Brief Mention.

High water to-day, 7:47 p. m. Rev. Father Lynch, of the Society of Jesus, came from New York here Saturday and preached at all the masses at St. Mary's R. C. church. Contracts for the construction of a new office building for the New Haven Water company will probably be let next week, and work on the erection of the new structure will begin soon after. The site for the new building is at 100-104 Crown street, about opposite the Odd Fellows' building. At the meeting of organization of the Willimantic and Southbridge Street Railway company the past week Attorney A. McC. Mathewson, of this city, was elected a director. J. W. Metcalf, of Boston, is a promoter of this project. He owns 450 out of the 500 shares of stock. The road is capitalized at $50,000. Mr. Mathewson and C. H. Nichols, of this city, hold stock in the road. Manager Fred Voigt will not refuse one single post entry for to-night's big twenty-five mile "pro" race at the Coliseum bicycle track, as it is his intention to start as many of the money chasers as he can get. The fact that "Eddie" Bald, who led the world in fast racing once, will make his first appearance in several years in this section is likely to prove a great drawing card, as the demand for reserved seats at St. Goodman & Co.'s, 820 Chapel street, and Beck's drug store, 339 Howard avenue, indicates.

FLAG DAY ON JUNE 14.

Flag day will be observed in this city in an appropriate manner by the schools and public citizens. June 14 is the date assigned by congress for the celebration of the adoption by congress of the stars and stripes as the nation's emblem. The flag day observance is being strongly urged by the American Flag association, with headquarters in New York city, and circulars are being sent to the mayor of each American city, to the press, to the officers and members of all patriotic American societies, to all school officers and school teachers, and to many private citizens, requesting that flag day be accorded special attention.

BOY ARRESTED FOR THEFT.

Truant Officer Healy yesterday afternoon arrested Antonio Criscuolo, a twelve-year-old Italian boy, on the charge of theft of $10 in money from one Salvatore Caporello. The boy was detained at the Organized Charities yesterday and last night.

VISITED OLD FRIENDS.

John Japp of Bridgeport spent the last three days in this city renewing old acquaintances. Mr. Japp was for several years on the clerical staff of the Winchester Repeating Arms company and now occupies a similar position with the Bridgeport Brass company.

DANBURY VISITORS.

Mrs. Deans and Miss Jessie Deans of Danbury are the guests of Alderman George Wallace and Mrs. Wallace of 89 Wolcott street.

If the decorations of your home are disappointing and the rooms you live in contain marked inconsistencies, perhaps it is after all only a matter of the right things in the wrong places, and you have been employing labor not well directed. Perhaps the Carpet man you employed knew carpets, the Painter man knew how to paint, the Drapery man knew about draperies, but the man who knew how to combine them was missing! To get a harmonious result it may be necessary for you to employ one who will consider height, breadth, and light, and who can get harmony without monotony. This has been our special study for thirty years. May we have the pleasure of personally telling you more about this?

An Unusual Sale of Art Embroidery Goods. Closing out of the Harris-Burnham-Long Stock.

Most of the needleworkers of this vicinity are familiar with Art Embroidery store for some years conducted by Mrs. Harris and Miss Burnham at 123 Church St., this city, in which store they succeeded Mrs. Long. These ladies have determined to close out their business to engage in other enterprises, and made us an offer for their stock on hand which we gladly accepted. The goods are of the highest class, were selected with exquisite taste and trained judgment, and at their present figures will make a sensation in embroidery circles. We have secured the services of Mrs. Harris and Miss Jones, whose familiarity with the stock will be undoubtedly of great help to customers. We put the stock on sale Monday morning. It is impossible to mention more than a few items, as examples of values offered.

THE EDW. MALLEY & CO.

It takes a big store to do really big things. This muslin underwear sale is the biggest thing of its kind that has happened in Connecticut. Wish we could tell you tenth of the story--can only hint at odd parts.

The cheapest sort of night-gown that most of the women who read this would care to wear, would be made from a grade of cambric that costs at retail, seven cents a yard. It would take four yards, at the very least; that is twenty-eight cents for the cambric alone.

It would take a day to make it, even making it very simply, with no ruffling or tucking. How much is the day worth? A dollar?

In this sale we show gowns made from a seven-and-a-half cent cambric, containing about four and a half yards of material, daintily ruffled and tucked and carefully cut and put together--we sell it at 25c, that is;

We sell it for less than you could buy the cambric.

The Corset Cover that we sell at 5c, would cost you 10c for the material alone. And when you get into the higher priced goods, the saving is even more marked. We doubt if you could buy the laces alone on our 75c gowns for that much money unless you happen to get some Malley lace bargains.

In skirts, especially at the higher prices, in drawers and in chemises, the same rule holds true. You cannot buy the materials for our price on the finished garments.

We have outdone ourselves in value-giving in this sale. And you seem to appreciate it. There are drifts and mountains of whiteness here, but they are melting before a sun of popular favor that will show bare counters before many days. Don't be too late.
