THE FIRST STEPS ON A NEW LIGHTING SYSTEM

Tempe Council Appoints Engineer Knipe to Proceed With the Valuation Work

L. G. Knipe, for a good many months associated with Tempe's town council in the capacity of engineer on the preliminary work for the new sewerage system, at a special session of the aldermen Monday evening, was awarded the contract for value estimation work on the proposed new electric lighting and power system. Both the cost of an entirely new system and the probable present valuation of the Southside Gas & Electric system, will be approximated by Engineer Knipe.

The council has been working pretty lively on the proposed municipal ownership of the local lighting system since the idea was introduced through a people's petition a couple months back. Committees have been organized and have made reports on their work as rapidly as possible each time. Monday night was one of these same occasions, the aldermen being called together especially to hear the report of the committee which had received its instructions at the session the Thursday before. It was upon this committee's report that the employment of Engineer Knipe was based.

A detailed valuation of the present Southside Gas and Electric company system through Tempe is to be made. Weighed against this will be the probable cost of an entirely new system. With these facts before them the council will be in a position to take definite action on the municipal ownership idea.

BOUND OVER TO JURY

Celaya and Rivas, the two Mexicans arrested on the evening of the fourth by the local peace officers on a charge of assault, were arraigned before Justice of the Peace E. P. Carr yesterday afternoon, drawing down a sentence which is likely to keep them behind the bars for a long time to come. Both were bound over to the action of the grand jury under a bond of $500.00 each, which means that they will spend the time between now and the session of the court in the fall in the county jail at Phoenix. Then if they are found guilty their actual sentence starts. The trial yesterday afternoon attracted considerable interest.

The Tempe Poultry and Egg association held an important meeting at the city hall Monday afternoon, disposing of quite a little business that has been over-hanging for some time. Chief of all items was the adoption of a new constitution and set of by-laws which tends to strengthen the organization a number of ways. A variety of other matters were also taken care of which will serve to place the association on a more substantial basis and permit it to supply a larger market.

DENVER CANTALOUPE MARKET IS A CORKER

Mesa Man Writing From Mile High City Says Growers Should be Proud of Their Melons.

Charles F. Jones, who is off on a three months vacation from Mesa, writes the correspondent of the Republican so interestingly of matters of importance to ranchers of this section that his letter is published below:

"I arrived in Denver this morning and took great pleasure in noting the abundance of Arizona cantaloupes on the local market and was gratified to learn that they are moving in very good order. Considerable complaint however, is being lodged against the manner in which the packing is being done. In numerous instances ponies and jumbos show in the same crate, which does not look good in competition market.

"A great feature which appears to me is the way in which the ripe ones are being handled by Dawson Brothers at this place. It simply means that they are furnishing the market with the culls, which would otherwise be used for hog feed, were they allowed to remain in the Mesa fields.

"A thing of peculiar interest to me is that the Denver people are educated to straw ripe melons. I presume that this comes about through the fact that they are so close to the Rocky Ford district. I saw several crates of melons which were about right for shipping to the eastern market, which were going begging this morning on account of their being in green condition. The local price is $2.50 to $2.75.

"You may feel assured that the growers will be glad to know that Dawson Brothers at this end of the line appear to be a bunch of live wires.

The above letter is self explanatory.

A DARK TOWN.

Mesa was in darkness Monday night. There was no great explosion of gas, nor noise over it, but the lights just went off and remained off, from about 8:30 p. m. until, well sometime Tuesday morning.

INSURANCE ADJUSTER HERE

PINK MEAT MELONS.

Fred Hilvert, representative of S. A. Gerrard & Co. on the Mesa market, went over to Glendale Tuesday, to look over some 115 acres of pink to $23.50 for standards, with jumbos some better. This quotation is better than the Chicago market. New York reports that the melons were in the very finest condition possible and in demand. Similar report came of shipment of five cars that arrived in Cincinnati, where a splendid price was received, and the quality of goods was the cause of great appreciative comment. In fact, the Mesa melons were said to be the very best that had ever been received and the demand greater than the possible supply.

FIRST CAR OUT OF GILBERT

The first carload shipment of watermelons to leave Gilbert, was shipped Tuesday by the Mesa Produce company and went to Tucson. There were a few crates of tomatoes and cantaloupes in the car, but the bulk of the shipment consisted of watermelons. This is but the beginning of big things for Gilbert, which is the coming town.

NEW YORK MARKET HIGH.

The cantaloupes bring from $2.50 for ponies an interview with His Excellency persuaded him for a photo which was graciously given. On his return to Mesa Judge Irwin placed the governor's photo over the portals of the club rooms.

TO GRAND CANYON

HELD FOR FORGERY.

Frank Campbell was bound over to the superior court in the sum of one thousand dollars when he was given a preliminary hearing before Judge George Irwin, of Mesa, on the charge of forgery. Failing to give bond he was committed to jail. Campbell was a paroled prisoner from the penitentiary, where he was serving a sentence for embezzlement. He was paroled in custody of M. Isaac Dana, who had taken an interest in him and wanted to give him a show to make good. He secured employment here on his arrival several weeks ago, with the Bristol confectionery company. He went back to his old tricks Saturday and forged three checks on Lorin Brimhall for $25.00 each, cashing them at the Toggery, one at the Parlor restaurant and one at Holladay's drug store. He also went to Mr. Dana's home and stole a fountain pen and a gold watch. He hiked out for Phoenix, where he was arrested by Officer Burton Sunday morning.

INDULGE IN FISTICUFFS.

A Mexican named Jose Riviera and Al Comer, who operates a soft drink parlor, had a fight Sunday morning and were called to answer before Judge Irwin Monday. Comer pleaded guilty and paid a fine of $10.00. The Mexican, who had to work Monday, was given until the evening to plead.

FIGHT ON STREETS OF MESA

Victor Ross and Earl Moody had a fight on the streets of Mesa Sunday afternoon and both were up before the police justice Monday. The fight was the result of a quarrel that originated Fourth of July, when a brother of Moody insulted Ross, who was with some ladies. In the fight Sunday Ross put his foot in Moody's eye, much to Moody's discomfort, etc. Moody pleaded guilty of scuffling and was fined $10.00. Ross asked for time and will be given a hearing Wednesday.

FEWEL FUNERAL IN MESA.

Thompson Sunday morning at Desert Wells, was held in the Christian church of Mesa Monday afternoon, the services being conducted by Rev. J. R. Rountree. Interment was made immediately afterwards in the local cemetery. The mother, daughter and two sons of the deceased arrived in Mesa from Tonto Basin at an early hour yesterday morning to be present at the funeral. It was a heart-rending scene, when the grief-stricken mother and children came to mourn over their dead, who left

IRON SPRINGS

Several tramps have made their appearance in camp from time to time. It has always been the policy of the householders in camp to discourage their presence by refusing them meals and asking them to apply at the store.

In the past two seasons the improvements to cottages took the form of additions of screen porches and bathrooms. This season there are new cottages being built. The second cottage is just completed and Mrs. E. W. Pemberton and H. Clay Parker are planning to build on a site on the Parker lot.

Summer Residences Of Ed O'Malley, J. S. Griffin
And E. T. Collings At Popular Iron Springs

News from Iron Springs indicates that everything is running smoothly in that resort this summer. Houses that have not been occupied for several seasons are being put in order for their owners. There has been an active demand for houses to rent by temporary members. The club itself owns several small houses which it will rent cheap, but has made no effort to rent them until all stockholders who wish to rent houses had succeeded in obtaining tenants. The Iron Spring Outing Club is not a money making institution. A great many local people fail to grasp the idea that it is a purely mutual association, and no effort is made to obtain more than enough money to actually pay the running expenses.
