The country editor is a walking encyclopedia. A subscriber once sent this query to a country newspaper: "What ails my hens? Every morning I find one or more of them teetered over to rise no more." The reply was: "The fowls are dead. It is an old complaint, and nothing can be done except to bury them."

Frank Dresser, a gambler, has just been convicted of manslaughter in Anaconda, Montana. In February last, Dresser found his wife with Sherman Ranson and killed them both. Dresser formerly lived in Tombstone, where he was known as "Pinkie," and there married his wife, a daughter of "Napa Nick."

A felt want is that gnawing at the stomach after you have eaten a full meal, and can't eat any more, and yet there is that feeling as though you had eaten nothing. What is wanted then is a dose of Simmons Liver Regulator, the best Dyspepsia cure, for that is what that gnawing means. "Simmons Liver Regulator is all that is recommended for indigestion."—A. B. Dyche, London, Ky.

Back from the Grave
We cannot come, but we can often stay our progress thither. Disease like everything else, must have a beginning. All chronic maladies tend to shorten life, and render it a species of martyrdom while they last. Malaria, kidney complaint, chronic indigestion, rheumatism—all have small beginnings, and may be stayed at the outset with Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. This excellent tonic and alterative is adapted alike to the prevention of disorders of the system and to their removal, and its early use cannot be too strongly advocated. To renew appetite and induce tranquil rest, there is no other so pleasant means than the Bitters. The effects of over work and exhaustion, mental or physical, are counteracted by it, and the busy merchant, the tired clerk or operative, and the brain weary student, author or newspaper man, derive from it present relief and future energy.

Fred W. Merritt Discharged.
Special to the Citizen.

GRAB BEND, Sept. 13—Fred W. Merritt, son of W. H. Merritt, of Florence, who was arrested in Phoenix for supposed complicity in the murder of Dr. Pratt, at Gila Bend, was discharged by the examining judge without even calling a witness. It was plainly evident that the boy was not even in the town at the time of the killing and should not have been arrested.

Cattle Inspectors Appointed.
PHOENIX, Ariz., Sept. 17.—(Special to the Tribune.) Thomas F. Jones was appointed inspector for Tucson and L. B. Moss for Phoenix to-day.

Frank Bramble, of Wolcott, Colorado, a nephew of Frank Shields, of Kenilworth, arrived on Thursday's stage.

The Eagle Milling Company, of Tucson, has an attractive advertisement in this week's issue of the TRIBUNE. This enterprising firm has purchased about $300,000 worth of white Australian wheat in the Casa Grande valley this season, and as this wheat is the finest in the world, and their machinery the latest improved, the product must necessarily be the best. The Gold Dust brand excels the highest grade flour of Colorado or California. The people of Pinal county should take a local pride in eating bread manufactured from their own wheat.

There is not a person in Florence who can truthfully say that I have not made good my guarantee of every article which has left my store. I am a collector of curios; if any one is dissatisfied with goods bought of me please present his photograph.

New Reservoir Site Law.
A new law passed by congress for the benefit of those directly or indirectly interested in live stock raising is not generally known of, but will be taken advantage of by many in the various cattle raising states and territories of the west. The privileges conferred by this enactment are set forth in the following provisions.
Section 1. That any person, live stock company or transportation corporation, engaged in breeding, grazing, driving or transporting live stock may construct reservoirs upon unoccupied lands of the United States, not mineral or otherwise reserved, for the purpose of furnishing water to such live stock, and shall have control of such reservoir, under regulations prescribed by the secretary of the interior, and the land upon which the same is constructed, not exceeding 150 acres; so long as such reservoir is maintained and water kept therein for such purposes; provided, that such reservoir shall not be fenced and shall be open to the free use of any person desiring water to water animals of any kind.

Section 2. That any person, live stock company or corporation desiring to avail themselves of this act shall file a declaratory statement in the United States land office in the district where the land is situated, which statement shall describe the land where the reservoir is to be or has been constructed; shall state what business such corporation is engaged in, specify the capacity of the reservoir in gallons, and whether such corporation, person or corporation has filed upon other reservoir sites within the same county; if so, how many.

An Arizona Author.
[From the Tombstone Prospector.]
"Dan the Tramp; a story of To-day," by Laura Honsaker Abbott, has reached us, and a perusal of its pages shows it to be of local interest, many of the incidents related being located in Tombstone, Bisbee and other nearby places. The authoress is the wife of our fellow townsman, W. O. Abbott, the well-known assayer, and has been for years a resident amid the scenes which she describes. She depicts the industrial conditions now prevailing in our once prosperous land, and suggests a remedy. The book is of surprising interest to the people of Arizona, who have good cause to remember the disastrous results arising from the paramount influence of Wall street statesmen on the financial affairs of our country—statesmen who are but the tools of the cold-blooded aristocracy of wealth of the old world. A pretty story of life in Arizona is interwoven with the incidents that go to make up a tale of thrilling interest to every one conversant with the history of the industrial depression which has prevailed in the United States for the past five or six years.

A Gentle Reminder.
[COURT AVENUE.]
There is a little matter that some of our subscribers have seemingly forgotten. To us it is an important matter; it is necessary in our business. We are very modest and don't wish to speak about it.

Prof. Ollie Charlton, the music teacher, will go to Flagstaff to organize classes. He will return to Williams later.—[Williams News.]

Dr. Fenner performed a successful operation on Capt. Burgess Saturday afternoon. In days ago when the captain was in the service of Uncle Sam he caught an ounce bullet in the calf of one of his legs. The doctors failed to locate the bullet and the captain packed it comfortably along till a week or two ago when it commenced to grumble at rough treatment received in tramping over Table mountain. This necessitated a doctor and Saturday the operation was performed. In addition to the ball was a piece of government hard tack and an old army button.—[Tucson Citizen.]

Didn't find a receipted bill for subscription to the TRIBUNE, did they?

The plans for Marshall W. M. Griffith's new brick residence have been drawn and were submitted by the architect to-day. When finished it will be one of the finest residences in the city. It will be a story and a half high, 67 feet deep and 50 feet frontage. It will contain eight bedrooms, two bath rooms and six closets. The foundation will be of stone and will measure four feet above ground. The style will be largely Eastlake, and it will make a very handsome and imposing structure.—[Tucson Citizen.]

The way in which interest in mining is growing is very gratifying to the people of Arizona. It confirms all that has been said about the coming of a great mining boom. Bolder investors are turning their attention in this direction, and it may be expected that in a short time a large amount of eastern money will find its way into the territory. Interest for the present is not centered in any particular locality, but is general all over the territory and will probably remain so until the winter's prospecting reveals what some of the newly discovered districts contain. From this mining boom the whole territory will gain, and it may be expected that in a short time there will be such an improvement in Florence business that it will be felt by everyone.

FILES!
How many suffer to-morrow day after day, making life a burden and causing evidence of ill health, owing to the secret suffering from FILES. Yet relief is ready to the hand of almost any one who will use systematically the remedy that has permanently cured thousands. SIMMONS' LIVER REGULATOR is so drastic, so gentle, so pure, but a gentle assistant to nature.

CONSTIPATION
SHOULD not be regarded as a trifling ailment—in fact, nature demands the utmost regularity of the bowels, and any deviation from this demand paves the way for a serious danger. It is quite as necessary to remove impure accumulations from the bowels as it is to eat or sleep, and so health can be expected where a constive habit of body prevails.

SICK HEADACHE!
This distressing affliction occurs most frequently. The disturbance of the stomach, arising from the imperfectly digested contents, causes a severe pain in the head, accompanied with disagreeable nausea, and the condition which is popularly known as Sick Headache; is the result of what TOWN'S SIMMONS' LIVER REGULATOR OR MIXTURE.

Blood at Peach Springs.
[From the Mineral Wealth.]
Wednesday afternoon, J. H. Haney and a Mr. Allen were having a little game of poker in Spilke's saloon, Peach Springs, when Mr. Haney concluded that either his eyes were getting old or else the festive Allen had more acts up his sleeves than the rules of the game entitled him to. The few choice selections of bad English that passed between the two caused war to be proclaimed with vigor. Senior Allen made a move for his hip pocket as though to draw a gun, but Haney not to be bluffed brought forth a Bowie knife a foot in length and run it through Mr. Allen and clinched it with this projectile sticking in him, Mr. Allen sprinted beyond the reach of his antagonist. Dr. Early went up and gazed through the wound but could find no vital part that the knife had touched.

Under-Sheriff Smith went up and yesterday brought Mr. Haney down to stand before the law and explain matters, which he will probably do to the satisfaction of all concerned to-day, as there is no one particularly concerned.

It is fitting that Peach Springs should wind up her career in some kind of a row in which blood should flow. It is history repeating itself. The moving of the division has about affixed it from the earth, and it is a mighty good thing. It will make a good sheep corral.

Win. Garland, of the Gila Valley & Northern railroad, who was at Georgetown recently, returned to Los Angeles without having visited San Carlos. It looks as though no steps were to be taken to resume construction on the railroad to Globe this year. It is understood that the hay and grain that Mr. Garland is reported to have bought in the Gila Valley is for the use of teams to be employed in building a wagon road to the copper and gold mines, in the Aravaipa canyon being developed by an Eastern company.—[Globe Silver Belt.]

The lost has been found. The stolen Prospector bicycle has been discovered, but the unregenerate, audacious thief, for whom a reward was offered, dead or alive, escaped. While out hunting Saturday John Miller accidentally found the wheel several yards from the road near the powder house below the cemetery. The bike from exposure to the heat and rain of the past three weeks was badly rusted; however, with a few repairs, new set of tires and cleaning up will be as good as before. The only reason assigned for the wheel being discarded was the fact that both tires having become punctured, and the repair left not being handy, the prospect of trudging the wheel nine miles to Fairbank did not appeal even to the petty larcenist, and he concluded to hide it near the road where it was found.—[Tombstone Prospector.]

Justification.
"Huh!" snorted the husband who had been inveigled into attending the rendition of a sermon. "Call him a boy preacher! He's 40 if he's a day."
"He does look that way," said the wife; "but," she continued, in her anxiety to plead, "don't you think he has the mind of a boy?"—[Typographical Journal.]

An exchange, in an article on George D. Prentiss, the famous Kentucky editor, dwells on his ever ready wit and repartee. When some one challenged him to fight a duel, he replied: "It takes only one fool to send a challenge, but two to fight; I do not intend to be one of them." But one of his most striking displays of wit was shortly after the hanging of John Brown by order of Governor Wise, of Virginia, when he said in his paper that the poorest man he ever knew was named Rich, and the richest man he ever knew was named Poor, and the governor of Virginia was named Wise.

Mrs. Wm. M. Neal came in from the Oracle and is registered at the Belmont. She reports the country thereabouts as looking beautiful and everybody apparently well. Mrs. Neal is the popular proprietress of the Mountain View hotel at Oracle, in Pinal county, one of the handsomest and best equipped hotels in the west. It is a favorite place for health seekers all over the country. There are two pianos at the hotel, billiard hall and other indoor attractions. For a spin on the outside both horses and bicycles are available. It is delightfully situated in the foothills of the Santa Catalinas, about thirty-five miles north of here and is reached by daily stage.—[Tucson Citizen.]

The discovery of artesian water, discovered within four miles of Safford, will greatly change the status of the water question in this valley. There is no question, longer, about artesian water here, it is simply a matter of penetrating the hard strata of clay that overlies the artesian stream, which has proven to be a great deal thicker in some places than in others. Since we have two men who had "grit" enough to explore for, and find artesian water, it will only be a question of a short time until every little vale, nestling between the hills, will be the scene of flowing wells and beautiful homes. No longer will the people up high on the table lands bother themselves as to how high a ditch may be run and how many thousand dollars it will cost to construct it. They will simply dig wells, build reservoirs in which to preserve the water and become independent. This discovery is the most important one to the Gila valley ever made, and the names of Messrs. Reebe and Merrill will always be remembered as the pioneers in the most important step.—[Guardian.]
