Fears of Labor Trouble Causes Coppers to Sell Off at Close—Speculative Interest in the Market Is at a Low Ebb and Volume of Business Small.

GLOBE, April 9.—The stock market opened very strong this morning, but a number of stocks sold off several points on the close. This reaction can be credited to two things. First, to profit taking on stock investments made during the recent market slump; second, to labor troubles reported to exist at Bisbee, Ariz., and Butte, Mont.
The report, however, of existing labor troubles with unions ought not to have very much influence over the stock market with as easy a money market as now exists, same being quoted at 2 per cent today. This alone is a good reason for a bullish market and I look for it to strengthen up all along the line.
The copper situation looks also good. From the Boston News Bureau of the 4th: "According to a leading copper producer, 'books will soon open for orders for delivery in July on basis of 25 1/2 cents for electrolytic, but has not closed contracts as yet.'"
At the Superior & Boston mine the showing is reported better than ever. The vein struck about a week ago still holds out. There are twenty-five feet and hanging wall is not yet in sight.
Ore is of the same good quality.

Champion Egg Eater
The champion egg eater of Fayette county is W. K. Knuckles, a miner, who ate forty-two raw eggs at one sitting. In the store of W. E. Gans, at Gans station, Knuckles was commenting on his capacity for eggs, and the merchant offered to provide the eggs. Knuckles had lined his interior with forty-two of them when Gans pulled the basket away, declaring that Gans would kill himself.
Knuckles indignantly asserted that he could eat two dozen more without hesitating. He has offered to bet that he can eat a hundred eggs without stopping—Uniontown dispatch to the Pittsburgh Gazette-Times.
