

SAYS WOODRUFF WILL RUN

NEXT GUBERNATORIAL CANDIDATE SAYS ATWOOD.

Senator Stated at Hartford Yesterday That Lieutenant Would Carry Convention—Printers' Strike Delays House Journal—Senator Fessenden Not to Quit Service.

Hartford, October 12. Senator John W. Atwood, of Wauregan, was in Hartford yesterday afternoon for the first time since the adjournment of the legislature in July. He came up by way of New Haven, where he saw Lieutenant-Governor Woodruff this morning. He says the lieutenant-governor will be a candidate for the governorship, and that he will win out in the state convention next year. Senator Atwood says Lieutenant-Governor Woodruff will make a business man's candidate; that he is an able business man, being at the head of the firm of C. S. Merstick & Co., of New Haven, and that he will give a wood feels the utmost confidence in the ability of Lieutenant-Governor Woodruff to carry the state next fall.

The printing of the House Journal has not been completed owing in part to the printers' strike that is now in force through the state. The indexing by the house clerk, Mr. John A. Spofford, is through with the work having been carried out at Mr. Spofford's home in Bridgeport. The index of the Senate Journal has been prepared by Mr. Alfred C. Baldwin, the senate clerk of Huntington. The indexing in both journals has been thorough and exhaustive, and will reflect on the two officials having the work in charge. The journals will reach the members of the two houses from the presses of the Case, Lockwood & Brainard company of this city, as soon as the printing and binding can be completed. The Hon. John F. Shanley, of New Haven, senator from the Eleventh district, who has returned from a two months' tour through Europe, spent much of the time in Germany and France, finding these countries centers of absorbing interest. The senator had one of the best summers of his life in this foreign trip, and will long recall the incidents and pleasure that attended it. The return of Charles H. Clark, of the Hartford Courant, from the Philippines after two months' absence, will enable the commission on investigating corrupt practices in elections of which he is a member to organize for work. Nothing was taken up by the commission while Mr. Clark was in the far east, but details for the investigation will be arranged in the course of a few weeks. Ex-Speaker John H. Perry, of Fairfield, who heads the commission under appointment from Governor Roberts, will be the chairman, and will have the directive hand in its work. The report will be made to the general assembly of 1907, and will be an exhaustive review of the political corruption in the state and the remedies for its removal. Ex-Speaker Perry is from nature and education a reformer and has made a conscientious study of the political situation in the state. He is a man of profound ability and civic attainments, entertaining the highest ideals of public life and citizenship. He took active interest in the corrupt practices legislation that was taken up during the last session. His colleagues on the commission will heartily co-operate with Mr. Perry in the work that will occupy a great deal of time and inquiry during the coming year and a half.

Miss Ellen M. Moore, of Boston, sister of Representative E. Allen Moore of New Britain, who served with marked success on the education committee last winter, has been spending the summer at the old family home in Kensington. The father of Miss Moore was the widely known Connecticut artist, E. A. Moore, and she inherits his artistic instincts and ability. Miss Moore has been engaged for a couple of weeks on a miniature painting of Mrs. Hart of New Britain, wife of President William H. Hart, of the Stanley works in that city. President and Mrs. Hart have recently celebrated their golden wedding. Mrs. Hart is one of the foremost members of New Britain social circles and a lady of splendid personality. She is the mother of Representative Moore's wife, who will ultimately become the owner of the painting that Miss Moore is making. There is much interest in Hartford with in the coming absorption of the Connecticut Railway and Lighting company by the Consolidated road. There is no longer a question about this deal being carried out. During the past session the interests of the Connecticut Railway and Lighting company in the legislature were safeguarded by Senator Alan W. Paige of Bridgeport, the company's general counsel and advisor. Senator Paige was an invaluable representative of the company's interests. It was through his generosity that the legislation in behalf of the Connecticut Railway and Lighting company was kept abreast with that in favor of the Consolidated Railway company, which controls all of the trolley roads in the state owned by the Consolidated road. The amalgamation of the two trolley systems will give President Mellen's road control of most of the trolley lines in Connecticut. The exception, which is on the east side of the Connecticut river, including the connections between Hartford and Rockville, will not be felt to any appreciable extent by the Consolidated road's interests. Hyperion Theatre.

Raymond Hitchcock, who will be seen here in "Easy Dawson" to-morrow afternoon and night at the Hyperion theatre is now playing in straight comedy, for the first time since he became a star. His character is that of a bit-ulous foreman of a fire company, inventor and village celebrity—something after the style of type favored by Sol Smith Russell. The play was written by Edward E. Kilder, who was also successful in equipping Mr. Russell. Although "Easy Dawson" is to be described as a comedy Mr. Hitchcock sings a couple of songs, one of them being in popularity with "Aint it Funny What a Difference Just a Few Hours Make." Its title is "And the World Goes On." Mr. Hitchcock has another capital song in "It's a Waste of Time to Worry."

The supporting company has been chosen with Mr. Savage's customary care and includes Julie Berne, Grace Griswold, Flora Zabelle, Jefferys Lewis, Lovell Taylor, John Bunning, Scott Cooper, Earle Brown, Nick Briglio and William Martin.

"THE EMBASSY BALL."

Lawrence D'Orsay, who Daniel Frohman will present at the Hyperion theatre on Monday evening next, the first time on any stage, in "The Embassy Ball," the newest play by Augustus Thomas, will be the first star to be sent out by Mr. Frohman from the new Lyceum theatre, New York. The actor is no wonder the direction of his present manager for a long term of years. From the old Lyceum theatre Mr. Frohman started E. H. Sothern on his first starring tour, as light comedian. It is Mr. Frohman's intention to have Mr. D'Orsay occupy that field, and to that end he will be supplied with plays of the same calibre as those in which Mr. Sother made memorable success. The first of these offerings is "The Embassy Ball." It is possible that Mr. Frohman may later on organize a stock company similar to the famous one which for years occupied the old Lyceum theatre. In that and other organizations under Mr. Frohman's direction were at one time such well known players as Henrietta Crossman, Viola Allen, Annie Russell, Georgia Cayvan, Henry Miller, Herbert Kealey and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Whitford.

New Haven Theatre.

A musical comedy in two acts, filled with witty lines, catchy and musical numbers presented by funny comedians and an all round capable company with a chorus of thirty beautiful girls of American birth such is the make up of "Paris by Night," which had a three months' stay in New York city at the Madison Square Garden to its credit. It will be seen in this city at the New Haven theatre on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday nights, October 16, 17, 18. The libretto of "Paris by Night" is by Heelan and Moran, and the score is by Robert F. Edwards. The works of these people is entirely out of the ordinary, being original in every way, it contains bright and witty comedy lines and twenty catchy musical numbers and is a revelation of feminine attractiveness. The musical numbers were all hailed at hits in the Metropolis. A song sung by Minnie Jarbeau, the soubrette of the organization called "My Irish Molly O," is one of the most notable bits of performance. "In Sweet Loveland," a pretty song introduced by a number of pretty girls, is also an encore bringer.

A RUNAWAY BOY.

There is always "something doing" for the young star, Joseph Santley, America's greatest boy actor, in his new play by Hal Reid entitled "A Runaway Boy," the young man being on the stage practically all the time from the time the first curtain rises until the final fall on the fourth act. There are many sensational features in "Runaway Boy," which is to be the attraction at the New Haven theatre on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, October 19, 20, 21. Matinee Saturday.

The Bijou.

This coming week Manager Poll will present Carrie DeMar and Joseph Hart of Foxy Grandpa fame in their latest musical success "The Other Fellow." They also have Gilroy, Haynes and Montgomery in the "Good Ship Nancy," as one of the features coming next week. Joseph Blank, the boy juggler, and numerous others.

This Week's Show.

This week's show has Dan McAvoy and Fifth Avenue girls Caprice Lynn and Fay, Castle and Collins, W. C. Kelly, George Hoey and company, and a host of others making up a splendidly balanced bill of vaudeville which no one should miss who desires the best show in town. Prices: Evenings, 10c, 20c, 30c; matinees, 10c, 20c; ladies at matinee, 10c. Box seats, 50 cents.

GULFORD ELECTS SCHOOL OFFICERS.

Gulford, Oct. 12.—A meeting of the school association of this place was held last evening for the purpose of organization and the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Chairman—School committee—Edward Shea. Treasurer—Samuel Spencer. Secretary—Edwin W. Bartlett. Assistant secretary—Samuel Spencer. Committee on employment of teachers—George E. Beers. The work on the new schoolhouse is under way and progressing rapidly.

ANNUAL FAIR.

Many Will Go to Centerville to Attend Entertainment. The annual fair given under the auspices of St. Mary's Catholic church at Mount Carmel, of which the Rev. William J. Dillard is the pastor, will open this evening in the town hall at Centerville.

TROLLEYMEN'S MEETING.

The regular meeting of the Trolley-men's union was held at 8 o'clock last evening and at 2 o'clock this morning. President James W. Burke and Dennis S. Fitzgerald, the delegates to the national convention in Chicago, were present and addressed the meeting on the doings of the convention.

GOLDEN WEDDING OF MR. AND MRS. HORACE F. BALDWIN.

A Joyous Event Happily Celebrated—Wedding of Warren F. Doolittle and Miss Esther L. Hull—Personal Jottings—Other News

The golden wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Horace F. Baldwin of No. 6 Wolcott street was celebrated Wednesday, and it was an occasion of gladness and good cheer for the relatives who assembled. It was a home affair, only the relatives attending. Mr. and Mrs. Baldwin were married in Thomaston fifty years ago. Mrs. Baldwin's maiden name was Harriet Hine. The couple removed to this city in 1859 and have resided in Fair Haven since 1872. For seventeen years Mr. Baldwin was superintendent of the factory of Shoninger & Co., leaving there in 1880. Since that time he has devoted several years to carrying on a farm near here and has also dealt in poultry, bringing in considerable quantities from the west, but has now practically retired from business. The children of the couple are George L. Baldwin of Sioux City, Ia., who came on to attend the anniversary; Mrs. Thomas H. Newbold and Mrs. Frederick W. Chadeayne. The grandchildren present were Seymour C. and Howard W. Baldwin of New York city; Lester H. Newbold and Edna B. Jessie B. and Harold F. Chadeayne of this city. In the afternoon there was a family dinner followed by a pleasant reunion in the evening.

Mr. Baldwin has several brothers residing in different parts of the country. William H. Baldwin of Lee, Mass., where the family had a reunion last year; James S. Baldwin of Oberlin, O.; Edward D. Baldwin of Los Angeles, Cal., and Russell P. Baldwin, who resides in Texas. Mr. and Mrs. Baldwin are in a fair degree of health and entered into the spirit of the day's festivities with much appreciation. Their many friends will be glad to know of their golden celebration and will hope that they may live yet many years.

Grace church was thronged with an interesting assembly Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock at the marriage of Esther Isabel Hull, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ford Doolittle, son of Milton C. Doolittle of this city. The ceremony was performed by Rev. George A. Alcott, assisted by Rev. Mr. Whitaker, brother-in-law of the groom of Fall River, Mass. The maid of honor was Marguerite Bradley and the bridesmaids, Mabel and Grace McMahon, Cora Hotchkiss, Ruth Tyrrell, Mabel Thomas and Edith Baldwin. Edmund Williams was the best man and the ushers were Frank Lowe, Laurence Blinn, George Steffe, George Nettleton, Druevic Bristol, and Dwight L. Chamberlain.

Three hundred were bidden to the marriage. The bride was given away by her father. After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, attended only by relatives of the couple. The rooms were prettily decorated with cut flowers, palms and autumn leaves. The church was also handsomely decorated for the occasion. The wedding march was played by Harry Whitaker, organist of Center church.

The bride wore a handsome gown of the silk and the bridesmaids were gowned in white figured mull, with hats to match. The maid of honor wore a dress of pink Mr. Doolittle is connected with the firm of E. S. Merstick & Co., and his friends in the establishment presented as their gift a beautiful china set. The girl friends of the bride in the B. G. society presented a fine silver service. There were a large array of gifts including silver, cut glass, pictures, etc. After a wedding trip of a week, Mr. and Mrs. Doolittle will take up their residence in East Haven. The couple are well and favorably known and have a great many friends.

The convalescing meeting with very good success in securing subscriptions to the fund being raised to build a new chapel for Pilgrim church. At the start there was about $5,000 representing a bequest and interest, left by the will of the late H. H. Strong and subscription for $5,000 has been secured from a member of the church. There are other pledges from members of the church and other friends which will bring the fund already pledged up to $12,000. The sum of $20,000 is required to ensure the success of the enterprise and this will no doubt be raised. Plans and specifications probably will be made this winter so that building operations can go forward in the spring.

Chauncey Clark of East Pearl street, who has had much trouble with his left eye, which was injured some time ago by a car cinder, is able to see with it, although the sight is likely to be permanently impaired to some extent. At one time he feared he would lose the sight of the eye.

The death of Mrs. Sarah F. West occurred at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Frederick Duncklee, 135 Grafton street, Wednesday evening. She had been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Harriet Johnson of 411 Grand avenue, and had just returned home when she expired from heart failure. Beside her two daughters, she leaves a son, Edward Gilbert of this city. Before her second marriage she was Mrs. John S. Gilbert.

The King's Daughters' circles of the Grand avenue Congregational, Grand Avenue Baptist, Pilgrim and the East Pearl street church, sent delegates to the state convention now in session in Bridgeport. Those attending yesterday included Mrs. H. A. Stevens, Mrs. George Stevenson, Mrs. E. C. Johnson, Mrs. Henry Barnes, Mrs. Herbert Foote, Miss Addie Strong, Mrs. Horace Beebe, and Mrs. Bertha Diver. Mrs. Mary Mooney is very ill at her home on Fillmore street.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Graham are having a vacation in the Berkshires. Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Scranton and son left yesterday for Pasadena, Cal., where they will reside. The change is made for the benefit of Mr. Scranton, whose health will not permit his remaining for another winter in this severe climate.

The committee preparing for a dance to be given by Quinnipiac college company met last evening and talked up plans.

NEW POEM.

Fanny Crosby Dedicates It to the G. A. R.

(From the Bridgeport Standard.) Fanny Crosby, known all over the Christian world for her hymns, and known to all English-speaking people as the Blind Hymn Writer, has written a poem dedicated to Elias Howe, Jr., post, No. 3, Grand Army of the Republic, of Bridgeport. The poem is in the nature of a contribution from one who has done much for the Christian church to those who did so much for the state during the great war of the Rebellion.

The poem was written yesterday afternoon, having been dictated to Mrs. Byron M. Athlington, sister of the Blind Hymn Writer, and by her it was communicated to the G. A. R. post, Mrs. Athlington, by the way, is the widow of the late Byron M. Athlington, who fought through the war as a member of Company M, First Connecticut Heavy Artillery, and his knapsack, which he carried all through the campaign as one of the Army of the Potomac, will be an interesting relic exhibited at the fair, which opens tonight.

The Standard is privileged to print the poem, which is as follows:

Dedicated to members of Elias Howe, Jr., post, No. 3, Grand Army of the Republic.

By Fanny Crosby.

When the bugle call resounded
On that never forgotten day,
When the soldiers of our city
With their banners marched away:
How with honest pride she watched them
As they waved their stripes and stars
And she breathed a benediction
O'er the loyal G. A. R.'s.

Some at Gettysburg have perished,
Some at Chattanooga sleep,
Some in graves unknown are lying,
But the Lord their dust will keep;
Others to their homes returning
Told of conflicts wild and dark,
And their names have rendered sacred
Mountain Grove and Seaside Park.

Few the veterans that are left us,
Few, but dear to every heart;
Bravely have they served their country,
Bravely have they borne their part.
Rally round them, do it quickly,
They are weak and feeble now,
And the frost of age is leaving
Traces on each furrowed brow.

For a public we are asking
For a Grand Memorial Hall
Where united they may gather
And their battle scenes recall.
Where their valor songs may echo
At the setting of the sun
And their souvenirs remind them
Of the triumphs they have won.

This may be our last petition,
Bid their hearts with rapture thrill,
To the fair our Post has opened.
You will come, we know you will,
Generous friends of Bridgeport city,
Friends who love the Stripes and Stars,
Aid the cause of right and justice,
Rally round the G. A. R.'s.

A BRILLIANT WEDDING.

Miss Henrietta Cable Bartholomew a Beautiful October Bride. Although the invitation list was small owing to the death within a year of the bride's brother, a Yale student, one of the prettiest weddings of the season was that of Miss Henrietta Cable Bartholomew, daughter of former Mayor and Mrs. Arthur H. Bartholomew, and Arthur Seymour Brown, at the handsome home of the bride's parents on South Cliff street, Ansonia, Wednesday evening. The bride is a beautiful and charming young woman and a favorite of the younger smart set. The bridegroom is a cousin of National Republican Committeeman Charles F. Brooker.

Miss Eloise Bartholomew, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, and Major Alton Farrel, of Ansonia, was best man. The bride wore satin, trimmed with duchesse lace. The couple started on their honeymoon in an automobile. They will reside in Ansonia.

The families of both bride and bridegroom are socially prominent and well known in New Haven society.

GRAND OPENING

THE BROOKS & COLLINS CO.

Of our Fur Department, this week England and France have demonstrated that they are leaders in fashioning furs and FUR LINED GARMENTS. We have secured the newest creations shown, adopted to this market. Every buyer appreciates the value of a well made garment; we make them of every description, up-to-date in style and a little further advanced in idea than some of our competitors. Unlike many others, we can say that we have many years' experience in making these goods, therefore no experiment.

Why is the Steinertone Pianoforto Better than any Other on the Market?

The advantage in purchasing a Steinertone pianoforto does not lie only in the simple fact that it contains every best feature of the standard pianoforto, but it represents a new era in pianoforto building and brings in pianofortos up to a state of perfection hitherto not represented in all other first class pianos.

Among the many qualities it possesses are the most essential are:—Powerful Tone Capacities, Marvelous Tone Coloring, Unrivaled Repetition of Action, Ease of Touch, Delightful Feeling Upon the Key-board. And, it is, in fact, the pianoforto of the twentieth century.

These fine reasons enough for any purchaser to choose the Steinertone pianoforto, not only because it is superior to all others, but it is also sold at the lowest factory prices. A large assortment of grand and upright pianofortos can be seen at the factory, warehouses, 161 Park street.
