WANTS R. R. STATION IN THE EAST END

Resolution Brought in at July Meeting of Common Council

The common council, at the regular July meeting last night, voted to award garbage collection contracts to Edwin Swanson, Alvin Swanson, and John Pa, as recommended by the board of health; declined Mayor A. M. Paonessa's suggestion that it reconsider its previous action in increasing the salary of Dr. C. W. Witte from $1,550 to $2,100; ordered the license committee to issue no more permits for carnivals to play here; voted to ask the "New Haven" railroad to build a new passenger station, to be located in the eastern section of the city on the main line; accepted Alderman J. Gustav Johnson's resolution that the health board be asked to enforce the milk ordinance after a contest; referred numerous petitions to boards and accepted several reports.

Mayor Explains Witte Opposition
At the opening of the meeting, Mayor Paonessa turned the gavel over to Alderman W. H. Judd and spoke to the council on the Witte matter. Dr. Witte, who is meat inspector, has petitioned several times for an increase and his resignation is now pending. The salary committee decided that the pendency of his resignation creates an emergency such as makes it advisable to raise the salary now rather than wait for the December meeting when all salary adjustments are made. Chairman Thure Bengtson of the salary committee explained that it is good business to pay Witte more since the city probably could not engage a successor for the salary now paid.

Mayor Paonessa said he has not vetoed the resolution as he does not want to be arbitrary or act as a czar. He said granting the increase, excepting at the December meeting, would invite a flow of petitions from other city employees throughout the year. After several members of the council had expressed themselves as in favor, Alderman Judd remarked that the absence of a motion made it necessary to proceed to the next order of business. Alderman C. J. Dehm wanted it definitely known, he said, that this action gives Witte the increase. He was corrected by the mayor who said it merely passes the report on to the ordinance committee and the salary is not in effect until the council adopts the ordinance. After some discussion it was agreed that this is the situation that exists.

Alleges Gambling At Carnival
Following the reading of the Judd resolution to have the license committee issue no more permits for carnivals, the third ward alderman arose and made a sensational charge. He declared that Councilman David L. Nair, a member of the license committee, had seen money being handed out instead of merchandise on one of the wheels at Coleman Brothers' carnival, and reported the matter to Chief of Police W. C. Hart. The game was not ordered discontinued despite this fact, Judd said, and he added: "I don't know who higher up told the chief to lay off, but nothing was done."

Later gambling devices at the Murphy shows were closed. The alderman asked why one show was allowed to go on with gambling uninterrupted and another was stopped. He also asked why it was the show owners were told that he was the complainant against gambling devices. The alderman insisted that those playing wheels at a carnival cannot win unless the concessionaire so desires and the entire thing should be discontinued. Alderman Macz amended to come here for the remainder of the present season. His amendment was lost and the Judd resolution prevailed.

Following this petition, Councilman A. N. Rutherford of the second ward took the mayor's chair and presided for the remainder of the meeting. The second ward councilman has occupied a place on a majority of city commissions and has been municipal building inspector, but last night marked his first appearance in the chair of the city's highest executive. The councilman conducted the meeting in masterly fashion.

Action On Garbage Contracts
Alderman Dehm wanted action on the award of garbage contracts held up for one month, but republican and democratic members alike offered opposition to this movement, claiming that the situation was so unsatisfactory that further postponements in the face of what appears to be a resolution, should be avoided. The health board, through Dr. H. W. Pullen, explained that two of the three collections have given satisfactory service in the past and with their smaller territory and greater fee will be in a position to use more adequate equipment. The third collector has not had previous experience but already has equipment and men that he believes will take care of his district. The board's recommendation to ratify the contract was adopted.

Wants Station On Main Line
Councilman Frank S. Caldwell of the third ward brought in a resolution to have the mayor name a committee to work with the railroad committee and confer with the "New Haven" road relative to a new passenger station. He said development in the eastern section of the city has long since started and service on the main line is imperative.

Councilman Charles Bradley asked if the third warder contemplated discontinuance of the present Berly station. Caldwell replied that it would be more convenient for the 2,500 people in Berlin to come here for their trains than for the 65,000 people in New Britain to go to Berlin to get service. The Middletown service on the electric road offers a handicap, he admitted, but he felt this could be overcome by the engineers. The resolution was referred to the mayor and the railroads committee.

Stark Elected Constable
On motion of Alderman Judd the council took from the table the resolution entered at the last meeting to name George A. Stark a constable. Alderman Judd then nominated Stark.

Alderman Peter J. Palewki of the fifth ward said he did not intend to bring in a nominee but regretted that the republicans did not see fit to nominate someone other than Stark. He then nominated Eustachius Spring, who was elected last spring but failed to qualify, thereby creating a vacancy. On a roll call vote, Stark was elected.

There was no discussion on Alderman Johnson's resolution that the health board be asked to require adherence to the pure milk ordinance. His motion contains a call for a report on the situation at the next meeting and the health department plans to refute his claim that the law is not enforced at that time.

Wants New Pair of Shoes
Alford Schade asked compensation from the city because he damaged his shoes walking in the street where there is some new construction on West Main street. His petition went to the committee on claims.

A petition from Paul Robinson, the mayor's secretary, for a $600 increase in pay was dismissed with passage of a motion that he be given leave to withdraw.

The park board expressed willingness to build walks and install a fountain in Franklin square park if the money is provided. The council voted to request the work done out of park department funds.

It was voted to authorize the public works board to enter into contract with the G. M. Gest Co. for subways in Center and Commercial streets at a cost of $18,883, their bid being the lowest received. It was also voted to proceed with subways in Washington street.

The police board reported it has not the facilities for distributing traffic lanterns and asked that some other department take care of this work. The report was accepted. The board was empowered to sell the patrol car chassis at the best price obtainable.

Acting at the request of the building commission, Councilman A. N. Rutherford entered a resolution to purchase three Ford cars for the inspectors of the building department. The resolution was passed by the garage commission for investigation.

The council voted to enter into contract with Carl K. Bishop, a local architect, for the revision of building ordinances. The outing committee submitted a detailed report on the recent outing and turned in a balance of $1,600. Councilman Bengtson's committee was given a vote of thanks.

$250 For Fresh Air Camp
A gift of $250 to the fresh air camp was made by unanimous vote of the council.

The garage commission submitted the following quarterly report: "The municipal garage building is in excellent condition and we contemplate no repairs of any description in the near future. The automobiles of the various city departments are in excellent mechanical condition, and are giving efficient service. We have recommended to several of the various city departments that they have their cars painted, not only for appearance but also for the protection it affords."

"We desire to again call your attention to the very urgent need of a filing cabinet for the office at city hall. We have requested that the committee on supplies and printing buy one for our use, but to date we have received no communication as to when we are to receive this much needed equipment."

"The financial statement follows: Receipts, balance on hand April 1, $197.43; receipts from departmental accounts, etc., $2,607.61; total $2,805.04; expenditures, payroll, supplies, etc., $2,488.79; balance on hand, July 1, $316.25; assets, balance on hand, $316.25; bills receivable, $958.88; inventory, $1,208.06; total $2,573.19; liabilities, bills payable, $68.51; net assets, $1,906.68."

NICK CARTER WILL THRILL NO MORE

J. R. Coryell, Creator, Dies at Redfield, Maine

July 17.—John R. Coryell, originator of the Nick Carter detective stories, writer of the later novels bearing the name of Bertha M. Clay, author of travel stories, romantic fiction and of unnumbered articles which have appeared in scores of American magazines, died Tuesday at his summer home in Redfield, Me.

Word of his death came yesterday to the McFadden Publications, 1926 Broadway, with which he recently had signed a long-term contract as editor. He was ill two days of angina pectoris.

Mr. Coryell in the last forty years had written stories, articles and books perhaps to the number of 1,000, Bernard MacFadden, head of the organization which bears his name, estimated. He was about 75 years old and leaves a wife and four sons. One, an outstep, Dr. R. S. Coryell, lives at 795 Ocean avenue, Brooklyn.

A Versatile Writer
His literary output for the last 23 years was published mostly in the MacFadden magazines. Advancing age seemed to affect neither the quantity nor the peculiarly appealing, if melodramatic, quality of his romances.

No less striking was the versatility of Mr. Coryell's pen. It created, with equal facility and earnestness, detective and mystery stories, the Bertha M. Clay type of novels, adventure and travel stories for children, and many of which were published in St. Nicholas Magazine, and articles which have been widely copied in struggles for freedom of the press and literature.

The Nick Carter stories, most of which were written by the late Frederick van Rensselaer Dey, were suggested by Mr. Coryell at a luncheon many years ago with C. G. Smith of Street & Smith, publisher. He suggested the name "Nick Carter," then went home and wrote the first few of the series which (or more than a generation) thrilled the youth of the country with deeds of prodigious daring and fearless chivalry.

Started as a Reporter
Early in his career he was a reporter on a San Francisco newspaper, but throughout most of the last forty years he had been a "free lance" writer, and he was said to have amassed a comfortable fortune from his work.

In his Western days he collaborated on several occasions with the late Ambrose Bierce, who has been called one of the great American stylists.

"Nothing offended him," said Fulton Oursler, executive editor of the McFadden publications, "so much as an attempt at 'fine writing.' Simplicity was his literary god, and he had the ability to write stories that any one, learned or illiterate, could pick up and enjoy."

"He was a great man, not only a remarkable literary man," Mr. Oursler continued. "He seemed to have read everything, but the classics were his favorites. In the course of his life he had been a Socialist, had embraced the Anarchist philosophy, and finally came through all the isms to believe in tolerance as the greatest and most difficult goal of the race. "One of the last things I heard him say was fit to be his epitaph: "To be tolerant of intolerance is the finest achievement of the human soul."

George Lupino, the oldest clown and actor in England, is also an accomplished artist.

$10,000 QUICKLY PLEDGED FOR NEW HEBREW SCHOOL

Morris Cohn Believes $30,000 More Will Be Raised Within Next Three Weeks

At an enthusiastic meeting held in the Hebrew school hall on Elm street last night at which more than 75 people were in attendance, it was unanimously voted to accept the plans for a new Hebrew school building and approximately $10,000 was pledged toward the building fund. The contract was awarded to Antonio Squillacote and work will begin within the next few weeks, the committee stated.

President Morris Cohn addressed the gathering and impressed upon the minds of those present the need of a new school building. He said that the need for new room has been felt for some time. An effort is being made to raise about $40,000 with which to build the school and purchase new furniture. Mr. Cohn stated this morning that he expects the remaining $30,000 will be raised before next week.

EIGHT LICENSES SUSPENDED
The licenses to operate motor vehicles of eight local men have been suspended by the commissioner of motor vehicles, according to notice received yesterday afternoon by the local police. The list included: Lester R. Dyckman of 47 Swinour street, Joseph Chanda of 192 Allen street, A. A. Anderson of 1 Connecticut avenue, Vincent Squillacote of 144 Pleasant street, Adam Gezaaki of 330 Washington street, William E. Heckman of 149 Kensington avenue, Carl Anderson of 133 Greenwood street, and Carl A. Carlson of 447 Church street. The operator's license of Teofil Gaida of 191 Broad has been returned.

PASS IT A LONG

"I have been suffering with a fatula for the past twenty years. During that time I have tried numerous remedies, all of which have failed."

"Two months ago I determined to give Peterson's Ointment a trial. The improvement was so decided after using one box, that I continued, and on the completion of the fifth box am now entirely cured."

"This is written with the view of passing along the good word to other sufferers. Very truly yours, Chas. E. Caswell, 252 Third Street, Albany, N. Y." 25 cents a box.

Out tomorrow New Victor Records

Red Seal Records

Album	Artist	Number	Price
Album Leaf—Romance (Albumblatt) (Wagner-Wilhelmi) Finis Sola	Mitscha Elman	6457	$2.00
The Gondolier's Song—Gondoliera (Rim) Mitscha Elman
Wagner's lovely "Album Leaf," in Wilhelm's arrangement for the violin, coupled with Ries's "Gondoliera," and played with consummate skill and beauty by a great artist. Records that speak volumes for the fidelity of Victor recording.
Lucrezia Borgia—Vieni la mia vendetta (Hate Thou, for Vengeance) (Donizetti) In Italian	José Mardones	6456	2.00
Pipée—Questa notte mentre a letto (At Night While Sleeping) (De Ferrari) In Italian	José Mardones

Two bass numbers from Italian operas, one tragic, one comic, by this very great artist. They are sung with true splendor of style, by a voice that has known few rivals. If you never have heard a great bass operatic record, here is a surprise for you.

Light Vocal Selections

Love's First Kiss	Della Baker	19335	.75
Out of the Dusk to You	Della Baker
Love-songs in semi-popular style; neither commonplace nor obscure, but impassioned and beautiful. Sung with intensely living sympathy. Both are by women composers. Emotion is written, composed and sung into them—and perfectly recorded by the Victor process.
Just for Remembrance	Elliott Shaw	19358	.75
Just Some Roses	Lewis James
Two charming numbers sung with a robustness of sentiment that is refreshing. The second has a fascinating interlude in which violin and cello are most prominent. The Victor kind of semi-popular records that every one enjoys.
Hard Times	Eddie Hunter	19359	.75
Mamie	Eddie Hunter
New song-records by this famous colored specialist in human tribulation. "Hard Times" and his troubles with "Mamie" between them make an unusual offering. Eddie Hunter can put a lot of humor into a song, and these records present his songs just as he sings them.

Melodious Instrumental

On the Mall—March	The Goldman Band	19363	.75
The Pioneer—March	The Goldman Band
Two brilliant, cleanly played marches for the brass band. Both are compositions of the conductor's. The first one, with special whistling features by Carson Robison, is dedicated to the Goldman Band's immense audiences in Central Park, New York. These records will give delight to still greater audiences.

Dance Records

That's the Tune—Fox Trot (From the New Century Revue "Opus")	Charles Dornberger and His Orchestra	19360	.75
Tropical Palms—Fox Trot
A highly melodious fox trot from the New Century Revue, and a soft, dreamy, languorous one from Russian-Oriental melodies. Both are finely played and easily danced to as presented on these records.
Lonely Little Wallflower—Fox Trot	The Benson Orchestra of Chicago	19361	.75
Worryin' Blues—Fox-Trot	Philip Spitalny and His Orch.
Here is a pleasing combination of fox trots. The first number is gentle and melodious, while its companion is of the comic order. Both are up-to-the-moment in style. Superbly recorded numbers that will meet the approval of dancers everywhere.
