YELLOW FEVER.

The Glorious Opportunity to Destroy It Now Being Opened to Americans.
The expected has happened, and yellow fever has attacked our troops at Santiago. The first reports that were permitted to reach the public were dated July 12, on which day there were 14 new cases. Within three or four days after that the total number of cases to date was admitted to have been upward of 2000, so that it is certain that the disease has been among the troops for some time, probably having attacked them almost immediately after the landing was made.
The policy of concealment was wholly justifiable at that time, for a confession of the truth would have served no purpose in protecting the home ports, and would simply have encouraged the Spaniards to delay surrender, and would have caused unavailing anxiety and discouragement at home.

All the accounts of the epidemic agree that the disease is in an unusually mild form, by far the greater number of those attacked recovering after the normal period of not very great suffering. Among the sufferers were very many of the Red Cross surgeons and nurses, all of whom, so far as is known, have entirely recovered or are convalescent. Many immune surgeons and nurses are on the way now to Santiago, and will be assigned to the fever hospitals immediately upon their arrival.

Now that there is no human enemy in our way, our sanitary officers in the conquered province have an excellent opportunity to give to the world as object lesson in cleanliness. And we are perfectly confident that, with the ditch of Santiago destroyed, the houses cleaned and disinfected, the infected huts burned, and our camps removed to the hills as far as that may be possible, Gen. Yonito Negro will follow the lead of Gen. Toral and wield to the inevitable.

Murderous Military.
A woman in Paris or London may discover that the tail of a bird "sets her off." She walks forth, and let tails are the rage, and millions of birds have been slaughtered for the mere gratification of tender-hearted woman. It is not an exaggeration to say that in whatever part of the world beautiful birds are found they will be found also the agents of the draper and the milliner. The part they play is that of supplying the demand. When a woman. The striking expression "murderous military" is current in speeches and writing on the subject.
"Feather-headed women," as indeed they are in more ways than one, is a term which might be used more frequently than it is with much advantage. Surely they invite some such public stigma by exhibiting themselves as they do in the relics of murdered innocence. — London Saturday Review.

We have always believed that the chief reward to our country for undertaking this modern crusade against the Saracen, and one that will fully compensate us for expenditure of blood and money, will be the liberation of our southern states from the constant menace of yellow fever. We are fighting not only for the freedom of Cuba from Spanish tyranny, but for the freedom of America from Spanish disease. The accomplishment of the first object is almost realized, and that of the second is plainly in sight.
It is not expected, however, that this glorious victory can be won without a struggle, and we therefore welcome the battle which is now on, fearful indeed that the loss may be heavy, yet with no misgiving as to the outcome of the contest. — Medical Record.

BIKE CRAZE AND RENTS.

How Selling the Wheels on the Installation Plan Has Affected Real Estate.

"A real estate office is not the Mon-like that one would suppose, judging from the number of men entering the business." The speaker was a successful downtown real estate agent.
"Profits," he continued, "have been whittled down almost to the vanishing point by competition and changed methods which it has brought about.
Not to speak of the reduced commissions, an innovation which has especially lessened the real estate agent's chief item of revenue is the weekly payment of rents, a system that sprang up only about a year ago, but has rapidly extended to nearly all rented properties paying from six to twenty-five dollars a month.
"Tenants formerly stepped up to the office with more or less regularity once a month. Now we have to go after them once a week—frequently several times each week—to collect the weekly proportion of the monthly rental. This entails the employment of extra men for that express purpose and a vast deal of extra office work besides. The weekly payment habit was first fostered by the installment houses and the industrial insurance companies. With respect to these it had a logical basis, but it extended to coal and pianos and crayon portraits, and finally to bicycles.
"It was the 'bike' craze, coupled perhaps with the rise of the strictly cheap-for-cash grocers, that forced real estate agents to take rents in weekly portions. A workman's household paying in weekly installments for a piano, a velvet carpet and plush-covered furniture for the parlor and '98 model wheels for the whole oufit, from the old man down to the kid, can't get sufficiently ahead to pay a whole month's rent in advance. So, in the case of perhaps 75 per cent. of the smaller properties, we have to take it in weekly dribs and glad to get it." Philadelphia Record.

PUNGENT PARAGRAPHS.

Her Mistake.—Ann—"She refused him, as she thought he would propose again." Jane—"And did he?" Ann—
"Oh, yes. But it was to another girl."
—Life.

Midnight Philosophy.—"She—"John, I'm sure there's a burglar downstairs!" He—"Well, we can tell by examining the silverware in the morning!" —Puck.

Abnormal Energy.—"Kirby tells me he walks in his sleep." "How remarkable! He doesn't do anything but sit around while he is awake." —Chicago Record.

"Mary, the piano has not been dusted in six weeks; it is an inch deep."
"Blame your former chambermaid for that; I have been here only three weeks." —Flying Dutchman.

A Bird's-Eye View.—"What is a decadent?" "A decadent? Well, he is a man who borrows money to pay his board while he writes morbid poetry that he can't sell." —Detroit Free Press.

"Mother," said Miss Dolly Newrich "can't father afford a seat in parliament?" "A seat?" echoed the good lady, scornfully. "My dear, your father is rich enough to have a whole sofa if he desires it." —Tit-Bits.

Guest.—"What! Two dollars for a room here at Clamhurn-on-the-Boggs for a single night? No, I'll go back to New York first." Hotel Proprietor—"But it is raining hard. You'll get wet." Guest—"Well, which is worse, Go to New York and get wet, or stay here and get soaked?" —Town Topics.

"The fact is, doctor," said the miserly man, "that I do not recover as rapidly as I should, because I am constantly worrying about your bill." "Oh, that's all right," returned the doctor who readily saw through his plea for a small charge. "You can get around that very easily by paying me in advance." —Chicago Evening Post.

Looking Ahead to Good Times.—"I don't know what I'm here doing," said the Santiago Spaniard. "If it hadn't been for that optimistic friend of mine," "He encouraged you to hold out to the bitter end?" "No. When we were tired and hungry he was always saying 'cheer up, we'll be conquered in a few days.'" —Washington Star.

It is computed that a hundredweight of lead is fired for every man killed in battle.
The small lakes in the northern part of Indiana are estimated to number 1,000.

The chief silver-producing states and territories of the country are now Colorado, Montana, Utah, Arizona, Idaho and Nevada.

Since 1853 the United States government has expended in the distribution of seeds and in the promulgation of statistics concerning them $3,476,

In a recently discovered Roman tomb the skeleton of a woman was found which had a complete set of false teeth, beautifully wrought in pure gold.

Within the last five years several millions of the Pacific coast salmon have been placed in Lake Superior. They are now frequently caught weighing ten to fifteen pounds.

The test required of gunpowder of any and all classes is to give the projectile a muzzle velocity of 2,000 feet per second with a pressure not greater than 15 tons to the square inch in the powder chamber.

One of the most beautiful orchids was recently exhibited in London. It was a white flower, shaped like a gen-tling with outspread wings and a gold and vermilion heart. It came from Venezuela and cost $5,000.

Every ton of Atlantic water when evaporated yields 81 pounds of salt; a ton of Pacific water, 79 pounds; Arctic and Antarctic water yields 85 pounds to the ton; Dead sea water, 187 pounds; the Mediterranean, 87 4-10.

An instrument for seeing objects under water has been invented by a hydrographic engineer of Russia. By its aid the bottom of rivers, to a depth of from 45 to 60 feet, can be distinctly viewed. In the examination of wrecks this submarine telescope will be of great service.
The thickness of armor on modern warships is truly astonishing. The side armor of a first-class battleship usually varies from 16 1/2 inches thick at the top of the belt to 12 1/2 inches at the bottom. The gun turrets are often protected by armor from 15 inches to 17 inches thick. The armor on the deck of the vessel is about 2 1/2 inches to 4 inches thick.

Teapots were the invention of either the Chinese or the Indians, and are of uncertain antiquity. They came from Europe with tea in 1610.
No human head was impressed on coins until after the death of Alexander the Great. All images before that time were of deities.

ABOUT CENTENARIANS.

Some Queer Stories Related of Extremely Old People in England Long Ago.

Not all of the centenarians were paragons of all the virtues. Thomas Whittington, for example, who lived to be 104, was a habitual drunkard, drinking only London gin, of which he consumed from a pint to a pint and a half daily. Philip Laroque went to bed drunk at least two nights in the week until he was 100. At 92 he cut four new teeth. John de la Somet, 159 years old, was an inveterate smoker. Several famous old people were extremely addicted to matrimony. Owen Duffy, who lived to be 152, married his third wife at 116, "by whom he had a son and a daughter." Francis Honigo, a Venetian, was five times married, and was the father of 49 children. At the age of 100 his white hair fell out and a new crop of the original color came in. At the age of 112 he had two new teeth.
Margaret Krasiowna, a Pole, married her third husband at 94. "She bore to him two sons and a daughter, as proved by the parish register." Murzaret McDoval, 106 years old, married and survived 15 husbands.

Among the recorded centenarians are two dwarfs—Mary Jones, 103 years, who was two feet eight inches in height and terribly deformed and Elspeth Watson, 115 years old, who was two feet nine inches in height.
Among the most agile were Mrs. Barrett, who, at the age of 115, climbed a ladder to repair the roof of her outlet, and Elizabeth Alexander, who was particular about her dress at 108, and was used to a daily walk of two miles. Several had peculiar habits.

Mrs. Lewson, 117 years old, never washed her face for fear of taking cold, but greased it with hog's lard.
John Hussey, 116 years, drank only palm tea as a beverage. John Wilson, the same age, supped always off roasted turnips. Judith Bamister, 100, lived entirely on biscuit, bread and apples during the last 60 years of her life.
Old Lord Scarsdale and Lord Cambermore, both of whom lived to a ripe age, thought the wearing of a tight belt habitually about the waist had much to do with their excellent health.
Maclean, the centenarian actor, abandoned regular hours of eating in the last 67 years of his life, taking food when he was hungry. Two interesting married couples are reported. Mr. and Mrs. Cotterell, aged respectively 129 and 115 years, were married 95 years and "never had a quarrel." They died within a few hours of each other.
John Bavin, a Hungarian, and his wife, aged 172 and 164 years, lived together 148 years. At the time of the husband's death the youngest son was 116 years old.—North American Review.
