CAPITOL JOTTINGS.

PAIGE TO BE GUBERNATORIAL CANDIDATE.

Statement From Supporter That He Will Seek to Head Republican Ticket in 1906—October Election Keeps Secretary of State Busy.

Hartford, Sept. 29.—The most important political fact that has come to the surface during the week at the state capital is a statement from one of the leading Paige supporters in Hartford county to the effect that the senator from Bridgeport will be a candidate for governor in the republican state convention in 1906, contesting the honor with Lieutenant-Governor R. S. Woodruff of New Haven. The statement is from a source that makes its utterance one of more than superficial value. It can be relied upon as indicating the actual opinion of the supporters of Senator Paige. There was a well defined feeling at the end of the general assembly's work in July that Senator Paige would be made the candidate of the republican party for the office of chief executive next year, and nothing has happened since that would controvert that idea. The Hartford county authority for the statement that he will be the candidate is intimately identified with the Paige forces, and can speak with exceptional knowledge of the situation. Senator Paige has been out of the state much of the time since the adjournment, being in the mountain resorts, and it is more probable that he will cross the Atlantic on business this week. He was greatly exhausted through the last month of the session, and needed the summer's rest that has come to him. His candidacy for the governorship is the natural outgrowth of last winter's events. Long before the middle of the session was reached his name was associated on all sides with the highest office in the state. The senator's popularity and leadership was of a commanding character, and his personal ability was unquestioned. The republican leaders in the state are on his side and the rank and file of the party regard him with favor as he has risen from the old home in Sherman step by step to high place in politics and professional life, which he now holds. From the day that he entered General Russell's military school in New Haven in 1872 his advancement has been steady, and deserved.

The secretary of state has sent out three hundred thousand official envelopes for the October elections, which take place next Monday, and forty thousand for the special congressional election in the Third district. In the few towns in the state in which the annual town elections will not take place, Monday preparations have been made for voting on the constitutional amendments now before the people and on the free text book question. In Hartford the town election will not close until April 1st, the whole machinery of a state election has been set up for voting on the amendments. This has not the city to a large extent. Representative F. L. Huntington, of Meriden, who was on the incorporations committee during the session, has been elected treasurer of the Kelsey-Peese company of that city. He made an admirable impression in the legislature, and is an active republican in the city which he represents. Ex-Governor Chamberlain is to have new honors heaped upon his shoulders by the people of that city, as the new distinction that is in store for him will be conferred without regard to party lines. He is to be made the candidate for centennial mayor of the city, succeeding George S. Seely who is now at the head of the municipality. The election will take place in the course of a month or two and the ex-governor will be most heartily installed in office for the centennial of the Silver City, crowned after his gubernatorial career with municipal glories. But there is nothing out of place in the project. The centennial year in Meriden, 1906, will be one of widespread significance, and it will be fitting that one of the most eminent residents of the city shall be the corporate head during the long planned for festivities. Governor Chamberlain will have the munificent co-operation of men like the Hon. H. Wales Lines and John W. Coe in making the centennial year the most interesting one in the city's history. Ex-Senator Lines is more than proving his loyalty to Meriden by the work which he is putting into the new town and city hall there, which he is building. The act authorizing the construction of this notable edifice had a strenuous career through the legislature last night and leaving early in the morning, among the last, if not the very last, of the tail-enders that disastrous retreat mismanaged by the unfortunate gentleman whose headquarters were always in the saddle, never to be found anywhere else.

EXPOSITION NOTES. Management Announces a Series of Prize Cooking Contests. The managers of the food and industrial exposition to be held from October 12 to October 21 are gradually announcing the features planned. One that will interest to the largest extent the housewives and good cooks of this city and vicinity will be the prizes to be offered for cooking. Cooks will be given every opportunity to prove their merit. They can do their work at home in their own kitchen, and with their own utensils. Few rules will govern the contest, and the competitors will be given the widest latitude in the preparation of their exhibits. Of course, professional cooks are to be barred. The only necessary qualification for competitors is that they are not to be professional bakers. One of the days is to be set aside for the girls of the cooking classes in Boardman High school, and the article at which they are to try their skill will be announced shortly. Another feature just announced is that the management has decided to engage the New York Ladies' orchestra. This celebrated organization will give matinee and evening concerts that are sure to prove one of the great attractions of the show. It has been estimated by the managers of the exposition that fully $5,000 worth of souvenirs and samples will be distributed. The firms exhibiting are liberal demonstrators, and expect to put in the hands of everyone visiting the exposition samples of their goods. The Sulpho-Naphthol company of Boston has been engaged to attend to the sanitary requirements of the show, and will use its disinfectant to keep the atmosphere of the armory pure and clean. The manufacturers of the Clitquot club brand of table beverages have taken a large space. Other exhibitors to sign last week were Armour & Co. and the Well Novelty company of this city. The latter concern will make an elaborate display of photograph buttons and souvenir postal cards.

THE RAILROAD CUT. Preparatory work is started. C. W. Blakelee & Sons, contractors, who will make the big cut improvements for the New Haven road, placed a steam engine and pile driver and other machinery at the Hamilton street bridge near Myrtle street Saturday afternoon. This will be used in the shifting of mains and for other work for the New Haven Gas Light company. The work to be done for the Gas Light company is merely a preliminary to the work on the general cut and points out the place where the railroad will begin its vast improvements. It is said the first work will be the widening of the cut at the Hamilton street bridge and the building of the new bridge at that point.

FIRST CLASS BARBER SHOP. V. D'Urso, the well known and popular hairdresser is meeting with much success in his new parlors at 115 Court street. Music hall building. His establishment is handsomely fitted with every facility which goes to make a first class barber shop. Mr. D'Urso has a skilled workman as an assistant. He also has elegant hot and cold baths, which were fitted up at considerable expense. He invites old friends and new to pay him a visit.

PAIXINE TOILET ANTISEPTIC is one of the most powerful and economical antiseptics known. It cleanses, disinfects and heals inflammation of the mucous membrane wherever located. This is the reason it so quickly cures sore throat, sore eyes, sore mouth, nasal and pelvic catarrh. To disinfect the mouth and sweeten the breath it has no equal. Paxine is the formula of a noted Boston physician. All druggists sell it.

BISHOPS BUY MORE VALUABLE PROPERTY. H. V. Santry, real estate agent, has sold for Mr. J. M. and Miss Katherine Blair, the brick block of three houses at Nos. 50, 52, and 54 Crown street to Edward F. and Frederick C. Bishop. The property has a frontage of about eighty feet on Crown street and is assessed for $31,170.

A Sad Bereavement. A large circle of friends in this city of Mr. and Mrs. B. R. Merwin will learn with deep and sincere sympathy of the death of Ernest, aged twenty-seven years, son and Mr. and Mrs. Merwin, who passed away yesterday at the home of his parents in New York city. He was a very promising young man and much beloved. He was ill for weeks with typhoid fever about a year ago and never fully recovered. His last illness was quite sudden. He was a graduate of the Hill school at Pottstown, Pa., and had been associated with his father in the large business which his father has conducted for many years in New York. The deceased was a nephew of Edward P. Merwin, formerly of this city, a banker and broker of New York city.

Last week Wednesday evening a wedding took place at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Barnes of Middletown when Miss Ruby Barnes and Percy Hazard were united in marriage by the Rev. C. B. F. Pease of the Plantsville Congregational church. Only near relatives were present. Mr. Hazard is a popular conductor on the Cheshire and Middletown trolley line. After a short wedding journey they will begin housekeeping in the pleasant rooms in the house of W. C. Dalley, Cheshire. Considerable interest is shown in the new creamery "Cherry Lawn," recently opened on the John Bishop place by R. S. Andrews and O. L. Baldwin of Waterbury, with F. A. Andrews of Boston, Mass. manager. Mr. Andrews states there is good prospect for a local creamery here, all that is lacking is a good supply of milk. Mr. Glynn and family have moved to Meriden, and it is reported that Mr. Allison will occupy the rent vacated. Elmer Brooks has sold the Irvin Mix farm to a Mr. Field of Waterbury, who expects to improve the place and maintain a summer home. Fred Willett has purchased three of the lots on Grove street of J. A wedding breakfast reception will follow the ceremony and will be attended by only the immediate relatives of the bride and groom. An improvement has been made in lights in the installation of the electric lights on the streets, and the selectmen are to be congratulated upon the success attained by their efforts by having our streets lighted so that one can see their way about the center of our village in the evening.

Reception to Rev. Charles G. Smith—John G. Hurd Celebrates Anniversary—Mrs. Russell's Funeral—Other News.

There is very little excitement over the special election which occurs to-day and the vote will undoubtedly be quite light in the Fair Haven wards. The Grand avenue Baptist church and Congregation will this evening tender a reception to their pastor, Rev. Charles G. Smith, and his family in the chapel of the church, beginning at 7:30 o'clock. Mr. Smith became the pastor of this church in June, but it was thought best to defer the church reception until now, as so many people were away in the summer. The reception committee consists of Deacon N. A. Beebe, Mrs. Frederick L. Willis, Mrs. S. J. Latta, and Deacon and Mrs. George Sturgis. Deacon Beebe will preside. Invitations have been extended to the Fair Haven pastors and to the Baptist pastors of the city, several of whom are expected to make brief addresses. A guest of the occasion will be Rev. W. W. The boat has capacity for about 1,000 bushels of oysters and will be used on his oyster beds.
