Mrs. C. J. Walker, the hair grower, whom she can not treat personally, through the urgent request of many friends and patrons, has postponed her western tour indefinitely and will remain for awhile to convince every person in need of her services of her wonderful power of growing hair. One treatment will positively stop the hair from falling out or money refunded. Her treatments have given perfect satisfaction to every person in Denver who has given her a trial. She also sells letters of instruction to persons teaching them how to grow their own hair at very reasonable prices. With her treatments your hair begins growing at once. A trial treatment will convince you. Two years ago her hair was less than a finger's length. This is the result of only two years' treatment. Persons out of town wishing letters of instruction, with her wonderful grower, can address her at 2410 Champa, 'phone Pink 592.
