

THE FLORENCE TRIBUNE
PUBLISHED EVERY SATURDAY.

FLORENCE, ARIZONA, FEBRUARY 24, 1906.

Joe Mulhatton went out to his mines Sunday.

Chas. Douglas came down from the Batters Saturday.

Mr. Fry, of Kelvin, was a visitor Monday of this week.

M. M. Hickey was up from Casa Grande the first of the week.

Wm. Neal, of Oracle, took in the city and its whirl of busy life last Tuesday.

Under Sheriff Powell and W. Y. Price made a flying trip to the Ray mine this week.

C. D. Peppy returned yesterday from Tucson, Yuma and Phoenix, after a week's absence.

Miss Nellie McNeil has returned to her home in Tempe from her visit to her sister, Mrs. Fred. E. White.

Col. Wm. Herring of Tucson paid a visit of two days to our town this week, attending to some legal business.

Mrs. F. M. Doan returned Thursday from a protracted visit in Phoenix, where she had a most enjoyable time.

A most enjoyable dance was given at the Florence Hotel Thursday evening and was attended by a large number of our people.

Jose M. Romero lost his little daughter Sofia this week, age three years. The funeral took place Tuesday from their residence and was largely attended.

Miss Bertha Clift of Camp Verde arrived Wednesday for a visit of some time with W. Beard and his sister Mrs. Troxell, at their pleasant ranch home near town.

A very pleasant social dance was given at the home of Wm. H. Graham Monday evening at Keulworth. A number of Florence people went out and enjoyed themselves hugely.

C. R. Michen & Co. have improved their store this week to the extent of a handsome double door with large glass, which adds much to the appearance of the front of the building.

Florence made its display of patriotism on Washington's birthday by the unfurling of flags and placing of bunting in red, white and blue on a number of stores and residences.

Misses Bogie and Mary Bartleson returned from Tempe Wednesday. Miss Mary has about recovered from her late illness. Miss Annie Kibbey, of Phoenix, accompanied them home.

The ladies of the Catholic Church set a most excellent supper last Thursday evening which the public enjoyed very much. This was proved by the patronage received, as the net proceeds of the affair were $63.50.

Our Casa Grande neighbors indulged in a very pleasant social on valentine eve, and with the selling of refreshments and valentines netted the neat sum of $18 which will be used to purchase a chandelier for the church at that place.

The tienda of Simon Angulo & Co. is a very lively place these days, with new goods arriving, customers buying and improvements going on. A partition has been pulled down and thus given a much larger room for their stock and this is being fitted and finished in good style by the firm.

The Florence Social Club met and organized at Mrs. A. F. Barker's last Friday evening. A very enjoyable time was spent at music and cards. The membership is not limited and new members will always be welcome. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. W. C. Truman, on Thursday evening, March 1st.

Little Marshall Brockway met with an experience Wednesday evening that might have had most serious results. A large dog sprang upon the little fellow and tore the clothing from his chest, inflicting a slight wound. Aside from the nervous shock of the fright the hurt is not very great, but Marshall is to be congratulated upon his escape.

The Degree of the Ladies of Honor is taking on new life and activity with Mrs. Anna Lannigan in the chair of the chief official. The attendance is increasing and new members are being added. Last night the lodge, initiating five more persons into the mysteries of their order, received Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Weedin, Mr. and Mrs. Gabriel Angulo and Master Ira Peyton.

M. J. Hartley has recently opened an establishment at 65 East Congress street, Tucson, where hats and clothes are cleaned by the new dry process to look like new. A specialty is made of men's fine hats and ladies' silk waists and dresses. The Tribune takes pleasure in recommending Mr. Hartley's work as something superior to anything heretofore done in the territory and equal to anything procurable abroad.

That we may keep up with the procession Arizona has had two railroad holdups in the last ten days, with exciting and interesting incidents. Fairbank was the scene of the first, Friday night the 16th, and there was shooting and screaming and fleeing of frightened horses and people. J. D. Milton the express agent, bravely held the fort, shooting one of the would be train-robbers and causing a retreat of the others. Unfortunately the brave messenger was himself wounded and it is feared he will lose an arm as the result. One of the robbers was found Saturday in an almost dying condition at Syenmore springs, nine miles from Tombstone, where he had been abandoned by his comrades. He was taken to Tombstone and is now in the hospital there, with but faint chance of life. Two more of the bandits have been captured since and are in the Tombstone jail. Another attempted holdup occurred at Red Rock the evening before the one at Fairbank. One of the fast freight trains of the S. P. was stopped by tramps, and the train men were used as targets by them, the crew being unarmcd. They say it was a most exciting experience for them for a little while, but the train pulled out at last, and no lives lost. Even living where there is a railroad may have its disadvantages.

Hazard's Pavilion, Los Angeles, where the industrial, citrus and Mining Exposition is being held, must present a strikingly beautiful scene; 1500 woodward ferns were gathered in the mountain back of Pomona and used for decorations. These ferns are from two and one-half to five feet in length and after having been pressed, remain green for a long time. These in addition to other decorations and over 600 incandescent lights makes a most attractive setting for the exhibits. There have been the past week Beekeeper's day, G. A. R. day, babyshow and musical programme, Nashville students and Forester's day. For the coming week Native Sons of the Golden West, Miner's day, when the owners and shippers of California, New Mexico and Arizona will meet, and other attractions. Miner's day is March 8th, and there is yet time for the sending of ores for exhibition. The donors of the ores will be at no expense, after delivery at the railroad station, and a permanent display of exhibit of minerals will be arranged. Label the specimens with name of mine, district, territory and owners. The exposition is attracting much attention and here is an opportunity for our mine owners to advertise their properties in a most desirable and profitable way.

Joe Mulhatton believes he has at last discovered the Lost Dutchman mine, some ten miles south of the Ripsey. While hunting mountain sheep recently he discovered one of these rare animals standing upon a huge boulder lying isolated on the plain. Putting his trusty rifle to his shoulder he drew a bead on the sheep and shot him down, the animal disappearing at the same time. Dismounting from his faithful horse, he found it impossible to scale the walls of the rock, which stood some twenty feet high on all sides. With his riata Joe managed to attach the loop over a projecting ledge, and hand over hand he mounted the boulder. What was his astonishment to discover the opening of a deep shaft some four feet square, and that his 60-foot riata would not begin to reach the bottom. Mr. Mulhatton came to town and reported his wonderful discovery and leaves to-day with ropes and windless to explore the mystery. The only thing that bothers Joe is how that sheep got on top of the rock, but he has promised to find out and report the result to the Tribune.

Our former fellow-townsmen, C. L. Whitney, died Friday morning, February 16th, at his home near Mesa. Word had come to Florence some days before of his condition and his daughter, Mrs. Wright of this place, and her family were at his bedside, with the wife and mother. Mr. Whitney had been a resident of Pinal county for many years, and left the record behind him of an honest, honorable man, having many to speak well of him.

Many of the residents of Pinal county will read with sorrow the notice of the death of Mrs. A. E. Marden, wife of Dr. Marden, who lived for some time at Saconet Agency and Casa Grande. They have been living at Fool's Gulch for the past ten years where Mrs. Marden died.

Rope Walking at Niagara.
The man who wanted to walk across Niagara Falls on a rope was wisely restrained by the authorities. Probably he is thankful that such was the case. Death comes soon enough. Take the inroads of disease for example. Common ailments like constipation, dyspepsia, biliousness, malaria and nervousness, do much to shorten life. There is a medicine that will cure these, if taken faithfully, and that is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Set the stomach right, and good health is sure to follow. This peerless remedy has a record of over fifty years of cures to back it up. When in need of a medicine of this kind, get the old reliable Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, with a Private Revenue Stamp over the neck of the bottle.

Candy Diet is a Good Thing for the Soldiers.

(From the Los Angeles Times.)

New York, Feb. 10.—A good many people found amusement in an announcement in the English papers that the Queen had presented a box of chocolate to each of the soldiers in South Africa. Others, however, who are aware of the feeding properties of sugar, saw in the present a very sensible provision for the sustenance of soldiers. The nutritive value of sugar has been so far recognized by the United States government that candy has been added to the rations of the American soldier. Not less than fifty tons of confectionery have been sent to the troops in the Philippines, Cuba and Puerto Rico. Chocolate creams, coconut drops, lemon drops and acidulated drops are the most in favor. These are sealed in one pound cans of an oval shape to fit the pockets of a soldier's uniform. The Germans, after many tests to discover the value of sugar in promoting the endurance of soldiers, are making regular issues of chocolate and other candies to the German army. Medical men say that jam is one of the best foods that a soldier can have and large quantities of it are now included in the food provisions for military campaigns.

The Colonial social, given by the Endeavor Society last evening at the parsonage, was a decided success, both in attendance and the pleasure afforded. There were a number of colonial costumes, and it was a surprise to many to find Florence had so many interesting relics of the past as were shown. There were samplers, portraits, jewelry, shawls and ancient gowns displayed that would have done credit to a much larger town. It was a pleasant evening for all who attended, and the society was pleased to know they had earned fifteen dollars.

Mr. Sheldon's paper of one week, the Topoka Capital, will undoubtedly be well read in Florence. The publishers made a proposition to all Christian Endeavor Societies to solicit subscribers, and the Society here thinking well of it, through the efforts of Miss Rosa Lewis, have a list of some thirty subscribers. It will be well worth reading and many who would not have taken the trouble to send for it, will receive and read it, thanks to the Endeavorers.

Among the guests at an "Attic" party given last week by Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Kimball, of Mesa, were noticed from Washington, D. C., the names of Messrs. Fred. Appleby and Geo. Hunter. Both pleasant young fellows were counted among Florence citizens for some time, while the government work was going on at the Batters.

T. F. Brodick, sheriff of Santa Cruz county, arrived in the city this morning bringing M. H. Jones who was committed to the asylum. This is the fourth inmate brought from the new county. Mr. Jones is a son-in-law of Geo. Christ. He has led an active life and recently patented a railroad ticket case. It is thought that the concentration of his mind on one subject of patent, may have thrown him off his balance. A short time ago Mr. Jones shot one of his best friends at Duquesne. When brought to Nogales for trial he was bound over. Then it was noticed his brain had softened and he had forgotten the names of his best friends. —[Phoenix Enterprise.]

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.
