PROCLAMATION GIVES BARNES AUTHORITY

NEW YORK, June 25.—Julius Barnes, United States wheat director, made public tonight a proclamation by President Wilson, granting him full authority to regulate by license, the exportation and importation of wheat and wheat flour for the purpose of stabilizing prices.

Mr. Barnes said that the regulations he would put into effect were similar to those which have been enforced by the war trade board which heretofore has exercised the functions delegated to him.

Stocks of wheat in country elevators, mills and terminal elevators on June 12, totalled 40,527,000 bushels, as compared with 18,529,000 on the same date a year ago, according to a bulletin issued tonight by the food administration grain corporation. This was a decrease from the previous week of 548,000 bushels.

Flour produced the week ending June 13 amounted to 1,735,000 barrels, against 1,323,696 barrels the previous week and 1,411,000 barrels a year ago, making a total production of flour from July, 1918, to June 13, 1919, of 117,935,996 barrels.

SEIZE FORTUNE IN DRUGS

DENVER, Colo., June 25.—Drugs worth $19,969 have been seized during the last four days in Denver and Rock Springs, Wyoming, in raids by United States Internal Revenue inspectors, according to an announcement here today. Peter Burrill was arrested at Rock Springs. Officers say smoking opium worth $5,000 was taken. J. R. Hunter, who said he was secretary of the International Drug company of El Paso, was arrested by federal officers in a hotel here. It is said drugs worth $6,969 were found in his baggage. Hunter said the drugs in his possession, which included nearly every kind on the market, were in transit to Kansas City, where he expected to dispose of them to wholesale dealers. The drugs were not stamped and therefore liable to seizure. Hunter is held for possession, they illegally. The authorities are investigating Hunter's story.

"HOIGISM" REAL CAUSE

ST. LOUIS, June 25.—"Hoigism" and not capitalism has made more bolsheviks than any other single cause, according to Prof. William J. McAuliffe of the Catholic college, New York, who, today, addressed the Catholic Educational association, in annual session here.

"The growth and power of bolshevism and I. W. W. ism, revolutionary organizations of the most radical anti-religious and anti-national type, was made possible not so much by capitalism but rather by 'hoigism'—that is, industrial leaders who have hard spots in their hearts and soft spots in their heads."

The Right Rev. Thomas J. Shean of Washington, D. C., was re-elected president and Cardinal Gibbons was chosen honorary president. The Rev. Peter York of San Francisco was named as one of the vice presidents. The convention ends tomorrow.

KANSAS CITY, June 25.—That government experts are working out a standard design of mask to be used as a part of fire fighting apparatus, was disclosed by speakers today at the convention of the International Association of Fire Engineers, in session here. This evening the 1,000 or more delegates and visitors heard an address by Jay W. Stevens of San Francisco, manager of the fire prevention bureau of the Pacific coast. Mr. Stevens asserted wastage and loss to the country through fires was increasing and described the system used on the Pacific coast for minimizing fire danger.

MELBOURNE, June 25.—Outlining the political and industrial situation of the commonwealth, acting Prime Minister Watt, in a public address, declared the government "will stand for the settlement of labor disputes by law and order under all circumstances, rather than by the use of brute force."
"The people have expressed their will by the laws of the country," he added, "and they will not allow any force, however arrogant or powerful, to usurp the functions of the government or to challenge the forces of the government."

CHICAGO, June 25.—Automatic telephones are to be installed by the telephone companies of the large cities soon, E. E. Stanny, president of the Chicago Telephone company, said today. ### ASQUITH PAYS TRIBUTE TO SIR HERBERT TREE

(Manchester Guardian)
The unveiling of a tablet at His Majesty's theater to the memory of Sir Herbert Tree was the occasion of a series of tributes to the actor, in which Mr. Asquith, Lord Reading, Sir Squire Bancroft, and C. F. Gill joined.

Mr. Asquith unveiled a mural tablet placed at the corner of the theater at the junction of the Haymarket and Charles street.

At a meeting in the theater later Mr. Asquith observed that we felt we shared with the actor a kind of intimacy which we did not experience with the painter, the sculptor, or even the poet. He remembered that when Mr. Gladstone was at the height of his fame and was even called the 'Idol of the Nation', a shrewd observer said that if there were a pebiscite as to who was the most popular man in England, Mr. Gladstone would be easily beaten by W. G. Grace. He (Mr. Asquith) could not help thinking that another most formidable competitor would have been Henry Irving. There had been few, if any, actors of our time for whom that sentiment not only of admiration but of affectionate interest had been more widely felt than for Sir Herbert Tree. He was an artist through and through, who took his art seriously. He was perhaps the least mercenary of men, and there was nothing that he grudged in the profession to which he had given his life.

Lord Reading said that when he followed Sir Herbert Tree to America recently, he heard of him not only as an actor and artist, but as a patriot taking his stand before crowded audiences, and telling Americans of the aims and efforts of this country and its allies.

The proceedings closed with prayers by the Bishop of London.
