

RUSSIAN SYMPHONY

To Head Program at Request Concert in Woolsey Hall on April 7.

LEO SCHULZ TO BE SOLOIST

Much Interest Shown in the Last Big Musical Event of the Season.

There is more than usual interest in the last concert of the season by the New Haven Symphony Orchestra on Tuesday, April 7, because of the announcement that there would be a request program. That the idea of a request program aroused interest was evidenced by the number of requests received. These began to reach the dean's office of the University Department of Music in February, soon after the announcement of the plan was made in the concert program of that month.

Tschalkowski's symphony No. 6, that known as the Pathetic, will head the program. There were many requests for this symphony aside from the fact that the first communication asked for this, one of the greatest of Russian compositions we know.

AT LOCAL THEATERS

HYPERION.

Yiddish Players To-morrow—"A Yankee Tourist" and "Land of Nod."

The Yiddish players give a powerful performance! This is the verdict of the entire press in the principal cities of America after witnessing a Yiddish performance by the New York all-star Yiddish company headed by the two eminent Yiddish players, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Nathanson, and supported by a capable company of prominent artists, almost every one of which is a star.

A Yankee Tourist. Facts concerning the principals of "A Yankee Tourist," which will appear at the Hyperion, Thursday, April 2.

Betty Doddridge, the little sourette of "A Yankee Tourist" company, has commendable ambitions for becoming a grand opera star. Her voice is a splendid soprano, and with a course of training in France, which she expects to begin at the close of the present season, it should make its owner known in a few years.

Phillips Smalley, who will play here in the support of Raymond Hitchcock, is a son of the famous London journalist, George W. Smalley, and a grandson of Wendell Phillips. He was educated at Oxford and graduated from the law school at Harvard. Mr. Smalley is quite an accomplished painter, having studied for some time under the celebrated Alma Tadema.

"The Land of Nod." Interest in the forthcoming production of the famous musical comedy success, "The Land of Nod," which occurs at the Hyperion, Friday and Saturday, with Saturday matinee, April 3-4, is indicated in the large number of requests that seats be laid aside before the regular advance sale opens and in the extraordinary number of mail orders for seats. These have not been equalled, except upon very few occasions, in the history of the theater. It appears to be generally understood that this production of "The Land of Nod" is an unusual affair, and the conditions surrounding the advance sale are the same here as elsewhere. This means that all seats are quite likely to be sold before the great company arrives here. A special train service is required to transport the eighty-six members of the organization and two 60-foot baggage cars are necessary to carry the scenery and other effects. There are few companies of this magnitude touring the country. It is not only unusual in this respect, but it is a company of comedians, singers and dancers who have won distinction by their extreme cleverness. That this will be one of the distinctly interesting performances of the season is a foregone conclusion and it will quite likely be witnessed by an many people as can be crowded within the four walls of the theater. The advance sale of seats opens on Wednesday.

NEW HAVEN.

Fine Performance of "The Girl from Eagle Ranch."

Last night's performance, "The Girl from Eagle Ranch," made the hit of the season at the New Haven theater. The show was the cleverest piece of melodrama which has thus far visited the "Grand." Miss Mammie Fleming, as the star, won repeated applause and was finally forced to answer a loudly claimed curtain call. But that was only to be expected because Miss Fleming is one of those charming actresses who by her clever acting and winning mannerisms captivates an audience from the very start. She was listened to with breathless interest and interrupted by numerous outbursts of approval. There is something about Miss Fleming which reminds one of "Elsie Janis," her combination of halting speech, purely intentional, especially when trying to express her love for big "Lucky Jim," along with her wonderful facial expression kept the audience in a roar.

As for the plot, but that is unnecessary. Miss Fleming, together with Harry Bannister, leads a cast which is without a flaw, and to mention the plot would deprive the rest of the company of much deserved mention.

George Connors and Henry Alexander were realistic villains of the first water and by good acting earned the hatred of the entire audience. To offset the villainy a whole carload of comedy was furnished by Tommy West—don't fail to see Tommy and hear his song, Charles Mylott and Tommy Cullen. Tommy West, in addition to a broad sense of humor, has the gift of song. The first verse makes you laugh, the second brings tears and then Tommy makes you laugh again.

Those who like good singing by male voices ought to hear the miners' quartet in the catchy selections of finely arranged music. That is the best feature of the show. The melodrama is perfectly balanced by comedy and music. Miss Fleming herself, sang her favorite "See Saw" song assisted by the quartet. The third act was followed by a novel specialty by W. H. Gracey, the manager. After a selection on the tubophone and sleigh bells he played the "Musical Rattles." This is something absolutely new in the line of musical novelties. There are only two in existence and require unusual skill and dexterity in manipulation. Mr. Gracey has all of these and made a very marked hit.

In brief the play is a most charming musical melodrama, brightened by comedy, and skillfully presented. Miss Fleming and company will appear to-night and Wednesday evening, with a matinee Wednesday afternoon. An excellent afternoon or evening entertainment awaits all who attend.

Royal Swedish Band.

The Royal Kronoberg regiment band will give a grand concert at the New Haven theater on Friday night this week.

The military musicians of Sweden form a class by themselves, a rare combination of soldiers, musicians and gentlemen. Of this class the members of the Royal Kronoberg Regiment band are typical representatives, who have won distinction as musicians during their tours throughout the northern parts of the European continent and the admiration as particularly soldiers from the country of Charles XII. They all hold the rank of officers, with or without commission, within a regiment that fought and bled at Luetzen under Gustavus Adolphus, and upon whose colors are inscribed all the names of the bloody and glorious battles in Swedish history. They all have the training of officers and soldiers, combined with a thorough musical education.

The sale of seats is now open.

POL'S.

Trick Elephant, Imitation Bear, Live-Lad, Musical Quartet, Etc.

Have you met Little Hip? He is a charming fellow. Too bad he drinks. Yes, he is very young, but very fond of the bottle. Drinks the sparkling liquid down and then goes to bed on the stage. Not really? Just go and see the trick elephant. As Patrick would say, "Tis the dandy young creature is the animal at Pol's this week. I be hearin' he made the New Yorkers pay out their cold cash for to look at him. And, he jabsers, it's worth it. The little rascal has one endearin' trick that would do credit to a son of the old sod. He hands out a program to each of the ladies and children at every performance as they enter the theatre. Pfrath what do you think of that now?"

Patrick was also proud to say that he enjoyed the "Shine Filtration" of McKenzle, Shannon and a bootblack. The first two who had Wallace bleed, sing a number of popular airs, working in the words to fit their parts in the conversation. The audience is regaled with "I'm going away," etc. The singing is first class. Withal it is a pleasing skit and makes one jolly up a bit.

Music that holds the gallery gods in fond embrace and shows versatile ability for the Exposition Four also adds to a pleasing bill. They are also lighting change artists such as would make a freeman "vera envious." Their costumes correspond with their work, and for the sake of clearness he said that the costumes are becoming and entertaining. They stop at nothing from a trombone to the human voice. One even plays two hours at once.

A little different and a lively lad is Laddie Cliff, whose dancing is eccentric and his songs rollicking jolts of jollity. With the calcium light blazing away at him, his act really consists of two people, Laddie and his shadow, the latter an elongated specimen that dances up and down the back curtain with enjoyable grotesque humor. Cliff has some excellent imitations of various personages as they would sit down on a chair where a pin prouly points upward thereon. Most anyone can appreciate the impression this bit of acting makes.

Moreover, in keeping with the usual excellent bill vouchsafed at Pol's there is to be seen the Camille Comedy Trio, whose bar act is advertised as unique and unsurpassed. So be it. The Town Tropic Ticks Trio tickle the risibilities, and Barry and Wolford can be guaranteed to attempt to stay on the job during each and every performance. Those six little girls and Teddy Bear are what the matinee young lady calls "just too sweet for anything." 'Tis a pretty thing and in dance and song rushes along with Everett Scott at the head a feature in himself, in his little Teddy bear suit of brown. An animal of intelligence he comes a close second to Little Hip.

Go to Pol's and partake of joy.

BABY TORTURED FOR 6 MONTHS

By Terrible Itching Eczema—Face and Head a Solid Sore—Spread to His Hand and Legs—Would Scratch Until He Bled—Tiny Sufferer Immediately Relieved and

ENTIRELY CURED IN 2 MONTHS BY CUTICURA

"When my son Walter was three weeks old, eczema appeared on his face. We did not know what it was so went to a doctor who treated him for three months. Then he said his face and head were nothing but one sore and that I tied him in a sheet or he would scratch himself all bloody. When he was seven months old we tried a set of the Cuticura Remedies. The first application of Cuticura led him sleep and rest well. In one week the sores were gone but it stayed red and sometimes it would itch so we used Cuticura for two months, then he had a clear and white face. Now he is two years and seven months old and has never had eczema again. I hope this letter will help some who are suffering from skin disease. Every mother who has a baby suffering with skin disease should just try Cuticura; there is nothing better. Mrs. Louis Beck, R. F. D. 3, San Antonio, Tex., Apr. 15, '07."

A single set of Cuticura Remedies is often sufficient to cure torturing, disfiguring, itching, burning, and scaly humors, eczemas, rashes, and irritations from infancy to age, when all other remedies fail.
