

WHERE ARE YOU GOING?

To Berryhill's for a drink of soda water. We always go there for their drinks are always so cold and refreshing no matter what drink you call for. Then too they use only the best crushed fruits and fruit juices money can buy. They don't figure on the cost but the quality. Then too everything is so nice and clean around their fountain and everything in plain sight.

DEATH OF FRANK HOLME

The Famous Artist Expired at Denver Yesterday Morning.

Frank Holme, the artist, died at Denver yesterday morning at 8:45 o'clock. Mr. Holme, who had lived in Phoenix since a year ago last fall, left here for Denver about a month ago, hoping that the climate of that region might prolong his life a few weeks, but those who saw him on the night of his departure did not believe that he would live to reach his destination. Not long after his arrival at Denver a telegram was received from his wife who was in Chicago saying that she had been sent for to go to the bedside of her husband.

During his brief stay in Phoenix Mr. Holme made himself a part of the community, and there was no one in it more generally beloved. He came here a sufferer of tuberculosis, which had already reached an advanced stage. There was for a time an apparent improvement of his condition and his friends hoped that he might not have come here in vain. But for six months before his departure his decline was steady and gradual. Most of the time of Mr. Holme here was spent on a ranch near the city surrounded by similarly afflicted newspaper men, artists and actors, and in this congenial company he said he was passing some of the most enjoyable hours of his life.

In his illness he was never idle. Before he left the east fellow artists actors and journalists, among whom were Geo. Ade and Kirk LaShelle formed ed a syndicate to assist him in the prosecution of his work. The Bandar Log Press was organized and from it were issued the "Poker Rubaiyat," and a series of stories by George Ade. Mr. Holme, by the way, had made some of the illustrations of Ade's Fables, although the greater part of this work has been done by the famous John T. McCutcheon. Mr. Holme gave an interesting series of chalk talks at the Dorris theater in this city. The only other work of a local character he performed was the illustration for the Republican of the hanging of Rentaria and Hidalgo at Prescott a year ago.

John Francis Holme belonged to the higher class of newspaper artists. His performances were never "frowzy" or amateurish. His work was of the same finished character as that of McCutcheon and Berryman. But his work was not wholly confined to newspaper illustration, for many of his performances with the pencil have been highly praised. Mr. Holme was born at Corinth, W. Va., in 1863, and was educated in the public schools of Keyser, of the same state. He worked on a country newspaper until 1884 and on a civil engineering corps a year later. He became connected with the Wheeling Register as artist and reporter in 1885 and remained with that journal for two years. The succeeding two years he was with the Pittsburg Press and it was then that he first came into public notice as a newspaper illustrator by his delineation of the scenes of the Johnstown flood. He was subsequently connected with the Chicago Saturday Blade, the Chicago Times, the San Francisco Chronicle, the Chicago Post, the Chicago Chronicle and the Chicago Daily News. That was his last active work with any paper. He started the Chicago School of Illustration, which is still in existence under the management of Mrs. Holme.

RAIN AT THE RESERVOIR

That Whole Region Redeemed From the Drouth.

Livingstone, Ariz., July 25.—(Special correspondence to the Republican.)—From present indications it would seem that this part of the Salt River valley, at least, is about to be blessed by the long looked for rain. The storm which prevailed last Friday night was a very heavy one, and if the rain continues, the prospects being good at the present time, it will be of inestimable value to the surrounding country and the valley. There was a very good shower on last Wednesday evening, but Friday night's rain was a reminder to the inhabitants of the "good old summer-time of '91." It began falling about six o'clock and continued unabated until well along in the morning. About ten o'clock that night, the occupants of headquarters camp were aroused from their slumbers by some one giving the alarm that the camp was flooded, and all hands jumped out of bed to find that the ground was covered by two feet of water. The flooding of the camp was caused by the uprising of Pinto creek, which for a long time had been merely a dry river bed, but inside of a few hours Pinto ran five feet deep and a quarter of a mile wide, caused by a cloud burst up at the head of the creek.

Heavy rain also fell in the Sierra Anchas, but it did not do any damage to the saw mill road. Heavy showers up Tonto creek made Tonto run high and Salt river rose several feet in consequence.

The heavy rain did no material damage to the Globe high line road except wash out a few small culverts, which can easily be repaired. The Phoenix-Roosevelt road between Harpham's and Fitzgerald's camps, suffered some slight washouts but the damage is of no consequence.

Cattlemen in the surrounding country who have seen their cattle die by thousands this summer had almost given up hope for any rain, but it may be that relief is close at hand, for a continuance of the rain will soon provide an abundance of feed in the surrounding hills.

All the foremen working on the Phoenix-Roosevelt road report the work progressing rapidly and if the rain continues it will result in filling the tanks between Fish Creek hill and Mormon flat and make it possible to work on the road between those points.

J. E. Patton, who has the contract for packing the supplies from Mesa to the different road camps, has put on an additional train of twenty burros and he will be able to transport a much larger quantity of supplies from now on.

The work on the power canal is progressing rapidly. Practically all of the tunnel work on the upper division of the canal line is completed and the work of concreting the tunnels is well under way.

Scherer & Co., who have the contract for the grading of the power canal, are working a force of about three hundred white men and about a hundred and fifty Pima Indians. The concrete conduit, crossing the Lee wash, is completed and Inspector Davey reports that the work of putting in the culverts will begin some time during the coming week.

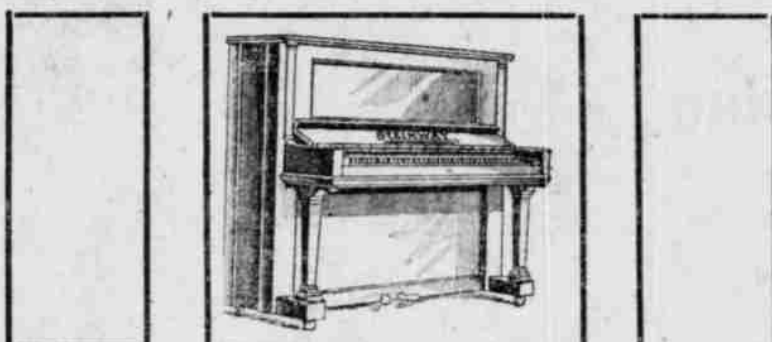

The general health of the U. S. G. S. is fairly good, considering the weather, although the engineer in charge of Roosevelt, C. R. Olberg, and Dr. Palmer, the government physician, are both laid up with an attack of typhoid. Mr. Olberg is convalescing and it is hoped that they will both be up and around again soon. B. A. Gher, clerk at the saw mill, has also suffered a slight illness the past week and is recuperating in Globe.

Last Sunday a very enjoyable picnic was held at Indian Springs in the Sierra Anchas mountains. The party was composed of A. L. Harris and wife, the Misses Parker and Miss Mamie Wolfchlagler of Detroit, Mich., and

Norman Schemmerhorn, Walter Lupkin and Finley McGuire, of headquarters camp. O. T. Reedy and Walter Reidy, who had been spending a week's vacation at the "rest camp" in the mountains, also attended the picnic. The day was spent in sightseeing, the scenery in the Sierra Anchas being especially fine. The party also visited the Cottonwood canyon and the Natural corral, which is considered by some to be as picturesque as much interesting scenic features as the Grand Canyon of Arizona. WALTER REEDY.
