COURTESY EXTENDED.

Denver, Colo., June 24, 1911. To the Colorado Statesman:

Mr. C. B. Prior, president of the Prior Furniture Company wishes to express through the columns of your valuable paper, his hearty appreciation of the courtesy extended to him recently by Mr. A. Froman, of 2423 Emerson street, a colored fireman, who was, until last Friday, June 16th, the owner of a "Bull Dog." Said dog, in a moment of anger, lacerated the hand of Mr. Prior's boy, and he (Mr. Prior) went to see Mr. Froman in regard to having the said dog removed from this "Mundane Sphere," so he would not be liable to injure any other man, woman or child, and Mr. Froman expressed his hearty approval of same, and even went so far as to assure Mr. Prior that he would defray all the expenses of medical attendance (which Mr. Prior would not accept) and his only desire was that the dog be "Chloroformed" instead of "Shot." He very willingly turned said dog over to Mr. Prior, with the above understanding and Mr. Prior proceeded to carry out his wishes.

It is a pleasure to meet a man among men, irrespective of creed or color, and therefore takes this method of expressing his views of a gentleman when he meets one, and only hopes he may have the pleasure of meeting many more of the same gentlemanly bearing. (Signed.) CHARLES B. PRIOR.

We will be there, you bet. Who? The K. P. to help swell the crowd at Bloomfield Park. The Masonic picnic, July 11th. Good music, good order and a large crowd assured.

MISS MARY L. FITZHUGH, QUEEN OF SONG.

The Bethlehem Baptist Church presented Miss Fitzhugh the much heralded blind soprano singer to a Denver audience Monday evening at Shorter's A. M. E. Church. So much had been said and written of this young lady that we were all on the qui vive to see for ourselves and we are now of the opinion that half had not been told. Miss Fitzhugh possesses a beautiful soprano voice, which shows much cultivation. She can sing in three different languages and wonderful to relate she can even play, although she is totally blind. Miss Fitzhugh is not only a cantalizer, but also possesses great elocutionary ability and as a pantomimist she was cheered to the echo. The different numbers given by her were all well rendered and she received much applause to which she fittingly responded by several encores. Of our local talent who assisted this sweet, sweet singer, Miss Beatrice Thrashley did her self proud as accompanist. Prof. Hewetson Watson favored the audience with several piano solos. The select reading by Miss C. C. Reynolds was very humorous and was well rendered. The attendance was very good, but not as large as it should have been, but what was lacking in numbers was made up in enthusiasm.

THE INTER-GRADUATES.

The Inter-Graduates Association held their exercises Sunday morning at Shorter's church to a large and appreciative audience. The program, although short, was an excellent one. Miss Eva Carter, a graduate of the schools of Galesburg, Ill., was the first to appear with a solo which she sang with much expression. Miss Carter possesses a charming personality and has a sweet and well cultivated voice. The next on the program was the address to the graduates on "Selfishness the Evil of To-day," by the Hon. W. B. Townsend, one of the most noted Negro attorneys of the West. The popular speaker was in fine fettle and he handled his subject with much tact and diplomacy, showing himself to be a thinker, a student of philosophy, a man of deep research and best of all he did not mince matters. He did not give the graduates any sugar-coated pills to swallow. Most speakers in addressing graduates make them believe that the world is theirs just for the asking. Lawyer Townsend's address in part, taking his text from the Sermon on the Mount and from the Golden Rule, out of which he carved his subject, "Selfishness, the Evil of Today." He drew comparisons from the lives of Adam and Eve showing that the same selfish natures that existed then exist today. In order to show what difficult problems the graduates would have to encounter in the guise of selfishness, he made a historical review of modern conditions, comparing them with the past as he proceeded. He called their attention to the selfish systems underlying the church, state, government and finance. He warned them that the restless natives were demanding immediate relief. Most vividly did he depict how the banker robbed the tradesman, and politicians, legislators, etc., robbed the bankers and finally, the graft got into the hands of the chief boodler, but the poor suffered it all and was never considered. Why is it that the man who digs the minerals, mines the coal, cultivates the wheat, raises the cattle and the sheep, always gets less of the real products than the non-producer? Mr. Townsend in his closing remarks to the graduates told them not to be disappointed when their race, social societies, lodges, etc., would entertain them with smiles tonight and the next day entertain the Caucasian with their money; that they need never be discouraged, if like the Ishmaelites, our races hands would be uplifted against their own, while all other races are lifting up their hands against them also. He admonished them to be fair, polite, courteous, brave and courageous and to stand by the truth and true manhood and womanhood if you stood alone, and not be a graveling sycophant or apologist, but strong and determined.

After the baccalaureate address the next was a solo by Mrs. Lillian Jones, one of Denver's most pleasing and popular vocalists, whom it is always a treat to hear. This year's graduates are: Misses Nellie Enbanks, Jennie Hicks, Louise Harris, Catherine Hubbard, Helen Munday, Robertee Barbee, Mosella Joseph, Messrs. A. M. Lewis, A. Wayman Ward and Oglesby Lawson.

SCOTT M. E. CHURCH.

The Epworth League will have a sign painted this week over the transept of the church. We congratulate the League upon this excellent service to the church. This has been long needed.

Mr. Lewis, who is the president of the Literary and Social Department of the church, is bringing his department to the front. This department entertain the members and friends of the League last Tuesday evening with a literary program and also served light refreshments. Mrs. Ada Castry, the president of the League has great hopes of accomplishing great things for the young people of the church and community.

The Ladies' Aid Society is progressing as it has never before. They have paid off some debts on the church of long standing. We take off our hats to the members of this society who are doing things. Let us do more and talk less. This is the way to bring things to pass worthy of the historians pen.

Mrs. Claudie Pash will entertain the Sunday School next Sunday afternoon at two o'clock. We invite all children to attend. We have enough refreshments for all who may attend. Mrs. Pash is building her infant class up by bringing little fellows to the Sunday school every Sunday.

Mr. John F. Thomas, recently of Nashville, Tenn., led the class meeting to the delight of those who were privileged to be present. Mr. Thomas hails from our great Clarke Memorial Church in his native city. Mrs. Thomas recently joined her husband and will make Denver her home. We wish to thank the Rev. J. D. Rice and Dr. Randolph for filling the pulpit so ably last Sunday during the absence of the pastor and district superintendent. Mr. Rice leaves this week for Colorado Springs to assist the Rev. W. R. Stephens and also to canvass for the American Bible Society.
