PEOPLE TURNED AWAY AT METHODIST CHURCH

Revival Grows in Interest; Schedule of Meetings Has Been Changed.

All those who went to the First Methodist church for yesterday morning and evening services, could not gain access to the building, for in spite of augmented seating arrangements the crowds exceeded the capacity at both meetings. Rev. H. B. DeLaye, the evangelist, made two splendid addresses, and besides, held a men's meeting in the afternoon—not a "standing room only" sort—but well attended, withal.

Rev. DeLaye spoke on "A Man Wanted" at the afternoon meeting. Taken altogether yesterday was a fine day for the meetings. The weather was excellent and the inspiration strong. DeLaye and Pfaffenberger, his singing partner, are daily increasing their popularity.

The first regular afternoon meeting will be held today at 3:30, and there will be no services tonight. The next evening meeting will be tomorrow at 7:30.

At last night's services Mr. Pfaffenberger's solo was "One Sweetly Solitary Thought."

DeLaye said in part: "Why would you rather be unsafe and unloved than safe and saved? Jesus Christ and booze do not stay in the same body."

"Every unfortunate person in your city and county fall tonight is there because he failed to come to God. God gives His people more pleasure in one hour than sinners have in a whole year."

"I'm investing everything I get in the Bank of Heaven, and I am not figuring on taking the 'down elevator.'"

BLOWOUT DE LUXE - Eighteen men got out and stood around and gave advice when a blowout delayed a big truck for an hour yesterday afternoon at Van Buren and Fifteenth avenue. The men were bound for Liberty to work on the irrigating ditches in that district.

UNDELIVERED TELEGRAMS - There are undelivered telegrams at the Western Union Telegraph office for the following: Bernard Cunniff, John Lowenbruck, Dr. E. B. Perin, I. W. Meyers, Allen T. Bedell, Ed Shumate, Charles Miller and S. W. Proctor.

FIREMEN TO MEET - The regular quarterly meeting of the Phoenix fire department will be held this evening at 8 o'clock in Firemen's hall, second floor of the city hall. As well as being a quarterly meeting, this is also the annual meeting, at which election of officers for the ensuing year will take place. All members are urged to be present.

DISTINGUISHED VISITORS TODAY - Mr. George C. Warren, head of Warren Bros. Company, the greatest paving concern in the world, whose activities extend all over the civilized world, will arrive in the city today in the course of a business and pleasure tour.

DEATH OF WM. L. RHODES - William L. Rhodes of Bloomington, Ill., died yesterday morning at 1147 East Washington street. Mr. Rhodes is survived by a wife, who came here with him six months ago and ministered to him during a hopeless illness, and two daughters, who reside at Bloomington. He was 39 years of age. He was a plumber and a member of the Plumbers' union at Bloomington for twenty years. His body will be taken to Bloomington.

DEATH NOTICE - Theo. Rielow died at the home of Mrs. Robt. Wilfong yesterday morning at six o'clock. At the time of his death Mr. Rielow was engaged in ranching; he formerly acted as solicitor for the Bon Ton grocery. He is survived by a wife and eleven month old child, and two brothers and a sister. The funeral will be held this afternoon at four o'clock from the parlors of Merriam and Hays. Rev. J. Lawrence Bell will officiate. Interment in Greenwood.

POETS TOIL WITH SUBMARINES. If anyone doubts the importance of a good, mouth-filling name, consider the lot of the English and German submarines. These vessels have done the most adventurous and the most important sea fighting of the war.

Names that bring cheer with them—Ships of the line—Long may you steer with them, Daring "Eg". Though but a number now, Yours shall survive, Bless where you slumber now, Gallant "DE".

This is humorous or pathetic, as you prefer. But it is not poetry. Neither is the following translation, wherein Hanns Heinz Ewers, the Berlin novelist, hymns both Zeppelin and submarine:

Enslaved is beaten in breeze and brine, Her crown is in fragments; the world is free. Queen of the waters shall float U9. King of air shall ride Z3.

Possibly, war verse being as it is, the heroes of the underwater fleet are resigned to their fate. But history and the future have some claims. If Jason had sought the Golden Fleece in the A1, and Nelson had died on the deck of the V3, and Capt. John Paul Jones had commanded nothing more than the PR, what would the school books have to celebrate and imaginations to feed on?

COLLEGIANS AT THE HIGH SCHOOL TONIGHT

College songs—the sort that every student has sung back in the "good old days"—negro melodies, instrumental music and a regular "Circus Stunt" make up the program of The Collegians, who will be heard tonight at the high school auditorium, under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. The concert will begin at 8 o'clock.

The program, while an entirely new one, contains a number of selections that are classics in the activities of college life as well as a number of cornet, violin and trombone solos. As a singing bunch the Collegians are said to be one of the best quartets on the road, and it is expected that they will be greeted by one of the largest audiences of the entire course.

COUNTY JUDGES TO PLAN FOR UNIFORM PROCEDURE

Meeting Will be Called to Order in Judge Stanford's Chambers at Eleven O'clock Today

To bring about uniform rules of procedure, county judges from nearly every commonwealth in Arizona will meet in the chambers of Judge R. C. Stanford this morning at eleven. As in the case of the county attorneys, the occupants of the superior court benches are attempting to regulate their work after a statewide system.

As an example of what co-operation can do, the judges from the northern tier of counties will tell about the system they have already devised for making it convenient for attorneys having cases in all or several of the five courts.

The five superior judges will be here today. They will tell how they have arranged jury sessions so that there need be no conflicts in dates.

A notice posted in Brussels on October 5th and signed by "The Governor General of Belgium, Baron von der Goltz," warns all Belgian citizens against attempting to destroy the railway tracks or telegraph and telephone lines. "In future," the notice reads, "the communities in the vicinity of a place where such things happen (no matter whether they are accomplices or not) will be punished without mercy."

The German military governor of Brussels, General von Loetwitz, by a notice posted in Brussels, October 28, announced the sentences imposed on two policemen of Brussels, for "inflicting bodily injuries" on "agents vested with German authority" and for aiding a prisoner to escape and for attacking a German soldier.

One policeman was sentenced to five years imprisonment, the other to three years. General von Loetwitz adds: "The city of Brussels (exclusive of its suburbs) has been punished for the crime committed by the policeman, De Ryckere against a German soldier, by an additional fine of 5,000,000 francs (about one million dollars)."

The Belgian commission of inquiry, in summing up says: "After such proclamations, who will be surprised at the murders, arson, pillage and destruction committed by the German army wherever they met with resistance?"

"If a German corps, or patrolling party, is received at the entrance to a village by a volley from soldiers of the regular troops who are afterwards forced to retire, the whole population is held responsible."

"The civilians are accused of having fired or having co-operated in the defense and, without inquiry, the place is given over to pillage and flames, a part of the inhabitants are massacred."

"The odious acts which have been committed in all parts of the country have a general character throwing the responsibility upon the whole German army. It is simply the application of a pre-arranged system, which have made the enemy's troops in Belgium a horde of barbarians, a band of incendiaries."

MARK TWAIN The Greatest Boy of Fiction, the American Boy

What a man Mark Twain was! Beginning as a barefoot boy in a sleepy Mississippi river town, a journeyman printer with little education and no promise of a future, a river pilot, an unlucky prospector, he became a man of worldwide fame and immense influence.

His books have gone everywhere, have made generations laugh and weep. He was not only a great humorist, he was a man of high courage and fine ideas, a man who hated shams and lies, and struck at them fiercely. He knew human nature, laughed at its queer contradictions, admired and respected its goodness and kindness.

Always he is intensely American, without being provincial. Not only did he have a genius for being men!

If as a young man, he was inclined to be too extravagant, too irreverent, he conquered that tendency, he grew in wisdom and perception, and he loved people, loved men and women and children. That is why we all love him. There is a glow to him. You can warm your heart at his books, much as you warm your hands at a fire.

Mr. Gilbert Chesterton, the English author, and a wit himself, says of Mark Twain: "All honest people saw the point of Twain's wit. Not a few dishonest people felt it."

But to the whole world of youth Mark Twain is Tom Sawyer, the immortal boy, the greatest boy of fiction, the American boy, and yet the essential boy that links all boys of whatever nationality together. Tom and Huck—what more do you want? Kelly's waffle kitchen is now open. (Adv.)
