WILLIAM ORTH IS GRADUATED

Highly Accomplished Pianist Is This One Graduate This Year of Claude Gotthelf of the Arizona School of Music.

The Arizona School of Music gave their one graduating program of this year, last evening, before a large audience.

William Orth, the graduate, is a very brilliant and accomplished pianist, his technique is wonderful; he interprets his music as on telling a beautiful story, and with so much feeling that it holds his hearers spell-bound. It will be very strange if he is not heard from in the future as an artist. Mr. Orth has been in Phoenix for the past two years coming here from South Dakota to complete his musical education under Claude Gotthelf, head of the piano department at the school and has made a host of friends by his playing and fine personality. The following was the program: Schutt, Concerto, G Minor Op. 7, Allegro energico. Chopin—Prelude, Op. 28, No. 6, Valse, Op. 64, No. 2; Nocturne, Op. 32, No. 1; Ballade, Op. 38. Paganini-Liszt—La Campanella. Gounod-Liszt—Valse from Faust. Orchestra arrangement for second piano played by Mr. Gotthelf.

BULLETIN NO. 3

Announcing the Y. W. C. A. picnic for Thursday, May 27, members of the association are each asked to bring one friend, either man or woman. Supper will be served by the refreshment committee. The management has extended park courtesies and a pleasant time is assured. Guests are asked to bring individual fork, cup and spoon. The committee is planning for a large number of guests and advance acceptances indicate that they will not be disappointed in the response to the invitation. Young, old and middle-aged are expected and will be welcome. Arrangements have been made whereby the regular five cents jitneys will be at the city hall plaza at 6:15 to accommodate those desiring to go at that time. Supper will be served at 6:30.

THE GOVERNOR CALLS ATTENTION TO MOOSE RACE

Executive Proclamation of Memorial Day Makes a Special Reference to the Movement to Locate a Sanitarium Here.

Embracing in his call to the observance of the day the recommendation that citizens of Maricopa county extend their patronage to the program of races to promote the location of the Moose Tubercular Sanitarium in the Salt River Valley, Governor Hunt yesterday issued his annual Memorial Day proclamation. The proclamation sets aside Monday, May 31 as the day to be observed, and calls upon the citizens of the state to on that day pay tribute to the departed heroes who so nobly served their country in the past. The governor's proclamation follows: "Whereas, under the laws of Arizona, which sanction the observance of May 30 annually as Memorial and Decoration Day, it is provided, also, that whenever any legal holiday shall fall on Sunday the following Monday shall be observed in an appropriate way; Whereas, Memorial and Decoration Day of the current year falls upon a Sunday, thereby making it legal and proper that the following Monday shall be the occasion of state-wide tribute to those departed heroes who have had an important part in the shaping of our national history.

Whereas, in the county of Maricopa, wherein the capital of the state is situated, a prominent fraternal order has arranged a special Memorial and Decoration Day program in which all citizens are invited to participate for the commendable purpose of promoting the establishment in Phoenix of a large sanitarium for tuberculosis sufferers, hereby conferring upon mankind a blessing in which the people of Arizona may especially participate;

Now, therefore, I, Geo. W. P. Hunt, governor of Arizona, by virtue of the authority vested in me by law, and acting in conformity with the sentiment of the people of Arizona, do hereby proclaim a state-wide observance of May 31, 1915, as Memorial and Decoration Day; and do hereby recommend that, on the holiday thus set aside, all appropriate observances shall be made by educational institutions, fraternal orders, historical and civic organizations, in deference to the memory of our nation's heroes, to the end that their deeds of heroism and acts of public service may be commemorated by present generations, and perpetuated in the recollection of posterity.

It is further recommended that on the day thus set apart all citizens of Maricopa county, having at heart the welfare of humanity and being desirous of publicity manifesting their approval and support of the movement toward the founding of a tuberculosis sanitarium in or near the city of Phoenix, extend their generous patronage to the program of entertainment arranged by the local lodge of the order hereinbefore mentioned, to the end that in our remembrance of the departed we may not be unmindful of those among the living upon whom the shadow of a dread disease has fallen.

In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Great Seal of the state of Arizona to be affixed. Done at Phoenix, the capital, this twenty-fifth day of May, A. D. 1915. GEO. W. P. HUNT, Governor of Arizona.

Attest: SIDNEY P. OSBORN, Secretary of State.

JUDGE M'BRIDE IS APPRECIATED AT HOME

Cincinnati Paper Has Nice Things to Say of Phoenix Police Magistrate

City Magistrate John McBride is not forgotten in the east. As president of the American Federation of Labor he was a national figure before he came out here. The fact that he holds the office of city judge in the capital city of Arizona, seems just to have reached his home state. The Chronicle, a paper published in Cincinnati, the official organ of the Central Labor Council of that City and vicinity has this to say of Judge McBride: "Ohio has produced and furnished presidents of the United States; it has furnished a president of the American Federation of Labor and more recently it has supplied a city judge for Phoenix, Arizona. As to the judge, it may be said that while he was a resident of Ohio he had no peer. John McBride served the American Federation of Labor as president; he served the labor movement with distinction and credit to himself. Now we find 'Mac' pronounced in the chair of justice in Phoenix. Those white hairs of John McBride come as the snows of winter; they mark the passing of time and age of ripe judgment. The Chronicle extends to Judge McBride the felicitations of the day, and as to his work on the bench can say that John McBride never did an injustice to any one. Congratulations are extended by The Chronicle and a host of friends from the state of Presidents-Ohio."

TINY TOTS HAVE COMMENCEMENT

Charming Exercises put on by Graduates of Kindergarten. Large Crowd Attends and Shows Appreciation. Fifteen Graduate

Fifteen tiny tots last evening completed the first step of their education. Commencement at Ellis Garden is always a beautiful and interesting event and hundreds gathered about the miniature out-of-doors stage to view the quaintest and prettiest pageant, to hear the graduation exercises, and to see the little folk receive their diplomas.

The kindergarten school, under the direction of Miss Lucy Terrill Ellis, presented its program in a perfect bower of blossoms. It is Miss Ellis' custom to conduct the affair similar to a May Day celebration and this was evident in the wealth of flowers in fairylike setting. The children also carried out the suggestion with floral wreaths and May baskets. While the pageant featured the program, the story, song and dance numbers gave an idea of the school work of the year. Especially enjoyable were the songs, the childish voices blending sweetly in the music written for the occasion by Mrs. William H. Duffield, a former Phoenixian, who has won fame on the coast as a kindergarten composer. Mrs. Dwight B. Heard presented the diplomas to the graduates: Marion Whitney, Ethel Twitchell, Albert Rountree, Muriel Miller, Leone Keithline, Barry Goldwater, Bobbie Goldwater, Claire Pierce, Robert Lewis, Gwendolyn Williams, Ping Bell, Watson Defty, Junior Hildreth and Katherine Bone.

The program: The Drummer—Jimmie Jones, Uncle Sam—Albert Rountree, Columbia—Jean Fairbank, Nikolina—Helen Newhouse, Little Playmates in the Garden. The Springtime Fairy—Helen Harris.

Psyche and her Sunbeams—Psyche, Charlyn Christy; Sunbeams, Laurette Dulmage, Eugenie Rountree and Portia Christy.

Little Greeks—Apollo with his harp, Robert Lewis, and Pan with his pipes, Watson Defty; the Queen, Musicians, Venus, the goddess of love and beauty, and Cupid, the little god of love, Ping Bell and Bobbie Goldwater.

The Maypole Dancers—Betsy Bradley with Mary Francis Huencyrager, Katherine Christy with Claire Pierce, Mary Twitchell with Ethel Twitchell, Martha Tuttle with Ida Mary Cone.

The Queen and her Court—The queen's herald, Austin Morrill; court gentlemen, Barry Goldwater and Alfred Bell; court ladies, Muriel Miller and Leone Keithline; the garden prince, Delmore Harbridge; the queen, Mary Stanley Woodrow; the maid of honor, Marion Whitney; crown bearer, Katherine Bone; carrying the queen's bouquet, Helen Donofrio; ring bearer, Weid Thayer; the queen's lace handkerchief, the gift from her little maid of honor, presented by Gwendolyn Williams; scepter bearer, Junior Hildreth.

Entertainment—Songs, stories and dancing. Minuet dancers—Selmer Harbridge with Katherine Christy, Robert Lewis with Marion Whitney, Watson Defty with Muriel Miller, Bobbie Goldwater with Ping Bell.

Petal Scatterers—Frances Emily Ganz, Genevieve Craft, Helen Donofrio, Dorothy Cover, Jean Fairbank, Weid Thayer, John Frazier, Jimmie Jones, Laurette Dulmage, William Lentz, Joe Lentz, Dorothy Stauffer, Charlyn Christy, Portia Christy, Eugenie Rountree, Janice Hildreth, Caroline Goldwater, Elizabeth Munger, Helen Harris and Mortimer Colpdy.

Seven members from the class that were graduated from the high school last week were former pupils of Miss Ellis. She has had many years of experience in kindergarten work and makes a study of all the new methods that are accepted by the best authorities. She has served as vice-president and secretary of the kindergarten department of the National Education Association. She has been asked to lecture in San Francisco on August 28, when the International Kindergarten union is held in the exposition.

The Strongest Corset Made

Rengo Belt

Reducing Corset

Without an unusual amount of strength, reducing corsets will quickly bulge and lose their shape—utterly failing of their purpose. Rengo Belt corsets bear the maker's guarantee of greatest strength and that they are designed throughout to stand all the strain medium and stout women may find it necessary to put upon them. Correct fashion lines will be achieved with these corsets without selecting sizes smaller than the figure demands. These stylish lines may be had with comfort—a feature almost unobtainable for by stout women. Give Rengo Belt corsets just one trial this season and you will understand why these garments have, in a few years, achieved a sale of millions exclusively among women who need to reduce. Boned throughout with double watch-spring steels, guaranteed not to rust.
