LODGE LORE

Knights of Columbus
An interesting session of Marcos de Niza council is promised for Tuesday evening. Rev. Father Joseph will deliver a lecture on "The Catholic Children." Attorney Thomas W. Nealon will speak on "Parliamentary Practice," and Miss Anna Marie Luke will render a vocal solo. The program will begin promptly at 8:15 o'clock, and members are requested to be at the council chamber at 8 o'clock for the opening ceremonies.

Phoenix will be represented by a large delegation at the state council session in Globe Saturday and Sunday, May 29 and 30. Delegates from Winslow, Flagstaff and Prescott will join the Phoenix knights here and make the trip by auto via Roosevelt dam. Globe council is making preparation to receive the delegates and visitors in a manner that will make the trip one well worth taking.

Knights who were fortunate enough to be present at the installation of a new council at Nogales, are still talking about the hospitality of the border city. The degree work was exemplified to a class of sixty, and in the evening 300 attended a banquet. Attorney Frank Barry is the grand knight of the new council. The addition of Nogales brings the total number of councils in Arizona up to eight.

The dance given by Marcos de Niza council on May 11 was one of the most successful social affairs over which the council has presided in several months. About forty couples were in the grand march. On account of the absence of several of the older members two quadrilles on the program had to be cancelled. The committee in charge consisted of J. P. Lavin, G. E. Wager, Thomas Geare, W. J. McLemore, Peter Ryan and Frank DeSouza. J. H. Morgan, district deputy for Northern Arizona, highly compliments the Phoenix knights in a letter to one of the local members upon their activity and energy during the past lodge year. He is particularly pleased with the addition of a large number of new members.

Maricopa Hive
L. O. T. M. held their social evening with Lady Commander Mitzler Tuesday evening. A short musical program was rendered:

Piano solo.....Miss Rena Moffat
Solo, "The Song My Mother Used to Sing".....Margaret Elaine
Solo, by.....David Frank
Good of the order.....Dr. Rosa Boido
Reading Lady.....Olive Cresswell

Twenty guests participated in the guessing game. The judges being unable to come to any decision the contents were auctioned off to the highest bidder.

During the evening dainty refreshments were served by ladies Bruno, Cresswell and Sipes.

Woodmen of the World
The Woodmen of the World special train, run from Phoenix to Mesa last evening was an elegant train and very efficiently managed by Mr. Gann of the S. P. office in Phoenix, assisted by Mr. M. L. Stewart, who had general oversight of the entire party. There was a throng of "choppers" from Glendale, Phoenix and Tempe who boarded the train at 7:15 p. m. and as the "log rollers" gathered about the station preparatory to entertaining they looked up and down the long line of fine, new steel-encased coaches headed by the monster locomotive and many of them exclaimed "Some class."

The officers of the Phoenix Camp, W. O. W., and the "Degree Teams" of both Glendale and Phoenix, were there with all their paraphernalia and gaudy regalia and as they marched up the streets of Mesa, headed by the Mesa reception committee and officials, the citizens of our little neighboring city were compelled to "sit up and take notice." There is great activity already in the Mesa Camp, many new members are being taken into the camp at each meeting and it is predicted that from now on there will be still greater acquisitions to the great order in that city.

We cannot begin to tell you of the interesting things that took place inside the camp of the Mesa W. O. W. on that evening, but one feature of the evening was the address of welcome delivered by Dr. Nelson. In a brief and very eloquent address the Dr. welcomed in no uncertain manner the W. O. W. of the neighboring camps. One striking declaration of Dr. Nelson's was this: "I would rather be an American and a Woodman of the World in the Salt River valley than to be a ruling prince in Europe." Senator H. A. Davis of Phoenix responded in an interesting manner to the address of welcome. He said among other good things, "While the armies of Europe are growing thinner and thinner, the ranks of the Woodmen of the World in the United States, and especially in the Salt River valley are growing thicker and thicker." There was a class of eighteen initiated at Mesa on this occasion, six of them being new sapplings of the Phoenix Camp.

Dr. Hughes of Phoenix, Capt. Cook of the legislature, Mr. Gann of Phoenix, Mr. Reed of Glendale and others made brief addresses. The jolly crowd of "choppers" returned much charmed by the hospitality of the Mesa Camp, arriving in Phoenix at 1:30 a. m.

Among those making the trip on the Woodmen of the World special train were the following:

Jan. P. Lavin, Arthur Sweet, A. H. Schmecker, Wm. Gleason, A. Brice, E. A. Gerard, W. H. Snell, W. A. Beller, Yantis Singleton, John Berkeley, Niveling K. Graham, J. D. Hopkins, Geo. Stevens, G. G. Now that the special train is out of the way, the sovereignty of the Phoenix Camp, No. 5, will render the membership contest with renewed energy and determination, both teams being determined to win for their side and each member being determined to win a handsome prize. Among the persons offering prizes are the following: Thomas W. Nealon, H. Owendale, A. L. Higgins, the New York store, Donofrio Confectionary company, Baswitz Cigar company, and Clinton Lauer Cigar company.

M. L. Stewart, the deputy organizer and promoter extraordinary, will give a beautiful solid gold button and a "lover certificate" commemorating the 25th anniversary of the founding of the Woodmen of the World fraternal and insurance order these two prizes he will give to each sovereign bringing in one or more new members. Time is short, only about two weeks, let us be up and doing.

THE ODD FELLOWS' PICNIC

Oh, we are a bunch of Odd Fellows brave,
Come join our loyal picnic band;
Goodfellowship is our theme,
We are marching hand in hand;
Our members are a jolly bunch,
And we know we're here to stay,
Three cheers for the I. O. O. F.

Chorus
Hurrah, Hurrah, for this picnic day,
Hurrah, Hurrah, for this Odd Fellows' day
At Riverside Park today:
Yes, they are grandest bunch I ever knew,
Three cheers for the I. O. O. F.

Oh, yes, a mighty band we are,
About three thousand strong;
With friendship, love and truth,
We bravely march along;
We always lend a helping hand,
And sing a cheerful song,
Three cheers for the I. O. O. F.

We are kind in death and sickness,
In distress and trouble, too;
When your loved one's called away,
And sadness comes to you,
The Odd Fellows and Rebekahs stand by you,
Devoted, loyal and true,
Hurrah for the Rebekahs and I. O. O. F.

So come join our loyal picnic band,
And have a grand old time;
We'll give you a fraternal hand,
And smile with all our might,
We'll introduce you to our games,
And give you a very pleasant time,
So join the Odd Fellows today.

Hurrah, Hurrah, for this is Odd Fellows' day,
Hurrah, Hurrah, for this is picnic day;
They'll show you a good time at the park today,
So come join the Odd Fellows today,
C. R. B., "The Poet of the Desert,"
Chorus to Last Stanza.

LINCOLN THE MAGNANIMOUS

His Remarkable Attitude Toward Salmon P. Chase

In John Hay's diary, published in Harper's Magazine, Hay tells of Lincoln's extraordinarily magnanimous attitude toward Salmon Chase, who was his chief competitor for the republican nomination.

"His chief competitor for the republican nomination was a member of his own cabinet, Salmon P. Chase, the secretary of the treasury. Although Lincoln knew of Chase's intrigues he apparently did nothing to thwart them. Hay, on returning from a trip to New York, told the president what he had heard there of Chase's efforts in trying to cut under for the republican nomination.

"Lincoln said it was very bad taste, but he had determined to shut his eyes to all these performances; that Chase had made a good secretary, and that he would keep him where he is. 'If he becomes president, all right! I hope we may never have a worse man. I have all along seen clearly his plan of strengthening himself. Whenever he sees that an important matter is troubling me, if I am compelled to decide it in a way to give offense to a man of some influence, he always ranges himself in opposition to me and persuades the victim that he (Chase) would have arranged it very differently. It was so with General Fremont, with General Hunter, when I annulled his hasty proclamation; with General Butler, when he was recalled from New Orleans; with the Missouri people, when they called the other day. I am entirely different to his success or failure in those schemes so long as he does his duty as the head of the treasury department."

"Magnanimity such as this has had few parallels. It would be unthinkable in the case of a Ricollet or a Frederick or a Bismark.

"Lincoln continued to appoint, at Chase's suggestion, officials who would work in Chase's interest. When Hay remonstrated, he laughed, and said he was sorry the thing had begun, for, though the matter did not annoy him, his friends insisted that it ought to. But by an adroit turn of the tables the president, supporting Seward in the raid which the senate made on Seward, caused the too-impetuous Chase to resign. Chase supposed that he would thereby bring the president to terms. Far from it.

"When Chase sent in his resignation (the 'backwoods Jupiter' said to Hay) I saw that the game was in my own hands, and I put it through. When I had settled this important business at last with much labor and to my entire satisfaction, into my room one day
