An ice plant with a creamery in connection would be a paying investment in Florence. The only wonder is that it has not been established long since.

LITTLE Grace Scarborough had her leg amputated yesterday at Tempe as the result of a shotgun in the hands of a young man who didn't know it was loaded.

MARCUS DALY and his associates in the Anaconda Mining company have sold all their holdings to an eastern syndicate, headed by John D. Rockefeller, for $23,000,000.

Over thousand auto-mobiles are to be put on the streets of San Francisco for the accommodation of the traveling public. Like the country newspaper, the horseless carriage has come to stay.

A MOVEMENT is on foot to erect a $10,000 monument to the memory of the late Richard P. Bland. William J. Bryan has subscribed $200 and other amounts in all about $10,000 have been raised.

THE merchants of Florence are all having a good trade, notwithstanding the heated term, and the drummers all say it is one of the best towns they visit. It is the combination of mining and agriculture that does the business.

THE Jerome Hustler editor had a head put on him one day this week by a man named Butler, who objected to the flippant manner in which his marriage was noticed. And it was a double head at that—top of column first page.

THE Phoenix and Tucson papers are having a heated discussion as to which is the hotter place of the two. A man living in either place these days might well wish he were in—the other. The TUBES are thinking of advertising Florence as Arizona's only summer resort.

WITHIN five years Florence will be the largest as it already is one of the most flourishing towns in the territory. Provided, of course, that the Battles dam is built. There is a general good feeling in mining, live stock and agricultural circles. In mining especially is there great activity, which indicates that our county is on the high road to prosperity.

NEVER before in the world has there been such general and widespread activity in mining in all parts of the world, and for all the important minerals, says the New York Financial News. This activity is more concentrated and intense in the United States than elsewhere, but it is spreading in every region. Australia, Africa, China, the Islands of the Pacific, Europe, South America, British North America, Mexico, are all in the rush as well as are we of the United States. It is an age of mining. We have passed Great Britain now in the output of coal, far exceed any other country in the production of iron ores; we raise a big part of the copper that comes out of the earth, and zinc, lead, antimony, etc., and the development of gold mining keeps up with the procession. In every mining state and territory of the Union there is an amount of work going on not heretofore equalled. The old fields are giving out enlarged yields and the new ones are constantly coming forward. Coal is the basis of modern energy and steel and copper the body and nerves of modern appliances and machinery in the arts and industries. This has given a foundation to mining which has taken from it speculative, uncertain features which have long kept it out of what called itself "legitimate business." To-day there is no business no legitimate, so stable, so certain of giving good return for capital and labor put into it as mining, whether for iron or coal, or gold or silver. The world needs for its modern progress the mineral wealth of the earth, and capital is as ready to go into mining now as into the most favored lines of other industry or production.

I've made up my mind not to complain any more about Arizona's heat. After witnessing people fall by the way side in New York from the heat, temperature 84, I can stand the Arizona article at from 105 to 120. Thus Engineer Lon Holliday went on. He returned a few days ago from Greater New York. Tombstone Prospector.

FOUND GUILTY.

The Halderman Brothers to Hang For Their Crime.

(From the Tombstone Prospector.)

We, the jury do find the defendants Wm. and Theo Halderman guilty of the crime of murder as charged and affix the penalty at death.

Such was the verdict of the jury and such is the penal retribution to be meted out to the accused as punishment for their crime in murdering Teddy Moore and C. L. Ainsworth.

The prisoners when they heard the verdict read showed no signs of emotion and their unfeeling nature was the more forebodingly impressed upon those who had witnessed their apparent unconcern. In leaving the court room in charge of officers their elasticity of step or general demeanor was not affected any more than their usual walk over the same ground to and from the court room during the past four days of their trial. Neither said a word of comment to the other, and no uneasiness exhibited by either yet by the verdict they had just heard their lives were to be forfeited for the crime they now stand guilty.

The news of the verdict spread about town rapidly and from the many expressions heard meets with general favor of the populace.

After three days' trial and one day's argument the case was submitted to the jury about 10 p. m. last night and the verdict was returned this morning at the opening of court.

From a legal stand-point the case was stubbornly fought. Capable and distinguished counsel were appointed for the prisoners by the court and a stronger plea, considering the circumstances of the case, would be hard to find than Attorneys Jas. Reilly and Marcus A. Smith made in defense of the prisoners in their able arguments before the jury. On the other hand, District Attorney Land and Attorney A. B. English for the prosecution presented incontrovertible arguments in a masterly and convincing light, and also received deserved encomiums on their efforts. Everything was conducted in a fair and impartial manner and the verdict is regarded as a just one.

The date for receiving sentences has not yet been set by the court, but it is expected the prisoners will be arraigned on Saturday next to be informed of the date of execution of the death penalty.

It is understood that if a new trial be denied, the attorneys for the prisoners will appeal to the Supreme Court asking for retrial. What will be done remains to be seen.

The history of the case is fresh in the minds of our people, the cold-blooded and shocking circumstances of the death of the two officers while arresting their men, and who but a few moments before were engaged in friendly conversation with their prisoners, had granted them every freedom, and in return were killed while least expecting any hostile demonstration is in effect the revolting details of the crime for which they must now pay the full penalty of the law.

An Official Mining Censorship.

(From the Phoenix Enterprise.)

Official warning, by means of proclamation of the governor, has been served on a number of mining companies, that do not meet the approval of the chief executive of this territory. This sudden spasm of virtue, if it comes with a desire to protect legitimate mining, might be pardonable. But there have not been official warnings to protect the people against the funding of illegal bonds and other lines of corruption. So far as is known, it is outsiders that are pushing these wild-cat mining stocks. But it will be a dangerous precedent to establish, to require the official sanction of Murphy, his mining expert and his newspaper trust, before property can be placed on the market. The Enterprise will keep an eye on the mining censors.

Rewards aggregating $2,100 have been offered for the arrest of the man who murdered Jas. R. Lassator in Graham county. The assassin fired through a window of Lassator's residence while he was engaged in putting his children to bed. The weapon used was a shot gun loaded with buck shot.

The army in the Philippines is to be increased to 35,000 men. Gen. Otis has not as asked for more than 30,000 troops, but the President has reached the conclusion that it will do no harm to increase the force by sending 5,000 regulars to Manila at once.

The output of the United Verde mine at Jerome equals, if it does not exceed in value, the entire output of all the mines in Cripple Creek District, Colorado, and yet Cripple Creek is looked upon as a metalliferous wonder.

An Arizona poet announces that "there ain't nothin' half as hot as heat." If he expects to raise an argument over this proposition he has chosen a poor time of the year for it.—[Prospector.]

Mesa is talking up a large sized creamery to cost $10,000 or $15,000, and the enterprising citizens of that place met Monday night to perfect plans.

Dragged to Death.

(From the Tempe News, 21st.)

Shortly after nine o'clock this morning the shocking news was brought to town that E. G. Frankenberg had been dragged and killed to death by a horse, on his ranch southeast of town.

The particulars of the tragedy as learned by a News reporter, are as follows: Mr. Frankenberg had gone into the pasture and caught his iron gray driving mare upon which he was placing the animal along the fence toward the house, when he was accosted by a man who was in the road. He stopped to talk to the man and it seems that he had coiled the rope around his left arm. While he was still engaged in conversation a band of young horses and cattle that were in the pasture collected around, and a young horse playfully bit the mare on the shoulder. This caused her to suddenly wheel around and the horses and cattle at once stampeded, the mare going with them. When the mare first swung around the rope had evidently drawn tight around Mr. Frankenberg's arm and had then kicked so that it could not come off. The eye witness stated that for the first few jumps made by the mare Mr. Frankenberg kept on his feet but the horse appeared to kick him on the chin and he fell to the ground and at every jump the hind feet of the animal struck his head or body. The man to whom he had been talking, and who is a stranger in this section, at once entered the field and pursued the runaway. After going about one hundred yards the horse stopped and wheeled around, facing the prostrate form and stood there trembling all over. The man cautiously approached and caught hold of the halter which he endeavored to remove from Mr. Frankenberg's arm. He was unable to do this so he cut the rope and at once examined the body and found that life had already departed from it. He then went to the house and gave the alarm.

Word was at once sent to town and a coroner's jury went out and viewed the remains and rendered a verdict in accordance with the facts.

Ernest G. Frankenberg was aged 63 years and was one of the best known men in Maricopa county. He came to this place from Kansas about eleven years ago and since then he has taken an active interest in everything pertaining to the upholding and welfare of Tempe and surrounding country. He served one term as member of the board of supervisors of the county. It is mainly to his enterprise and perseverance that Tempe is indebted for the beautiful Odd Fellows' building. He was a man of strong personality; had some faults and many prominent virtues; a man whose death would mean a loss to any community. He leaves a wife and seven grown children.

Sam Again a Father.

(From the Phoenix Gazette.)

Samuel E. Webb yesterday did not come to town to buy ginger cakes and pop beer for "the boys." Even around home, so Doctor Hughes reports, Sam did not fly around with suspenders hanging and hair on end. There was no indication of unusual excitement about Sam at all yesterday. Yet there was a time when Sam did all these things and wondered why everybody else was not as excited as he was. But that was a long time ago. Now he sits quietly under a shade tree and calmly smokes his pipe while the doctor reports as follows: "Another gal, Sam. Nine pounds."

Gold and Silver.

WASHINGTON, June 19.—Director of Mint Roberts has given out a final estimate of the production of gold and silver in the United States for the calendar year 1898. Arizona is given: Gold, $2,465,100; silver, 2,446,800 ounces.

Hon. E. J. Trippel has received a dispatch that the supreme lodge A. O. U. W. recently in session at Indianapolis granted authority to Arizona and New Mexico to organize a grand jurisdiction, separating from Colorado. It is expected that the new grand lodge will be organized at Silver City, New Mexico, about September 1st.—[Tucson Citizen.]

The Adjutant General has prepared the statement of the number of deaths in the army since the beginning of the war with Spain: In Cuba, 1,399; Porto Rico, 287; Honolulu, 45; in Philippines, 606; United States, 3,773. Total—6,109.

Would Not Suffer So Again for Fifty Times Its Price.

I awoke last night with severe pains in my stomach. I never felt so badly in all my life. When I came down to work this morning I felt so weak I could hardly work. I went to Miller & McCurdy's drug store and they recommended Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. It worked like magic and one dose fixed me all right. It certainly is the finest thing I ever used for stomach trouble. I shall not be without it in my home hereafter, for I should not care to endure the sufferings of last night again for fifty times its price.—G. W. WILSON, Liveryman, Burgettstown, Washington Co., Pa. This remedy is for sale by Brockway's Pharmacy.

Lake City, S. C., where the negro postmaster was killed by a mob some months ago, is having a most trying and expensive experience. The town has been entirely cut off from the postal service and letters cannot be mailed or received there, or posted on passing trains. The nearest post-office is four miles away, and as a consequence the business of Lake City is going to pieces. This is heroic treatment and doubtless will prove thoroughly effective in preventing the assassination of officials of the government in that part of the country.—[Los Angeles Times.]

The red man is not so far behind the times as his appearance would indicate. There are quite a number of Indians employed by the contractors in the construction of the Gandolfo block and the first part of this week they went on a strike, demanding a raise of twenty per cent. The raise was granted and Poor Lo took up his burden. The Indians that do work make good laborers, being quick, active and industrious.—[Yuma Sentinel.]

Dr. McNaughton and family, of Tempe, left Monday over the southern line for San Jose, Cal., where he has accepted a position in the Normal school.

Last fall I sprained my left hip while handling some heavy boxes. The doctor I called on said at first it was a slight strain and would soon be well, but it grew worse and the doctor then said I had rheumatism. It continued to grow worse and I could hardly get around to work. I went to a drug store and the druggist recommended me to try Chamberlain's Pain Balm. I tried it and one-half of a 50-cent bottle cured me entirely. I now recommend it to all my friends.—E. A. BARROCK, Erie, Pa. It is for sale by Brockway's Pharmacy.

Mining Application No. 679.

Survey No. 152.

UNITED STATES LAND OFFICE.

TUCSON, ARIZONA, MAY 18, 1898.

Notice is hereby given that in pursuance of Chapter Six, Title Thirty-two, of the Revised Statutes of the United States, Clara Kinney, whose post office address is Globe, Gila county, Arizona, by her Attorney in Fact, J. S. Sullivan, whose post office address is Florence, Pinal county, Arizona, claiming the William J. Bryan No. 2 Lode Mining Claim, bearing gold, silver and copper covering 150 feet of the William J. Bryan No. 2 Lode, north 73 degrees 10 minutes west with surface ground 600 feet in width, situated in Riverside Mining District, Pinal county, Arizona, has made application to the United States for a patent for the said mining claim, described by the official plat posted, and by the field notes on file in the office of the Register of the United States Land Office at Tucson, Arizona, as follows, to wit:

Beginning at corner No. 1, a quartz rock 2x12x18 inches marked 1-123, whence the west 1/4 corner to section 7, township 4 south, range 14 east, Gila and Salt River Base and Meadlana, bears north 87 degrees 30 minutes east 184 feet, thence north 16 degrees 20 minutes east 900 feet, to corner No. 2; thence south 78 degrees 40 minutes east 1500 feet, to corner No. 3; thence south 16 degrees 20 minutes west 800 feet to corner No. 4; thence north 73 degrees 40 minutes west 1500 feet to corner No. 1, the place of beginning; variation at all corners 13 degrees 30 minutes east; total area of claim, 32.95-100 acres.

Survey and location are identical. This claim is located partly on surveyed and partly on unsurveyed land, a part being on the northwest 1/4 of section 7, township 4 south, range 14 east, Gila and Salt River Base and Meridian, and a part on what will be, if surveyed, the southwest 1/4 of said section 7.

The location is recorded in Book 14, Records of Mines, Page 829, of the Records of Pinal county, Arizona.

Adjoining claims: William J. Bryan No. 1 on the north, and the William J. Bryan No. 3 on the south, both owned by the claimant herein.

Any and all persons claiming adversely any portion of said lode or mining ground are required to file their adverse claims with the Register of the United States Land Office at Tucson, Arizona, during the sixty days period of publication hereof, or they will be barred by virtue of the provisions of the statute.

The Wheelman of Florence. Will find below a few salient reasons why they should select for their 1898 mounts THE Sterling Bicycle "BUILT LIKE A WATCH". Its features of construction are distinctively its own, and not to be found in any other makes. It contains no "ready made" parts, such as are used in the rank and file, but each and every part is manufactured from the crude material right in the Sterling factory. Its construction has not been cheapened, but is GUARANTEED to be the equal in material, finish and workmanship as when it sold for $125.00. It is the only American bicycle using the celebrated Mannesmann spiral drive tubing, imported from abroad. It is not a re-hash of old models, but is radically changed. It represents the highest type of construction without a single cheap feature. Its equipment is high grade only, giving a large range of options on tires, saddles, chains and pedals. It has a broad gauge guarantee, indefinitely protecting defects. It does not spread half the riding season in the repair shop. It is known to every wheelman as honestly built, up-to-date and handsome, strong and rigid, but light running and with remarkable responsiveness. It runs as well at the end of two or three years as when it was new. Its Chainless Model is the only one made having interchangeable rear hubs, giving the owner two widely different gears at pleasure. If more reasons are desired they will be cheerfully furnished. A postal address to the factory or to the local agent will secure a free catalog showing the details of construction, and illustrating the various models of Chain, Chainless and Tandem types. CHAS.
