TWO BEET-GROWING SECTIONS REFUSE OFFERS AND CUT ACREAGE

The beet growing sections of the Arkansas Valley have decided to decline the terms offered for beet production during the coming season by the sugar companies, and on the cutting out of beet acreage. At Avondale, a meeting was held in the school, last night, where approximately 100 percent of the beet acreage, some 500 acres, was represented. It was decided by the Beet growers association, at the meeting, to unanimously decline the terms offered by the companies, a $5 flat rate on a sliding scale. It was decided to raise no beet County Agent Sawhill and J. M. Rodgers, of the state farm bureau, attended the meeting. About fifty persons were present. The Chieftain is also in receipt of a communication from J. L. Grenard, secretary of the New Dale Farmers and Beet Growers organization, of New Dale and Swink, enclosing a copy of a resolution passed at the meeting of that body March 14. The communication follows:

At a meeting of beet growers held at the New Dale school house Monday evening, March 14, 193 farmers being present, representing 2,500 acres in the vicinity of New Dale, Swink, Fairmont and Roberts, the following resolutions were adopted unanimously:

Resolved: that it is the sense of this meeting that it costs $80 per acre to grow and deliver beets; that the farmer assumes all the expense of producing and delivering the crop; that in the contracts offered by the Sugar company we are asked to grow beets at a loss, while we are practically guaranteeing a profit to the manufacturer; that for these and other sufficient reasons we reject the contracts offered by the company and prepare to grow other crops.

System Pleases Them

W. S. Marble, the well known building contractor, returned Monday from a business trip to Muskogee, Okla. He says that city is one of the liveliest places in the southwest with a population of something like 35,000. "They have the city manager form of government in Muskogee," said Mr. Marble, "and all I talked with, business, professional and workmen, expressed themselves as highly pleased with that system of municipal government. They pay the city manager $8,000 per annum, and he is practically czar of the place. Wichita, Kas., also has a city manager, and the citizens there seem to be well pleased with that form of management."

BACKACHE OF WOMEN

The back is often called the main-spring of a woman's life. What can she do, where can she go, so long as that deadly backache saps every particle of her strength and ambition? She cannot walk, she cannot stand, her housework is a burden, in the office or factory are crushing. She is miserable. The cause is many times some derangement of her system, and backache is a common symptom. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a reliable remedy for backache, as for more than forty years it has been relieving women of America from the ailments which often cause it.—Adv.
