

TO FLY ACROSS THE ATLANTIC

The Trip is Planned to Start Late in August or Early in September

IN BIG DIRIGIBLE BALOON AMERICA

Walter Wellman and Melvin Vanniman will Make the Attempt—Progress of the Voyage to be Transmitted by Wireless from the Airship—The America will Carry Crew of Six Men.

New York, July 8.—Walter Wellman and Melvin Vanniman will attempt this coming fall to cross the Atlantic ocean in the dirigible balloon America, which was built for the Wellman polar expedition and has been twice tested in voyages over the Arctic ocean, north of Spitzbergen.

The apparatus on board. The attempt is made solely on the responsibility of the aeronauts, but the New York Times, the Chicago Record-Herald and the London Daily Telegraph have arranged to buy the news of the expedition, which will be transmitted by wireless from the airship, even as news is now sent from ocean liners.

The America will be housed at Atlantic City during its preliminary cruise. A series of dirigible balloons already been contracted for, and hydrogen gas to inflate her gas bags has been shipped from Paris. This shelter, or hangar, as it is technically known, will be 250 feet long, eighty feet wide and eighty feet high.

Second Only in Size to the Latest. On her long voyage the America will carry a crew of six men, including the wireless operator, and 1,600 gallons of gasoline for the engine.

Chances for Success Seem Good. The quantity of fuel carried gives the airship a greater radius of action than the distance from New York to London, and a steady wind blowing from the west during the season at which it is proposed to make the passage shows it is likely to be successful.

Wellman and Vanniman are by no means sure that their attempt will be successful, but they think that the chances are good enough to warrant a trial. They plan to start late in August or early in September from a base near New York city.

Shall the Open Shop or the Closed Shop Rule? Biggest Strike in the Industrial History of New York City.

New York, July 8.—Another big batch of cloak and suit makers went on strike today in addition to the 50,000 who walked out yesterday, making the total now out 75,861, according to the union estimate. If these numbers are correct it is the biggest strike in the industrial history of New York city.

Not all of those who quit today are afflicted with the union. Some are voluntary action in renouncing a ready employment out of sympathy for their fellow workers.

There was no violence today, and the employers will make no attempt to all the places of the strikers' union workers, as a majority of the manufacturers agree that the situation is such that they can afford to wait a few weeks before committing themselves.

The manufacturers' executive committee said tonight that the question of wages would not enter into any settlement that might be reached. It was solely a matter of whether the union leaders would accept a strike fund of $200,000. How far this fund can be made to go seems to be the main question.

Bind Tiger Raider Lynched in Ohio

WAS IN EMPLOY OF THE STATE ANTI-SALOON LEAGUE.

MOB SMASHED JAIL DOORS

Raider Etherington Had Confessed to Killing the Proprietor of a "Speak Easy" During a Scuffle.

Newark, Ohio, July 8.—Carl Etherington, 22 years old, employed Thursday night by the State Anti-Saloon League as a blind tiger raider was lynched here at 10.30 tonight, with a day of almost continuous rioting. The heavy doors of the Licking county jail were battered down and Etherington was dragged from his cell. He was shot, kicked and bruised before the mob was smashed and the finish followed quickly.

Etherington early in the evening confessed he killed William Howard, proprietor of the "Last Chance" restaurant and former chief of police, in a scuffle at 1.30 the afternoon and narrowly escaped lynching at that time. Five men were directed into the city at nine o'clock tonight for the purpose of smashing the jail doors. The mob was directed upon the doors of the Licking county jail, and the deputies were powerless. The doors fell after nearly an hour's attack.

Crying piteously, Etherington, a curly-headed Kentuckian, who had been serving time in another section, he was released from the marine service three months ago, was dragged out of the jail and hung from a large tree. He was killed by a mob of about 50 men.

Etherington's last moments, while he heard the mob battering down the doors, were spent in praying and writing a note to his parents, farmers residing near Winchester, Ky. "What will mother say when she hears of this?" he kept moaning to the jailer.

Slain Man Did Not Resist Officers. Howard, it is charged, did not resist the detectives when they entered his place on the outskirts of Newark. He, it is said, put his arms about Etherington, however, as it is held him, whereupon the latter fired a bullet into Howard's head.

Striking Baltimore and Ohio railway employed by the anti-saloon league recently came to Newark as a strike-breaker and the ill feeling growing out of the strike has intensified that due to the slaying.

Tonight a strikebreaker was pursued through the streets for several blocks. He saved himself by jumping through the window of a laundry.

Mayor of City Blamed for the Serious Situation. The detectives arrived this morning with search and seizure warrants procured from the mayor of Granville, a nearby village. The warrants were visited was that of Louis Bolton, where a bartender, Edward McKenna, was hit over the head with brass knuckles. The detective who hit him was pursued by a crowd that quickly assembled. The detectives was rescued by the police who took him to the jail with their prisoner were followed by the mob to the jail.

Licking county, of which Newark is the county seat, is dry under the Ross local option law, but anti-saloon league officials declare that the law has not been enforced. The county superintendent of the league, at Columbus, declared that today's situation was brought about by the alleged negligence on the part of Mayor Arthur of Newark in not upholding the law. Wheeler said that the detectives sent to Newark today were from Cleveland.

Body Dangled from Pole an Hour. After the body had dangled from the pole for an hour, swinging before the eyes of the crowd, it was lowered which slowly melted away, the rope broke under the weight of the body.

The chauffeur who had been ordered to take the body to the morgue, an hour later the city was absolutely quiet, with little chance of any disturbance. The other "dry" detectives in the city prison are safe for the present.

AUTO STRUCK A BOULDER WEIGHING MORE THAN A TON. Machine Belonged to New York City Finance Department—One Death.

Tarrytown, N. Y., July 8.—An automobile of the New York City Finance department containing John T. Scanlon, a city paymaster, his friend, Thomas Kennedy, and Policeman McCormick of the New York force, struck a boulder weighing more than a ton with such force here this afternoon that it dislodged the boulder from its bed and crumpled up the car like a tin can hit by a sledge hammer.

The chauffeur driving the car was killed and saved his life. The other three were pitched head-over-heels into the air and were bruised. Kennedy and McCormick both got broken heads. Kennedy died shortly after in a hospital and it was said later tonight that McCormick can live only a few hours.

The chauffeur said the machine bounced out of his control while going at racing speed over a rough spot and plunged straight for the boulder.

THE NEWSPAPER IS AT HOME IN FAMILIES

There is and always will be a wide difference of opinion as to the value of different methods of advertising, and there will be experimenting along these lines until the end of time; but once a firm has learned the lesson of extravagance in this line it is not likely to be caught again.

"Four thousand circulars, says a 'Boston Paper,' describing an important series of books written by a man who is authority in his field and published by a Boston house of the highest standing, were sent to persons and institutions that seemed likely to need or appreciate the work. Just two replies were received. This is not an isolated instance. Yet for that very reason we delight to quote it. For the ten thousandth time it emphasizes the truth that the only advertising which really 'counts' is that which is at home in families."

The Bulletin is "at home" in families and is one of the most economical of advertising mediums. Send for a rate card. Now is the time to subscribe for The Bulletin. It will be delivered at the door daily, or mailed to persons out of town, for 12 cents a week.
