

AUSTRO-GERMANS ARE NEARING LEMBERG AND ARE SURE OF SUCCESS

After Seven Weeks' Battering Across Galicia the Teutonic Allies Were Never More Confident of Outcome

TO PARALYZE RUSSIAN ARMY

Believe Plan is to So Defeat Russians as to Permit Throwing of Tremendous Weight of Men and Metal into the West

LONDON, June 20.—After seven weeks battering across Galicia, during which the Russians have been thrown back more than one hundred and fifty miles, the Austro-Germans are as close to Lemberg as were the Germans to Paris in the first smash across France last fall. Never, perhaps since before the battle of the Marne have the Teutonic allies appeared so confident of success.

Having failed in their original plan of crushing France and then turning to Russia, they have reversed the order of their strategy and now, judging by the expenditure of life and ammunition in Galicia, they have planned their whole faith in so paralyzing the Russian army as to permit the throwing of a tremendous weight of men and metal into the western theater, there either to break through the France-British line or force an interminable period of sanguinary warfare.

A dispatch from Copenhagen says the German emperor has taken supreme command of the Galician campaign, establishing headquarters at Silesia, as near the front as practicable. Meanwhile a German official communication records further progress of the Austro-German forces toward Lemberg, north and south of the city. It claims the Russians have been cleared from parts of the Dniester to the south. The great question England and her allies are asking is whether Grand Duke Nicholas, commanding the Russian forces, will successfully emulate General Joffre's tactics of last fall and check the Austro-Germans at the gates of Lemberg. Optimists point out that he checked them almost at the gates of Warsaw. It is urged further that even should Lemberg fall, the Russians can drop back to equally formidable positions, utilizing the rivers and swamps and other advantages in terrain, and it is the British contention they could thus hold out for months.

England and France in the meantime are sending to their aid the men and munitions necessary. Whether Russia has sufficient ammunition to meet the present strain is a question that cannot be answered by England, although London papers say frankly the shortage is acute.

A Reuter dispatch from Athens says it is reported the Serbians have occupied Durazzo, Albania. Essad Pasha, provisional president of Albania, and former commander of the Turkish forces at Scutari, it is said has fled to Italy.

Russians on Retreat
VIENNA, June 20.—The Russians have been in general retreat since three o'clock Monday morning along the entire front after having been forced out of their positions on the Verezyca river, a short distance west of Lemberg.

Priests Called to Arms
UDINE, Italy, June 20.—In addition to several hundred priests who are going to the front as chaplains or as members of the Red Cross society thousands of young canons, parish priests, coadjutors, vicars, professors in seminaries, monks and nuns have been called under arms. Most of them belong to the medical or other non-combatant services, but many are officers or non-commissioned officers in the combatant ranks.

Chaplains who are carrying out their ecclesiastical functions carry boxes of Black American cloth containing all that is strictly necessary for the celebration of their office on the field.

Many Australians Wounded
LONDON, June 20.—Several hundred wounded Australian soldiers from the Dardanelles are now in England, and have been quartered in various military hospitals and sanitariums. A

Allies Pushing Operations Against The Dardanelles

PHOENIX, June 20.—The allied troops who landed at Seddul Bahr hold about ten square miles in the extreme southern part of the Gallipoli peninsula. The occupancy was coupled with the greatest difficulty. The ground held by the allies consists principally of a small plateau north of Seddul Bahr, and two adjoining ridges to the northwest, between which the Turks are pushing their advance trenches.

An Associated Press correspondent

ITALIANS DRIVE OFF AUSTRIAN SHIPS

ROME, June 20.—The ministry of the marine announces that Austrian warships attacked the northern coast near the Austrian border yesterday and today, but were driven back by the Italian warships. The damage was slight. The announcement also that Italian aircraft bombarded the Austrian lightships at Salsore, and a dirigible bombarded successfully an ammunition factory near Trieste at night. A small merchant steamer, the Maria Grecia, was sunk by an Austrian torpedo boat.

Wife Of Prison Warden Found Slain In Bed

JOLIET, June 20.—Mrs. Edmund M. Allen, the young wife of the warden of the state penitentiary and a former comic opera favorite, was found dead today, burned in her bed in the warden's suite in the penitentiary. A wound in the left temple and the rapidity with which the flames charred the body almost beyond recognition gave rise to the belief that she had been strangled by a blow and her night clothes soaked with alcohol and ignited. A bottle of alcohol and a heavy water bottle were found in the room.

COMMISSIONER CODHAM DEAD

Man Who Figured in Development of Man Who Figured in Development of Cyprus Passes Away
LONDON, June 20.—Claude Delavre Codham, who has died at his home in Devonshire, was for thirty years British commissioner of the island of Cyprus. He was a man of many accomplishments, a linguist, an antiquary and the author of numerous books dealing chiefly with the history of Cyprus. He was commissioner from 1879 until 1908.

NEW RECORD FOR BARNEY

CHICAGO, June 20.—Barney Oldfield established a new automobile speed record, when he negotiated a lap in 1:04 2-5 an average of 111.5 miles an hour.

PLAN TO PROTECT POSITIONS SUBJECT TO GAS ATTACKS

LONDON, June 20.—Elaborate plans for defending positions subject to gas attack are being pushed to completion by a special committee of experts at the British war office. For the artillerymen and machine gun men, suits of "armor" are being modeled after the suits worn by divers or colliery fire-fighting experts. The helmets will provide a complete cover for the head, with mica windows for the eyes, and a heavy respirator covering the mouth and nose and supplied with a constant dampening of chemical from a small tin reservoir under the hat. Clad in this equipment the machine guns and artillery can maintain a position even if the infantry has to retire. For the infantrymen, the crude respirators at first supplied are now being replaced by hoods like the so-called Balalaika helmets. A flap covers the face, mica windows being inserted to protect the eyes, while the respirator pad is of cotton waste and large enough to last for an hour without refilling. Each soldier will carry two extra pads, enabling him to remain in his trench position for three hours under ordinary circumstances. A chew of tobacco in time has saved many a soldier's life during German gas attacks according to a corporal of Canadian artillery in a letter to the Rev. C. E. Durrant of Freston Rectory, Suffolk. He gives his reasons as follows: "Gas makes the air green and yellow and it chokes and poisons a man when he stands. The first time, we began to feel pretty choky at the suns and wondered if tobacco would help us. We thought we would try it, and put a big chew in our mouths. It made us spit up the gas. Now, when we notice the gas in the air, we just take a chew of tobacco."

HONEST ADS THEME OF AD MEN'S MEETING

Advertising Men and Business Men Interested in Advertising Open Convention of World's Advertising Clubs

SIXTY DELEGATES OCCUPY PULPITS

In the Churches of Windy City Advertising Men Address Big Sunday Congregations, Preaching Honesty in Business

CHICAGO, June 20.—Advertising men and business men interested in advertising met here today in a great convention of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World. "Honest Advertising is the watchword of the meeting."

Ten thousand delegates are expected to attend the various general and departmental meetings which will be held Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. Today's program was brief. Sixty Chicago pulpits were occupied by advertising men, preaching honesty in business, and at a midday meeting in the afternoon there was a big musical program and an address by William Woodhead of San Francisco, president of the organization. Mr. Woodhead outlined the purposes, accomplishments and ambitions of the association.

The delegates will get down to actual work tomorrow. Addresses are expected to be made by Bishop Warren A. Chandler of Georgia, on "Commerce and Christianity"; by Dr. Charles R. Van Hise, president of the University of Wisconsin, on "The Power of Education in Moralizing Industry"; Henry D. Estabrook of New York City, on "Creating an Industrial Conscience"; and by others.

Departmental meetings will be held by the Affiliated Association of Advertising Agents, the Agricultural Publishers Association, Associated Retail Advertisers, Association of American Directory Publishers, Association of National Advertisers, The Business Press, Graphic Arts Association, National Association of Advertising Specialty Manufacturers, the Outdoor Advertising Association, the Poster Advertising Association, and the Religious Press Association.

In addition to program ends for numerous conferences of book publishers, editors of house organs, on the use of pronouns, on community advertising, direct mail advertising, newspaper advertising, and kindred subjects.

In the course of the convention addresses will be made by experts on every phase of the subject of advertising and its relation to other activities of life.

Those in charge of the convention point to the program of the Agricultural Publishers Association as indicative of the thoroughness with which the various subjects will be discussed. This program will consider: Importance of the farmer trade to the small dealer; what are the farm papers doing to help the small town dealer; What are advertisers doing to help the small town dealer, and to what extent are these cooperating. To get at every angle of the subject it is announced that there will be present two

STILL HOLD UP FOODS

Further Tightening of Ring Preventing Food Supplies Entering Germany Is Noted
LONDON, June 20.—There is a further tightening of the ring by which food supplies are prevented from entering Germany, Austria and Turkey.

An order in council announces that the exportation of certain important goods for man and beast is totally prohibited, while other goods and forage may only be exported to France, Russia, Spain and Portugal.

Goods that must not be sent to foreign ports in Europe other than France, Russia, Spain and Portugal (Russian Baltic ports and Italy banned, as are also neutral countries such as Holland, Norway, Sweden and Denmark); onions, potatoes, rye, rye flour, rye meal, buckwheat, millet, molasses, arsenic and its compounds.

BRYAN AT THE EXPO

SAN FRANCISCO, June 20.—William J. Bryan has accepted an invitation to deliver an address on "Peace" at the exposition on July 5, according to an official announcement of the management.

Bishop Atwood Renders Invocation At Launching Of Battleship Arizona

Arizona was specially honored at the launching of the new superdreadnaught Arizona on Saturday in the selection of Rt. Rev. Julius W. Atwood, Episcopal Bishop of Arizona, to deliver the invocation. In the following words, Bishop Atwood bestowed the blessing and guidance of God, the Father, upon the new battleship and the nation generally: "O God, Father of us all, Governor of nations, we beseech Thee with Thy favor to bless and guide Thy servants, the President of the United States and the Governors of our Commonwealths which make up the unity of the nation, and all others in authority. Give them grace to execute justice and maintain truth that peace and prosperity, religion

FINAL FIGHT ON LAND BILL STAGED TODAY

Speculation as to Result of Conference Which Will Take Place This Morning if the Senate Managers Have Returned

The conference on the public land bill will probably take place today. All the senate conferees are not now in the city but it is expected that they will all be present this morning. There is considerable speculation as to the result of the proceedings in conference. It is generally assumed that all disputed points can be agreed upon except the senate amendments to the provision for the creation of a land department. Some of the senators, of course not speaking for the conferees say that there is not the slightest likelihood that they will recede from that amendment which it is pointed out was the result of a compromise in the senate and is to be regarded as the last word on that subject. The house conferees will probably be less insistent but it is doubtful whether the house can be brought to concur in that senate amendment.

Just how the conference report will be handled in the house is another matter of speculation. In the senate it will be adopted or rejected by a majority vote but the practice of the house has been in cases of emergency bills, to require a two-thirds vote for adoption. It is pointed out that such requirement is illogical for the reason that the amendments the house itself made to the bill were made by majority votes and, further, that a ruling requiring a two-thirds majority may be overturned by a majority vote. But this is a matter that each house may determine for itself without any hint from the constitution.

While the conference committee is engaged there will be plenty of work for the employment of the house though the senate will have little to do except to act upon two bills which have been passed by the house since the Friday adjournment of the senate. At that time the desk in the senate was clean. The house will resume the prohibition bill this morning and when that is disposed of there are several other measures "up" including the anti-capital punishment bill.

SEVEN DROWN IN SURF

ATLANTIC CITY, June 20.—Buffeted by a huge wave and carried into deep water by the treacherous undertow, seven bathers, including prominent men, members of the Philadelphia summer colony, were drowned in the surf. Scores of others were dragged to the beach unconscious after a battle by the life guards and others.

FRANK DECISION TODAY

ATLANTA, June 20.—Governor Shanton announced he would make known tomorrow his decision in the Frank petition for clemency. Frank is sentenced to hang Tuesday.

NERVY BIPLANIST LOCATES GUN THAT BOMBARDED DUNKIRK

DUNKIRK, June 20.—The airman who located the 15-inch German gun that bombarded Dunkirk succeeded by only the narrowest margin in bringing information in. Several pilots and observers, French and English, volunteered for this service. The hero fell to a biplane with a pilot designated by permission of the censor on Monsieur M— with Monsieur H— as observer. Four other machines with their crews were ready to follow in case the first should not come back.

WEATHER TODAY

PHOENIX, June 20.—Forecast for Monday and Tuesday, fair, with slight changes in temperature.

and righteousness may be established among us for all generations. "May the vessels of our Navy be guided by Thy gracious care and providence, may they not bear the sword in vain, but as the minister of God, be a terror to those who do evil and a defense to those who do well. "Bless the officers and men of our Navy; may love of country be engraven in their hearts and may their adventurous spirits and severe toils for defense, and the Prince of Peace shall enter into His kingdom in Whose prayer for all men, we would join with grateful and humble hearts this day."

COMPERS WOULD RESIST ROBBERY OF BIRTHRIGHT

WASHINGTON, June 20.—Declaring that while he has always abhorred war, but believed there were things even more abhorrent, Samuel Compers, president of the American Federation of Labor, in a letter made public today, sets forth his position in international politics. He said that if an attempt were made to rob us of our birthright of freedom, justice, safety and character, he would prevail upon every red-blooded man to resist to the last degree.

Accuse Organizer Of Battalion Of Embezzling Check

LONDON, June 20.—A scandal of widespread interest has come out of the proceedings of a military court of inquiry to investigate the formation of the Empire Battalion by public subscription. Major A. T. Bathurst, one of the prime organizers, is accused of misappropriating a check for £500. Moreover, according to a statement made in court by Major Lord Athlumney, the major has a criminal record and his right name is Pugh.

Lord Athlumney says court records show Pugh was sentenced to year for £500. Moreover, according to a statement made in court by Major Lord Athlumney, the major has a criminal record and his right name is Pugh.

Lord Athlumney says court records show Pugh was sentenced to year for £500. Moreover, according to a statement made in court by Major Lord Athlumney, the major has a criminal record and his right name is Pugh.

ANGELS DESERTS VILLA

EL PASO, June 20.—General Angeles, military expert, and right chief men of Villa, has left his chief and is now in the United States on route to Boston to visit his family. Definite word to this effect reached the United States government through its border agents who reported that Angeles crossed the border on Friday night.

Officials are unable to throw much light on the reasons for his departure at a time when his services are needed vitally in the military

TO ENTER CAPITAL SOON

VERA CRUZ, June 20.—The constitutional forces surrounding Mexico City report progress in their movements. It is stated they expect to enter the capital the middle of the week. Carranza will remain there.

RESIGNATIONS NOT ACCEPTED

EL PASO, June 20.—The Carranza consulate announced that after receipt of a message from Vera Cruz, Carranza refused to accept the resignation of his cabinet.

WILL REPRODUCE SIGNING OF DECLARATION OF INDEPENDENCE

SANTA BARBARA, June 20.—When the whistles start to blow on the morning of the Fifth (because July 4 this year is Sunday) the real work of freedom starts at Santa Barbara's celebration. The signing of the Declaration of Independence is to be done as never before. It will be historically correct. George Washington, Thomas Jefferson, Patrick Henry, and the other noted patriots will be impersonated by local

VILLA HAS NEW PROGRAM FOR PACIFICATION

Civil and Military Representatives of the Villa Government Will Submit Plan to Washington Government in Few Days

EL PASO, June 20.—Civil and military representatives of the Villa government will submit a plan for the pacification of Mexico to the Washington government probably the latter part of the week, it has become known here. It is understood that, approved by Villa, General Angeles has gone to Washington to represent the military.

Miguel Diaz Lombardo, the foreign minister, will reach the border in a few days enroute to Washington to represent the conventionalist civil government.

Dr. Erazim, secretary of the 12nd Cross here, has received authorization to send $100 worth of medical supplies to Amma Calientes to care for the wounded.

Dr. Erazim, secretary of the 12nd Cross here, has received authorization to send $100 worth of medical supplies to Amma Calientes to care for the wounded.

THREE VOTES ALSO KILLED MEASURE

California adopted a resolution declaring that woman suffrage in that state had been an unqualified success. Alabama will consider a similar resolution, but it must also be passed by the next succeeding legislature before it can be submitted to the voters. So did Arkansas, but the resolution was ineffective because of a provision of the state constitution which forbids more than three constitutional amendments to be submitted at one election and three already had been filed with the secretary of state.

California adopted a resolution declaring that woman suffrage in that state had been an unqualified success. Alabama will consider a similar resolution, but it must also be passed by the next succeeding legislature before it can be submitted to the voters. So did Arkansas, but the resolution was ineffective because of a provision of the state constitution which forbids more than three constitutional amendments to be submitted at one election and three already had been filed with the secretary of state.

WOMEN FIGURE IN LEGISLATION OF MANY STATES

NEW YORK, June 20.—Equal suffrage and other legislation affecting women figured prominently this year in the discussions of a large majority of the state legislatures. The sessions of most of them have now come to a close and a summary of their activities collected by the Associated Press discloses that the question of woman suffrage came up for deliberation in twenty-two states and that divorce laws, mothers' pensions, women police, minimum wage, eugenic marriage or other subjects relating to women were considered in twenty-seven states.

SEVEN TO VOTE ON SUFFRAGE

Also in Twelve States Women Suffrage Measures Meet Defeat—Three Votes Kill Measure in Texas; Also Indiana

WILL REPRODUCE SIGNING OF DECLARATION OF INDEPENDENCE

talent that Mrs. Jefferson will read the Declaration and as John Hancock starts to affix his signature whistles and bells will join in a perfect din. A chorus of 200 will sing and tableaux will follow. In the afternoon there will be a race meet and rodeo. In the evening illuminated auto parade, brilliant water poggant and fireworks. In every way the celebration will represent the product of local originality. "Something different."

WOMEN FIGURE IN LEGISLATION OF MANY STATES

Equal Suffrage and Other Legislation Affecting the Women Figures in Discussion of Majority of State Legislatures

SEVEN TO VOTE ON SUFFRAGE

Also in Twelve States Women Suffrage Measures Meet Defeat—Three Votes Kill Measure in Texas; Also Indiana

NEW YORK, June 20.—Equal suffrage and other legislation affecting women figured prominently this year in the discussions of a large majority of the state legislatures. The sessions of most of them have now come to a close and a summary of their activities collected by the Associated Press discloses that the question of woman suffrage came up for deliberation in twenty-two states and that divorce laws, mothers' pensions, women police, minimum wage, eugenic marriage or other subjects relating to women were considered in twenty-seven states.

The legislatures of seven states adopted resolutions whereby a constitutional amendment giving women equal suffrage rights with men will be submitted to the people at the fall elections this or next year. They are Massachusetts, New Jersey, New York, and Pennsylvania in 1915; Iowa, South Dakota and West Virginia in 1916. Tennessee adopted a similar resolution, but it must also be passed by the next succeeding legislature before it can be submitted to the voters. So did Arkansas, but the resolution was ineffective because of a provision of the state constitution which forbids more than three constitutional amendments to be submitted at one election and three already had been filed with the secretary of state.

California adopted a resolution declaring that woman suffrage in that state had been an unqualified success. Alabama will consider a similar resolution, but it must also be passed by the next succeeding legislature before it can be submitted to the voters. So did Arkansas, but the resolution was ineffective because of a provision of the state constitution which forbids more than three constitutional amendments to be submitted at one election and three already had been filed with the secretary of state.

California adopted a resolution declaring that woman suffrage in that state had been an unqualified success. Alabama will consider a similar resolution, but it must also be passed by the next succeeding legislature before it can be submitted to the voters. So did Arkansas, but the resolution was ineffective because of a provision of the state constitution which forbids more than three constitutional amendments to be submitted at one election and three already had been filed with the secretary of state.

California adopted a resolution declaring that woman suffrage in that state had been an unqualified success. Alabama will consider a similar resolution, but it must also be passed by the next succeeding legislature before it can be submitted to the voters. So did Arkansas, but the resolution was ineffective because of a provision of the state constitution which forbids more than three constitutional amendments to be submitted at one election and three already had been filed with the secretary of state.

California adopted a resolution declaring that woman suffrage in that state had been an unqualified success. Alabama will consider a similar resolution, but it must also be passed by the next succeeding legislature before it can be submitted to the voters. So did Arkansas, but the resolution was ineffective because of a provision of the state constitution which forbids more than three constitutional amendments to be submitted at one election and three already had been filed with the secretary of state.

California adopted a resolution declaring that woman suffrage in that state had been an unqualified success. Alabama will consider a similar resolution, but it must also be passed by the next succeeding legislature before it can be submitted to the voters. So did Arkansas, but the resolution was ineffective because of a provision of the state constitution which forbids more than three constitutional amendments to be submitted at one election and three already had been filed with the secretary of state.

California adopted a resolution declaring that woman suffrage in that state had been an unqualified success. Alabama will consider a similar resolution, but it must also be passed by the next succeeding legislature before it can be submitted to the voters. So did Arkansas, but the resolution was ineffective because of a provision of the state constitution which forbids more than three constitutional amendments to be submitted at one election and three already had been filed with the secretary of state.

California adopted a resolution declaring that woman suffrage in that state had been an unqualified success. Alabama will consider a similar resolution, but it must also be passed by the next succeeding legislature before it can be submitted to the voters. So did Arkansas, but the resolution was ineffective because of a provision of the state constitution which forbids more than three constitutional amendments to be submitted at one election and three already had been filed with the secretary of state.

California adopted a resolution declaring that woman suffrage in that state had been an unqualified success. Alabama will consider a similar resolution, but it must also be passed by the next succeeding legislature before it can be submitted to the voters. So did Arkansas, but the resolution was ineffective because of a provision of the state constitution which forbids more than three constitutional amendments to be submitted at one election and three already had been filed with the secretary of state.

California adopted a resolution declaring that woman suffrage in that state had been an unqualified success. Alabama will consider a similar resolution, but it must also be passed by the next succeeding legislature before it can be submitted to the voters. So did Arkansas, but the resolution was ineffective because of a provision of the state constitution which forbids more than three constitutional amendments to be submitted at one election and three already had been filed with the secretary of state.

California adopted a resolution declaring that woman suffrage in that state had been an unqualified success. Alabama will consider a similar resolution, but it must also be passed by the next succeeding legislature before it can be submitted to the voters. So did Arkansas, but the resolution was ineffective because of a provision of the state constitution which forbids more than three constitutional amendments to be submitted at one election and three already had been filed with the secretary of state.

California adopted a resolution declaring that woman suffrage in that state had been an unqualified success. Alabama will consider a similar resolution, but it must also be passed by the next succeeding legislature before it can be submitted to the voters. So did Arkansas, but the resolution was ineffective because of a provision of the state constitution which forbids more than three constitutional amendments to be submitted at one election and three already had been filed with the secretary of state.

California adopted a resolution declaring that woman suffrage in that state had been an unqualified success. Alabama will consider a similar resolution, but it must also be passed by the next succeeding legislature before it can be submitted to the voters. So did Arkansas, but the resolution was ineffective because of a provision of the state constitution which forbids more than three constitutional amendments to be submitted at one election and three already had been filed with the secretary of state.

California adopted a resolution declaring that woman suffrage in that state had been an unqualified success. Alabama will consider a similar resolution, but it must also be passed by the next succeeding legislature before it can be submitted to the voters. So did Arkansas, but the resolution was ineffective because of a provision of the state constitution which forbids more than three constitutional amendments to be submitted at one election and three already had been filed with the secretary of state.

California adopted a resolution declaring that woman suffrage in that state had been an unqualified success. Alabama will consider a similar resolution, but it must also be passed by the next succeeding legislature before it can be submitted to the voters. So did Arkansas, but the resolution was ineffective because of a provision of the state constitution which forbids more than three constitutional amendments to be submitted at one election and three already had been filed with the secretary of state.

California adopted a resolution declaring that woman suffrage in that state had been an unqualified success. Alabama will consider a similar resolution, but it must also be passed by the next succeeding legislature before it can be submitted to the voters. So did Arkansas, but the resolution was ineffective because of a provision of the state constitution which forbids more than three constitutional amendments to be submitted at one election and three already had been filed with the secretary of state.

California adopted a resolution declaring that woman suffrage in that state had been an unqualified success. Alabama will consider a similar resolution, but it must also be passed by the next succeeding legislature before it can be submitted to the voters. So did Arkansas, but the resolution was ineffective because of a provision of the state constitution which forbids more than three constitutional amendments to be submitted at one election and three already had been filed with the secretary of state.

California adopted a resolution declaring that woman suffrage in that state had been an unqualified success. Alabama will consider a similar resolution, but it must also be passed by the next succeeding legislature before it can be submitted to the voters. So did Arkansas, but the resolution was ineffective because of a provision of the state constitution which forbids more than three constitutional amendments to be submitted at one election and three already had been filed with the secretary of state.