PLAINER NOTE WILL BE SENT BY PRESIDENT

He Desires That the American People Refrain from Guessing at the Contents of Next Communication to Germany

WILL BE DISPATCHED NEXT SATURDAY

It is Surmised That It Will Reiterate the American Demand for Rights of Citizens Guaranteed by International Law

ASSOCIATED PRESS DISPATCH

WASHINGTON, July 19.—President Wilson and Secretary Lansing have prepared the draft of a note on submarine warfare to be submitted to the cabinet tomorrow and sent to Germany probably before the end of the week. Beyond the fact that the note already taken by the United States in its previous notes will be reiterated, no information was forthcoming at either the White House or the state department concerning the probable contents of the new note.

The president has cautioned those with whom he has conferred to refrain from discussing the note in advance of its despatch to Germany and White House officials have particularly requested correspondents to avoid speculation in detail. At the same time because of the character of the document has not yet been finally determined.

The note, it is understood, will be comparatively brief, expressing the conclusions of this government as a result of Germany's failure to give the assurances asked for in the previous notes, namely that the lives of Americans traveling on the high seas would be protected and that all submarines would be prohibited from attacking merchant ships.

As yet the case of the British liner Carson, attacked by a German submarine but not brought off to the attention of the state department, Secretary Lansing said he expected word from some of the American passengers aboard but if this failed to arrive in another day or two he would request one of the departments of the government to institute an investigation to obtain accurate information concerning the incident.

The note, it is now practically agreed, will advise Germany the intention of the United States to assert its rights on the high seas in accordance with international law. There will probably be little or no discussion of the principles treated already at length in the previous notes.

Prompt action in despatching the note is generally forecasted. Tomorrow it will be submitted by the president to the cabinet, and it possibly may be revised again at Friday's meeting. In official quarters it is agreed that the communication will be on the way to Berlin by Saturday.

Although it is not certain whether reference will be made to the attack on the Carson liner, it is known that that incident has given some previous suggestions that the next communication would take into consideration the statement that submarine commanders are in actual practice conforming to the rules of international law. Irrespective of the details of the Carson attack, the fact that the vessel was carrying Americans bound for the United States and transported no contraband, was attacked without warning, has impressed high officials that German submarine warfare still holds forth many hazards for Americans traveling on the high seas "on lawful errands."

Lansing was at the White House more than one hour. While he has been in frequent communication with the president since the latter went to Cornish, N. H., it is understood that he did not obtain until today the president's final decision of the extent to which the purposes of the United States should be stated in the next note.

The president is said to have become convinced that the next communication to Germany must point out in much more emphatic terms than have heretofore been used, the earnest intention of the American government not to surrender any of its rights.

GREEK SITUATION

ATHENS, July 19.—Party feeling between the Venizelist and anti-Venizelist factions was punctuated here by an exciting street fight between Lieutenant Sophocles Venizelos, son of the late premier, and Lieutenant Byzantios, son of a prominent anti-Venizelist. After an exchange of verbal blows, Byzantios struck Venizelos, and there was a prompt response. Army officers separated the pair, who were both arrested and promptly released. Young Venizelos has asked for a court of honor.

NEUTRALITY IS VIOLATED SAYS ENGLAND

Directs Attention of State Department to Activity in This Country of German Sympathizers in Various Directions

ASSOCIATED PRESS DISPATCH

WASHINGTON, July 19.—The British government has informed the state department that it has received evidence that a wealthy German resident of Detroit had supplied money to certain persons in Windsor, Ontario, which was used to develop the property of the Canadian government. The British government inquired if the department did not regard the case, if fully substantiated, as a case of military activity, constituting a breach of neutrality. Pending an investigation of the facts of the case, which is being conducted by the state department, the case is being treated as a matter of internal security.

The case is connected with the well-known attempt to dynamite the factory and an explosion in a factory making clothing for British troops.

Notice Taken of Complaint

WASHINGTON, July 19.—At the instance of the British government the state department has called on the department of justice to investigate the activities of certain German sympathizers in the United States alleged to be employing unlawful methods to strike at Great Britain and her allies. Until the inquiry develops no names will be made public, officials will talk little on the subject.

It is known however that information has reached the British embassy concerning all kinds of plots, ranging from schemes to wreck bridges over which trains are crossing to the incitement of strikes at the American industrial plant making war supplies for the allies.

FRENCH APOLOGIZE

ATHENS, July 19.—The French naval authorities in the Dardanelles have offered a prompt apology for the act of the French cruiser Kleber in bombarding a small Greek colony at Castellorizo, an island in the northern Aegean sea. The damage was confined to the destruction of a church; there was no casualty. The local authorities promptly put out to the cruiser and protested energetically. The French commander was surprised to learn that the island was in Greek occupation, explaining that he thought the hill at which he had directed his fire was a Turkish station communicating with the mainland.

ROOSEVELT HAS MESSAGE NOT FOR MOLLY-CODDLES

PORTLAND, July 19.—"From time to time I shall have something to say on matters of vital interest to the nation as a whole, but it will not be for sap-heads or Molly-coddles," said Theodore Roosevelt here when a large, cheering crowd compelled him to acknowledge greetings from a rear train. Colonel Roosevelt then scanned the public not to believe any reports regarding him which they might read or hear at second or third hand.

Post-Intelligencer. Politics was not discussed at breakfast.

A crowd in front of the hotel gave Roosevelt a cheer when his automobile drew away at 9 o'clock and the former president waved his hat and smiled. At the railroad station another throng greeted him. He saluted them with a broad sweep of his soft hat. He left for San Francisco at 9:30 and will go direct.

NEGOTIATIONS HAVE FAILED STRIKE IS ON

Machinists of the Remington Arms Company at Bridgeport Will Lay Down Their Tools at Noon Today

COMPLER'S PLEA OF NO AVAL

Labor Leaders Deny That German Influence is Behind the Strike—Conjecture as to Extent of Its Spread

ASSOCIATED PRESS DISPATCH

BRIDGEPORT, July 19.—Negotiations to bring about a settlement of the difficulties between the machinists of Bridgeport and the Remington Arms and Ammunition company, engaged in a gigantic scale in the manufacture of war munitions for the allied armies have failed.

Labor leaders announced tonight that the first of the machinists will throw down their tools and walk out at noon tomorrow, twenty-four hours from the original time set for the beginning of the strike.

The added fact that within a week all work in the Remington shops and in the shops of sub-contractors would be at a standstill. Just how far the strike might spread in other manufacturing communities in New England, the labor leaders are unable to estimate.

The labor leaders announced that they had refused to hear from a New Yorker who on Saturday asked a postponement of the setting out of the machinists employed in the Remington Arms and Ammunition Company. "If we do not hear from this man by 10 o'clock this afternoon," said J. J. Keppler, business union vice president of the Remington union, "we will have to believe that the negotiations have failed. In that event the men will be called out tomorrow."

Simultaneously with this announcement came another of equal importance from the factory of the Remington Arms and Ammunition company. It was determined to stand as a body behind the Remington Company in its decision to run an open shop. This action, it is said in the announcement, was taken after the manufacturers were advised by the National Association of Manufacturers and counsel for the American Anti-Boycott Association.

During the lunch hour hundreds of workers from the Remington plants gathered in a large hall and announced their intention to make sure that all understood there would be no walk-out today.

After Keppler had seen Compler's statement he said, "I can not see why Compler should interest himself in this situation. I have no objection to his presence as long as he stays out of the door." He also stated, "The statement, if he is quoted correctly, places us in a most peculiar situation. No matter which way the thing goes somebody is likely to claim they have been sold out. I think Compler's statement is all right. I want to be sure at this point what I said about the charge of German influence behind the movement. That charge is absolutely false."

John Johnson, vice president of the Structural Iron Workers, speaking of the announcement of the Bridgeport manufacturers' Association, had this to say later in the day: "That announcement includes the men. We have not mentioned closed shops since the agitation began. Now that they say they would keep the open shop rule force us to work either in a closed shop, or we may get it. We, of course, stand for the closed shop."

J. J. Keppler, international vice president of the machinists unions, said that he and other labor leaders here will pay no attention to the call of Samuel Compler for a conference at Washington. "Neither Compler nor the president of the United States can stop this strike now," he said.

The Lion Plant

LION PLANT, July 19.—A very large addition to the Remington Arms Company's works at Lion has been completed. There has been no trouble whatever with the workmen but about two weeks ago the company gave notice that work would be shut off for a short time on August 1. It is understood that arrangements could not be made to adopt this plan before that time. Many of the employees work on contracts and they understood that the asked for change of hours would be agreed until the first of August. Through a contract system a man who has a contract engages his own men, and comes to agreement with them as to wages.

ATTEMPT ON MEXICO CITY BY VILLA FORCES

This Movement Undertaken After His Defeat With Enemy in Rear and Front, Junction With Zapata is Probably Contemplated

RELIEF FOR CAPITAL AGAIN DEFERRED

Road to Vera Cruz to Be Used Exclusively for the Transportation of Carranza's Troops—Situation at Capital Grave

ASSOCIATED PRESS DISPATCH

WASHINGTON, July 19.—Mexico City is again threatened with an attack. The Carranza forces under Gen. Gonzales who drove Zapata's army from the capital ten days ago have marched hurriedly northward to engage the advancing Villa column which is believed to be planning a junction with Zapata's troops, now menacing communication with Vera Cruz.

State department dispatches announced that Carranza will meet at the army evacuated Mexico City yesterday, turning the government over to the civil authorities. This was just preceded by advice that Villa's flying column which circled Orizaba's forces after the battle of Aguacatepec, had captured Queretaro and taken possession of Pachuca, within 40 miles of Mexico City, and was marching on the capital.

Simultaneously with a later report came word that Carranza had taken possession of the evacuated railroad station at Tepic, a position point north of the line and had ordered it held exclusively for the transportation of troops and ammunition, then proceeding to the further shipment of provisions from Vera Cruz to the needy thousands in Mexico City.

Officials here have made no effort to conceal their belief that the situation surrounding the Mexican capital has grave prospects. With another battle in prospect at this city, military and police work is being hurriedly put in motion. The chief concern of the government is to get the city into a condition to receive the relief which is expected to come from Vera Cruz to the needy thousands in Mexico City.

SHANKLIN COMING HOME

Couldn't Agree With Brazilian Minister At Mexico City

ASSOCIATED PRESS DISPATCH

WASHINGTON, July 19.—Arnold Shanklin, American consul general at Mexico City, is on his way to Washington under orders from the state department to report upon conditions. This was stated officially and it was incidentally admitted that Shanklin had been withdrawn temporarily from duty in Mexico City to avoid a continuation of friction with Senor Carlos, the Brazilian minister there.

Last week Shanklin was on the Mexican capital to carry on Red Cross relief work. Some differences as to methods developed between the consular general and the Brazilian minister. They were not settled but Senor Carlos in many matters was looking after American interests in a manner so thorough and satisfactory as to win the gratification of the state department officials. They remained it is only to be expected that they will be settled in the future.

GREEN SAYS HE ACTED ON GOD'S ORDERS

Life Convict's Explanation of His Attempt Upon the Life of Leo M. Frank, Who Has a Chance for Pardon

ASSOCIATED PRESS DISPATCH

SHELLESBURG, Va., July 19.—The conviction of Leo Frank, suffering from a serious brain wound in the skull, inflicted by William Green, a fellow life-term convict on the Georgia prison farm, remained official tonight. Dr. Compton, the prison physician, announced this fact as he visited Frank's recovery, though both physicians from the prison are in a degree to be feared.

Green told officials he believed in God. "I only wish I had had more strength," Green said. "I think I have done my duty in this matter as well as my strength allowed. I believe God helped me. I do not think I ever did wrong in my life." Green, although he wears his hair in the hair, is in the left arm. Physicians believe this probably saved Frank's life as Green was unable to make his victim bleed and the knife.

BATTLESHIP FIRE

Mysterious Outbreak on the Oklahoma

ASSOCIATED PRESS DISPATCH

PHILADELPHIA, July 19.—A fire of unknown origin was discovered on board the battleship Oklahoma at the yard of the New York ship building company in Camden, N. J., today. The compartment was flooded and it was believed the fire was out. Later there was more smoke and the compartment was again flooded and the fire finally extinguished.

Midnight smoke was observed coming from the compartment at the opening of the ship and after an hour later was apparently under control. The outbreak is one of the super-dreadnaught type and is almost ready for her final trip. A curious feature was that while there was smoke, no flames were visible. A similar condition prevailed and a slight fire aboard the Alabama on July 11 at the Philadelphia navy yard. A rigid inquiry is to be instituted.

VILLALOBOS' APPEAL FOUND TO BE FUTILE

Lawyers Tried to Save Him From Sentence of Death Which Expired Last January, Says Attorney General Jones

SECOND JUDGMENT STILL IN EFFECT

Superintendent Sims is Advised That Ray Murderer is Still Under Sentence Passed January 15 by Judge Baughn

ASSOCIATED PRESS DISPATCH

Because no appeal has been taken from the judgment of the court under which Ramon Villalobos is to die, Attorney General Wiley E. Jones yesterday advised Superintendent Sims of the state prison to treat the Ray murderer in the same manner as the other prisoners sentenced to hang July 20.

The title and execution appeal which has been taken to the supreme court, the attorney general pointed out, is from the judgment of the court of final review on October 21, 1914, under which Villalobos was sentenced to hang January 8, 1915. That judgment was never carried out and on January 15 he was brought before Judge Baughn and re-sentenced to hang March 15. At that time as was given an opportunity to say why sentence should not be passed upon him, but he replied that he had nothing to say, save that he did not know why he had not been hanged on January 8, and that they could do with him as they pleased.

"There never has been any appeal from the judgment of January 15, when Villalobos was sentenced to hang March 15," said Attorney General Wiley Jones yesterday afternoon. "At that time a new death warrant was made out, and it still is in effect, having been continued by the re-issuance of the governor to May 25 and again on July 30. Villalobos' attorneys are merely trying to keep him from hanging until last January."

In his letter to the superintendent of the prison the attorney general pointed out that the first judgment expired January 8, when the sentence was not carried out, and advised him that if it was necessary to get a death warrant the Villalobos should be included in the number.

Just what steps will be taken to give off the execution scheduled for a week from next Friday have not been announced. It is reported that Attorney Struckmeyer and Jones, who made a futile attempt to secure a writ of habeas corpus in the federal court last May, but before the execution was due to take place, will again make application before Judge Slaughter in San Francisco. It is known that a special effort is being made to secure enough signatures to initiate the law changing the penalty to life imprisonment and it is practically certain that a large number of these will be filed with the secretary of state before July 20 in the hope that the board will be influenced to put off the execution until after the next election.
