

CALIFORNIA MOOSE

OUTING AT LONG BEACH

(Special to The Republican) LONG BEACH, August 7.—The first annual outing of the Loyal Order of Moose of Southern California will be held at Long Beach Saturday, August 15. Among the features will be an aeroplane exhibition by Frank Stites, including a parachute drop, a four mile race with a motorcycle, ending with a real wedding in the aeroplane, hundreds of feet above the ground.

Duke Kahanamoku, of Hawaii, the champion swimmer of the world, will give a surf-riding exhibition. Motorcycle races will be held along the beach, and there will be a grand wrestling match.

The Long Beach fire department will give an illuminated fire run, there will be prize drills by the Moose patrol and many other attractions.

Four famous bands will discourse sweet strains, free coffee will be served at the Forum for lunch, and a free dance will be held at the Majestic pavilion all the afternoon.

A record-breaking crowd is expected, and altogether it seems likely to be the greatest event of the season at any beach. Special excursion rates will be in force on the P. E. system.

PARKER L. WOODMAN OUT FOR MINE INSPECTOR

Parker L. Woodman, head of the local theatrical enterprises that bear his name, a pioneer in Arizona, who for twenty-two years of his life has been employed by the great Copper Queen Mining Company's operations, and who during that time rose from the position of common miner to superintendent of the mine, and who has become rich in his own right by reason of his ability and activity, last night signed the necessary papers announcing his candidacy for mine inspector of the state of Arizona, subject to the action of the republican primaries on September 8 next.

The announcement came as a distinct surprise to many of the close friends of Mr. Woodman, who felt that he would not enter politics under the present three-cornered condition of affairs, but of his qualifications no word of dispute has been uttered.

Coming to Arizona more than thirty years ago he has worked consistently at his trade until within the past two years when he retired from active mining to engage in other business. He is now a resident of Phoenix and will stand from Maricopa county.

BISHOP ATWOOD AMONG AMERICANS IN EUROPE

Where is Bishop Atwood? The host of friends of the Right Reverend Julius W. Atwood, Episcopal bishop for the state of Arizona, are gravely concerned over the condition of the learned man, who was last heard from in London, where he planned to end a six weeks' vacation in Europe. Since over a week, no word has come of his whereabouts, and now that the war complications have arisen, it is probable that his homecoming will be delayed again.

Bishop Atwood left Phoenix over three months ago, for the east, where he passes each summer, working for the church in New England and in the big cities. This summer, he planned to be in Europe about a month, and was to have caught the boat for New York several days ago.

Dean Scarlett, of Trinity Pro-Cathedral, is on his vacation in the hills of Colorado.

MRS. WILSON TO REST (Continued from Page One)

who had official business at the executive offices. Flags on the White House, capital, all government buildings, hotels, business houses and many private homes were lowered and will be kept at half mast until after the funeral.

Many social affairs arranged for the next few days in Washington, in which officials, and army and navy officers were interested, have been cancelled and it is expected that similar action will be taken at the various army posts and navy yards.

That the entire nation joined the president's family in grief was shown by the character of the messages received at the White House and editorials in the newspapers. Thousands of references have been made to Mrs. Wilson's real love for the oppressed, her home-loving qualities, and the affection between her and the president.

Wilson spent almost the entire day with members of his family. For a short time he was at the executive offices discussing the European war situation with Bryan, and signing important papers. Although those close to him said he is feeling his loss more acutely every hour, Dr. Grayson said his physical condition remained good.

At the personal request of the president, congress and the government departments continued work as usual. President Wilson is desirous that the remainder of the government's program be completed as soon as possible and was therefore unwilling that congress should extend the recess of yesterday.

Some of those close to the president want him to take a short rest after returning from Rome, but so far he has shown no indication of accepting their plans.

AMERICAN COUNTESS HAS NEW EXPERIENCE IN LIFE

Although Rich in Property, Prefers to Take Menial Position to Obtain Ready Money—When Discovered Friends Provide

For the past month Countess Morajeska, whose story is more sensational than the thrilling adventures of which she is heroine and author, has been serving as housekeeper in the summer home of a well known Phoenix society matron. Although the American countess has acted many parts in her search of "copy" for the Hearst papers, this was not her reason for accompanying Mrs. Fen Hildreth to Prescott in the capacity of servant. It was because of this brilliant woman, the owner of valuable mining properties near Tucson and rich farms in California was in immediate need of funds. Ready money was what she required, but with the pride characteristic of her southern ancestors she could not bring herself to ask the favors that would so readily have been granted her by her host of friends, both in Arizona and California.

Mrs. Hildreth made every possible arrangement that the countess might resume her position in the world and plans were made for her departure to Los Angeles, where she had an appointment with the manager of a motion picture company, who wished to interview her relative to her scenario, "The Adventures of an American Countess," which critics declare surpasses any of the series of "thrillers" that have been shown recently. Imagine her distress after a few short hours in Phoenix en route for the coast to find her bag and suit case containing goods to the amount of several hundred dollars, and papers and credentials that could never be replaced, missing. The bags have been sought since Tuesday and were only recovered last night by the local police, who found they had been taken by mistake from the corridor of the Ford to Winkelman. The countess accompanied by her detective met the Winkelman train last evening and on the recovery of her property left at once for the coast. Before her departure she took occasion to register and declares when her affairs are settled she will return her to live and to write the incidents that have made her life dramatic. Her Alaska stories, "Smiles and Tears from the Klondyke," and "Juanita," have been well received, but she has done more for this country than write its novels. To her untiring energy is due the success of the Lacey bill, which is a law on the United States statute books permitting settlers to take up 320 acres. She lobbied for the present homestead law in behalf of the residents of Alaska and

MAYOR WIRES CONDOLENCES TO PRESIDENT WILSON

Phoenix, Ariz., Aug. 7, 1914. The President, White House, Washington, D. C. Permit me to express to yourself and family the heartfelt sympathy of every citizen of Phoenix and assure you of our love and support in this, your darkest hour of grief, in the loss of every good man's richest gift—a true wife and mother. May God's support and blessings attend you. GEORGE U. YOUNG, Mayor.

Expressing in his own words the probable sentiment of every citizen of this city, in fact of the nation, Mayor George U. Young yesterday morning addressed the foregoing message of sympathy and condolence to President Wilson upon the death of Mrs. Wilson. It was the mayor's first official act of the day. The Republican earlier in the morning having imparted to him the news of the passing of the first lady of the land.

Flags throughout the city yesterday generally were half-masted. That upon the federal building was so flung to the breeze through an official order. Those upon the court house, the city hall, the fire house, holds a commission from the Smithsonian Institute to work among the Indians. She plans to write a great American novel in which Arizona will be featured. In the world of letters she is known as Alice Rollins Crane.

ARIZONA LEADS IN CROP REPORT

Arizona crops are "on the bust" They are heading "way out in front" in comparison with the other states in the union. If this isn't a ram-rose, Arizona isn't a regular bender of a producing state. Following is the crop report compiled and printed at the local office of the U. S. Weather Bureau, showing how corn and hay went above the July estimates, and how every other crop did better than normal for the United States.

Table with 3 columns: Crop Name, Arizona, United States. Rows include CORN, WINTER WHEAT, OATS, BARLEY, POTATOES, HAY (Tamey), PASTURE, CABBAGES, ONIONS, WATERMELONS, CANTALOUPE.
