TEMPE SCHOOLS CLOSE ON AFTERNOON OF 23RD
Ten Day Vacation for Students. Partial Xmas Calendar for Tempe

Christmas offers a ten-day vacation to students of the Tempe schools this year, dating from the evening of the 23rd to the first Monday in the new year. That all are looking forward to the close of school a week from tonight, goes without saying. Many, especially the students of the normal, have already formulated their plans for the vacation period, and wherever possible the out of town students will spend their time with the folks at home.
School closes this year at all four of the Tempe institutions on the same date, the evening of the 23rd. It will reopen again on the Monday following New Years, allowing in all ten days for the Christmas holidays.
The closing of the grammar schools will be marked with appropriate Christmas exercises. The corps of teachers at both the training and public schools are already busily engaged with this work.
What the calendar for the holidays holds for Tempe people and the out of the valley folks who will spend their vacation here has not been compiled as yet. The Christmas afternoon program is pretty well under way, however, and baseball enthusiasts of the town promises some kind of a contest, one between the high school or town team, the leams and the fats, or the married and the single. It is possible that a sport program will be worked in on this card with a special band concert in connection.
