

DANBURY C. L. U. IN FRONT RANK

Extends Hearty Co-Operation in Upbuilding of "The Labor Standard."

The following communications are self-explanatory and the co-operation greatly appreciated by the promoters of THE LABOR STANDARD.

OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY- TREASURER.

Danbury, Conn., Nov. 1, 1909.

R. E. PYNE, Mgr.

THE LABOR STANDARD.

Dear Sir—

I enclose copy of communication that I have mailed to the Affiliated Unions to be presented at their regular meetings which are to be held during this month, also a list of the secretaries with their addresses so you can mail a copy of THE STANDARD at your earliest convenience to the secretary of each Union.

Yours fraternally,

E. DANIELS, Secy.

CENTRAL LABOR UNION OF DANBURY AND VICINITY.

OFFICE OF SECRETARY-TREASURER,
136 South Street.

Danbury, Conn., Nov. 1, 1909.

To the Officers and Members of the Affiliated Unions:

Greeting: At the last regular meeting of the Central Labor Union, Mr. R. E. Pyne, a member of the Typographical Union, also a delegate of the Central Body at Hartford, attended the meeting for the purpose of obtaining the assistance of members of Organized Labor to endorse the publication of THE LABOR STANDARD of Hartford. Said paper is owned and controlled by members of Organized Labor and has been published for over a year and is now considered an established Labor journal. The founders of said paper will, at all times, fearlessly advocate the cause of the workingman and uphold the principles and justice of their cause. It is now issued monthly and mailed to subscribers at 50c. a year.

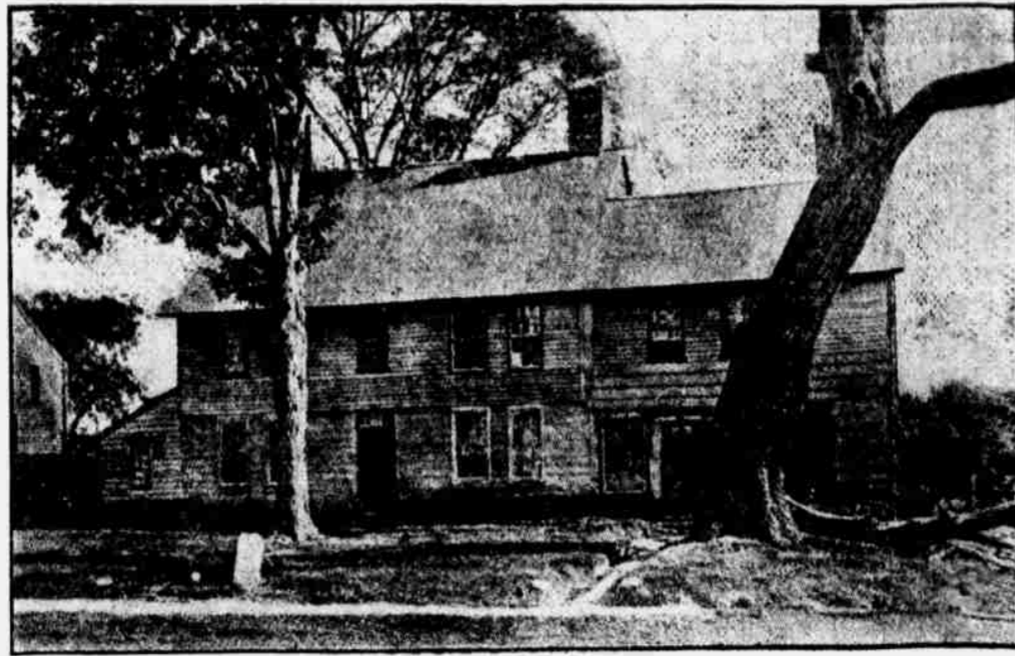

The managers of THE LABOR STANDARD, having now obtained a foothold, are endeavoring to increase the circulation of the paper throughout the state, and have already received the endorsement of the Connecticut Federation of Labor, Central Bodies, and Local Unions generally.

As the circulation increases, and the interest taken creates the demand, it will be issued weekly. There will be a correspondent selected in each city where a Central Body is located for the transmission of authentic Labor news.

The manager of THE LABOR STANDARD will mail a copy to the secretaries of the Affiliated Unions for inspection and approval of their members.

The wage-earners have long desired and keenly felt the necessity of obtaining a paper that would advocate and promote their cause in this community. Therefore it was unanimously

VOTED, That we endorse THE LABOR STANDARD, published at Hartford, and that the Secretary be instructed to notify the Affiliated Unions of said endorsement by the Central Body; also to request that each Union subscribe for a number of copies for the benefit of their members, which will be mailed to their address from the office of publication.

REVOLUTIONARY HOUSE—Gen. Taylor's Headquarters—DANBURY, CT.

Hoping your members will take due consideration on this matter, and that favorable action may be taken, I remain,

Yours fraternally,

E. DANIELS, Secy.

"THE TELLER" CHANGES HANDS.

The January number of "The Teller" has just been issued under new management, and will hereafter be published monthly from No. 37 Wall street by The Teller Publishing Company. This handy little reference book, which contains up-to-date railroad time tables, steamship sailings, locations of all private and public buildings in New York City, hotels, clubs, theatres, banks, and much other useful information, has been made more replete than ever.

JUST DON'T.

Do you feel you'd like to quit? Don't!
Get to feelin' you don't fit? Don't!
Do you want to yell "All in"?
'Cause your wind's a little thin
And you think you'll never win?
Don't!

There's a kick you want to make?
Don't!
There's a head you want to break?
Don't!

Do you feel you want to whine
Like a genuine canine
And send blue streaks down the line?
Well, Don't!

When you see a chance to duck, don't!
When you want to chuck your luck,
don't!

Keep right on without a stop
And you'll sure show up on top,
If, just when you want to flop,
You Don't.

ADMINISTERING MEDICINE.

How to Make Children Realize That They Must Swallow It.

Giving medicine to children is one of the most difficult problems that young mothers have to cope with, for some little ones have such a horror of a dose that they work themselves into a condition of nervous illness before the medicine gets into their stomachs, and so it frequently nauseates them, thus making successive doses harder to give.

There is no question but that if a child shows a disposition to rebel against swallowing medicine the mental tussle must be gone through with and settled first. That is, there is no use in trying to give the dose while administering admonitions. The little one's stomach must be quiet, and this cannot be if he is in tears or is screaming.

So when the child refuses it is essential to put the medicine aside and to make him understand that the cure must be taken. He must not for an instant be permitted to think that he has gained his point and need not take it. To the contrary, he is given to understand that he is obliged to and that the sooner he is quiet the better. Precisely how this is to be accomplished depends upon individual temperament and the way each parent handles the babe. Sometimes when the argument is prolonged a spanking may be required. One small girl had three doses of this maternal discipline before she became quiet and swallowed her medicine. There was never any trouble with her afterward, for she had been made to accept the fact that medicine when it was brought her was to be taken and to fuss only made the condition worse. Coaxing works with some little ones; with others punishment is required. Each parent must decide this for herself.

During the time that this matter of will contest is in progress the medicine is not administered. When the child has been conquered he must be given a few minutes to quiet sobs or temper, and then the dose must be given.

If the sick child thinks he cannot swallow medicine, no matter how much he may want to, he must be broken of this idea. He is apt to change his idea rather quickly, too, if he finds that each time he ejects the medicine a fresh dose is given. It takes a clever child only a few moments to realize that he is simply prolonging the agony.

The notion some have that they cannot swallow pills is likely to be imagination, which it is not always well to give in to. If there is a reason for paying heed to it an easy way of obviating it is to give liquid instead, for there are few prescriptions that cannot be administered in this form. The old way of giving pills in jelly does not commend itself to present ideas. The sweet, combined with medicine, is apt to upset the stomach, causing nausea.

To deceive a child about medicine and tell him it is good is a great mistake. This may work once, but he will be suspicious ever after. He should be made to understand that medicine is not a joke, but that it is less disagreeable than to be ill, and that whether he wishes it or not he must take it.

Canada's New Labor Bill.

A bill has been introduced in the Canadian parliament providing for an eight hour workday and also calling for a minimum rate of 25 cents an hour. The act does not apply to domestic or farm laborers or when persons employed are members of the employer's family. A provision annuls any agreement for a lower rate between the employee and employer. The act is attracting unusual attention throughout the Dominion.
