WASHINGTON.

Things Running Together at the Capital.

The Silver Minority Well Intrenched.

Dilatory Measures Being Employed in the House.

It is Settled Almost Beyond a Doubt That an Early Extra Session Will Be Necessary.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22.—[Associated Press.]—Matters are getting into pretty bad shape for the closing days of the session. In addition to the fight to be made to defeat the sundry civil bill, there is going to be a hard fight made against the Indian appropriation bill. The silver men in the house claim they will have strength enough to prevent the passage of the sundry civil bill under any parliamentary technicalities which may be adopted to get it through. They say their plans are all laid and all matters against the bill will be almost as strong as silver in the house. They will fight it by every means known to parliamentary procedure. In fact they regard it as certain that they will defeat the bill. This would of course make an extra session absolutely certain.

In the senate this afternoon Hawley waived a motion to increase the appropriation for the soldier's home at Santa Monica from $70,000 to $80,000. Gorman appealed to Hawley to not press the amendment; sure as the sun would rise, he said, on July 1 there would be a deficiency of over $10,000,000 to $15,000,000. The time to call a halt was short of absolute bankruptcy. Gorman said it looked like the Republicans were trying to pile up obligations so the Democrats must heavily increase taxation. The amendment passed with other amendments increasing the appropriations for other homes.

Wolcott moved to reduce the appropriation for expenses of timber on public lands from $80,000 to $40,000, and it was agreed to.

Squire moved to increase the appropriation for surveys of public lands from $300,000 to $400,000; agreed to.

Power offered an amendment fixing the limit for the military post at Helena, Mont., at $600,000; it was excluded on a point of order.

Stewart offered an amendment appropriating $110,000 to reimburse the state of Nevada for money expended in suppression of a rebellion; agreed to.

The bill was then reported to the senate from the committee of the whole and all its amendments.

The senate then, at 10:21, adjourned till tomorrow noon.

Filibustering began in the house and after various dilatory motions a vote was ordered on the motion to adjourn until Thursday. No quorum appearing there were several attempts made to reach a compromise. Hatch said he was sure the friends of the bill would lose nothing if the house adjourned now. Wise said: "The gentleman from Missouri is endeavoring to persuade the friends of the bill that it is safe to adjourn and I say to them that it is not safe. The chair declined to decide the question before it came up in regular order."

Report of the Brussels Delegates.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22.—The president today sent to the senate the report of the delegates to the Brussels monetary conference. It is somewhat encouraging in its nature and says that it is expected that during the recess before re-assembling in May the delegates will ascertain and be able to state to the conference the views respecting their governments on the larger use of silver. The report in conclusion says: "The delegates are glad to bear testimony to the earnest wish of the conference that the plan for the enlarged use of silver money is acceptable to the nations and adequate to the money solution and may result from its deliberations."

Compelling a Show Down.

PARIS, Feb. 22.—The minister of foreign affairs informed the cabinet that Colombia extended concessions to the Panama Canal Co., for one month from February 28. He reported that this short extension was secured with great difficulty and within this time unless evidence of the ability and purpose of the company to continue work was forthcoming the Republic of Colombia would be prepared to enter into possession of the canal property.

A DEACON EXPELLED.

A Baptist Deacon Who Gave Bread and Wine to a Presbyter.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Feb. 22.—[Associated Press.]—Several weeks ago at a communion service at the Baptist church in Hustonville, in Lincoln county, a deacon, I. N. Corn, passed the emblems to J. B. Green, an elder in the Presbyterian church, who was present. "Close communion" is one of the tenets of the Hustonville congregation, but it has not been strictly adhered to in the past. Rev. John Rin, the pastor, determined to abolish the loose manner of dealing with church ordinances and preferred charges against Mr. Corn for violating the rules of the church. He was notified to appear for trial and the matter has been before the church officers several times without settlement.

At the last meeting, held this week, Mr. Corn was excommunicated by a decisive vote. He is a prominent citizen of the town and has been a very zealous and efficient officer of the church, and the action of the congregation will cause deep dissensions. It is promised now that charges will be preferred against other members of the congregation who have been guilty of the same "heresy" that Mr. Corn was charged with.

Robbery at Palo Alto.

SAN JOSE, Cal., Feb. 22.—Shortly after 6 o'clock this morning the Chinese employed at Palo Alto left their quarters to go to work. The cook was left alone. Two white men and a Chinaman appeared bound and gagged the cook, robbed trunks, securing it is said about $4,000 in gold and silver belonging to the Chinese. The robbers escaped, but the officers are in hot pursuit.

State Offices Wiped Out.

CHEYENNE, Feb. 22.—Governor Osborne today vetoed the item of $12,000 for the appropriation of the Wyoming stock commission. The action is final and practically abolished the stock commission and the office of veterinarian.

A Burglar Captured.

Night before last Marshal James Blankenship arrested Ramon Eldamo charged with the recent robbery of the Bee Hive and Goldberg Bros. store. The officer was at Bernard's place when Eldamo came to the door with the intention of coming in. On seeing the officer he turned suddenly and went into the adjoining door. This aroused the Marshal's suspicion and he took charge of him. He was wearing some of the articles stolen. His case will come before a justice of the peace this morning.

ANNEXATION.

Strength Developing Against It.

Opponents Say That the Two-Thirds Vote in Favor of the Treaty is Not Available.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22.—[Associated Press.]—The character of the fight developed against the Hawaiian treaty caused its friends a terrible uneasiness and the understanding is that they intend to make an attempt to hasten it through, as the opposition is gaining strength. Senator Allison is counted among the opponents to the treaty and those who are fighting it say today it will be impossible to get a two-thirds vote for it in the senate. Springer, of Illinois, and other members, proposed to get a resolution through the house to ascertain why a treaty, which will involve the government in expenditure and will require the raising of revenues, should be submitted to the senate without being submitted to the house also. The effort to defeat the treaty is very earnest.

This afternoon Paul Neuman, the deposed Queen's envoy, called at the state department and had a conference with Secretary Foster. Castle and Wilder, members of the Hawaiian annexation commission, left Washington this evening en route for San Francisco. Thurston, the head of the commission, expects to leave on Tuesday, joining his associates in Chicago, whence they will go to San Francisco together. Carter will remain several days longer, possibly until after the inauguration of Cleveland.

Another Match Closed.

NEW YORK, Feb. 22.—Billy Plimmer and Danny McBride met this afternoon and signed articles to fight before the Newark athletic club for $25,000 and a side bet of $1,000.

THE KIBBEY TRIAL.

A Hung Jury is Probably the Only Definite Result.

Judge Campbell, an attorney for the defense in the Kibbey trial returned yesterday from Tucson. At 1 o'clock yesterday morning he said it appeared that the jury would hang. Word had somehow percolated through the door of the jury room that the members stood ten for acquittal and two for conviction of murder as charged, though it was afterward reported that the minority only wished to bring in a verdict of manslaughter.

The testimony in the case was a reproduction of that at the preliminary examination. The wife of the prisoner testified to her illicit relations with the murdered man and the prosecution was unable to shake her.

The defense relied on the theory of insanity which from a legal point of view was well established. Expert testimony was brought to show that at the time of the killing the prisoner was irresponsible and considerable other evidence was introduced to prove that his manner for some time previous to meeting Porter had been noticeable wild. Against this was the testimony of two or three acquaintances who swore that about the same time they had noticed nothing wrong with him.

The dying declaration of Porter of his innocence of any improper relations toward the wife of his slayer was ruled out.

DONE DECENTLY.

How Washington's Natal Day was Celebrated.

Three Important Events Mixed Up in One.

An Exciting but Bloodless Indian War at Tempe.

The Cycling Tournament one of the Proudest Events of the Day—A Baseball Catastrophe.

Yesterday witnessed the conjunction of three notable events. The first of these was the recurrence of the anniversary of the birth of the man who made himself famous by assuming paternal relations toward his country and by attacking a deciduous tree with a hatchet and when he afterward did not have sufficient presence of mind to lie about it.

Another event was the close of the orgies which mark the celebration of the Chinese New Year. Tom-toms and instruments something like an old fashioned cow bell have tortured the air from sundown to midnight, every night for the past week.

The Chinese are prone to be noisy on all occasions of a religious nature, which in the case of the New Year is explained as follows: On New Year a guardian spirit, who stands between Chinamen and the devil, leaves the earth to attend a conference of higher powers to whom he must submit a comprehensive and statistical report of affairs on earth. This trip occupies just a week, during which time everything is left wide open for the devil. That individual is supposed to be possessed of an exceedingly sensitive tympanum, hence the noise which might intimidate the devil were he even partially deaf. The guardian spirit is supposed to have returned last night at twelve o'clock and order has been restored on Montezuma street until another of the numerous Celestial festivals rolls around.

The other and last event commemorated yesterday was the completion of the street railway system of Tempe, and judging by the comparative extent of preparation made that occasion was a more momentous one than the birth of men who become fathers of countries, or than the episode of frightening timorous devils.

Indian Warfare.

Yesterday was a marked day in Tempe's history and her citizens showed a degree of enterprise which was possibly unequalled anywhere else in the United States. It had the effect of calling together one of the largest crowds ever seen in Arizona. The drawing number was the Indian battle which had been extensively advertised, including the various terpsichorean exercises which were to precede and follow that bloodless affair. The main purpose was to show to latter day civilization how an Apache stronghold could be taken by the Maricopas, the ancient enemies of the Apaches. The advisory committee wisely concluded that it was best to have proxy Apaches otherwise the attempt to take the stronghold might be attended with real bloodshed. Accordingly a lot of Pimas were substituted for them.

The stronghold was Tempe buttes. The warriors were clad in bright paint and the wigs or fourth violin string.

The battle was not conducted according to any special system, and the result was mysterious and uncertain. However, it was an Indian battle, and the multitude was satisfied, the badge of G. Washington was pleased and the Tempe city railway was duly inaugurated. The warriors were presented with an ox, which was killed, dressed, cooked and eaten according to the most primitive methods. It may be remarked that the meat was seasoned with the sand which prevails in the vicinity of the buttes, and was afterwards carelessly rolled in the mire and blood which had accumulated about the place of slaughter. But this feature of the performance was eminently and entirely Indian, and that was what the crowd went to see.

Another feature was a dance by squaws to each of whom four yards of the most lurid calico obtainable had been promised. The prize was well earned, but the dusky dancers set up a claim that the colors were too tame and the yard sticks too short. Whether their ground of objection was good or not is uncertain, but if so they were the only element in the vast throng which gathered at Tempe yesterday that had a kick coming.

The Ball Game.

Although the advertised time for the beginning of the baseball match between the South Side Tempe club and the Phoenix Baseball club was 2:30 p. m., as early as 1 o'clock people began flocking toward the diamond. By the time the game was called, fully 1,000 spectators were on the ground. Phoenix was first to go to the bat, Tempe having won the choice chose the bats.

Phoenix—Steen, catcher; Shields, pitcher; Goldberg, first base; Harris, second base; Washington, third base;

The game from the start was an uphill fight for Phoenix, as Tempe gained a lead in the first inning, which Phoenix was unable to overcome. Both teams showed lack of practice, but settled down to good work after the third inning, the score being 7 to 6 in favor of Tempe. Neither side scored in the next five innings, both being retired in one-two-three order. The crowd which had continually grown in numbers, had by this time closed in on the outfield, and when a ball went outside of the diamond it was nearly impossible for the fielders to get it. In the eighth inning Tempe batted a ball into the crowd which Griffin was unable to get and this hit netted a run for Tempe. In the ninth Tempe scored 2 more, thus leaving the score 10 to 6.

Pratt made the only long hit of the game, a long fly over second base netting him a home run. The battery work of both teams was good and good plays were made by Goldberg, Harris, Steen, Walbridge, Stump, A. Hunsaker and O. Stapley.

M. Drachman of Tucson and Joe. Hawks acted as umpires.

The Bicycle Tournaments.

The episode at Phoenix was a bicycle tournament, instituted by the Valley Club to whom belongs the credit of having devised the only scheme for keeping a part of the population of Phoenix at home.

The tournament was a success, bringing together a greater number of wheels than had ever before been seen in the south west. An elaborate program of ten races had been arranged and was well carried out. The wheel work was better than had been expected and is likely to give cycling a healthy impetus in the territory, at least many visitors were in attendance at the races.

The first event was a half mile race between Z. O. Brown, Dean Ross and W. H. Robinson. Brown won the race and prize, a pair of bicycle shoes donated by Goldberg Bros. in 1:32½.

The second was a mile race between Harry Brown and W. H. Smith; prize a gold scarf pin from Amos Plank; won by Brown in 4:06.

Six entries were made for the 100 yards slow race which was also won by Harry Brown; prize a box of merchandise contributed by Winthrop Sears and Walter Porter.

The fourth event was a mile race, entries Victor Hanny and C. S. Burdall; prize five cans of oysters by F. A. Phillips, won by Burdall in 3:22½.

Z. O. Brown, Harry Brown, Hanny and Burdall were competitors in a quarter mile open race for two prizes, a box of cigars by Sam Seip and a fountain pen by the Irvine company. The first prize was taken by Burdall the second by Hanny.

The two-mile handicap came next on the program for three prizes, a sweater by Paul Brannen, a silver match box and compass by Pratt Bros., mounted deer antlers by Peoples and Smith. Ross was stationed at first quarter, the two Browns, Will Dunbar and Robinson at the one-eighth and Hanny at 100 yards. The race was won by Ross in 6:35, Z. O. Brown second and Hanny third.

One of the most interesting events was the mile race between A. W. Galpin and Billup's pacer, even start, won by Galpin by a scratch in 3:01½ and the prize one dozen photographs by F. A. Hartwell.

The closing event was the half mile contest between Monihan and W. H. Robinson, prize a Meerschaum cigar holder won by Robinson in 1:35½.

An interesting event not carried out was the ladies' contest for a pair of fine kid gloves, contributed by the Red Cross. The announced contestants were: Mrs. Seip, Miss McElwain and Miss Bicknell. On the way to the grounds Mrs. Seip met with a disabling injury, and her competitors determined not to enter the race. Another feature of the meet was a magnificent street parade.

This was Washington's birthday celebrated in Arizona. If the Father of his Country looked down upon the proceedings, and if he now has any influence at the national capital, this territory may certainly expect to be soon made a state.

Pistol Practice at Minnie Powers'.

About 10:30 o'clock last night a pistol report was heard from within Minnie Powers' house of ill fame. The doors were immediately closed and lights in parts of the house were extinguished. A curious crowd soon gathered about the house, but was denied admittance, though the inmates gave assurance that no one had been injured. They refused to make any explanation of the occurrence.

JAIL DELIVERY.

Ed. Hill Abandons a Habeas Corpus

And Takes Another Prisoner With Him,

The Noted Jail-Breaker Makes Another Tally.

An Interesting Question Concerning the $1,000 Reward Likely to Arise.

Ed. Hill, the gentleman wanted in the state of Washington for murder and whose application for a writ of habeas corpus was pending from Saturday night until Monday morning at 10 o'clock, on Sunday night removed himself from the jurisdiction of the court, and took his case and Henry Leland, a noted horse thief, along with him. In other words, Mr. Hill broke jail. This incident occurred about 7 o'clock and was discovered by Deputy Sheriff Widmer, who thought he saw someone climbing over the garden wall. It didn't occur to him that anyone was getting out, but rather that someone else had been trying to break in. He went to the jail though and counted the noses of the prisoners, but did not observe the noses of Messrs. Hill and Leland. He did, however, observe a hole in the floor, and by following it also discovered a hole in the brick wall which leads into the jail yard. That settled it in his mind that the man he had seen was either Leland or Hill.

The hole had been made in the floor by means of an iron bar used in fastening the cells and the enterprise was undertaken at a time just before the hour for locking up and just after most of the prisoners had gone into their cells.

When the discovery of the break was made the telephone and telegraph offices were closed, but the search was begun at once and as soon as communication could be established, word was sent everywhere, but no definite trace of the fugitives could be obtained. Yesterday a telegram was received from Maricopa saying that a suspicious character had eaten breakfast there, but his description did not fit either Leland or Hill.

A horse was stolen from the south Methodist church and later a report was received of another taken from a farmer named Titus, living north of Tempe, and officers believe that the animals were stolen by the prisoners.

Deputies Webb, Widmer and Slankard went to Tempe and sent back word by telephone that they had a trace of the men on their way to Tonto Basin. They said they would take fresh horses and follow. At a late hour last night no further word had been received.

Ed. Hill and Mr. Mullens reported that they saw two men running from the direction of the jail southwest, but this report was not received until yesterday morning.

Hill's case was called in court yesterday morning just the same as if he had been there and his attorney Mr. Marks with admirable coolness requested the court to compel the jail authorities to show what they had done with his client, a thing the authorities would have been quite glad to do.

Mr. Marks also asked the court if the prisoner's petition would hold good in the event of his re-capture. The court replied that courts were seldom called upon to consider just such a question, but it was his opinion that a jail breaking prisoner might be considered to have got of the ground he had occupied when he made his application.

An interesting question concerning the $1,000 reward for Hill is likely to arise and the local authorities are preparing to claim it.

WASHINGTON.

Jackson's Nomination is Confirmed,

The Senate Adopts Sherman's Amendment Providing for the Issue of 3 Per Cent Bonds.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20.—[Associated Press.]—The senate adopted Sherman's amendment providing for the issuing of 3 per cent bonds.

After routine business the consideration of the sundry civil appropriation bill was resumed, pending the question on the Mills amendment to the Sherman's 3 per cent bond issue, the amendment making the said bonds redeemable at the option of the government. The amendment was defeated without discussion. The vice-president then put the question on Sherman's amendment and announced that it was agreed to. Stewart objected to the manner in which the amendment was declared agreed to and at the suggestion of Hoar both amendments were considered as still open. Stewart then spoke more than an hour denouncing Sherman's amendment as the most wicked revolutionary scheme ever invented by man laying the rude hand of legislation on the accumulated precious metals of the world. He moved to amend by adding: "and bonds issued under the provisions of this act shall not be used as security for the issuance of national bank currency." Palmer advocated Sherman's amendment.

At the close of the discussion the Mills amendment was rejected without division and Stewart's by a vote of 32 to 21. On the motion of Gorman, Vance's amendment to Sherman's amendment adding thereto a proviso repealing the tax on state bank circulation was tabled. Brice offered an amendment requiring all issues of United States notes to be maintained at parity and interchangeable at nominal par value.

Jackson's Confirmation.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20.—Jackson was confirmed associate justice of the supreme court this afternoon. There was not even a formality vote in the executive session of the senate on the confirmation, which was made without a single objection. The confirmation is a relief to the friends of the treaty of annexation with Hawaii, who feared it would be used to prevent action in the nomination. Now that the matter is out of the way they believe the subject will be promptly disposed of. They hope in a short time to permit the Hawaiian commissioners to carry news of the ratification of the treaty to Honolulu simultaneously with the appearance there of the document itself.

The Hydraulic Mining Bill.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20.—The house this afternoon adopted the conference report on Caminetta's hydraulic mining bill. It having already passed the senate it now goes to the president for his signature.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—[Associated Press.]—Senator Gorman in some remarks which he made today in opposition to the appropriation for public buildings, spoke of the serious and alarming condition which confronted the country. He expressed a belief that only the borders of the trouble had been touched and that extraordinary action would have to be taken by the treasury department or else congress would have to re-assemble before next July to meet the conditions. His warning did not prevent the senate from agreeing to all the amendments offered making appropriations for increasing the limit of cost of public buildings. Only a year and nay vote was taken which showed all the Republican senators except Sherman in the affirmative and all the Democratic senators except Vest in the negative. The house bill providing for the publication of the eleventh census passed.

Hausbraugh presented resolutions of the legislature of North Dakota for a constitutional amendment to have United States senators elected by the people.

Quay moved the amendments which were agreed to fixing the limits of the public building at San Francisco at $3,000,000, at Portland, Oregon, at $1,000,000.

In the house the naval and agricultural appropriation bills were called under a suspension of rules and were passed.

The Mint Director's Report.

The annual report of the director of the mint for 1892 shows the value of the gold product of the United States to be $330,000,000 about the corresponding average for recent years; the product of silver to be $3,000,000,000, of the commercial value of $50,750,000, a falling of $30,000,000 from the preceding year the amount of silver purchased by the government during the year was $5,129,827 ounces costing $47,394,291, average 87½ cents per ounce. From it 6,333,245 silver dollars were coined during the year. Imports of gold aggregate $18,165,058, and the exports $78,735,592, a net loss of $58,570,534. Silver imports $31,450,918 and export $37,541,301. The total silver product would be increased about 7,650,000 ounces occasioned chiefly by an increase of 4,600,000 ounces, the product of Mexican mines and 3,400,000 ounces from Australian mines.

Tree planting and pruning and all kinds of garden work by J. E. Dunlap at Adams' nursery yard.

A MURDEROUS SHOT.

A. A. Dougherty Perhaps Fatally Wounded

Yesterday afternoon at the Wolfley Dam by a Revengeful Saloon Keeper.

GILA BEND, Ariz., Feb. 21.—[Special.]—A. A. Dougherty, superintendent of construction on the Wolfley dam, was shot this afternoon near the dam by a man named Kelsey, alias Wrangler, a saloon keeper. Kelsey fired two shots, one grazing Dougherty's scalp, the other going through the body, striking the hip bone. The wound is a serious one. Dr. Crocker drove up from town and is in attendance, and Dr. Cotter of Yuma is on the way. The cause of the trouble arose from Dougherty ordering the saloon keeper off the premises. Kelsey is on the way to this place presumably to give himself up to the authorities. Officer Patterson has gone to intercept him.

The Poisoning Case.

No late developments have been made in the poisoning case of Rita Sabado and in consequence the report of the coroner's jury tomorrow morning is being awaited with a marked interest. The public would have no doubt that the girl was a suicide were it not for the circumstance that Pierce is still held on bail evidently on testimony adduced at the secret inquest.
