THE ZION BAPTIST CHURCH.

24th Avenue and Ogden Street.

DAVID E. OVER, Minister.

Zion's plans are laid for a series of evangelistic meetings to begin on the third Sunday in March, the 15th. Dr. J. P. Howard, who assisted us last year, will speak each evening during the series.

Cottage prayer meetings will be held during the time in various parts of the city. Dates and places will be announced next week.

During the week of the 8th there will be evening prayer services at the church. These meetings will continue just one hour, closing promptly at 9 o'clock.

The pastor desires that each Christian, who is willing to be used for the salvation of his unsaved friends, will secure "Request for Prayer" cards and send the names as soon as possible.

Wednesday is the day set apart, during this soul-winning effort, for fasting and prayer. It is the hope that all the faithful will give themselves freely to this exercise that God may pour out upon us the baptism so greatly needed.

Ten personal workers' clubs have been organized. Anyone who desires to join these forces to do specially directed work in soul-winning will be present at the church Sunday evening at 5 o'clock.

The pastor will speak at the morning service from the subject, "The Test of Service."

In the evening there will be a half-hour's song service followed by communion. Each new member who has not been fellowshiped into the church is requested to be present.

JOIN THE NAVY.

Looking over the horizon and casting our horoscope, regarding the hope and future of our race, especially in regards to the future of the young Negro boys of our city and throughout the entire country, the editor of the Colorado Statesman would call the attention of the young man of the race, also the mothers and fathers, to a great avenue of development for our boys, perhaps you are wondering what it is. The United States navy offers an education and training to our boys that is unsurpassed. Why not let us, as a race, show the government of our country the same as others races, that we are vitally interested in the welfare of our boys, getting the necessary training that will fit them for life's great work. This idea was suggested to the editor by his old friend, Jno. W. Wright of Fayette, Kentucky. Mr. Wright is an enthusiastic believer in this mode of training for our young men, and the editor after observing for himself the condition of our young men in this city, concurred in his belief. Mothers and fathers, why not send your boy for four years of travel and let Uncle Sam pay the toll? Travel is an education. Four years travel in foreign climes is worth ten years of Alma-mater, and besides you can learn any trade you want.

Though he did not identify himself with the church here in Denver, he lived a consistent Christian life, being generally beloved for his genial and kind disposition. #### FARMERS WANT FUNDS

ATTORNEY GENERAL BRINGS SUIT AGAINST TREASURER.

Register of Land Board Seeks to Get $600,000 Available for Agricultural Needs.

Western Newspaper Union News Service.

Denver.—Attorney General Farrar has filed application in the District Court for an alternative writ of mandamus to compel State Treasurer M. A. Leddy to explain why more than $600,000 in public schools funds is allowed to remain in banks in lieu of being apportioned in loans to farmers.

Leddy is at present in New Orleans, where he went for his health, and it is probable he will be called back before his leave of absence has expired. The suit was brought at the request of Volney Hoggatt, register of the State Land Board, who charges that Leddy is wilfully violating statutes providing that state school funds shall be loaned farmers and settlers in order to build up a large private patronage for himself with Denver banks.

On Feb. 19 the funds of the state from sale of public lands aggregated $681,332.36. This amount, Hoggatt maintains, should be placed at the disposal of farmers and offered in loans to settlers who would build up the state's agricultural resources, as provided for in the statutes. The failure of previous land boards to insist that the loan features of the statutes be observed, charges Hoggatt, is responsible for a stifled development of public lands in Colorado.

He charges the former with cowardice and lack of patriotism in permitting bankers to argue them out of proposed loans from the funds.

"The state," says Hoggatt, "is getting four per cent on these deposits, while the banks who get the 'wad' turn around and lend the money to the very farmers who should get it direct from the state at 10 and 12 per cent interest."

"The only reason why the law isn't obeyed is that efforts are made by state treasurers to build up their standing with bankers."

Hoggatt's application for a mandamus seeks to force Leddy to make loans from the fund or show why. The suit probably will be heard within the next two weeks.

Leddy, who has been ill, left for New Orleans recently, where he expected to remain for several months. He probably will return to resist action by the court.

Brings New Suit to Oust Shinn.

Denver.—Quo warranto proceedings to oust State Game and Fish Commissioner James A. Shinn from office, following his refusal to abdicate in favor of Walter Fraser, recently appointed to that position by the State Civil Service Commission, were filed in the District Court by Fraser. The action follows the granting of a writ of prohibition to Shinn by the Supreme Court, in which a temporary restraining order against him, issued by District Judge Allen, was set aside, the higher tribunal deciding the character of Fraser's suit was not proper.

Authorize $10,000,000 Bond Issue.

Denver.—The stockholders of the Denver Union Terminal Railway Company met at the union depot and authorized the purchase of all the properties and assets of the Denver Union Depot Railroad Company. It also authorized a $10,000,000 bond issue of which $4,000,000 will be offered for sale in about two months. A meeting of the stockholders of the Denver Union Depot and Railroad Company was held at the same time, at which it authorized the sale of its properties to the new company.

Supply of Radium for 2,000 Years.

Denver.—Colorado possesses carnotite and pitchblende fields sufficient to supply the world with radium for 2,000 years, declared Thomas R. Henahan, state mines commissioner, before the closing session of the Colorado Metal Mining Congress. Taxation of mines, a stand on the radium question, cheaper freight rates for transporting ore and the setting aside of the federal obstacles in connection with the forest reserve, which handicapped mining, were four of the important phases of the industry considered.
