TOM WALSH DIES THE KING OF MINERS

Passes Away Peacefully in Magnificent Palace in Washington

HAD BEEN ILL FOR SEVERAL MONTHS

Started with Pick in Colorado and Made Fortune of Many Millions

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 8.—Thomas F. Walsh, mining millionaire, died at 11:30 tonight. Death as due to a growth in the lungs as the result of an injury received several years ago when Walsh was a miner in the west.

Although the "Silver Mining King," as Walsh was known, had been sick three months, the end came suddenly and peacefully. He died at his Massachusetts avenue home whither he returned several weeks ago after a tour of a month in search of health. He was surrounded when the end came by the immediate members of his family, his wife, daughter-in-law, Edward McLean and three physicians.

Walsh will be buried in Rock Creek cemetery, this city, at the side of his only son, who lost his life in an automobile accident in New England several years ago.

At his own request the funeral ceremonies will be simple. They will be conducted by the Masonic order Sunday afternoon.

Walsh was born in Ireland in 1851. He was educated in the public schools and early in life apprenticed to a wheelwright. When nineteen years old he came to the United States, going at first to Colorado, where he made a fortune in the development of mines.

In 1879 he married Carrie Reed. He was named a commissioner to the Paris exposition in 1900, and has been otherwise signally honored by the government. Walsh was always a genial host, fond of good company, member of a number of clubs and belonged to several scientific societies. In the immediate past he had developed a keen interest in aviation and was a leading figure in the effort to have the International Aviation meet held in Washington.

When the Colorado silver miner built his magnificent home a few years ago, it was the largest and most palatial residence in the capital. Since then it has been surpassed by the Larz Anderson and Perry Belmont houses.

Two of the largest and finest office buildings in the city have been built by Walsh in the last few years. One is named the Colorado and the other the Ouray, in honor of the county in which he made his fortune.

HOUSE VOTES TWO BATTLESHIPS

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 8.—Two battleships were authorized by the naval bill passed by the house today. This action was taken by the decisive vote of 162 to 110, thirty-three democrats voting with the republicans for the two battleships, while twenty-four republicans voted with the democrats for one battleship.

The house adopted an amendment by which two battleships and two fleet coilers authorized by the bill must be built by firms operating under the eight hour law.

The house will be in session tomorrow. Before the vote propositions to amend the bill ranged from no battleships to four battleships. Holborn proposed building three. Gronna of North Dakota proposed to strike out the authorization for any battleships. Twyman amended for one battleship and was likewise voted down.

One collier costing $1,000,000 will be built on the Pacific coast.

MEYER DISCOVERS FLAW IN THEORIES

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 8.—After working for years to develop a system of one-man control for the navy, Secretary Meyer has come to the conclusion that the great fleets are beyond the powers of any individual, and therefore has decided to delegate the authority to fleet commanders, leaving the commander-in-chief to direct only the movements of divisions.

SLAYER OF WIFE IS INDICTED FOR CRIME

Date of Trial for Antonio Enriquez Not Yet Set at Solomonville

DURAN GETS THREE YEARS AT FLORENCE

Other Matters Taken Up in Busy Grind of Court in Valley

SOLONMONVILLE, April 8.—Antonio Enriquez, who killed his wife and father-in-law, Francisco Zapeda, at San Jose Wednesday morning, was indicted by the grand jury today, on a charge of murder. As the brutal crime committed by Enriquez became known to the grand jury almost as soon as the man was placed in custody, an indictment against him was returned without delay. His case has not yet been set for trial.

In court today Thomas Duran, who pleaded guilty to a charge of burglary, was sentenced to three years in the penitentiary. Sentence dates from January 25, when he was arrested.

Leon Valdez, charged with assault with a deadly weapon, changed his plea of not guilty to that of guilty. He will be sentenced tomorrow morning. Porfirio Estrada, who pleaded guilty to a charge of assault with intent to kill, will receive sentence at the same time.

Luz Ochoa, charged with assault with intent to kill, Antonio Mardelli, charged with murder, and Thomas Olivares, charged with assault with intent to kill, pleaded not guilty and their cases were set for trial on Monday. H. J. Clark and Rex Sarten, charged with murder, also pleaded not guilty. Their case was set for trial on next Wednesday. The case of King Reese, who previously pleaded not guilty to a felony count was set for trial on Monday.

Simon Serna, who pleaded guilty to a charge of rape, was sentenced to five years in the penitentiary. As both he and the girl with whom he had been living were willing to marry, when the girl reached the legal age, sentence was suspended. Both parties are Mexicans. Elias S. Kimball and Richard A. Shipp, defendants in the famous "banana" case, pleaded not guilty to charges of securing money by means of a confidence game, after demurrers to the indictments had been overruled.

The civil suit of W. T. Rayburn and others vs. the Mount Graham Lumber company, by action on a contract, was completed today, the jury awarding judgment to the plaintiff in the sum of $500.

MANY RECORDS ARE BEATEN IN LOS ANGELES

Day of Great Sport at New Motordrome Unmarked by Accident

LOS ANGELES, Cal., April 8.—The establishment of many new records marked the opening of the motordrome this afternoon at Playa Del Rey. Every world's record for a one-man track from one to one hundred miles was beaten. Five national speedway marks were lowered in the trials and free-for-all contest. The establishment of new mile track records are expected, as this is the first board track ever raced on by automobiles.

The racing was entirely free from accidents. At the end of the 100-mile race the Dorris, driven by Frank Seifert, turned turtle in the paddock. Seifert's arm was numb from the strain of the race, but he was uninjured.

The first record mile was made by Caleb Bragg, an amateur, who sent his Fiat "Nine" in 37:56.

George Robertson in a Simplex did ten miles in 6:31:37.

Strang's mark at Atlanta for the same distance was 7:01:04.

Another world mile track record and speedway mark went glimmering when Oldfield turned loose his Benz 200 over the piquan in 36:22. He never expended his full power and fully expected to do better.

The most sensational drive of the day was made by Oldfield in a Knox, when, after a hot start, he caught his flying leaders in the fourth mile and did ten miles in 7:51.

MORE PITTSBURG BRIBE TAKERS INDICTED

Tax Collector Charged With Getting $25,000 to Cut Up With Council

PERJURY CHARGED AGAINST WITNESS

Millionaire Bankers Scored for Part Played in Corrupting Councils

PITTSBURG, Pa., April 8.—A true bill charging Max Leslie, collector of delinquent taxes with bribery, was returned by the grand jury today. At the same time a sweeping presentation was handed down. General charges are made that many of the 250 witnesses which the grand jury had before it in the graft investigation have wilfully withheld knowledge of secret graft, and a few have been guilty of perjury.

Directors and officials of the six big banks that profited by the corrupt depository ordinance are severely scored. The indictment of Leslie follows his recent acquittal of the charge of perjury in claiming an alibi in connection with a previous indictment for alleged bribery. He is now charged with receiving $25,000 from the Columbia National Bank of Pittsburgh on June 9, 1908. In the former indictment the date named was June 6 and Leslie proved he was out of the city at that time.

It is charged that of the $25,000 he paid over $17,500 to William Grand to bribe councilmen.

The indictment season reached such a complex stage today that even the grand jurors themselves thought it necessary to present a comprehensive review of all work.

They declared most emphatically that former Councilman Stewart and Cashier James Young of the Second National bank had concealed information from the grand jury.

“We have been unable to ascertain who paid Stewart the bribe money, (naming the $25,000 charged as furnished by the Friend-Hofstetor pool of banks) in New York,” the jurors reported.

“Although Stewart met the man on at least two or three occasions and although he knew his name and had several drinks with him, nevertheless he swears he does not remember his name.”

The grand jury also recommends a new investigation of the directors of the Second National and in specific terms charges Cashier Young with shielding Hofstetor and that for this reason they believe someone else connected with the Second National bank is responsible for this. The report made by the directors of the Farmers' National bank in denial of any knowledge of any payments of any money to bribe councilmen is criticized.

The validity of contracts under which the six favored banks now hold the city's money is attacked.

This is important in that it shows how the banks were induced to put up so large an amount of money for the bond fund and is a recommendation that 6 per cent be collected on city deposits from these banks from and after this date. The city depository banks are now paying 2 per cent on city deposits and it is alleged that the agreement was that the councilmen were to get the difference for reducing the percentage.

The presentment says: “We desire to emphatically denounce as public malefactors not only the men who solicited the bribes and who held up the banks and influential men of Pittsburgh, but also to denounce for their part in the city's shame the bank president or millionaire who attempts to cause the downfall of a poor councilman who is called upon to perform for the benefit of the public.”

In conclusion the presentment discloses that the bank ordinance and the ordinance vacating South Seventh street were not the only pieces of corrupt councilman legislation. The jurors openly state that $11,500 in bribes was paid for the vacating of Home street, but no indictments will be returned because the statute of limitations applies.

In the section of the presentment that deals with this it is declared that Sam Heppenstall and C. W. Heppenstall, two prominent business men of this city, each paid bribes to Charles Stewart, the former a payment of $10,000 and the latter $1,500.

WEATHER BULLETIN WASHINGTON, D. C., April 8.—Forecast for Arizona: Partly cloudy Saturday and warmer in the north; Sunday warmer.

Men Who May Be Rival Candidates for Ohio's Governorship

COLUMBUS, Ohio, April 8.—The state democratic committee of Ohio, having held a special meeting and agreeing that the next convention will be held in Dayton, June 21, has sent forth the word that Governor Harmon is to be nominated by acclamation. The democratic leaders declare the governor will not have a rival in the field. With the republicans things are a bit different. James A. Garfield is being groomed by his friends to run against Harmon, but a number of other prominent Ohioans think they could give Harmon a better race. The republicans expect to announce their convention date by April 10.

JEFFRIES TRAINING WOMAN DETECTS COAL GRAFTERS

Big Boxer Playing Close to Nature While Preparing for Great Fight

BON LOMOND, Cal., April 8.—Climbing mountain trails and wading pools where game and trout abound formed a greater part of Jeffries' training today. Berger had announced that there would be boxing today with Bob Armstrong, a giant negro puglist, but the lure of the woods was too strong for Jeffries and besides the roof is not yet of the gymnasium. Jeffries is going in strong for the close-to-nature cult. He plans to sleep out doors, eat out doors and do all his boxing in an open-air gym. There will be a wall around it, so the humble visitor in camp will not be able to see the great fighter in action without paying, but the blue sky will smile overhead and the pines and ocean will do their best towards putting life into the air the champion breathes.

After the usual morning road work, which was called a ten-mile jaunt, Jeffries and a local hooking expert started along the San Lorenzo to seek speckled beauties. They were successful, bringing in a string of seventy.

In the afternoon the skipping rope was brought into play. Jeffries worked at this ten minutes. He complained of stiffness in his arms and shoulders, but after the handball was brought out he became supple again.

PRIZE FIGHT OF SCHOOL BOYS FINISHES AT MORGUE

One of Principals Dead and Youthful Antagonist Has Fled to Canada—Bad Blood Had Existed and Pact Made to End With Gloves

PASSAIC, N. J., April 8.—Gilbert Trehou died tonight from a solar plexus blow received in a schoolboys' prize fight Tuesday night, and with brief intermissions had been unconscious since lifted out of the ring and carried to a hospital. Frank Keiser, named in the warrant as the other principal, is said to have fled to Canada.

Henry Kannekstedt, superintendent of the Presbyterian Sunday school, who is said to have acted as a referee, was arrested yesterday and released on $500 bail.

Trehou and Keiser, both aged 19, were pupils in the Passaic high school and both of good families. The police learn there had been bad blood between them, and they agreed to settle their differences with the gloves. Both went into training last Monday, and declared themselves fit.

The word was passed among their friends Tuesday night and a small crowd met in a vacant lot behind an oil tank and squared off a ring. Lanterns were hung on ropes, seconds chosen, a referee named and also a timekeeper.

The hat was passed for a purse for the winner and the collection given to a stakeholder. It was a prize fight with all the formalities of the code. The boys stripped and went at it, hammer and tongs. According to witnesses, in the seventh and fatal round, Keiser caught Trehou flush on the jaw with a heavy swing. Trehou staggered and before he got to his feet again, Keiser shot a body punch just below the end of the stomach. Trehou went down and lay groaning. The referee counted ten, but the boy still lay flat.

HONEYMOON TRIP OF ROOSEVELT ABANDONED

Continued Ovarations too Intense, He Has to Cut Short

WILL MEET PINCHOT MONDAY AT CAREW

Ex-President Continues Silent Regarding Everything Political

GENOA, Italy, April 8.—Noisy demonstrations and over-cordial welcomes everywhere they went resulted in the abrupt ending of the second honeymoon of Colonel and Mrs. Roosevelt twenty-four hours before scheduled.

They have abandoned the plan to retrace by easy stages their honeymoon drive from Spezia to Genoa to avoid the constantly growing demonstrations. At every village along the route they met crowds of men, women and children waving flags. Sentiment retreated and finally capitulated today when six hundred men and women surrounded them at Rapolla, causing much embarrassment, and Roosevelt forthwith determined to abruptly end the journey. The people of Genoa greeted their arrival here with the acclaim born of their romantic nature stirred by the colonel's sentimental journey. He said he had enjoyed the trip hugely, despite the embarrassments. “We had a busy time,” said Roosevelt.

The inhabitants of Porto Maurizio had planned elaborate festivities in honor of the ex-president, but the chief interest of the three days' stay at Carew Villa was to be the visit there Monday of Pinchot.

It is already certain, however, that the visit of Pinchot will not be followed by any of the sensational developments evidently expected in some quarters. Roosevelt has announced in advance that he will have nothing to say after the interview.

He continues to maintain silence on political affairs. He kept an open mind while being informed of the events that have transpired during his absence and with regard to the present situation at home. Without bias he has always been ready to listen to friend and foe.

Accordingly, Roosevelt willingly acceded to Pinchot's request for an interview. Pinchot is expected to explain in detail his side of the series of events that led to his dismissal from the post of chief forester. In the same interview, Roosevelt expects to see other friends, both in Europe and America.

Roosevelt continues to express regret at the inability of Root to come to Europe to meet him, as from the senator he would have been able to obtain a sympathetic exposition of the administration's side of affairs.

It is said that by letter and otherwise, since he returned to civilization, Roosevelt has had from ardent supporters and admirers a good deal of sharp criticism of the Taft administration and is believed also to have received appeals urging the necessity of his re-entry into the political arena. But if this is so, Mr. Roosevelt has not given the slightest intimation of what impression they have made. He will have nothing to say concerning politics until he gets back to America.

Roosevelt relates an amusing incident of the trip when he and Mrs. Roosevelt reached the top of Pass Sestri Levante, where they stopped for the night, when an enterprising proprietor of a tavern, the rival of the one in which he had engaged rooms, sent out couriers in advance bearing American and Italian flags, and triumphantly escorted Colonel and Mrs. Roosevelt to his own hotel.

SHOOTING RESERVE FOR MILITIA BOYS

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 8.—A military reservation will probably be created in Arizona for the benefit of the national guard of the state, to be used as a target range.

The interior department has withdrawn 640 acres recently five miles west of Phoenix and Ballinger will recommend that the area be reserved for military purposes.

GIBES OF MATES DRIVES SCHOOL BOY TO SUICIDE

PITTSBURG, Pa., April 8.—Rupert Ernest, aged 14, a pupil in the public school at Turtle Creek, a suburb of this city, committed suicide this evening by hanging in a coal shed near his home. The father said the boy often came home crying because of the gibes of other boys because he was backward in his studies.

ATTORNEY CALLS CHRISTENSEN FALSIFIER

Little Events Like Passing Lie Give Interest to Ballinger Hearing

WITNESS TELLS OF ALASKA COAL FIELD

Says Much of the Product Is Worth Only Half a Cent per Ton

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 8.—The Ballinger-Pinchot investigation dragged along wearily today with more testimony about the alleged discovery of the twenty-four missing letters among Glavis' effects that had been left in the federal building at Seattle.

The “defense” evidently is laying great store by this discovery and the hearing for the last three or four sessions has been given over almost entirely to this subject. A mass of documentary evidence was put in while Andrew Christensen, Glavis' successor as chief of the field division at Seattle, was on the stand.

Attorney Brandeis of the “prosecution” was admonished concerning his method of cross examination by Senator Sutherland.

Alfred H. Brooks, mineral expert of the geological survey, took the stand late in the day to testify regarding the value and extent of the coal resources of Alaska. It is evident from his statement of the case that the value of the coal fields is generally overestimated. Brooks said the coal in the Katalla field, where the Cunningham claims are located, is probably not worth more than half a cent per ton.

Christiansen, who succeeded Glavis, told of the search among Glavis' effects in the federal building in Seattle, and his account coincided with that of Assistant Custodian O'Neill.

The witness was then turned over to Brandeis for cross examination. “When you telegraphed Schwartz February 8 about finding the letters, you made certain false statements, didn't you?” asked Brandeis.

“I didn't,” flared back the witness. “The only thing I said in the telegram that was a mistake was that the box in which the papers were found was broken open. As a matter of fact, the top of the box was loose. The telegram was prepared in a hurry. It broke open several other boxes. It is easy to make a mistake like that.”

“It's easy to lie,” shouted Brandeis. Senator Sutherland protested against this, saying it was not only offensive to the witness, but to the committee as well.

Vetrees said he desired to protest generally against Brandeis' methods with witnesses. Christensen was thereupon expurgated and Alfred Brooks, mineral expert of the geological survey, called to the stand to testify as to coal conditions in Alaska.

Brooks said there is known to be 12,000 square miles of coal-bearing rocks, but only about one-tenth of the coal area is known to be underlain with coal seams.

Brooks declared that if the Alaska fields were opened it would mean a saving to the navy of at least half a million a year.

“Alaska is retreating,” said Brooks. “The people are becoming discouraged and leaving. This is largely due to the coal situation. Without coal there can be no railroads and without railroads there can be no business to speak of.”

Up to this time, the witness declared, that of the visible coal supply of the United States there had been consumed only an amount equal to four-tenths of one per cent leaving 99.6 per cent yet to be mined.

ASK OLD EMPLOYEES TO RETURN TO WORK

Armed Men Sent to Protect Colorado Mines

DENVER, Colo., April 8.—Steps to reopen the coal mines of the northern Colorado fields were taken today when armed men were sent to protect the properties at Louisville and La Platte, and at the same time the operators spread five thousand circulars appealing to their former employes to return. The operators state that the mines will be conducted on the “open shop” plan.

THOUSAND BALES OF HAY GO UP IN SMOKE SAN DIEGO, Cal., April 8.—Fire, supposed to be of incendiary origin, destroyed the Irwin Hay storehouse tonight. The loss is $200,000 on a thousand bales of hay, with no insurance. Fourteen horses in an adjoining stable, were rescued.
