeenth Annual Session of American Mining Congress Practically Assured for This City by Board of Trade

ARIZONA MINING MEN BACK IDEA

George Olney Secures from Committee of Prominent Miners Guarantee of the Fund - Invitation Extended, Will Be Accepted

That the seventeenth annual convention of the American Mining Congress will be held in Phoenix, Arizona, this fall is the announcement of the Phoenix Board of Trade, following quiet preparations that have lasted three months, and have included lining up the mining companies of the state to push for the capital city.

The news "broke" in a telegram dispatched yesterday by the board to the congress, the wording of which was this: "The American Mining Congress, 725 Majestic Building, Denver, Colo.

Gentlemen:—In consideration of the selection of Phoenix as the meeting place of your seventeenth annual convention to be held between November 22 and December 21, 1914, we hereby offer to provide a meeting place for the convention and to contribute the sum of $2000 which $2500 is to be paid upon the issuance of the official call, about August 15, 1914, and the balance thirty days before the opening day of the convention, it being understood that for this amount you will pay all the preliminary expenses of the convention the reporting, publishing and distributing of the official proceedings. We would call attention to the splendid climatic advantages of Phoenix, the splendid accommodations which are to be had and the ample hall at your disposal. This opportunity to hold a session in Arizona is worthy of the fullest consideration and the invitation is extended in the heartiest manner.

PHOENIX BOARD OF TRADE. John Bennett, Jr., President. Harry Welch, Secretary. How It Was Arranged

It was after the suggestion had been made last January by a prominent railroad man of this state, that the board of trade leaped into the fray. At a meeting of the directors early in February, George A. Olney of Phoenix was named as a committee of one to test out the attitude of the big mining men. The reception he met was most flattering. Everybody he applied to was perfectly willing to do anything to get the congress to meet here next fall.

The result was that a day or two ago a special message was received by Mr. Olney, stating that J. C. Greenwood, L. S. Cates, James Douglas, C. E. Mills, Norman Carmichael and A. Gotsberger would see that the necessary fund of $2000 was placed at the disposal of the congress in plenty of time to insure the expenses of the preliminary campaign. The big copper mining companies of the state are supposed to be backing these six men, who are acting practically as a committee to raise the money.

Given the five thousand, all that remains for Phoenix to do is to guarantee a hall capable of seating the delegates, arrange the usual entertainments, and sit tight. It is estimated that it will cost the city about $2000 to properly entertain the visiting delegates.

It is learned that there will be about 300 delegates to the convention. This number can be comfortably seated in several of the larger auditoriums in Phoenix, so there will be no fear that room will be lacking. As to entertainment, there can be plenty of it, for, if the congress accepts the invitation, and designated some date between November 22 and December 21, it will find Phoenix clear of the state fair and clear of the holidays, and ready to do its part in making the visitors comfortable.
