1911

John P. Barstow embarked in business here in 1846 under the firm name of Backus & Barstow. A small and conservative business was done, but soon increased until it became an important depot for supplying the wants of customers throughout Eastern Connecticut.

In 1876, Mr. Barstow included in his partnership, Frank H. Smith and George S. Byles (the latter his nephew), and the business was then conducted under the firm name of John P. Barstow & Co., and the accompanying photograph represents the building as it appeared that time. These two men succeeded to the business at Mr. Barstow's death in 1893, and have increased and enlarged the business, and at the present time employ about thirty skilled and competent workmen in their various departments, which includes Tin, Sheet, Iron and Copper Work, Steam, Hot Water Heating, Sanitary Plumbing in all its branches, Furnace and Ventilating Piping and General Roofing and Repair Work.

This firm also deal very extensively in Farm Implements of all kinds, Field and Garden Seeds, Fertilizers and Garden Tools.

They have been the agents for the celebrated Richmond Ranges which are in use in thousands of Norwich homes and are very economical and satisfactory.

Parlor Stoves of various designs; also Refrigerators, Water Coolers, Kitchen Cabinets, General Kitchen Furnishings and a full and complete line of Omega Ware

It has always been the aim of this firm to furnish the best goods in whatever line they carry and the public appreciates that fact, which makes this store the headquarters for up-to-date goods, and merits the confidence and patronage of their customers.
