

Globe Gets Triple Date With Senators Saturday And Sunday

Multitude of Old Favorites to Appear in Big Games—Nutt, Spikes and All the Old-time Phoenixians Will Be Here

By SCOOP

When the baseball team that calls Globe its home comes to Phoenix for a three-game series Saturday and Sunday, that smiling Tempeite whom we have missed like our long lost brother will be here. Not since last he trailed his good mitt in the dust and scared the runner back to second and then grabbed him off the sack on a throw from Big Griffen, have we observed that dazzling smile emerging from the clouds of pulverized baseball field. And this happened many moons ago, when Tempe's name was one to conjure with in baseball circles.

The consummation of an agreement between Phoenix and Globe for Sunday happened yesterday afternoon when Leo Togneri closed the deal over the phone with Editor Hogue of the Arizona Republic and Jack Leonard, "dammer" of the Globetites. Some other arrangements that the finest Japanese College Graduate has made are for a game with Mesa, at Mesa and for Mesa Thursday, an excursion from Hayden for Labor day and the Sunday before, and a trip to Tucson the Sunday after. Then, on the Sunday after THAT, Tucson will come to Phoenix, mebe-so perhaps.

Earl Cooper in El Paso Race Motorbike Fuss Is Still On

Earl Cooper, that quiet, studious looking little man, whose hand and right foot are so potent when equipped with steering wheel and accelerator pedal, will enter his private Stutz speedster in the El Paso to Phoenix road race. G. Purdy Bullard, Phoenix's auto racing commissioner yesterday received Cooper's application for entry into the eastern classic. Cooper, who won the big Tacoma race on July Fourth, and is one of the cipse knit coterie of Native sons, who uphold the honor of the western drivers in every big race meet, is at once a favorite in the El Paso races. Not only is he a man of road racing nerve, but he is possessed of some of the fastest machinery in the road racing game. The auto racing world was provoked to quiet mirth a short time ago, by the news that Cooper had bought his Stutz outright, and that he had withdrawn from the list of Harry Stutz's factory drivers. "So Cooper is going it alone," wondered the motor world. "Maybe he'll make a fortune at it—maybe."

Cooper's first act after signing his check and taking possession of his car, was to inquire about the El Paso race. Verily, it looks as though he were starting early to acquire that privately owned fortune!

Naquin wants to sell September race, for that small and energetic road race, find his eye on another and a faster car. Red Brewer, Naquin's A. A. mechanic is now in charge of Eve, in Globe, while Mel is sojourning in Silver City, New Mexico. Naquin will not desert the Velle, but will get a bigger and faster machine.

The fact that Marty Mayer has received orders to upholster six sets of bucket seats—for racing autos—is significant of the arrival of a speed bug in Phoenix. The Case people are ordering one of the sets, and this confirms

NUMEROUS BIG LEAGUE SHIFTS

Year 1914 Distinguished by Great Many Dickers—The Feds Had Something to Do With It—All Teams Strengthening Line-ups

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DISPATCH]

NEW YORK, Aug. 25.—The baseball season of 1914 already noted as a period of unusual occurrences in the national sport, promises to establish a record for the purchase and exchange of players in the big leagues. Omitting entirely any reference to the sensational trades and purchases which preceded the opening of the pennant races the present season has been an exceptional one in this respect. With the exception of the world's champion Philadelphia Athletics every club in both the American and National leagues has made unusual efforts toward strengthening one or more departments by means of exchange or cash transactions. Not alone have the minor associations been invaded for big league clubs have dealt with each other to an extent greater than has been the case in other years.

In the American league Boston secured Egan, Shore and Ruth from the Baltimore club of the International; Hoblitzell from Cincinnati; Veau Gregg from Cleveland in exchange for Combs, R. Johnson and Egan, as well as several minor league and college players. The Chicago White Sox have signed or released to date an even dozen players, not including Hal Chase, who jumped to the Buffalo Federals. The dealing, however, has been confined to the minor and college class, although Comiskey holds the present season record in his purchase of Fielder Felch from Milwaukee of the American association at $12,000 cash and two players.

The New York Americans have purchased exchanged or released sixteen players since April 14. Some of the big league material secured includes Catcher Nunamaker from Boston American, Pitcher Carroll Brown from the Athletics, in addition to Birdie Cree from the Baltimore Internationals. Cleveland is another club which has dipped deeply into the players' mart. Close to twenty players have been bought, sold, exchanged or lost by desecration this season. A majority of these transactions involved minor leagues, the principal major league deal being with the Boston Americans, whereby Pitcher Veau Gregg went to the Red Sox in exchange for Pitcher Combs, and Johnson and Catcher Ben Egan.

Aside from the purchase of two minor league players and the release of Catcher Gibson, the Detroit club has stood pat to date and the same may be said of Clark Griffith's Washington combination. The capital club purchased Outfielder Mike Mitchell from the Pittsburgh Nationals, released Pitcher Collier, and Cashion and secured J. E. Blair from the Martins, W. Va., club. The St. Louis Browns released two players and purchased one for future delivery.

Far more activity in this direction has been shown in the National league. The Cincinnati club record shows that close to thirty players have figured in one way or another in club deals or jumped to the Federal league. Claude Derrick was bought from Baltimore and then traded to Chicago for First Baseman Mollwitz. Hoblitzell went to the Boston Americans and Tex Erwin from Brooklyn to Cincinnati and back again. Bert Daniels, former Yankee and part of Jack Dunn's $60,000 Baltimore International league assets, found his way to the Cincinnati club, to say nothing of a number of minor league and college players.

Pittsburg scouts, too, have been busy and the Pirates have thirteen deals of one kind or another to their credit. Aside from the deal with the Washington club, whereby Mike Mitchell was sold, the transactions involved the purchase or release of players from or to minor leagues. The Philadelphia Nationals have ten transactions on record, the principal one being the trade of Gosh Devore to Boston for Third Baseman John Martin. Boston records show some thirteen deals, the major transfers including the sale of George Beck to the Cleveland Americans; the trading of Hub Perdue to St. Louis for players Whitted and Cather and Josh Devore's acquisition for John Martin.

The Chicago Cubs have eleven transactions in the record. Eliminating the minor league purchases and releases the schedule shows that Pitche; Keestner was sold to Cincinnati and First Baseman Mollwitz traded to the same club for Claude Derrick. The St. Louis Cardinals have held fairly steady to the early season enrollment. Hageman was sold to the Chicago Nationals and Whitted and Cather traded to Boston for Pitcher Perdue. The other deals involved minor league players.

The New York Giants have a list of thirteen players signed or released this season, but not in a single case does another major league club figure in the dealing. Brooklyn's principal efforts in this direction include the sale of Kraft to Boston; Riggert to St. Louis; Erwin to Cincinnati, and Smith to Boston.

LUTFY TELLS HOW TROUBLE ALL STARTED

Man Whose Horse Was Stolen, Precipitating Ray Killings, Believes Motive Was One of Revenge on Officer Phin Brown

Intense regret at the chain of crimes that have saddened Pinal county, was expressed by Mose B. Lutfy, in an interview for The Republican yesterday. Rather than see Phin Brown killed, Mr. Lutfy said he would gladly have given Pete Smith the horse, the stealing of which started the trouble. But a more significant fact than any of these: "I firmly believe that the theft of my black mare was but an excuse to draw Brown into the power of the outlaws. Smith, I understand, had had trouble with Brown, and had threatened to kill him. The theft, therefore, was only a blind."

Mr. Lutfy arrived from Ray yesterday, and gave to a Republican reporter, the first direct version of the deplorable affair, that has been allowed any newspaper. He commended The Republican's accurate chronicling of the events.

"It was at six o'clock of the evening of August 18 that I went out to a tree near my place to care for the horse. The horse was missing. I looked for her, and finding a trail leading toward Devil's Canyon, took occasion to see Mr. Brown. Brown went to the tree and inspected the trail. He said he would investigate, and asked me to phone the Gibson mines and Miami to be on the lookout. He then went up the canyon, and returned to me about 9 o'clock. He said:

"I'll get that horse before dark tomorrow evening. I found out about this earlier. I'll bet a Station hand, I get the horse and the thief."

"At six o'clock the next morning he left to follow up the thief. About eleven, Mr. Lakel rode into Ray and said that after ten o'clock, near Pete Smith's camp, he had heard a lot of shooting. He also saw a Mexican riding wildly away from the scene. He knew something was doing, and so came to Ray to report it. The posse was then formed, and started in immediate pursuit, with the results you have already reported.

"Brown was warned on the way out after Smith that the Mexican had stated, 'I will kill him if he tries to get me.' Quite naturally, Brown would not show the white feather, after a statement like this, so he would not turn back. Landry, the young French boy was at a watering place a few miles from the town. He had seen the Mexicans lead the horse past, the night before and for that reason, he accompanied the officer to identify the thieves.

"It was evident the bandits ambushed Brown and Landry. "This happened at the regular camp headquarters of the Mexicans involved."

Mr. Lutfy's statement throws some light on the situation inasmuch as it confirms the suspicion expressed in this paper that the affair was not merely the attempt to increase the woodcutters' herds, but to promote a struggle with the officer, whom they all hated.

Pitcher "Babe" Ruth, the former Baltimore star, is again in the International league, having been shipped to Providence by the Boston Red Sox.

Rafael Casares Applies for Papers, And When He Fails to Get Job Wants His Money Back
Although Rafael Casares was not able to "ketchum job," he didn't get his dollar back from Assistant Clerk Bob Wells of the U. S. district court. And thereby hangs a tale of the Mexican's disappointment, and his probable bitter resentment at these good United States.

"Me no ketchum job here." Webb explained that many cases similar to this one come up in naturalization applications. It is known to the aliens that they are not permitted to work even as laborers on any public job, or on any contract job. It is against the law. So they apply for citizenship, spend one silver dollar, and become eligible to the business end of a pick or shovel. They consider the signed application as a sort of recommendation. Casares had been told by an interpreter that his application must be made in good faith, but this did not keep him from being highly indignant when Webb informed him that Uncle Sam does not make any appropriation for repaying dollars to aliens who fail to find work.
