 Women's Section closes Saturday at 3 P. M.
 Men's Section closes Saturday at 10 P. M.

Our July Clearance Sale Starts To-morrow Morning, July 9th.

In carrying out the usual policy of our store by disposing of each season's wears in its season, we can promise you one of the most helpful sales on the point of economy we have ever held.

Our reputation in carrying a liberal variety of fabrics, weights and colors and also for designing and tailoring of our men's, women's and children's garments gives individuality and character to the merchandise which we offer in our sale.

One of the pillars of our reputation is the fact that we sell only our own high class merchandise, even in conducting our semi-annual sales. This means that we do not go into the market and buy goods especially for sale purposes.

This July Sale includes incomplete lines of all this season's wears for men, women and children.

Those who intend to share in the early offerings are urged to shop in the morning, during the opening days, in order to facilitate selections.

Remember the sale starts Wednesday, to-morrow morning.

BACK TO THE SOIL REMEDY FOR HIGH COST OF LIVING

Small Farm With Something to Sell Every Day the Secret of Getting by

(Special to The Farmer.)
 Stratford, July 8.—"There will be a bumper crop of peaches this year" asserted former Sheriff John J. Williams yesterday. This will be good news to the business of this section who were disappointed by the small crop of strawberries and the consequent high prices for the local product. The former sheriff operates one of the most complete and profitable fruit farms and market gardens in this state and his methods are worthy of attention and study by those who have an idea of getting back to the soil.

Yesterday and for a week past Squire Williams has kept every available man on his place in his peach orchard thinning out the crop to insure larger and more perfect fruit. The men remove about half of the fruit on the tree leaving what remains well apart to allow the sun and air to reach every side of the fruit. On this farm there is something to sell every day in the year. As trees are not entirely removed and between the rows is utilized for other crops. The ground is very rich and early in his career as a fruit grower the owner found that this was one cause of winter killing. The trees were encouraged by plenty of feed failed to harden and mature before the freezing temperatures of winter resolved them. As a consequence the fruit buds which are formed in the fall were winter killed. A sturdier tree developed in ground less rich and the branches made more wood and were able to withstand the frost of winter with greater success.

Winter kills are avoided by the grower to put "all his eggs in one basket." Squire Williams avoids this as far as possible. If some crops fail others will make good and he is never totally swamped as some farmers are when their one crop fails. On this farm which is located on the Canaan road the season opens with asparagus which lasts until it is time to pick strawberries. In the mean time the garden begins to offer beets, lettuce and other early vegetables.

This year the owner estimates that he was short 15,000 quarts of strawberries on the crop, but he filled in with other garden crops. The strawberry season is now practically over. The late frosts in the spring caught the blossoms just as the fruit was setting and two-thirds of the crop in this section was destroyed.
 Black and red raspberries are now coming in and a big crop is expected. This will make up in some measure for the shortage in strawberries and the prudent housewives will have something to put away in jars for the future.

The value of care and cultivation by improved methods is demonstrated by the currant crop which is now being marketed in thousands of quarts. Heavy already been sold at good prices. They bring 8 to 12 cents a quart at wholesale. Squire Williams has taken great pride in his currants and probably has the finest fruit in the state. Side by side are rows of bushes treated differently. Those which have been neglected and will be removed are full of fruit but of about the ordinary size. Those bushes which have received greater care are loaded with currants of enormous size. The greater part as large as the ordinary maple. The crop is profitable.

Flour trees are loaded to the breaking point and the thinning process will be extended to these as soon as possible. So all through the year inter-spersed with garden crops the fruits come along making a continuous return in ready cash. There is about an acre of onions on the place which will be harvested and stored away for sale next winter or spring. Besides these there is celery, carrots, cabbage early and late, sweet corn, now commencing to tassel, and a hundred other crops so arranged that the force is always busy rain or shine and cash flows in all through the season to pay them off.

Squire Williams believes in local markets. Every morning he loads two wagons which have regular routes to the city. Peas, sweet corn and other vegetables whose virtue and palatability are dependent upon their being absolutely fresh thus reach the customer as early and as fresh as if taken from the garden in the back yard. Customers have discovered this and the demand often exceeds the supply. It is not in every city that the housewife is able to place on the table at noon vegetables which have been taken from the grove the morning of the same day.

Squire Williams has made money from his farm and expects to make a good deal more. He says that any intelligent man can make a good living on a small place and lay up money if he operates his ground properly. It is not so much a matter of luck as some people believe as it is of care and attention under a good system. There is plenty of land in this vicinity which can be operated as market gardens with profit. Visitors are always welcome at the Canaan Road farm and the owner is always ready to give amateurs the benefit of his experience in raising almost everything that is indigenous to this climate or can be forced to grow here. He has saved many amateurs from loss by his timely suggestions. He asserts that this is the true remedy for the high cost of living so much complained of.

WHY BOTHER ABOUT IT?

Why bother about going away?

Why worry and get wrinkles over the getting ready, the buying?

Why start on your vacation mentally and physically "done up"?

Let THE FARMER help you!

It's easy—very easy.

Just run your eager eyes up and down the advertising columns of THE FARMER and you will find a world of suggestions about going-away vacation needs.

July vacation time advertisements nowadays are not simply cut and dry statements.

They brim over with helpful suggestions.

They tell you of the old and new things that you ought to have; of the things that you must have to get the best out of your outing.

For example, the other day a woman read for the first time about a rubber-lined cretonne toilet case for traveling.

The price was insignificant.

She immediately purchased two.

Never knew about them before; wouldn't do without one now!

No don't worry! Follow the advertisements in THE FARMER.

OBITUARY

Many sorrowing relatives and friends attended the funeral of Frank F. Neurt which was held from the home of his parents, No. 232 Maplewood avenue, Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Rev. H. Weimer, pastor of German Reformed church, officiated at the services which were held at the house and grave. Delegations were present from Lessing Lodge, No. 94, I. O. O. F., who held their ritual services at the graves. A wealth of beautiful floral tokens surrounded the bier attesting to what high esteem the deceased had been held. The pall bearers were chosen from among the delegates of the societies. The interment was in the family plot in Park cemetery.

The funeral of Mary, widow of Charles Storms who died at her home, 252 Washington avenue, Sunday, was held from the H. E. Bishop mortuary chapel on Fairfield avenue, this afternoon at 2 o'clock. Interment was in Park cemetery.

Words of Praise

For Mayr's Wonderful Stomach Remedy

"How thankful we are to you for getting hold of your Wonderful Remedy. My wife could not have had but a short time to live if she had not taken your Wonderful Remedy when she did. One more of those paroxysms pains she was having would have killed her without a doubt. Now she is free from all pain, free from troubling Neuralgia—all the results of five treatments—and the expulsion of five or six hundred Gall Stones. Now she is able to eat anything she wants and her appetite is good and before taking your medicine she had no appetite and when she ate anything she would suffer death for so doing and could not sleep at night; since taking your treatment she sleeps well all night long. T. A. Neal, Roanoke, Texas."

The above letter should convince you more than anything we could say in behalf of Mayr's Wonderful Stomach Remedy. Sufferers should try one dose of this Remedy—one dose should convince them that they can be restored to health. Nearly all Stomach Ailments are caused by the clogging of the Intestinal tract with mucoid and catarrhal secretions allowing poisonous fluids into the Stomach and otherwise deranging the digestive system. Mayr's Wonderful Stomach Remedy painlessly removes these accretions without a surgical operation and puts an end to Colic Attacks, Gases in the Stomach and Intestines and all of the usual symptoms of Stomach, Liver and Intestinal Ailments. Ask your druggist about Mayr's Wonderful Stomach Remedy or send to Geo. H. Mayr, Mfg. Chemist, 154 Whiting St., Chicago, Ill., for free booklet on Stomach Ailments and many grateful letters from people who have been restored.

FAIRFIELD ORDERS A NEW COOLER—EVERYBODY WANTS TO BE JAILED NOW

Town Meeting Votes To Do the Right Thing By Those Arrested—Mulligan Has Good Aim.

(By Our Special Correspondent.)
 Fairfield, July 8.—The old town is to sport a new jail. The citizens of the town last evening in special town meeting voted to do the right thing by those who heretofore break the law in Fairfield by housing them in the very latest in "coolers." The selectmen were given power to look after the details. They have in mind a nifty little, snug little house near the Baptist church. The house will be remodeled and made over into the safe sort.

Congested school conditions in the Holland Hill district will be remedied before the opening of school in September. Elmore Pease, John Lobdell and Simon C. Bradley were made a committee to select a site for the new school and to also see to its erection.

The selectmen were also given instructions to call for bids for a concrete bridge, over the river near the Fairfield church. A wooden structure now spans the river.

Johnny Boyle is happy. The citizens voted to continue fixing up the road along Fairfield beach, using up the $400 appropriated at a previous meeting for this purpose.

Two burglars who attempted to rifle the cash register in the cafe of James Mulligan in Spring street last evening, tore off their job too soon. They should have waited a couple of weeks and annex the chance to sleep in the new lock up. The proprietor of the cafe had stepped out for a few minutes, and returning unexpectedly found two strangers, evidently tramps, at his

IF YOU ARE A DRINKING MAN

You had better stop at once or you'll lose your job. Every line of business is closing its doors to "drinking" men. It may be your turn next. By the aid of ORRINE thousands of men have been restored to lives of sobriety and industry.
 We are so sure that ORRINE will benefit you that we say to you that if after a trial you fail to get any benefit from its use, your money will be refunded.

When you stop "drinking," think of the money you'll save; besides, sober men are worth more to their employers and get higher wages.

Costs only $1.00 a box. We have an interesting booklet about ORRINE that we are giving away free on request. Call at our store and talk it over.

till. Both ran for cover, but one was not swift of foot enough to get out of the way of a beer pump hurled by Mr. Mulligan. The swimmer of the two succeeded in escaping into the cellar and to safety. The other was stunned sufficiently to keep him in good behavior until the arrival of Sheriff Elwood. The latter took his prisoner to Bridgeport for the evening.

The eight Italian speaking residents arrested by Sheriff Elwood for working on the Sabbath were brought before Justice Bacon Wakeman yesterday afternoon. Each was found guilty; two were fined $5 and costs, two $2 and costs and the other four, $1 and costs. Judgment in each case was suspended.

The sheriff's office has for some time received complaints from residents of the town that these residents were constantly at work on their lands on Sunday. The sheriff visited them on a number of occasions warning them to discontinue their labors under penalty of arrest. They desisted for the time being but when the next Sunday rolled around they were again on duty. Last Sunday they were out stronger than ever. There were a number of women and boys working in the fields but the sheriff sent them home while he rounded up eight men.

The fine by the court is intended as an example that they may well consider that the law reads that working on the Sabbath is a serious offense. The men were warned that if they appeared before the court again they would be given jail sentences. Appearing before Justice Wakeman on Saturday on the charge of reckless driving, George Tripp, Yale student, admitted his guilt and was fined $1 and costs. The costs brought his little bill over $50. On Sunday, June 8, Tripp while on a motorcycle speeded by a standing trolley in Southport. At the time Salvatore Demart, with his baby boy in his arms was alighting from the car. He was knocked down and the baby hurled from his arms. Demart and his child received injuries about the hands and face.

WESTPORTER ACTING AS GOOD SAMARITAN STRANGELY ASSAULTED

John Lyon, Main Street Plumber, Sustains Broken Jaw—Was Helping a Supposed Drunk on His Way.

(By Our Special Correspondent.)
 Westport, July 8.—It was under rather peculiar circumstances that John Lyon, the Main street plumber was assaulted in State street near the Fable building early Sunday morning. To-day, Mr. Lyon under the care of Dr. J. M. Nolan is confined to his home with his jaw in splints. Mr. Lyon with Fred Mills was walking homeward early Sunday morning when in Sach's doorway he noticed the prone figure of what he thought was a drunken man. Both men awoke the supposed inebriate who took offense at being awakened from his slumbers. They acted only in a friendly spirit intending to help the "fortunate" man to get on a car and proceed to his destination. They did this as the man was a stranger to them and believing according to Mr. Lyon the man sat up in the doorway pouring abuse upon him and Mills for their assistance. When they had him thoroughly awake and upon his feet they left him and proceeded towards home.

Mr. Lyon says that when near the Fable building in State street, the supposed drunk came up to them demanding to know why they wanted to fight with him. Words followed. Lyon says that without warning he was struck on the jaw and momentarily stunned. Before he could raise his hand to defend himself he was struck under the eye. It is Lyon's opinion and that of his physician who examined the wounds, that Lyon's assailant did not use his fists when he struck but wielded a black jack. The injured man claims that when they were arguing before the blow was struck, that the supposed drunk kept striking his hand into his pocket. No other blows were struck for immediately after a crowd of young fellows from the center appeared on the scene and separated the combatants. It was stated about the center yesterday that the stranger is an ex-member of the navy and is now a resident of the Greens Farms district.

Lyon advances the opinion that the assaulting is a new hold up scheme. He believes the man feigned intoxication so as to grab an easy victim. He followed his men and when he saw a chance assaulted one of them. The fact that other men appeared on the scene prevented him from carrying out his purpose. Lyon has not made a complaint to the police.

Charles Anderson, employed with the Baldwin's Supply Co., while on a trip taking him through Paterson, N. J., Sunday was hurled from his motor cycle and taken to the hospital. A male companion, who was on the seat, was also injured.

Arthur Sherwood has made application to the shellfish commissioners of the state for a perpetual license to plant and cultivate shellfish on two acres of ground in the Compo Mill pond.

The candy committee of the Women's Town Improvement Association met yesterday afternoon at the town hall furthering details for their part of the work in the coming town fair.

Registered at the Westport hotel yesterday were Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Winton of Chicago, H. M. Rae of New York, William Klensted of Waterbury, Richard McVeight, Waterbury and Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Eversly of New York. Herbert Walsh, clerk at the post office is enjoying his annual vacation. His respite from duty will be used up with trips to New York, Bridgeport and other places.
