PAID DAY AT MIAMI BRINGS JOY TO MERCHANTS

$125,000 Turned Loose and Good Share Goes to New Banks

It is hardly realized that three weeks since those business buildings were the scene of a great army of workmen busy with the street, uncut messengers in the town of Miami were busy with the work of clearing up the debris of the old bank.

Mr. Van Dyke directed his listener to the W. W. Van Dyke's thoroughfares, where the new banks exactly 376 men stood on the sidewalk, the majority of whom were carrying store purchases.

Thursday was pay day in the Miami district.

Not less than $125,000 was distributed between twelve to fifteen hundred men.

The amount of money paid out and placed on deposit in the two banks of Miami is not known exactly, but the following statements of the bank officials and merchants will give an idea of Miami's pay roll.

E. M. Hurl, of the Gila Valley Bank of Miami—"When we established our branch in Miami it was with the knowledge that the business would not be self-supporting inside of from eight to twelve months. You can state that if the bank does the same business next payday that it will be on a paying basis, Miami surprised me."

W. J. Ellery, of the Bank of Miami—"For a financial institution that only opened Wednesday our Thursday business took us off our feet for a time. We cashed checks to the amount of several thousand dollars, the larger part of which was placed on deposit by individuals."

Mr. Hopkins, of the American Clothing Co.—"This pay day taught me a lesson. I was caught with one-fifth enough help to serve the customers."

Sam Smargonsky, of the Golden Rule—"Pay day found me unprepared with clerks, besides I could have used several thousand dollars to cash checks."

Sam Abraham—"Miami's first pay day turned loose as much money as I have seen in many other large towns in Arizona."

John Roddan, of the Miami Drug Co.—"When I placed an $8,000 stock of drugs in Miami two months ago I thought I was taking a long chance. That thought has now disappeared."

FIRST BABY AT DESPOT HOME
Martin Despot, of the White House saloon, is one of the happiest and proudest men in Miami. A boy made his first appearance at the Despot home in Miami, February 8, at 7 p. m., and Dr. A. K. Shaw of Globe, remarked that the Despot heir was the finest youngster she had ever seen. Paul, which is the newcomer's name, will have the proud distinction of being the first child born in the town of Miami. Mrs. Despot and baby are enjoying the best of health. Sam says congratulations are still in order and an invitation is extended all to visit the White House saloon and drink to the health of Miami's first baby.

NASH IS DISCHARGED
Insufficient Evidence to Convict Miami Deputy of Deadly Assault
H. P. Nash, arrested at Miami a few days ago on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon, as the result of trouble, which arose while he was guarding a citizen at Miami, was discharged by Judge H. H. Pratt yesterday, for insufficiency of evidence to substantiate the charge.

The case was brought before Judge Pratt as the result of a change of venue from Judge Barnett's court at Miami. After hearing the evidence, the district attorney moved that the case be dismissed and this action was taken by the court.

Mr. Nash is well known here, having acted as night jailer under Sheriff Henry Thompson for some time.

This is the honest statement of a sufferer who was cured.
J. M. Bandurrag, 347 Ninth Street, Tucson, Ariz., says: "I was troubled for many years by pains in my back, so severe at times that I could hardly straighten. I paid but little attention to the complaint when I was young, but as I grew older the pain increased and the attacks became more frequent. Often I had to lie down to get relief and even then my back bothered me so much that I could not remain still. The least cold I caught settled in my back and had a tendency to make my trouble worse. I was often dizzy and felt miserable in every way. Reading of home people who had taken Doan's Kidney Pills with splendid results, I was induced to try them. I used two boxes and was entirely relieved of kidney complaint. My trial of Doan's Kidney Pills has given me great confidence in them."

CENTRAL ENERGY SYSTEM NEAR FINISH

New Phone Service Will Be Cut Into Commission at Noon Monday

NO MORE RINGING OF MAGNETO BELLS

When Completed System Will Be One of the Finest in Territory

At high noon Monday, the new exchange of the Consolidated Telephone company will be formally put in operation.

The finishing touches are now being put on the new exchange and tomorrow will see everything in shape for the operation of the new installation. A few minutes work will disconnect every telephone in the city from the present exchange and connect it with the new outfit, without any appreciable time in phone service. Unless some unforeseen trouble is discovered, the average subscriber will hardly know the change is taking place.

In installing the new exchange, connections have been made in such a way that by a simple exchange of fuse plugs, which will require but a few minutes time, the phones will be cut over to the old switchboard. Arrangements have also been made for operating both exchanges, should any trouble arise when the change is made, which would put any of the existing instruments out of commission.

When the new exchange is put in operation, the present system of magneto ringing, to secure central, will be abolished. For the present, the phones now in use will be maintained, but they will be replaced by new instruments as fast as replacements can be made.

The present phones can be operated on the new exchange, however, and all that will be necessary to call central after the new system is in operation will be to remove the receiver from the hook. This operation, without any ringing of bells, will automatically call central. When a conversation is completed, the operation of placing the receiver back on the hook notifies central of the fact that the line is clear and the parties are disconnected at once, leaving the line ready for another call at once.

Manager Edwards estimates that a call can be received and the number called at the other end of the line in three seconds. Practically all of this great saving in time will come as the result of new and improved switchboard apparatus, the installation now being completed being of the most up-to-date type manufactured.

It is possible that the new exchange may not operate with the desired smoothness for a few days, but within a week, Manager Edwards promises to give Globe telephone service which will be unrivaled anywhere in the territory.
