

HERALD CAMERA-MEN TELL THEIR STORY

Argentina Also Has Princely Guest

Crowds in Buenos Aires gave great ovation to Prince Humbert of Italy (in uniform) as he rode to presidential palace with President Alvear of Argentina. Prince had just landed from the Italian warship San Giorgio. Picture shows him with host.

$100,000 in Gems Stolen

Edith Bobe

Egyptian Temple? No! Real Estate Ad!

Robert L. Hague

Death-crowned jewel thefts of Dot King and Louise Lawson were recalled when armed quartet robbed Edith Bobe, modiste and cabaret frequenter, of $100,000 in gems and beat her escort, Robert L. Hague, Standard Oil official, at Bobe home in New York. Hague was married last year.

Out in Los Angeles, Cal., a lot of people take their art seriously and even some real estate experts seem to have been bitten by the bug. For instance, here's one whose office is built to resemble an Egyptian temple. That doesn't necessarily mean he's a dead one, however.

Railroad Men Hold Annual Convention in New York

Track weeder, shown above, was among exhibits demonstrated to 600 railroad men in annual meeting held the other day at the Hotel Commodore, New York.

Treasurer

Miss Margaret Cuberson (above), 27, was elected treasurer of Fulton county, Ga. She succeeded her father after his death. She must handle $3,000,000 yearly.

You're Wrong!

No, this isn't Will Hayes, movie director general, behind Indian pipe, but Leo Auerbach of Brooklyn, N. Y., back from 8,000-mile trip. Mexican thieves robbed him in Nevada and coyotes surrounded him in Arizona.

She's Spry at 102

Age means nothing in the gay young life of Mrs. Anna Eldred of Baldwin, N. Y., who, shunning glasses, is shown sewing in her home. She sang and danced with her son at her birthday anniversary party. Her daughter is 81.

Success

New York society was shocked to learn that Mrs. Frederick Cruger (above), favorite of Prince of Wales, was Pinna Nesbit, once movie extra.

Unusual Members of Cruiser Cincinnati's Crew

The feline mascot of the United States scout cruiser Cincinnati, Whiffles, enjoyed position when put in gun muzzle, but poor old Soup, also mascot, didn't care for it one single bit. He leads dog's life, anyhow. This picture was taken in Brooklyn, N. Y., navy yard, where the Cincinnati was built.

Britishers Could Use It, but Polo Cup Stays in Arid U. S.

Scene attendant on presentation of the international polo trophy to American poloists by Gen. Bullard after defeating Britishers in second match at Meadow Brook, N. Y. (1) Louis E. Stoddard, former U. S. polo ace; (2) Tommy Hitchcock, drinking from victory bowl; (3) Malcolm Stevenson, hero of the first game; (4) Capt. Wesley C. White, umpire; (5) Gen. Bullard; (6) Harry Payne Whitney, polo enthusiast and sportsman.

Husband or Two Wanted

Offering themselves in marriage to any man or men who will pay off $3,500 mortgage on their mother's 60-acre farm near Milwaukee, Wis., these two girls say heroes must act quickly. Anyhow the girls are June Zeiser, 21 (left), and Cecilia, 25, and they live at 731 Briar place, Chicago. Can they cook? Look at the picture.

In Shade of Gallows

Escape of Franks slayers from noose has given hope to Bernard Grant (above), in county jail at Chicago. He's 19 and sentenced to die for murder.

Auto Race King Killed

This is the wreck of the car in which Jimmy Murphy, famous racing driver, was killed at the Syracuse, N. Y., fair. The accident occurred when brakes on his car locked, causing machine to skid wildly. (Copyright: 1924: Pacific & Atlantic Photos, Inc.)

Chicago Roars Welcome to Round-the-World Flyers

Chicago extended a glad hand to the American round-the-world flyers when they landed in that city. While whistles blew welcome great crowd (as shown in photo) rushed on field to greet aviators.