AMERICA'S ARMADA CALLS ON NEW YORK

The mightiest armada America ever has seen—the combined Atlantic and Pacific fleets of the U. S. navy—paid New York the most spectacular visit with which that city ever was honored. One hundred and twenty-two warships, great and small, steamed up New York bay and the Hudson river after weeks spent at sea in maneuvers. This photo of the event was taken on the Hudson from the stern of the Seattle, flagship of Admiral C. F. Hughes, the commander-in-chief. Immediately in the rear is the battleship Arizona. The armada brought to New York more than 30,000 officers and enlisted men of the navy and marine corps.

BIOLOGISTS MAKING STUDY OF BIRDS AND BEASTS IN STATE

A survey to secure data to fill out a biological survey of the entire state of Arizona is being made by George G. Cantwell, of the United States biological service, and his assistant, Paul Trapier, both of Palms, Calif., according to information received here.

The survey will take three months. The biologists completed their work in the Chiricahua mountains here last week and have gone into the northern part of the state.

In the Chiricahua mountains they encountered snow which hampered their work in the higher elevations, causing them to largely confine their investigations to the lower altitudes, where the birds and mammals were studied.

This region is particularly interesting as it contains a number of Mexican birds and mammals which have crossed the international line and which are found in few if any other parts of the United States.

Another interesting thing about the birds and mammals of the Santa Catalina, Huachuca and Chiricahua mountains is the development in these isolated ranges of new types of animals. By isolation from other animals over centuries, the traits and features are developed by certain of the smaller animals.

The Chiricahua squirrels were cited as an example of this different type of animal. They are closely related to the eastern fox squirrel, but have traits and features found only there.

A considerable amount of game was reported from the Chiricahuas. There are three kinds of quail there, blue, gambels and fool, and an abundance of deer.

JUDGE PLACES BAN ON DRIVER OF DEATH CAR

Charles James, 902 Nineteenth street, was fined $10 by Police Judge W. C. Jack yesterday afternoon and barred from driving an automobile during the next six months as an aftermath to the accident on Seventeenth street Monday afternoon which claimed the life of Benito Barajas, 21.

"I know that you would not have had this happen for anything but the public must be protected," Judge Jack told the youthful defendant in making his decision. "You must not drive a car for the next six months."

"If the police find you driving a car within that period of time and they will get you if you drive, you will be given a jail sentence."

Barajas died at the county hospital early Wednesday morning of internal injuries and a fractured skull. A car in which he and James were riding overturned after striking a machine driven by James Bickerstaff.

Juan Marshall, Mexican consul in Douglas, and the Porter and Ames mortuary are attempting to get in touch with relatives of the dead man. Funeral arrangements are pending.

U. PROFESSOR PREPARES WORK ON DATE PALMS

COCHISE COUNTY PHOTO CONTEST NOW UNDER WAY

The first annual Cochise county "See Arizona Scenic Photo Contest" has been arranged by the Douglas Chamber of Commerce and Mines to create further interest in the "See Arizona" movement, and also in the hopes of making available many more beautiful photos from which cuts can be made for publicity purposes in illustrating various magazine articles to be written about Arizona and to be used in advertising matter to be issued by the Borderland Climate club and Chamber of Commerce and Mines. There is at present a phenomenal demand on the various chambers of commerce, not only the local chamber, but all over the state, for photos for publicity purposes.

The chamber of commerce cannot hand out extravagant prizes in this contest, but must appeal to civic pride to help advertise Cochise county to the world.

The Arizona Industrial congress of Phoenix will again conduct a state photo contest this year which will be handled as heretofore, through the various chambers of commerce, and it is the plan to send to Phoenix for entry in the state contest all photos and films entered in the Cochise county contest, which is in no way connected with the state contest.

The contest is now open to all residents living in Cochise county, and will close September 1 in order to have ample time to forward the photos and films for entry in the state contest. The following rules should be observed:

First.—Any photo of a scenic nature or any photo of growing crops, dairy cows, hogs or poultry taken in Cochise county may be entered. Contestants may enter as many photographs as they wish. Photographs of any size may be entered, but if an enlargement is entered it must be accompanied by the original print.

Second.—The original film or negative must accompany every photograph entered. The right is reserved to have additional prints made of hand out, but must appeal to civic

DOUBLE OUTPUT C. AND A. MINE IN NEW MEXICO

Through the addition of new machinery and equipment, the power plant of the Calumet and Arizona Mining company's 85 property at Valedon, N. M., will double its capacity, according to announcement of company officials.

The expansion of the power plant machinery and equipment was made necessary by an extension of workings at the 85 mine, in which a greater amount of ore is being produced, and the encountering of a larger amount of water necessitating additional power, it was explained.

In connection with the expansion of the power plant machinery, orders have just been received for the purchase of a new Babcock-Willcox sterling boiler, a Cochran feed-water heater, an Allis-Chalmers condenser and a 750-kilowatt turbine generator. The installation of the new equipment will give the power plant of the 85 mine a total capacity of 1,500 kilowatts, sufficient to carry on the extensive development work that is being inaugurated there. It is expected that the new machinery will be installed by September 15.

H. E. Cristy, draftsman of the mechanical department of the Calumet and Arizona Mining company, is spending the week at Valedon in connection with plans for the installation of the new machinery.

A. J. Balmforth, former chief engineer for the C. and A., as superintendent of the 85 mine, is in charge of operations there.

MISSING OIL WITNESS DISCOVERED IN MONACO

WASHINGTON, May 12 (AP)—A persistent report was circulated here today that H. M. Blackmer, oil man, long sought as a witness in the conspiracy case against Albert B. Fall and Harry F. Sinclair, had been located in the principality of Monaco, of which Monte Carlo is the capital.

Owen J. Roberts, who with Atlee Pomerene, are prosecutors in the case, said he knew nothing about the report. State department officials declined to discuss it.
