BIG MEETING OF TEMPE BOOSTERS ON TONIGHT

First Trade Board Meeting in Months on Schedule—Many Important Matters

The first of a series of business meetings of the Tempe board of trade, to be held from time to time through the fall and winter, will take place in the city hall this evening. There are a number of reasons why the session is an important one, principally because it is the first held since last spring, which naturally means that quite a quantity of business matters have piled up. Then there are a few postponed matters to be brought up and best of all will be the sort of explanatory address by Fair Commissioner Geo. T. Peabody of Chandler, who with a party of other prominent valley boosters, will be here to see what Tempe is doing.

Mr. Peabody is getting out a little picture booklet, containing a variety of views and descriptive matter on the valley in general and on the separate districts. His talk this evening will be based on that proposition and the one following:

During the month of October the greatest dry farming congress ever held will convene in Wichita, Kansas. This year displays have been asked for from irrigated districts, in an effort to further the conservation of irrigation water by the use of dry farming methods. This year the middle west, and especially Kansas, is more prosperous than ever before and now is an opportune time to show them the beauties of a home in the Salt River valley, with a delightful winter and perpetual prosperity as against their season of snow and sleet, drought and floods. It has been proposed by the different commercial organizations that in connection with the work of the fair commissioner an exhibit be sent from the Salt River valley. This exhibit should be accompanied by one or two good men, in order to derive the most benefit from it. This can be done at a very light expense to the different communities, outside of the collection and preparation of an exhibit.

President of the board of trade, Howard Brown, is looking forward to some good fall work by the organization and by calling tonight's meeting hopes to get all business settled up to date. That will leave a clear field ahead and one that can be worked to almost an unlimited end. Everybody in Tempe and vicinity is invited, and in fact is urged to attend the meeting this evening at the city hall. It starts at 8 o'clock.

LUCILLE LOVE AGAIN

The ninth installment of the series of Lucille Love pictures will attract Tempe movie fans to the Goodwin air dome tonight. Two reels are devoted to Lucille and then there is the regular run of four reels, showing productions entitled "The Knight of Her Dreams," a fantastic comedy; "Out of His Class," a frontier drama, and Florence Lawrence in the two-part drama, "The Stepmother."

CHANGE IN RATES ON HAY AND STRAW

Material reductions in the rates on hay and straw in carload lots have been brought about by the cancellation of certain items of the tariff of the Santa Fe system, and by placing this commodity under what are known as Class C rates. The new reductions, which mean the abandonment of the arbitrary minimum on cars forty feet in length went into effect yesterday.

Under the new arrangement, the minimum on car lots, which was formerly 24,000 pounds, is reduced to 20,000 pounds and the commodity placed under a classification which will result in a saving of a large amount annually to shippers of hay and straw. Permission to amend the schedule was given by the corporation commission on application of W. G. Barnwell, assistant freight traffic manager of the Santa Fe.

MAY NOT ADJOURN ON ACCOUNT OF WAR

Congress to Remain in Session to Meet Any Emergency That May Arise in Connection With Big Struggle

That congress will in all probability not adjourn at all on account of the European war is the statement of C. A. Taylor, assistant superintendent of senate documents, who is visiting friends in this city.

"It is generally conceded now that congress will continue in session until December," said Mr. Taylor yesterday. "In view of the possibility of an emergency arising in connection with the general European war and the necessity of meeting such an occasion with legislative action, administration leaders have practically decided that no adjournment will be taken before the short session is convened in December. Of course a number of members will leave for their homes in order to take part in primary campaigns, but all who are not so occupied will remain in Washington."

of weeks ago they have plodded along leisurely by auto, visiting practically all the points of interest between here and Flagstaff. The Grand Canyon was, of course, the main one. Not a bit of machine trouble was experienced, either, to mar the pleasures of the trip. The party will return to Tempe the first week in September.

ALEXANDER PARTY RETURNS

C. W. Alexander and family and Mrs. Price Wickliffe returned Tuesday night from an auto tour that has been taken over all of southern and eastern Arizona and into old and New Mexico on short expeditions. The party left Tempe the first of August and by way of Florence and Tucson went to Bisbee for a short visit. Douglas and points in old Mexico were also visited. A couple weeks later found the party in the White mountains, somewhat tired from their trip through the Gila valley and from Globe to the mountains. A week was passed in the mountains, where many valley vacationists are enjoying the cooler weather and bountiful supplies of fish. The trip of the Alexander party was thoroughly enjoyed from the first to the last, good roads a greater part of the way and barely any machine trouble, making such a result easily possible. Last year the Alexanders made a similar tour through northern Arizona.

MARRIED AND GONE

A marriage of no little interest to Tempe folks was that of Mrs. Ellen M. Harris and A. H. Bell, which took place in Phoenix Tuesday evening. Immediately following the ceremony the couple departed for California, where they will spend their honeymoon. Both Mr. and Mrs. Bell are old-time residents of Tempe.

FRIDAY NIGHT DANCE

The Tempe orchestra are to be hosts at a social hop tomorrow evening in the Cosmopolitan hall. The success of the last affair prompted the organization to promote another dance and that they have done, choosing tomorrow night as the date. A most enjoyable evening is assured all who attend.

RETURNED FROM OREGON

Miss Lena Cole returned yesterday from Portland, Oregon, and nearby cities, where she has been visiting this summer with relatives. Miss Cole will be one of the teachers in the Buckeye public schools this coming term.

ARIZONA WILL REAP BENEFIT

Big Trunk Lines Making Ready for Great Tourist Travel This Winter on Account of the European War

Already the big trunk lines of the west are starting a campaign to handle the rich tourist trade that has been wont to fly to Europe at the first peep of Jack Frost. This year the thousands who have spent winters in the mild climates of the south of France and Italy for many years will turn to the only similar climates in the United States, southern California and Arizona.

The hot house idle rich is little conditioned to stand the rigors of a northern winter and my lady of the millionaire will shortly be consulting the guide books of the coast.

Then will come the chance for Arizona to stop some of the weather seekers when they pass through. Perhaps it is not far fetched to say that the shrine ceremonial at the Grand Canyon will be prolific of some results in bringing tourists to the coast.

The Santa Fe and the Southern Pacific are both starting extensive campaigns to help the local shrine make the ceremonial a record breaker and the indications are that many of the tourists who have shrine affiliations in the family will be only too glad to avail themselves of the chance to stop en route west and pay a visit to the great wonder canyon of the painted desert.

The shrine ceremonial while it was incidentally designed for the benefit of the shriner and his family has grown beyond the order and will be an occasion for hundreds in the state to visit the great scenic wonder. The rates will attract, and the accommodations will be to the advantage of the fall vacationist, hence it is expected that the canyon ceremonial will be well attended by state pleasure seekers and incidentally, why not the eastern tourist en route to California.

WHAT ARMY OFFICER SAYS ABOUT THE WAR

R. A. R. Asks Military Man for His Opinion of the Great Conflict and Gets Some Information

"Well, what do you think of the dispatches from Europe?" asked the R. A. R. of Captain Cromwell Stacey, Arizona's new inspector-instructor yesterday, as he prepared to listen to a technical discussion of marches and counter-marches, aerial warfare and the merits of the contending hosts on the continent.

In response the captain preserved a mysterious, not to say a severe, military silence, and reaching into a pigeon-hole of his desk drew forth a slip of paper and handed it to his questioner. "That's the answer," he said. The slip read:

GENERAL ORDERS No. 60.
War Department,
Washington, Aug. 8, 1914.

The following letter from the president is published to the army for the information and guidance of all concerned:

The White House,
Washington, Aug. 6, 1914.

My Dear Mr. Secretary:
I write to suggest that you request and advise all officers of the service, whether active or retired, to refrain from public comment of any kind upon the military or political situation on the other side of the water. I would be obliged if you would let them know that the request and advice comes from me. It seems to me highly unwise and improper that officers of the army and navy of the United States should make any public utterances to which any color of political or military criticism can be given where other nations are involved.

Cordially and faithfully yours,
WOODROW WILSON,
HON. LINDLEY M. GARRISON,
Secretary of War.

(2195116, A. G. O.)
By Order of the Secretary of War:
W. W. WOTHERSPOON,
Major General, Chief of Staff.

Official:
GEO. ANDREWS,
The Adjutant General.

THREE CENT FARE MATTER UP AGAIN

The three cent fare matter came up for hearing again yesterday before the corporation commission to show reasons why the proposed cut in rates should not be made by that company. A. J. McLean, auditor, O. L. Hubbard, trainmaster and Judge Edward Kent, attorney, appeared for the company in support of the contention that the same basis of division between freight and passenger should be used as on other roads operating in the state. Attorney General Bullard appeared for the state and Accountant William Sangster took the stand for the commission.

PREFERS SNAKE LOVE TO CATS

Weird Affection of Seven-year-old Girl for Vicious Seven-foot Diamond Back Rattler — Is Both Pet and Protector

BY SALLY JACOBS
A seven foot nine inch diamond rattler is the latest word in household pets. Miss Dorothy Hunt says she prefers a serpent to a dog and as for a cat—bah who'd have one?

You may not agree with Miss Hunt and her idea of a pleasant little companion, but you must admit that a snake has its fascination and that the music of the rattler is not only weird but compelling.

"I have loved snakes ever since I was a small child," said Miss Hunt yesterday. "When other little girls were playing with their dolls, I would take my pets, coil them about me and dance and dance. I suppose it is my gypsy blood but always it has been my greatest pleasure and joy to be with rattlers and interpret in my own way my various moods in dance. Diamond and I cannot understand why more women have not adopted snakes for pets, they get so attached to you and are very much more interesting than dogs and as for cats—well really—there's only one pet. Mine has a big box in my room and how he loves it when I let him out to play with me. No indeed if you're timid I'll keep him caged while you are here, but he'd wind himself about my throat and not touch you. He's quite powerful now as he hasn't been fed for some time. You know he only 'dines' once in three months and then for awhile he's not very alert. He's just nine years old and has been with me all that time haven't you old man?" she asked as she stooped to pat the vicious looking reptile which she declares can jump his full length.

In becoming oriental costume Miss Hunt, who is just past seventeen will make her local debut at the Columbia tonight in an Egyptian snake dance.

NOT FOR HIRE
A young man had decided to join the Episcopal church, but his family were all Baptists, so he thought he should be immersed when baptized, and on going to the rector of the Episcopal church he made a request for such a baptism.

The rector decided that it could be quite easily accomplished and would speak to the Baptist minister about it. The Baptist minister, on hearing this, was quite delighted and readily agreed to baptize and take the young man into the church the following Sunday morning, but said the rector:

"He just wants you to baptize him and he wants to join my church." The good Baptist minister then replied by saying:

"We do all our own washing, but we don't take in other people's washing."

AMUSEMENTS

The Runaway Freight

Manager Cavarens of the Plaza theater has for the edification of his numerous patrons today a two reel Kalem feature film entitled "The Runaway Freight" a thrilling story in which Helen Holmes the little star of the Edendale studio of the company plays. The picture is realistic in the extreme. Also there will be run the three reel states right feature "Courage of the Ghouls" a weird picture, while "The Call of the Road" completes the bill.

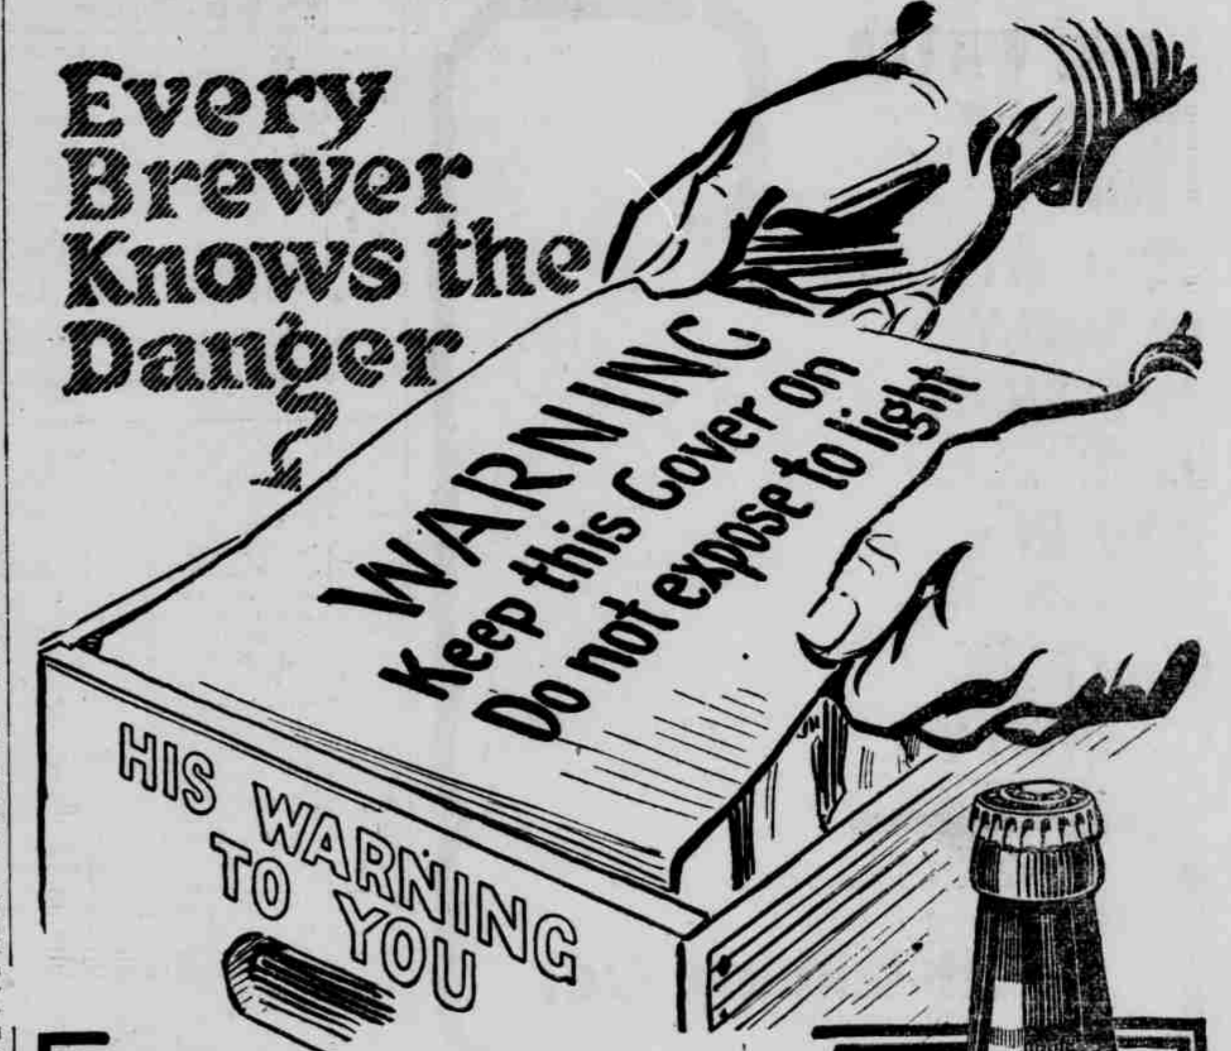

The Old Maids' Baby

"The Old Maids' Baby" starring John Bunny and Flora Finch leads the program at the Lamara theater. This picture is one of the funniest comedies that has yet been sent out from the great Vitaphone studios. "Reporter Jimmie Intervenes" a two reel Selig giving the experience of a young reporter in a baseball mixup. It is a good story. For the fourth reel the inimitable Max, the well known Pathe player will appear as Max the Magician. Max is now at the front serving his country in the war, but this picture was taken before the war trouble bothered him.

The Columbia

The first Thursday night change in program since the opening of the Columbia theater takes place tonight, when "A Winning Widow" will have its Phoenix premiere.

Deserving of especial mention is "The Dance of the Serpents," by Dorothy Hunt. Miss Hunt will also present her conception of the "Dance of the Asp" and "The Seven Veils," both of Oriental origin. The dance will in no way interfere with the show itself, as it will follow the regular performance.

On tomorrow night an extra added feature will be the chorus girls' contest, and it is promised that it will be a spirited affair, as the young ladies are eager to reverse the awards of last week.

That Empress Show

Again last night the big four act bill which is holding forth at the Empress this week, duplicated the success which was its lot on the opening night. The Vincetti Duo put more "pep" into their work if such a thing were possible. The patrons were of the opinion that this versatile athlete had exhausted the category of gymnastic feats already, but he had a couple "up his sleeve" which he used to excellent advantage.

Randall, the cartoonist, introduced a most novel entertainment in the shape of caricature chalk pictures of several of the best known men of Phoenix. Each picture brought forth great applause, and it was with difficulty that Randall was allowed to proceed with the program. Aside from this, he drew several most interesting scenes and offered a short program of trick drawing, showing the ease and rapidity with which an accomplished cartoonist can with a few lines change the entire subject of a picture.

Lee & Chandler, the clever "sister team," scored a tremendous hit with as clever a line of work as has visited the city for a long time. There are many novel features introduced in the act, all of which add material to the general excellent result.

The Sullivan Brothers in singing and dances are an assured hit all the time. The boys can sing, and in harmony they are hard to equal. Their dancing specialty causes much favorable comment.

For Her Child

"For Her Child," a Thanhouser drama which is the feature at the Lion today, is a beautiful story. A worthless brother breaks up a happy home and the husband and wife separate. The little child is given to the father by the court, but the mother steals her and hides her away in a country home. Then the father and husband begins to long for his family and he searches for them. There is the happy ending. "The Perils of Pauline" are more interesting and thrilling than ever and "The Gambling Rube" is a rattling good comedy by the Keystone people. "The Burden" is a dream of human interest with a good strong plot.

The Regale

A genuine novelty in moving picture dramas is promised for today at the Regale theater, 210-12 East Washington street, in the presentation of "Just Kids," an Eclair two-reel comedy-drama. "Just Kids" presents a pretty dream story. Every part is enacted by a child, trained and clever far above the ordinary child actor. It has a plot, a story of unusual interest, with flashes of humor that are catching. There is more action crowded into the two reels than is sometimes found in six and seven reel productions. "The Troubadour of the Rancho," a romance of Old Mexico, will be no small feature on today's bill. This is a Powers drama of a peculiarly gripping nature, the kind that holds the attention throughout. Another Powers drama is also presented today at the Regale in "Regeneration," a photo play featuring Wallace Reid. Altogether today's bill is one of the best of this summer at the Regale.

RELIABLE TREES AND VINES

Tree Planters, Your Future Profits will depend on the nursery stock you plant. Arizona certainly has a good future in horticulture and viticulture. But it will be necessary to plant the RIGHT VARIETIES, considering your climatic and your marketing conditions. We can help you in this matter if we may.

For twenty-seven years we have been propagating trees for California planters and know the business thoroughly. Our nursery plant at Fresno contains the largest stock of commercial varieties of trees and vines being grown in California.

Our newest nursery plant near Phoenix is doing nicely, and we expect to continue a permanent nursery plant here for our Arizona customers. Arizona conditions are similar to parts of California. Do not make the mistake of planting the wrong varieties of nursery stock grown by far-away nurseries who know nothing of our western needs.

Our office and delivery yard will be open in Phoenix in the Fall.

Write for our catalog now, please, and let us know how much land you expect to improve and what varieties you have in mind.
